DEMOCRATS CLAIM WIN IN UNITED STATES ELECTIONS

GERMANS ARE IN FULL RETREAT ON 15-MILE FRONT

Germans in Desperate Position Are Retreating on a 75-Mile Front

French Keep in Touch With German Rear Guards—Enemy on the Run Between Valenciennes and the Meuse—140 German Divisions Soundly Thrashed, Hundreds of Villages Captured and Thousands of Prisoners Taken—Kaiser's Abdication Said to be Imminent—Ghent Besieged by Allied Forces—Armistice Deputation Leaves Berlin For Western Front.

POSITION OF GERMANS NOW DESPERATE

PARIS, Nov. 6.—Enemy forces are in full retreat on a front of 75 miles from Valenciennes to the Meuse. They are being pressed hotly by the allies. British troops have crossed the Belgian front east of Valenciennes and have stormed Normal Forest, which covers Manhege. Farther south French are within eight miles of the great Mons-Vervins-Lacapelle road. The main strategy of the allied war is the German front in France. They are separated from it only by Nouvion forest. Two French armies are advancing on the southern side of salient. An American army has forced the retreat of the Germans and they are now only nine miles from Sedan. The Americans have carried their lines past Dun-Sur-Meuse. As the result of this last battle, in which the allies have soundly beaten 140 German divisions, hundreds of villages have been freed and thousands of prisoners have been captured. The enemy position, which was bad before, may now be said to be desperate.

Kaiser's Abdication Said to be Imminent

ZURICH, Nov. 6.—Emperor William's abdication has become imminent, according to information received from Berlin by the Munich Post. The newspapers say that serious differences have arisen between the Munich and Berlin governments and adds that the Hohenzollerns and the military party would be making a serious mistake to play with fire for the people are by no means inclined to remain passive.

ALLIED ARMISTICE CONFERENCE IN PRACTICAL ACCORD

PARIS, Nov. 6.—It developed today that inter-allied armistice conference attained accord on all points without much difficulty, with possibly exception of freedom of sea. On which general principle there was substantial agreement but terms are subject to further revision.

ARMISTICE DELEGATION LEFT BERLIN FOR WEST FRONT

RETREAT OF GERMANS ALONG FRENCH FRONT CONTINUES

PARIS, Nov. 6.—(official)—The retreat of the Germans along the whole of the French front continues. The French are in contact with the enemy rear guards. North of the Marle the French have passed beyond Voharies. Italian troops have occupied Lethuill, four miles south-east of Mont Cornet.

DEMOCRATS CLAIM TO HAVE WON IN THE UNITED STATES CONGRESSIONAL ELECTION

But Contest Will Be Extremely Close—Republicans Made Notable Gains—Governorship of New York State Still in Doubt—Soldiers' Vote May Decide—Champ Clark in by Narrow Squeeze—Henry Ford in Second Place.

ELECTION STILL IN DOUBT

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Early today more than 24 hours after yesterday's battle began it was not apparent whether democrats or republicans would control the next congress. Party managers on both sides predicted they would receive a substantial working majority, but returns show that between 50 and 75 congressional districts are still unreported and the line-up is so close that the scales might easily be turned in favor of either party. The Governorship of New York too is surrounded with the same uncertainty. The contest between Governor Whitman and his democratic opponent, Alfred Smith was so close that it appeared that the soldier vote would have to settle it. Some well known figures in public life have close shaves by yesterday's voting prominent among them is speaker Champ Clark, Democrat.

Democrats Claim Both Houses of Congress

The Democratic national committee headquarters early today, claimed that the Senate would be Democratic and that the final returns also would show a small margin for the Democrats in the House.

Republicans Claim Majority in the Senate

Republican national headquarters this afternoon claimed majority of 5 and possibly 6 in the United States Senate.

What the Democrats Claim

Washington, Nov. 6.—Returns received by the national Democratic Committee were said to show definitely the election of 49 Democratic Senators, while in the House 215 seats were assigned to the Democrats, 204 to the Republicans and the remainder in doubt.

New York, Nov. 6.—Next house of representatives will be republican on face of latest returns. The political complexion of senate is still in doubt. In the house, are republicans apparently had been elected and 183 democrats together with one socialist and one independent.

New York, Nov. 6.—At midnight

Senatorial Returns

Thesenatorial returns at midnight showed representatives McGill McCornick of Illinois, Republican, running ahead of Senator James Hamilton Lewis, Democrat, and Henry Ford, the Detroit manufacturer, running on the Democratic ticket in Michigan, behind Truman H. Newberry, former assistant secretary of the navy, the Republican candidate.

Returns tabulated from one-fourth of the precincts in Michigan gave Newberry a lead of approximately 15,000 over Ford. Republican state headquarters claim Newberry's election by at least 40,000 majority over Ford.

The only complete governorship returns at hand at midnight showed the Republican tickets elected in Pennsylvania and Connecticut and Governor Whitman of New York coming down state with a heavy plurality which promised to wipe out the advantage of Alfred E Smith the Democratic candidate in Greater New York.

An American Opinion of Our Council's Action

81 Madison Ave.
Jersey City, N.J., Nov. 1, 1918
Editor Ontario.

Just as we in the United States are putting forth a campaign to obtain $120,000,000 in behalf of the splendid workers of the Y.M.C.A., Red Cross and Salvation Army, who have done such self-sacrificing service for our boys over there.

