VIOLENT ARTILLERY FIGHTING CONTINUES EAST OF RHEIMS

"We Will Give It Back to Them, and Give It Soon," Says Lloyd George--All Lights Ordered Out in District of Dusseldorf by the German Military Authorities--Kaiser Presents Marble Bust to Hindenburg--M.P.P. For Russell Found Unconscious From Escaping Gas and Died After Being Removed to Hospital.

AIR RAIDS WILL BE MADE ON GERMANY

LONDON, Oct. 3.—Addressing crowds in the southwest district of London, which has suffered from recent raids, Premier Lloyd George declared in answer to demands for reprisals: "We will give it all back to them and give it them soon. We shall bomb Germany with compound interest."

VIOLENT ARTILLERY ACTION NEAR RHEIMS

PARIS, Oct. 3.—The French war office reports that the violent artillery duel continues east of Rheims and west of Navarin. Spirited patrol engagements have taken place on the Verdun front.

ORDERED LIGHTS DARKENED AT NIGHT

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 3.—The German military authorities have ordered all lights in the district of Dusseldorf and a great portion of Westphalia darkened at night. Similar precautions against air raids are being taken at other places in Western Germany.

FURTHER REPRISALS BY FRENCH AIRMEN

PARIS, Oct. 3.—The war office announces that French aviators in further reprisals for the bombardment of Bar Le Duc, dropped bombs on the town of Baden, while other bombers destroyed enemy's railway stations and factories in various parts of occupied part of France and Belgium.

IN FAVOR OF COALITION GOVERNMENT

PETROGRAD, Oct. 3.—The All-Russian democratic congress today voted 766 to 688 in favor of a coalition government for Russia, thus eliminating all danger of civil strife between the revolutionary faction. The result is a victory for Premier Kerensky.

KAISER PRESENTS HINDENBURG WITH BIRTHDAY GIFT

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 3.—Emperor William visited the German main headquarters yesterday, on the occasion of the celebration of Field Marshal Hindenburg's birthday and presented him with a marble bust of himself. In a speech the Emperor praised Hindenburg as the "Hero of the German people."

DENIAL OF CHARGES MADE AGAINST THE I. W. W.

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Otto Christensen, chief counsel for the I. W. W. today made a denial of all the charges made against that organization, and intimated that the I. W. W. would fight them to the last ditch. According to federal officials, nearly one thousand of the men indicated are now in custody.

DANIEL McDONALD, EX-M. P. P. FOR RUSSEL DEAD

WINNIPEG, Oct. 3.—Daniel McDonald, ex-M. P. P. for Russell was found unconscious from escaping gas in a house, the occupants of which were away, and died soon after being removed to a hospital. He had been speculating heavily in grain.

NOTED GERMAN AIRMAN FALLS IN FIERCE BATTLE

British Headquarters in France and Belgium, Oct. 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—The body of the famous German airman, Lieutenant Vosse, who was recently reported in a German official communication as missing, has been found within the British lines, and British airmen have already dropped messages behind the German front, giving notification of his death. Vosse was killed September 23rd while engaged in a spectacular combat with a British airman. He died fighting determinedly and magnificently. It is a peculiar coincidence that the famous French airman, Captain Guynemer, lost his life about the same time in battle over enemy territory, and was reported missing until the Germans found and identified his body. The opponent of Vosse is one of the most brilliant British aviators, who for the purposes of this narrative may be referred to as Brown—that not being his real name. Here is the story: A number of British planes were patrolling on the 23rd flying at a height of seven thousand feet, when one of them was attacked by a German red-nosed Albatross and a triplane. It appeared later that Vosse was the pilot of the triplane. Two other planes rushed up and engaged these two, with a third enemy scout who appeared on the scene. About eleven other enemy airplanes were waiting at a distance to join in the combat, vanished, but the Albatross and the triplane fought in wonderful form. Brown singled out the triplane, and a hard fight ensued. Brown got in a number of good bursts from his machine gun and several times had to change drums on the gun, so furiously was he firing.