I am in receipt of a copy of your paper of Oct. 23rd containing an account of the despicable, miserly, and dishonest action of the Belleville Council. I could scarcely believe what I saw before me. Never have I known of such contemptible action from men responsible for a city's government. During my five years' sojourn in your beautiful city, I learned to have the highest respect for many of its city officials and citizens, including such local men as Judge Deroche, Lawyer O'Flynn, Burrows, of Belleville, Thos. Ritchie and many others and I wonder what they think now of their city's disgrace.

I hope the citizens of Belleville will arise in their might and wipe away the stain. I believe there are old fence-rails still around the outskirts, plenty of tar at the gas works and feathers at the market. A judicious use of which would for all time prevent that kind of action by your council.

Yours for the boys over there,
Geo. L. Sturges

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. Crosier and family of Lindsay, wish to express their deep appreciation for the sympathy extended to them by the citizens of Belleville, which was a comfort to them in their hour of trial.

People of Hastings County!

Your country has asked you to lend her $2,100,000 in her hour of need. THE VICTORY LOAN CAMPAIGN IS HALF OVER, AND HASTINGS COUNTY HAS LENT $766,000, a little better than 35 per cent. of the amount asked.

THE LOAN WILL BE OVERSUBSCRIBED

Canada at large has responded better than was expected, some towns having already subscribed 200 p.c. of the amount asked. The Loan will be largely oversubscribed.

WHERE WILL HASTINGS STAND?

Unless every citizen of this loyal old county comes forward between NOW and NOVEMBER 16th with their last dollar and their every credit, HASTINGS COUNTY WILL GO DOWN TO DEFEAT IN THIS HOUR OF VICTORY.

CHINAMEN SUBSCRIBE 100 PER CENT.

In one establishment employing number of Chinamen every one of them bought a BOND.

Are You Less Patriotic Than Chinamen?

This is the last chance the people of Canada may have to buy Government Bonds paying 5 1-2 per cent.

DON'T LOSE THIS CHANCE!

EPIDEMIC ABOUT OVER

The end of the Spanish "flu" visitation, as well as of the war, will probably come within a few days. There are not now ten per cent. of new cases reported in comparison with those days when the disease was at its height. By the end of the week, at the present rate of progress, there will have practically ceased altogether.

After that there will be sporadic cases here and there for a few days but those also will speedily die out if the right course is taken.

Now that the character of the disease is so well determined it is possible to adopt practical rules that should prevent renewed outbreaks.

It is now recognized that the disease is extremely contagious or communicable by being in the immediate vicinity of those who have it in active form. It does not appear to be carried to any extent in the air or to be taken around in clothing. Neither do the germs seem to be long-lived. Once the patient recovers a house is not presumed to require disinfection. The germs do not then appear to be in a sufficiently active stage to propagate themselves.

In many places, particularly in the United States, they are enforcing a practical system of quarantine, by isolation of the patient from visitors and from other members of the family, from everyone, in fact, except physician and nurses.

In Belleville we have had no restrictions of that nature whatever. Visitors have freely come and gone and probably many cases of infection can be traced to that source. When the epidemic was general it may not have been practical to enforce restrictions of that nature. But now, when the pandemic stage is well over, would it not be well to call for isolation and placarding of houses for the few, scattering cases that may appear after the end of this week?

This would be well, not merely from the standpoint of public health, but from that of business. Trade in the city has been practically paralysed. People reading the obituary columns in the papers and hearing exaggerated verbal reports of the ravages of the plague, have gained the idea that Belleville is smitten as by a pestilence.

It should be borne in mind that many of the deaths recorded in the papers are of those who died in the rural districts outside of Belleville or who have come in from outside points to the city hospital. By the end of the week Belleville will probably be more free from influenza than most of the country communities round about. In fact, aside from those who had the malady in a severe form, there is little of it left here now.

The enforcement of a reasonable quarantine regulation, however, would, in our estimation, do more than almost anything else to restore confidence of the trading public and business would soon resume its normal course.

HOW VICTORY LOAN HELPS

Millions of dollars have been used by the Dominion Government since the war began to finance Canada's exports of agricultural and animal products. There has been a tremendous expansion of overseas trade. Great Britain has been able to take care of all the wheat, bacon, cheese and other food products that we can spare, but has not always been in a position to pay cash for it. The Dominion Government has given the Old Land the necessary credit. The money has been advanced out of the loans that have been raised for the purposes of the war, and the large over-subscription of last year's loan was responsible for the marketing of much of our product that would otherwise have remained on our hands.

That is the statement of the Finance Minister, Sir Thomas White. He says the 1917 Victory Loan was the salvation of Canadian industry. It will be the same this year. But take a few figures to clinch the argument: Last year the Government advanced nearly $100,000,000 to Great Britain to enable her to purchase our exports of animal products. Then immense sums went to pay for the cheese and the wheat and the other food commodities that Britain must have. This year we will have $225,000,000 worth of wheat for export; $40,000,000 worth of cheese, and $10,000,000 worth of butter, eggs and condensed milk. Victory Loan money will be used to get these exports to the consumers in Great Britain. The bacon export will be taken care of in the same way. These are only sample industries. They are all the same and are handled on a war basis.

Canada's total exports of agricultural and animal products last year amounted to $740,000,000. In 1915 they were $209,000,000. The same with manufacturers. The increase in the same period was from $85,000,000 to 636,000,000—all because of the Loan issues. The Imperial Munitions Board has awarded to manufacturers contracts for $1,200,000,000, to finance which the Government and banks advanced $600,000,000. All business for Canada. The wealth was distributed and everybody got a share. Can Canadians afford to ignore the lesson which these facts teach?

"FLU" CONSIDERATIONS

Citizens will generally approve of the decision of the Board of Health to keep public places closed for another week because of the epidemic. The scourge is rapidly dying out and the number of new cases now reported is comparatively small. It is just as well, however, not to be stampeded into premature action by the course taken in Toronto. The health authorities of Toronto have in some respects been grossly careless. The churches were allowed to remain open all through. Theatres were not ordered closed until the epidemic had become general all over the city. The theatres will be permitted to open again on Monday. The result of their carelessness has been an appalling death-rate, a death-rate fifty per cent, higher than that of New York, where it was felt that the disease amounted to a pestilence.

New York opened the places of public assembly too soon and the consequence was an immediate increase in the prevalence of the disease far beyond what it had been before.

In Belleville many families have kept in a state of comparative seclusion and have so far escaped the disease. If the schools were to reopen, with cases still quite numerous, the families now immune would probably soon suffer a visitation.

From October 10, when the first death occasioned by the epidemic occurred, to October 31, a period of three weeks, we had forty-eight deaths in Belleville caused by the "flu" or its complications. One Belleville undertaking company looked after sixty funerals in the month of October, or double the number this company had ever conducted in a single month before.

The epidemic has created a great wave of prosperity for druggists, physicians, undertakers and cemetery companies. But to the general lines of trade it has brought stagnation. All the merchants complain of dullness, surpassing that of midsummer, at this harvest season of the year for the tradesmen. Outsiders are not coming into the city, and even in the city people are staying closely at home and doing little buying.

Theatres have been hit hardest of all. Their business has been absolutely taken away. October and November are, to theatres, the best months of the year. The fate of some of the road companies on tour was pitiful. Players are notoriously improvident and many of them, thrown out of work at a moment's notice and hundreds of miles from home, have had a time.

The "flu" will undoubtedly have a serious effect on the fuel situation, already quite serious enough. The producing miners as well as the transportation companies have been quite as hard hit as anybody else. Vastly curtailed production and distribution are the results. In addition to that homes where there were sick people had to be kept warm and therefore furnaces were lighted much earlier than would otherwise have been done.

It strikes the humble outsider that the provincial health authorities have shown precious little foresight or wisdom in meeting the exigencies of the epidemic.

This disease was prevalent in Spain in early July and reached New York on August 12th. Yet with all that opportunity to obtain advance information what advance information did Dr. MacCullough and his assistants obtain? What general rules did they have to apply? As far as we could observe everything was left to each municipality to do as it pleased. Some kept open house, while others closed down tight. There was no system of isolation or quarantine. And yet here was the most deadly plague that had visited this continent in a hundred years passing on its way unchecked. This haphazard dealing with an emergency is a standing indictment of our unpreparedness. We profited not at all by the experience of others but took refuge in the idea that our country was too remote to be attacked. Preventive inoculation was in use among our soldiers on the western front months ago and proved of immense value. Why was not this serum earlier introduced into Canada?

THE NEW YUKON

The report of a silver rush in the Yukon will recall to all middle-aged and elderly folk of today the stampede to Alaska and the Klondike following the discovery of gold there twenty-five years ago. The tales of fabulously rich deposits set the world aflame with desire. For a time all other affairs were eclipsed almost as completely as they are today by the shadow of war. The new Eldorado beckoned the world to riches stupendous in quantity and easy to be had. The way they told it you were liable to stub your toe on a gold mine of wealth so great as to make the possibilities in Alladin's lamp seem cheap. Every man of red blood and a whole lot of others who circulate a lighter shade were keen for the gamble, and within a few weeks the trails were choked with professional and amateur adventurers from all parts of the globe.

The rest of the story is much the same as that of the two other great gold rushes of history, California's and Australia's. The few who got in first secured the cream of the deposits. Others coming later penetrated deeper into the wilderness and pried the lid off new veins of immense riches. But in the end syndicates and corporations secured control of practically the entire gold output.

But if the gold discovery of the Yukon and the Klondike enriched comparatively few it opened subarctic areas of Canada and the United States of limitless resources in things essential to the welfare of the North American millions. The wealth in coal, timber, fisheries, furs laid bare is beyond calculation. The Yukon gold fields may finally peter out just as have the gold fields of California and Australia, but it will require many centuries of exploitation before the other natural resources will disappear. The sour dough, the bad man, the gambler, the gentleman adventurer, who made up that vivid picture of a quarter of a century ago have gone or are rapidly vanishing. Notorious camps have become noted and dignified cities like Dawson City and Nome, clean, orderly, modern. Railways are bringing the world into close touch with the remotest points of this vast wilderness. We think of the passing of the first picturesque days of the Yukon gold fields with a certain regret, but from them has arisen a more magnificent romance of these last frontiers.

The opinions of physicians differ as to the value of various sera that have been tried to stay the progress of influenza. At Belleville extensive use has been made of the serum evolved by Dr. Reed, one of the bacteriologists of Queen's University, Kingston. We are not aware what steps have been taken to gather information and collect data as to the incidence of the disease after the inoculations, which have numbered several hundreds. The general reports have been decidedly favorable. One physician, however, reports two cases of influenza appearing after the full course of inoculation had been taken. That, to be sure, does not prove or disprove the value of the serum as a preventive. Those cases may have been in the incubation stage before treatment was begun. As the start in serum therapy was not made here until the crest of the epidemic was past, that fact will make it still more difficult to arrive at satisfactory conclusions as to its true value. We would like to have seen it sent to some place in advance of the "flu" wave, then a general inoculation could have been carried out and a true, scientific estimate of the worth of the serum could have been made.