For a long time the two opponents circled, dived and manoeuvred for position, so close were they at times that a few inches only separated their wings. Eventually Brown got a little above Vosse and made for the triplane, the British airman working his machine gun steadily all the time. Vosse passed Brown's right wing by inches and dived. The British airman wheeled into position and observed the German gliding westward with his engine shut off. He dived again and got a good shot at his opponent; then followed this with a heavy burst from his gun and Vosse did a slight right-hand turn and continued to go down until he disappeared. This ended the adventure so far as Brown was concerned. He flew away, not knowing who his opponent had been or what had become of him. Later the shattered machine was found and the body identified.

HOT FIGHTING IN EAST AFRICA

LONDON, Oct. 2.—An official statement on the campaign in East Africa reports heavy fighting on the Lindi-Masasi road—British columns are making good progress in the difficult country against the stubborn resistance of the enemy, whose strong counter-attacks have been repulsed. The British have retained the ground won.

RUSSIANS ADVANCE IN RIGA REGION

PETROGRAD, Oct. 2.—Russian advanced detachments in the Riga region yesterday broke through the German lines and pushed forward for a distance of one mile, says the official statement issued today by the Russian war office.

The text of the statement reads: "In the Riga region, south of the railway in the Kronenberg-Spital-Grunduli sector, our vanguard detachments have advanced one mile.

"Caucasus: Nothing of importance has occurred; elsewhere there have been fusillades.

"Two enemy airplanes and one captive balloon have been brought down recently. Two of our airplanes fell in flames, the aviators perishing."

AVIATORS SUCCEED IN BOMBING RAIDS

LONDON, Oct. 2.—"On the night of Sunday," says an official statement, "naval aircraft dropped bombs on the St. Denis Westrom airbase, which fell among the sheds and set fire to one on the south side. The fire spread and was visible thirty miles away. Bombs were also dropped on the Zeebrugge lock-gates.

"Another bombing raid on St. Denis Westrom was made at mid-day Monday, seven direct hits being observed and also two sheds on fire in the southeast corner of the airbase. A large shed on the south side of the airbase is reported having been set on fire on Sunday, the hangars being completely gutted. All our machines returned safely.

Another official statement issued today on the aerial operations says: "In the airplane raids of the last eight days all of our pilots have landed safely."

BLOCKADE IS FORCING ENEMY TO SUBJECTION

Canadian Headquarters in France, via London, Oct. 2.—The enemy early this morning (Tuesday) attempted to raid our lines in the Avion sector but was discovered before he got to close quarters and driven off, after sustaining a number of casualties. The infantry activity is generally less than normal, but the sound of guns never ceases. The Germans are attempting more by way of destructive shoots on our battery positions than they did earlier in the season, but even in this respect they are still far behind the British and Canadian gunners on this part of the front, especially in effectiveness.

There has been a marked increase in the use of long-range, high velocity guns by the Germans, and this is still proceeding. The results, as seen here, assuredly do not justify the free use of these guns. The enemy also increases the proportion of gas shells to the total number sent over, and he sends us many varieties of gas. This may possibly indicate that the chemicals from which the poison gas is made are available in greater quantities than those required for high explosives.

COAL EMBARGO'S MOTIVE HIDDEN

Retaliation for Limiting Export of Niagara Power is Suspected

Washington, Oct. 3.—It is hard to find out the reason for the embargo put on American coal going into Canada. Certainly one reason, that there is a scarcity of coal for the northwestern states, has a good deal behind it. This country is bound to see that its own requirements are forthcoming before others are allowed to obtain supplies from the States of a commodity that is limited in two directions: first as to quantity, and next in the ability of the American railroads to transport it to the borders.

But another reason current here is that the embargo is in the nature of a retaliation on the action of the Province of Ontario in limiting the export of its electrical energy from the Niagara power plants, more or less in the jurisdiction of the government of that province and of the federal government at Ottawa.

NO LOWER PRICES FOR FLOUR AT MONTREAL

Toronto Board of Trade's Announcement Has no Effect

Montreal, Oct. 3.—No lower prices are looked for in the market here for winter wheat flour, notwithstanding that the Toronto Board of Trade has issued a statement that prices will be reduced 40 cents a barrel. According to a prominent commission merchant of this city there is considerable difficulty and delay in obtaining shipment of regular supplies from Ontario, and premiums, over and above the market price, are frequently paid to obtain prompt delivery.