"THE GOOD OLD DAYS"

Mr. Adam Bull, aged 87 years, of Scarborough, near Toronto, relates that in the old days of St. Andrew's Church, Scarborough, there was quite a debate one summer as to the advisability of buying with church funds a barrel of beer for members to drink between services. We begin to understand what the expression "those good old days" really means. —Saskatoon Phoenix.

VALUE OF A NEIGHBOR

Did you ever realize the value of a true neighbor? If not, just lose one who has lived by you for a dozen or more years and see what a hole there is left in the community when he is gone. Not all men are good neighbors. It takes a real big man to be a good friend and neighbor. They do not grow on every bush, and they are not found on every farm, but when you find one you have found a real prize. What is a good neighbor? A good neighbor is one who is always trying to do something to make other folks happy and at the same time is made happy in helping others. A good neighbor is a man who will make a little sacrifice in order to help a brother farmer. A man who always tries to see how much there is in it for him before he helps a neighbor is a poor gain. Excuse of a friend, is too selfish to ever see the bright side of life. Give the little fellow lost himself in High knows, The mite I hold is a drop within the flood! Not give the last red cent for those Who gave for us their last red drop of blood— How shall we face those gallant fighting men Who gave up home, love, life to keep us free? What shall we do when they come back again To probe the traitor souls of you and me? If we should fail? There are no depths so deep That we could hide from their just, noble scorn, No sophist lies so black that we could creep Beneath them, in that white-lit judgment morn. What could that money buy we hold so fast? Not honor, glory we had lost before! No Lethe drink to make us lose the past! Forget Today in that vast Evermore! For all you are and ever hope to be, For all the boasted love you bear this land, Give, that our friends and foes across the sea Shall know forever where we take our stand! Give—for the hands move quickly to the hour When we must send our message to the world, Let it be charged with overwhelming power, That foemen's hopes into the dust be hurled! Then, when our boys come home and fill the sky With thundered cheers and cries, "Thank God we went!" Fling back your answer in one ringing cry From every single throat, "Thank God, we went!"

IN FLANDERS FIELDS

In Flanders fields the poppies blow Between the crosses, row on row, That mark our place, and, in the sky, The larks, still bravely singing, fly, Scarce heard amidst the guns below. We are the dead. Short days ago We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow, Loved and were loved, and now we lie In Flanders fields. Take up our quarrel with the foe; To you from falling hands we throw The Torch—be yours to hold it high. If ye break faith with us who die We shall not sleep, though poppies blow In Flanders fields.

—Lt. Col. John McCrae. Died January, 1918, in service, Boulogne.

An Answer

In Flanders fields the cannon boom, And fitful flashes light the gloom, While up above like eagles fly The fierce destroyers of the sky, With stains the earth wherein you lie In Flanders fields.

Sleep on, ye brave! The shrieking shell The quaking trench, the startled yell, The fury of the battle hell, Shall wake you not, for all is well. Sleep peacefully, for all is well.

Your flaming Torch aloft we bear, With burning heart an oath we swear To keep the faith, to fight it through, To crush the foe or sleep with you In Flanders fields.

—C. B. Calbreath.

America's Answer

Rest ye in peace, ye Flanders dead, The fight that ye so bravely led We've taken up. And we will keep True faith with you who lie asleep With each a cross to mark his bed, And poppies blowing overhead, Where once his own lifeblood ran red, So let your rest be sweet and deep In Flanders fields.

Fear not that ye have died for naught, The Torch ye threw to us is caught, Ten million hands will hold it high, And Freedom's light shall never die. We've learned the lesson that ye taught In Flanders fields. R. W. Lillard, in the New York Evening Post.

PREMIER FINDS HIS DOG

Mr. Lloyd George's long lost and much advertised for dog, the Welsh terrier "Cymro" has come home again. It was on Friday, July 19th, that the little fellow lost himself in High street, Sutton, Surrey. Mr. Lloyd George had pulled up his motor car there to address an impromptu meeting, and "Cymro" jumped down—and forgot to come back. On the 23rd the premier issued a description of the missing terrier and offered a reward of £25 for his recovery.

On Wednesday, the 31st, a letter was received from a resident of Redhill, Surrey, who had found "Cymro" wandering about disconsolate, and had given him a home till he learned who was the owner.—Exchange.

A LESSON FROM THE "FLU"

Benevolent Providence has so arranged it that from evil and disastrous events springs some good. The prevailing epidemic is no exception to this rule. The vital importance of public and personal cleanliness is being too forcibly and sadly impressed upon these days to permit of the lesson going unlearned. The "flu" has introduced an era of personal and public hygiene that promises well for the future health of the community if only it can become a fixed habit.

The use of the microbe-destroying antiseptic has become universal. Always in every office there has been a "domon disinfectant" whose gargles were a source of merry jest. Now we have them by battalions and that person who doesn't get busy with a mouth wash or some other preventative comes under suspicion of being selfish and unpatriotic. Folks who a few weeks ago did not know a gargle from a gargoyle are now on intimate terms with the most exclusive antiseptic formulas and chummy with germicides that have slain their billions. Recipes that formerly looked and read like a secret code or the travel on a thousand-year-old Assyrian tablet are no longer hidden mysteries. Board of health pamphlets furnish light and joyous reading and we are familiar with the batting average of every epidemic or pandemic as far back as the seven plagues of Egypt. And every mother's son and daughter of us is a member of the Odooriferous Order of the Campobated.

It would be well for the authorities, federal, provincial and municipal, to crystallize into permanency this widespread and effective participation into which we have been so deeply seized. A few weeks hence when the peril has passed shall we be an institution in its own right, the best circles—to which we all belong—it will still be unashamed to associate with the microbe, but there is danger that we will not be swatting it with the same vigor and regularity as at present. It has always been thus. While the country is in the mood for just such legislation it would be wise to enact regulations of public gathering places. Within the last few years adequate ventilation has been made compulsory in factories, but the law might be extended to include a large number of offices that year in and year out reek of foul atmosphere. Propaganda, the spreading of information in an expert, scientific manner, is in the air. A product of the war, and no greater service could be done the country at large than to educate the public in systematic methods of fighting disease. Schools, the church, the press, the lecture platform, the moving picture, would furnish ideal channels through which to mould the public into the habitual alertness against disease. The menace of the moment has driven us collectively and individually to radical measures. Let us make permanent such as are proved worthy and so add to the general health and happiness.—London Advertiser.

Postal Clerks Meet

A joint meeting of postal clerks, railway mail clerks and letter carriers was held in the post office building Friday evening, Nov. 1st. There was a large attendance of the three grades present. The meeting was for the purpose of discussing the present memorial that is before the government asking for a bonus of $350 to all grades. And an equalization basis of wages east and west. For a number of years the provinces west of Salt Ste. Marie have received $180 dollars per annum more salary than the east owing to the higher cost of living in the four western provinces. In a recent issue of the Labor Gazette the government stated that the cost of living now is on a par east and west if anything slightly higher in the east. Therefore nothing but the full request of the above mentioned memorial can be accepted by the three bodies concerned.

The Threnody of the Leaves

Written for The Ontario by Chas. M. Bice, Lawyer, Denver, Colorado.

The leaves are falling fast. Earth's autumnal robe of cloth-of-gold grows thicker and thicker, ply upon ply. Here and there, to be sure, a tree wears a livery of almost summer greenery still, in Colorado. Some are clothed thickly in all the hectic colors of the dying year—gold, purple, flaming scarlet and all the shades of russet. But the greater number shiver these frosty mornings in the mere rags and tatters of their former vestments, and many are quite bare, holding their fretwork of twigs against the sky in a dumb, pathetic manner.

One by one the leaves release their feeble grasp, which in summer was so tenacious, and float to the ground—dust to dust, ashes to ashes. Or, under the pinch of frost or rude puff of wind, they make their last pilgrimage in great companies, like flocks of butterflies.

They were a merry host but a few weeks since. In bloom time the bees hummed in their midst. Robin, oriole, grosbeak and thrush drenched them with brimming cups of song. The sun kissed them; every wandering zephyr caressed them until they quivered with joy. At night they were soothed to sleep by the strident how of the katydid and the fairy sleighbell chorus of the snow-tree crickets. Now they are dying—dead. We read our own pensive thought into them, of course. In their end we forecast our own. We may be changing our mood, regard them as sprites as they lie upon the ground. Under a gale they scamper about in a perfect frenzy of flee; they race from goal to goal; they join in siffling dances about the trunks of trees; they play hide and seek in the shrubbery.

Yet, even so regarded, if you watch you will notice that their ranks grow thinner. Fear has entered their hearts. As opportunity offers, they struggle into the pockets of the grass wherever it grows long and thick, as in nature. They edge in between the canes of brambles; they pack themselves in solid masses, like bees in a hive, under the hedges. They seek out every available nook, as if animate and intelligent.

And, finally, when they become sodden from rain, broken, ragged and skeletonized, they move no more. Even November's boisterous blasts elicit but a shiver from them. Their play days are over. They turn to dust and are no more.

Victory Loan Parade A Huge Success

The Kaiser Takes a Tumble—Splendid Speeches on the Market Square.

The Victory Loan parade held this morning was one of the most successful demonstrations yet held in connection with either one of the campaigns for Victory Bonds. The streets were gayly decorated with the flags of the Allies, and the crowds along the way were enthusiastic and large. The parade was headed by decorated autos following which was the Depot Band in full force headed by their bugle band. This was the first opportunity the people of Belleville have had to see this organization on parade and they were greatly impressed by the excellent appearance of the men. The playing of the bugle band was also much appreciated. Following the battalion were the veterans in autos, then a flot with the Kaiser hanging in effigy. Boy scouts were next carrying boards with appropriate legends urging the buying of Victory Bonds. The Fire Dept. which followed made a splendid appearance with the horses and wagons tastefully decorated.

Meeting on the Market Square After the parade an open air meeting was held on the market square where a large number of citizens listened to excellent speeches by Belleville's leading orators. Mr. W. B. Deacon, county chairman introduced the speakers: Mr. W. C. Mikel, K.C., Lieut.-Col. W. N. Panton, K.C., Rev. Canon Beamish, Lt.-Col. E. D. O'Flynn, Sergt.-Major Gerald Spaford and Rural Dean Swayne made formal addresses, after which Mr. Deacon requested any wishing to buy bonds to step forward. The response was immediate and good. The meeting was excellent and will be productive of good results.

Aeroplane Help During the parade and throughout the meeting two aeroplanes from Camp Mohawk circled over the street performing hair-raising stunts and dropping Victory Loan literature which was eagerly picked up by the people on the street.

The Kaiser was Dropped At 12 o'clock sharp after the last post was sounded by the buglers, Kaiser Wilhelm was gently dropped from off the city hall tower and crashed to the ground with cheers from the onlookers and was quickly pounced upon by the small boys and torn to pieces. This end of the amusement created no end of excitement, and was a fitting climax to a morning of excitement and entertainment which it is hoped will not be in vain. The good people of Belleville should keep the excitement up until the last day of the campaign and make a record of which Belleville should be proud.