TSINGTAU NO LONGER UNDER MILITARY RULE

Tokio, Sept. 30.—(Delayed) An official communication issued today announces that the Japanese military administration at Tsingtau, the former German concession in China, has been abolished. During the three years it has been in effect, it is pointed out, order has been established in the territory. The civil administration now substituted for it, the statement says, is designed to strengthen the administration of the territory in general and of the railroads and mines and promote the welfare of the inhabitants, while bringing about more friendly relations.

"Hanging down into the Black sea like a pinto's cleaver, with its handle pointed east and the near corner of the blade joined to the mainland of Russia, the Crimea, where it was first planned to exile the czar when he abdicated, is about as near to being an island as a peninsula will be, even though the Tzars' navy has the only water link between it and the second connection with the mainland. On the one side to the west lies the Perekop gulf, and to the east, shut out from the Black sea by the handle of the cleaver, is the sea of Azov."

Russian Railways in War. The army and the munition industries alone absorb fully 50 per cent. of the carrying capacity of the Russian railways, so that there remains only 50 per cent. to satisfy the needs of the civilian population, which have also grown, as compared with peace time. In 1916 the Russian railways had to carry in the department of mineral fuel alone 2,700,000 tons more than in 1915. As to passenger traffic great care is taken to see that the civilians are not subjected, the railway ministry cannot hold out any hope of improvement either now or in the near future, because a large number of passenger cars had to be turned into hospital coaches, while all the passenger car works, both in Russia and abroad, are engaged in building freight cars. The passenger traffic, on the other hand, has greatly increased during the last two years, roughly by 20 per cent., and on some railways by 40 per cent.—London Railway Gazette.

Folling the Pickpocket. A very simple device to prevent your watch from falling out of your pocket was invented by Carl G. T. P. line and Ketchikan, Alaska. It consists of a case stamped from sheet metal and lined with soft fabric. The case, which is fastened securely to the pocket, has a notch at the top, which is rounded to admit the stem of the watch. The inside of the watch is pushed down inside of two prongs which project slightly above the case.—Popular Science Monthly.

How Genius Covers Faults

ONE of the most curious facts in history is the manner in which time tends to alter the point of view of contemporaries with regard to famous—or infamous—royal personages.

Take Napoleon, for example. Somewhere about twenty years ago there was started in England a Napoleon "boom" that is probably unequalled in modern literary annals. Books and magazine articles innumerable were published, all tending to show that the "Corsican Ogre," as our forefathers dubbed him, was in fact a rather decent sort of chap, and deserving of admiration and emulation rather than of reprobation.

Will our descendants ever make a similar hero of the Kaiser? The Germans have a theory that we shall, and in their own way argue from analogy that in fifty years or less the whole world will lionize their Emperor.

For to our grandfathers, he is remembered, Napoleon represented the very apotheosis of evil, just as the Kaiser does to-day. And the careers of the two men, up to a certain point, are very similar.

Each raised a stormy army in order to further his own personal ambition. Each drenched Europe in blood for his own selfish ends. Each followed the plan of making his own relatives kings of the countries he conquered. And so on.

In some ways, too, Napoleon was as great a ruffian as the Kaiser has proved himself up till now. The latter, for instance, has not so far ordered the summary execution in cold blood of two thousand prisoners of war, as Napoleon did at Acre. Nor has he broken his parole—the most infamous sin next to cowardice—to slay a soldier who had sworn to him Napoleon when he escaped from Elba. But that is only because the Kaiser has not had the chance so far.

Julius Caesar again! Our history books are so worded that every Canadian schoolboy is taught to regard him as a hero of the very first water. The Ancient Britons and the Gauls no doubt held quite other opinions concerning him.

Queen Boadicea, if she were alive to-day, could certainly tell him an altogether different story about him. Then there is Peter the Great, whose claim to "greatness" consists in his having invaded and subjected countries that had done him no harm, and incorporated them in his own dominions after reducing the remnants of their former inhabitants to slavery.

ALLIANCE WAS WILL OF HEAVEN

Count Teruchi Issues Message to Japanese.

NO FEARS FOR THE FUTURE

The Arrangement Between Great Britain and Japan Will Procure Peace in the Far East, and the Interests of the Two Nations Have Not Come to Serious Conflict.

THE Anglo-Japanese alliance is the will of Heaven as well as the work of man," was the epigrammatic phrase in a message which Premier Count Teruchi recently issued on the subject of the relations between Japan and Great Britain. With Viscount Ichiro Motono, Japan's Foreign Minister, and others, Count Teruchi sent a communication to "The New East," a monthly review published by British residents at Tokio.

The official Japanese contribution to the alliance is the desire to make the relations between Japan and Great Britain permanent and a permanent agreement. Count Teruchi said that the alliance was the natural outcome of the sincere desire of the

YOUTH FACES GRAVE CHARGE

Kenneth Pratt, of Kingston, Arrested on Charges of Indecent Assault on Little Girls. With the committal for trial of Kenneth Pratt, a seventeen-year-old youth on two charges of indecent assault on little girls, the Kingston police believe that they have secured the person who for some time has been terrorizing little girls in the vicinity of Victoria school and causing alarm and uncertainty to parents in that district.

The capture of the youth yesterday afternoon reflects great credit on James Kruse, the caretaker of Victoria school, who, since the assault on a little girl near the school on August 31st last, has been on the lookout for the lad. He had spied him yesterday afternoon near the corner of Earl and Alfred streets and watched his movements.

In his court Pratt identified the little girl as her assailant. The little tot recounted the conversation she had with the prisoner and later the bright little six-year-old signed the written testimony herself. Magistrate Farrel then committed the prisoner and he will get his trial before a jury.

A SECOND CHARGE

In a second charge of having on August 31st last, committed an indecent assault on another little girl, nine years old, more direct evidence was secured against the prisoner. The little girl was in court also and identified the prisoner. It will be remembered how Mr. Kruse had surprised the assailant behind the school and how the lad had managed to get away. From the fact that he had almost caught the prisoner at that time and consequently had a good chance to see him, Mr. Kruse was able to identify him yesterday afternoon when he saw him just before the assault. He was positive in court this morning and the little girl also was sure he was the lad.

FAKIRS REAP BIG HARVEST

The Peterboro Review says: Visitors to fairs should keep in mind the fact that pickpockets are not the only sharks on the grounds making a business of separating them from their cash. There are fakirs, whose operations are to say the least, questionable. At the Lindsay Fair, a newspaper man watched one of these gentlemen operate for some time, and saw one innocent separate himself from $15 and another dropped $17. The fakir who worked the marble scheme, had four "cappers" working with him and of course, they were winners. On two occasions the fakir handed them over $20 and $25 and this induced the "easy marks" to enter the game. No one won, however, save the "cappers".

Sights to be Seen as the Troop-Train Pass—Practical Unanimity for the Great Cause

Keetsey, Okla., Sept. 28 Editor Ontario.—It would afford great comfort to our Allies to see the loaded troop trains, carrying the flower of the forty-eight states to training camps, for later service in Europe on behalf of the right to live in freedom.

We have a few slackers, and German sympathizers among us, but ninety-nine and one half per cent are loyal and true to the great cause of humanity. We will soon be with you on the front in France and the glorious record made there by England, Canada, Australia, France and Belgium, will make our brave Americans proud and glad to fight beside you and we feel sure that you will not be ashamed of Americans on the fields of honor, as comrades of the heroes who are dying there.

BRAVERY REWARDED

As a reward for his bravery in rescuing Mrs. A. H. McKeel from drowning at Trent River, Mr. John Garneau has been presented by Mr. McKeel with a fine gold watch. The accident happened in August when Mr. McKeel and family were at their summer home at Trent River. Mrs. McKeel and her nephew, Harry Baker had been out fishing and on returning she was in the act of putting the anchor on the pier, when she fell into the river. Her nephew made a determined effort to save her but was unsuccessful. Mr. John Garneau, who was in a boat near them came up just in time to save Mrs. McKeel's life. The family and all the campers were overjoyed at the rescue.—Campbellford Herald.