FIGURES MUST BE SPREAD ON THE TABLE The Canadian people are entitled to information about the operation of the Military Service Act—detailed information, including the number of men who have been drafted under it, the number of men who have been drafted under it, the number of men who have not answered the call or who have deserted, the number who have been exempted. And the figures for the different military districts and provinces should be given. Before there is another call for men this information should be forthcoming, else there will be widespread discontent and resentment.—Hamilton Herald.

DR. SARGENT Word has been received of the death in Colborne of a prominent physician of Springfield in the person of Dr. Willis A. Sargent, on Nov. 1st. He had been ill for many months.

Dr. Sargent was born in 1865, graduated from the Trinity University, Toronto in the year '91, and which he successfully continued for seventeen years, after which he returned to Colborne to spend the latter portion of his life, where he was well known and highly respected.

Dr. Sargent during his seventeen years' residence at Springfield became deservedly popular with the people of Rawdon. He was recognized as one of those big, generous, open-hearted men, whom to know is to admire and to esteem. He was true to his friends and true to his convictions, the soul of honor. His passing at a comparatively early age will be sincerely mourned by a host of warm personal friends.

Rev. Father Halligan The death took place at the House of Providence, Kingston, yesterday evening shortly before 6 o'clock of Rev. Father R. S. Halligan. Some days ago he contracted Spanish influenza. Later pneumonia developed and although his fine constitution made a heroic struggle against the ravages of the malady, in the end death triumphed. Rev. Father Halligan was a native of Kingston. His father was Mr. Richard Halligan, for a number of years a leading grocer of Kingston. The subject of this sketch was 27 years of age. He was educated at the Catholic schools in Kingston, Ottawa, University and the Grand Seminary, Montreal. He was ordained 10 years ago by His Grace, Archbishop Gauthier, when that prelate was Archbishop of Kingston. Since ordination he was attached to St. Mary's Cathedral, of Kingston. He was appointed by Archbishop Spratt, chancellor of the archdiocese of Kingston and his own private secretary. Father Halligan was one of the most popular priests in the archdiocese of Kingston. He was a devoted worker and gave promise of a most successful career in the holy priesthood. He was the possessor of rare musical ability and had been for some time director of the choir of St. Mary's Cathedral, Kingston—Brookville Recorder and Times.

Notices are posted cancelling the closing proclamations.

The doctors of the town are all able again to attend to their practice. Dr. Heaslip, who had quite a serious attack of pneumonia, was able to be out on Wednesday of this week.

While there have been a number of cases in Picton, the epidemic has not been attended with great loss of life and there is every reason to think that conditions will rapidly improve.—Gazette.

New York, Nov. 1.—The atrocities inflicted by the Turks upon Greeks living in Asia Minor were directly sanctioned by the German Emperor, Rev. Alexander Papadopoulos, secretary to the Metropolitan of Athens, declared here in an address at a mass meeting in Carnegie Hall.

Rev. Papadopoulos asserted that in 1914 a Greek commissioner took a protest against the Turkish atrocities to Gottleib von Jagow, then Foreign Minister to Germany, who declared the atrocities were justified because the Kaiser had to resort to such measures in order to ensure success. The commissioner then appealed to Emperor William. Rev. Papadopoulos said and received the same response.

Editor Ontario:—The Quinte Chapter I.O.D.E. has sent Christmas boxes to boys overseas each year since the war started and this year is no exception to the rule. On account of the epidemic, which has prevailed in the city the past few weeks, it has been more difficult than usual to get names and proper addresses. So we are appealing to the friends of our Belleville boys to hand them to Mr. (Dr.) Dolan, 17 Victoria Ave., office of the Y.M.C.A. or to officers of the Chapter. A large number have been received but the Chapter is able to provide about ninety more boxes. Names and addresses of boys from Belleville or vicinity, who are friends or not likely to receive many remembrances from those at home, are particularly requested.

Osgoode Hall Legal Notes

Before J. A. C. Cameron, Official Referee, Nov. 1st re Dominion Permanent Loan Company re Winding-up Act.

Bain, Bicknell & Co., made an application before the official referee on behalf of the liquidator, G. R. C. Clarkson, to place a large number of shareholders of the Dominion Permanent Loan Co., now being wound up, on the list as contributors for dividends received by them amounting to over $4,000,000 on the ground that these dividends were paid out of the capital of the company and not out of earnings. W. C. Mikel, K. C., who appeared for a number of shareholders, took objection that the referee had no jurisdiction to place the shareholders on the list of contributors under any circumstances as these shareholders, if liable as ordinary debtors, could be reached by an ordinary action. He also took the objection that only directors could be made liable for improperly paid dividends but not the shareholders unless the shareholders had actual notice that the dividends were unlawfully paid. A number of other counsel representing shareholders from various parts of the province were present and raised other objections.

The referee directed that test actions be brought to dispose of all the objections raised, the costs of all parties to be paid out of the assets in the liquidator's hands, in the meantime all further proceedings to be stayed in other claims and all parties who have not put in a defence be given 10 days to put in their respective defences.

Alsace Becomes Entrenched Camp

A Great Reserve Zone is Also Created by Germans in Lorraine

With the American Army Northwest of Verdun, Nov. 1.—The Germans have created a great reserve zone in Lorraine, through which civilians, unless they have authorization may not pass. They also have transformed a part of Alsace into a great entrenched camp, in which carefully prepared defensive positions will make up for their lack in human material.