FIVE CONVICTIONS WERE MADE AT NEWCASTLE

Four for Being Drunk and One for Selling Liquor. License Inspector Goodrich was in Newcastle last week, investigating the illegal sale of liquor and as a consequence of his visit four men were fined $20 and costs for being drunk at Newcastle and another fined $20 and costs for selling liquor. Robt. Lunn, Arthur Little and Henry Smith of Newcastle and Fred Wright of Oshawa, were up on the drunk charges and all admitted having purchased the liquor from Chas. Finley, who lives about a mile out of Newcastle. When Finley's house was searched a quantity of liquor was also found and this was confiscated. The liquor appears to have been of the real knock-out variety. One of the men said they got the liquor at 11 p.m. Saturday night, and he did not remember a thing until he awoke at 3 p.m. Sunday with a pair of handcuffs on him.

IN MEMORY OF FALLEN HEROES

Solemn Service at Baptist Church Last Night in Memory of Raymond Hudson and Harold Prest.

A large audience was present in the Baptist Church last night when a solemn memorial service was held to commemorate the death in action at the front of two of the boys of the Baptist church and Sunday School, Raymond Hudson, missing since Sept. 15th, 1916 and now presumed dead, and Harold Prest, whose death was reported last Wednesday.

The pastor, Rev. Chas. Geo. Smith, B.D., conducted the service. The scriptural lesson was taken from the Gospel of St. John 11th chapter, the story of the death of Lazarus and his raising by Christ. The hymns were most appropriate to the occasion and were sung with inspiring heartiness by the congregation, led by the large chorus choir. A special anthem was effectively rendered by the choir, entitled, "From Every Stormy Wind That Blows," with solo obligato by Mrs. Edwin F. Farrow, Miss Laura LaVole presided at the organ and at the close of the service rendered Handel's stately "Dead March in Saul," while the audience remained standing.

The pastor took his texts from John 11:35 and Hebrews 13:8—"Jesus Wept," "Jesus Christ is the same....today!" He said that we have in these words a picture of "The sympathizing Jesus"—the ever present, truest friend, ever near His aid to lend, and that this scene in the Gospels of Christ weeping at the grave of Lazarus, is being repeated age after age, and to grave and grave and will be till time shall be no more. Christ entered into every condition of human life—into its joys and sorrows, griefs and gladness. He rejoiced with those who were happy and He wept with those who were in grief and sorrow. He was, as Tenyson, so beautifully describes Him, "The strong Son of God, immortal love, whom we, that have not seen Thy face, by faith and faith alone, embrace, believing where we cannot prove." What a comfort it is to know, declared the speaker—that we have this same strong eternal Christ, with His divine spirit today in all our troubles and trials, and how especially comforting to know that this same Christ is "The White Comrade" of all our soldier boys and sailor lads. Christ, said the speaker, was also the Lord of life, and the King and conqueror of death, and the same Christ of whom the sacred historian writes "Jesus wept," also said "Lazarus come forth," and the dead man rose to life. "Jesus Christ is the same today and He not only shares our grief in the death of these, our gallant soldier lads, but He also declares to us, as He did to Martha in Galilee, 'I am the resurrection and the life and whosoever believeth in Me shall never die.' This is our comfort and our loved relatives and kinsfolk of our dead heroes to the mercy and comfort of God. Speaking of the two Sunday School scholars, Mr. Smith, said that Raymond Hudson was a scholar in Miss Lounsbury's class, and was one of the "first to enlist when the war broke out. He was in the attack made upon the sugar refinery at Courcellette on Sept. 15, 1916, and has been missing ever since. Only recently has the war office at Ottawa officially declared him as "presumed dead." Raymond was only 21 years of age when he gave his life for Canada and the Empire." He wrote home to his mother faithfully every week, right up until the day before going into his final fight at Courcellette. In his last letter he said "do not worry, mother, about me, for if I am killed, I am not afraid to die for I am trusting in God and my Saviour, Christ Jesus."

HARVEST HOME AT ST. THOMAS

Beautiful Service with Impressive Pulpit Messages

The annual Harvest Festival was fittingly observed in the parish church of St. Thomas yesterday. Much preparation had been undertaken during the week and as a result of the effort, of many capable and willing hands, the sacred edifice presented throughout the interior a strikingly beautiful appearance. Grains and fruits and flowers, exquisitely prepared and intermingled, with abundance and profusion adorned the vantage points throughout the building, while the choir and sanctuary bore decorations which were marvelous in execution and design. The services yesterday began with two celebrations of the Holy Communion, at 8 o'clock and at 11 o'clock. One hundred and five received the eight, and one hundred and one at the eleven o'clock service. The service at eleven was fully choral, being a musical setting composed by the organist and choir-master, Prof. Wheatley. The Harvest Anthems were also beautiful and exceedingly well rendered by the choir. The rector, the venerable archdeacon, was assisted by the Rev. T. J. O'Connor Fenton, B.A., who was the special preacher for the day. His sermons both morning and evening, were on the subject of the day and were most helpful and inspiring, and were filled with wise counsel, encouragement and comfort. In the afternoon he also addressed a large Sunday School assembled in the auditorium of the parish house. The rain in the evening put a slight damper on the day, yet a good congregation assembled and the choral evensong was beautifully rendered by the rector and the choir, in which the congregation heartily participated, singing the beautiful harvest hymns with hearty accord. The offerings for the day totalled some two hundred and twenty-five dollars.

BEARS FEASTED ON MUTTON

The report of the killing of nearly an entire flock of sheep by bears comes from Union Falls, in the town of Franklin, N.Y. John Bucgley, of that neighborhood, had turned 40 sheep into a pasture for the late fall feed, and when he went, less than a week afterwards, to see how the flock was getting on he could find only one sheep and two lambs left out of the total number. Fragments of sheep hide and bones scattered about the pasture told only too plainly the story of killing by bears, which are said to be unusually numerous in that section of the Adirondacks this fall.

THOUSANDS OF MEN IN NAVY

Since war began, Canada's men of fighting age, have paid considerable attention to the Navy. Naval service has become an important feature of the nation's war activity. From the start of the war, 5,300 officers and men have joined the Canadian Naval Service, cruising in home waters. Canadians in the number of 400 are officers in the motor boat patrol section of the Royal Navy, which includes in its duties the exciting task of looking for U-boats. Thirty-six cadets have gone from the Royal Navy College at Halifax to be officers in the Royal Navy and 40 are taking the course of training there now before joining the Navy.

Canadians are particularly well fitted for such duties as those of the motor boat patrol service, owing to the abundance of waterways and the great vogue of water sports in summer throughout the country. Canada is doing much essential work for the allied cause through the medium of the naval service.

DRAMATIZATIONS OF BOOKS

Some of the most successful plays on the stage have been dramatizations of popular books. Perhaps the most notable example is "Uncle Tom's Cabin" which was first presented over fifty years ago, and has been seen with never-failing regularity every season since. Some other instances are "Ben Hur," "The Christian," "The Sign of the Cross," "East Lynne" and "The Clansman." The latest book dramatization is "The Sky Pilot," which is taken from two of Ralph Connor's novels, "The Sky Pilot" and "Black Rock."

Although these stories were written over fifteen years ago, no attempt has been made to put them into play form until the present season. Many flattering offers had been made to Mr. Connor for the dramatization, but he withheld his permission until the present time. "The Sky Pilot" will be seen in this city at Griffin's opera house, on Tuesday night, Oct. 9th.

Miller's Worm Powders can do no injury to the most delicate child. Any child, infant or in the state of adolescence, who is infested with worms can take this preparation without a quail of the stomach, and will find in it a sure relief and a full protection from these destructive pests, which are responsible for much sickness and great suffering to legions of little ones.

BUSINESS MEN ARE INTERESTED

Employers have been quick to see Practical Advantages of Military Service Act.

Ottawa, Oct. 4.—Canadian business men express themselves as highly pleased with the provision by the Military Service Act of Medical Boards for the early medical examination of men liable to be upper portion of the hotel being drafted under the Military Service Act. This introduction of system it and order into the method of raising men for military service has commended itself to the business community throughout the country, according to all reports received here.

Hearty promises of co-operation in having an early report made by all men in the various classes are also coming to hand, and this co-operation promises to simplify the working of the Act. The vast majority of men in the various classes can be reached through the business houses where they are employed, so far as the cities are concerned at least. A new force getting behind the Act is the business instinct of employers who, under the volunteering system, have had some unsatisfactory experiences through the haphazard dropping off of their employees.

All the Military Service Act really does is to get the country's military system down to a business basis as well as to make it more democratic and satisfactory in every particular.