It is known that the Germans have expected an attack by American and French troops against the German left wing and have been fearful that the allied troops would break through, as they have done on other attacks during the past few months.

Letter From a
Belleville Boy
in France

France, Oct. 3, 1918.
 Dear Father and All:—

I received your most welcome letter some time ago and I am now going to try and answer. I'm fine at present and hope these few lines will find you all enjoying the very best of health. Bruce is fine, as I was talking to him for a minute or so today.

I'm glad you had the good luck to get home, as two of one family is enough to be out here. I don't mind telling you "she's no birthday" this summer, as it's been dry and nothing else to do only give "Uncle Bill" a run for his money, and we're certainly doing that.

Bruce is right in his glory going up the line as fast as his team can go, and when he meets me he lets a war whoop out like a wild Indian; and sometimes he says, "how would you like to be working for old George Gay?" You should be the happiest man in the world to be home, as you've seen a lot of the world and a few more things money can't buy. You don't want to make your life or mother's miserable by worrying about us as we'll get home alright if we have a little of your luck with us, which I trust we have.

You can let the rest of the folks read this letter as there isn't enough news to write you all separate letters, which you know yourself. If you have a good job you want to keep it as the winter will soon be here.

Isn't it funny how the time flies, as it is three years since I enlisted. I have the same team yet but they have fallen a little as I have been working them pretty hard lately. But I don't mind the work if we only get home this year or by the first of next—which we will (ha-ha)—I want you to excuse me for giving you advice, as I am thinking about what I would do if I was home.

I saw a funny thing the other day. A fellow with a few hard-tacks and a chunk of butter and singing "What's the use of us worrying" and I guess he was right.

What do you think—Bruce got a parcel from E.R. with sugar and tea. There is no use of sending sugar and tea, as we only leave it when we move, and that is only twice a day since Old Bill has started to run. We have "Frisby" wagons and two sets of harness, and our battery has a lot of his horses. There is no use of sending Bruce a watch as he will only break it. I have a good one myself, but it is as good as the one I left home three years ago. You can tell the girls I got their letters all jake, and this one will do for you all as news is scarce over here.

You don't want to think we are getting starved because we are living on the fat of the land, and smoking cigars—not bad, eh?

We are having fine weather and have had all summer, and that's the main thing for our job. Well, I have told you all for now. Hoping to hear from you soon again. Give my regards to all. From your soldier son,
 Stanley Kincaid.

ROBERT STEAD'S NEW NOVEL

Robert J. Stead in his new novel, "The Cow Puncher", (Toronto, the Mussion Book Co., Ltd., cloth, $1.50) has written a notable book with a Western Canada setting. David Elden, the cow puncher of the story, grows to young manhood on a ranch in the foothills, outside the influence of church or school. At eighteen he is accidentally thrown into the company of a young eastern girl who entitles in him the ambition to be somebody in the world.

With this purpose in view, young Elden leaves the ranch and goes to make his fortune in a young Western city. The first night he is swindled out of all his ready cash by a gang of card-sharps, and he takes a job next morning as a coal heaver. For a time it looks as though Dave's course would be downward instead of up, but he fortunately comes under influences which revive his ambition for self-betterment.

About this time the big western real estate boom breaks out, and Dave's course is meteoric. His wealth comes quickly and goes as quickly. Following the collapse of the boom a tragedy in his love affairs sends him as an enlisted man to France. In the closing chapters is found one of the highest patriotic notes struck by any author during the war.

"The Cow Puncher" is decidedly worth while. It is interesting and refreshing, and at times inspiring, written with all Mr. Stead's intimate knowledge of the West and skill of delineation. Through the book runs a happy vein of humor and philosophy which is not the least of its charms. It is illustrated by Arthur Heming, ex-lumberman and North-West Mounted Policeman, and is announced by the publishers as an all-Canadian book—written by a Canadian, illustrated by a Canadian, and printed and bound in Canada. It should receive a warm welcome from the Canadian reading public. The United States edition is issued by Harpers.

Take Little Chances

At Twenty Thousand to One Against A One-Stroke

The great gambling house, Lloyd's of London, some years ago calculated that the chances of a golf player making a hole in one made the odds against about 20,000 to 1. A western paper instances the case of Robert Johnson, professional of the Seattle Golf Club. Not long ago, for the second time in his life, he made "one in one" on the Seattle links. The first time this happened to him was in 1901, a year after he had come from Scotland, where he had been playing golf for some seventeen years. So it figured that for some eighteen holes a day, a one-hole achievement was due about once in seventeen years, with an average of 75 strokes to the round, or something like 111,890 holes of golf. Furthermore, this deposed deity still deeper and figured that there were three holes to a round where the one stroke from tee to cup would be possible, which would make 18,618 short holes, or about an 18,618 to 1 shot, which is not so very far away from the apparently off-hand estimate of Lloyd's.

The same paper records another one-stroke achievement by one W. H. Watts, of the Ogden (Utah) Golf and Country Club. He made a mashie shot and from the fifth tee, destined for the green 135 yards away. The ball struck the flag, which in this case was the Stars and Stripes, floating from a 12-foot bamboo pole. The national emblem caught the ball in its folds as an expert spider might trap an unwary fly, then dropped it like a plummet into the cup.

I wonder what odds Lloyd's would offer against the duplication of that feat?—Buffalo News.

Fire Water Now for the Fiery Bolshevik

Vladivostok, Nov. 6.—The official all-Russian telegraph agency announced today that the Omsk Government intended soon to resume the sale of vodka as a government monopoly. The minister of supplies says that the 1,714,000 bushels of grain necessary for the annual operation of the Russian distilleries can be spared without causing a serious food shortage.

Sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Robert Coulson at Winnipeg. She formerly resided at Foxboro.

T. A. Hinchliffe of the third line Sidney has a fairly good crop of apples, having picked 105 barrels of Spies.

Mr. and Mrs. Lane and Mrs. Massey are retiring from their farms in Sidney and moving to Belleville. Our loss will be some others' gain.

We hear that Miss Lena Reddick has the influenza.

Pleased to report Miss Eva Keran has returned after visiting friends in Toronto and Hamilton.

Ray, son of T. A. Hinchliffe, has twice been wounded in France. A bullet in the neck some time ago put him in the hospital for a time. Returning to the firing line again he was gassed and received shrapnel in the shins.

Mr. W. Sharp has returned after a lengthy visit in the Western provinces.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Sine called on Sunday on Miss Mary and Miss Emma Hayman.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. A. Hinchliffe motored to Belleville and called on Mr. and Mrs. Paul Twiddy.

Miss Stella Wellman, of Gunter, is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hagerty, second of Sidney.

We will be pleased when the "fun" ban is lifted and churches and schools are open again and we can get down on the market square and see some of the old faces.

Since the Military Service Act went into force in military district No. 3, 495 defaulters who failed to report for military duty have been apprehended, 295 who reported to the registrar failed to report later for service, 2,000 volunteers reported for duty without waiting for orders or compulsory notice, and there are still 2,875 out who have failed to report. It is not yet known what will be done with these men should the war suddenly and quickly end, but it is the opinion of some men in authority that the cases will be vigorously prosecuted, even after the war, and some punishment handed out.

Accidentally Shot at Brockville

Suffering from a gunshot wound in the right arm, Charles Wright, son of Albert Wright, residing one mile from Washburn's Corners, was on Saturday brought to the Central Hospital here. Young Wright was removing a loaded gun from a row boat when it accidentally discharged, the contents entering his shoulder and arm. Dr. C. M. B. Cornell attended him and found that the bone had been broken at the elbow. He is now reported to be resting comfortably.—Recorder and Times.

An Expert Safe Opener

Roy Gravelle, of Renfrew, has acquired the reputation as a safe opener enjoyed by his father, who at one time published the Renfrew Journal. He was called to Pembroke the other day to open one of the vaults in the court house there, which had not been opened for five years or more, and which was required to furnish additional vault accommodation for the county officials. The Observer says: Roy made an examination of the safe, and after spending some time in mental calculations returned to the task. He mastered its intricacies and in a short time the doors swung open. Setting it on a combination which he gave to the authorities he went his way, again triumphant.

A Verdict of Murder

An inquest on the body of the infant child found in the Napanee River on Thursday morning was held Friday evening at Napanee. The jury returned a verdict that the child came to its death by drowning in the Napanee River and that it was thrown into the river by its mother, Miss Selma Bedard. A number of witnesses were examined, Mrs. Arthur Houle, Deseronto, a sister of the child's mother, was the chief witness. She stated that she had been caring for the child since its birth, and brought it to Napanee on the evening of Oct. 4th. She handed it over to the mother at the Paisley House on that date, and it was never again seen alive. In her evidence it came out that the mother had threatened to drown the child. A letter to that effect, written by Mrs. Houle to Miss Bedard was produced at the inquest. The child was identified by the articles of clothing found on the body. Dr. W. T. Connell, Kingston, made a post mortem examination of the body and found that death was caused by drowning and that the child was alive when put into the water. Evidence was heard by Mrs. James McVicar and Miss Pearl Sedore as to the presence of the child at the Paisley House on the night of

A Vile Hun Plot

LONDON, Nov. 5.—American troops occupying the village of St. Martin Riviere on the British front, found within the bell of the church a powerful bomb connected by wire with the munitions on the high altar. Austrian Flagship Sunk

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—The Austrian super-dreadnought Veribus Unitis, the flagship of the Austro-Hungarian fleet at the naval base of Pola, was torpedoed and sunk Friday morning by an Italian "naval tank," which manned by two officers succeeded in penetrating the mine-field at the entrance of the harbor. An official despatch from Rome received Sunday night said it is believed the two officers survived, although they probably were captured by the enemy.

A Vile Hun Plot

LONDON, Nov. 5.—American troops occupying the village of St. Martin Riviere on the British front, found within the bell of the church a powerful bomb connected by wire with the munitions on the high altar. The removal of the munitions for benedictions must have caused the wreck of the church upon the kneeling worshippers. American engineers have prepared a report upon this attempted crime.

The Allied Bag

PARIS, Nov. 5.—Since the great offensive began on the western front, on July 15 last, the Allied armies have captured 923,355 prisoners, including 7,990 officers, as well as 6,217 cannon, 38,622 machine guns and 3,907 mine-throwers.

The Allies during the month of October captured 103,843 prisoners, including 2,472 officers, as well as 2,064 cannon, 13,639 machine guns, and 1,183 mine-throwers.

Pacifist Baldwin Gets Year in Jail

New York, Nov. 5.—Surrounded by intellectuals of the radical group, who have opposed conscription, Roger Nash Baldwin, director and leading spirit in the Civil Liberty Bureau and other pacifist organizations, was sentenced to serve one year in the Federal penitentiary by Judge Mayer for refusing to submit to a physical examination after he had registered for the draft.

When Judge Mayer pronounced sentence, Rose Pastor Stokes, Scott Nearing, De Silver, The Rev. Norman Thomas, L. Hollingsworth Wood, Walter Nellis, William Simpson and others associated with him, congratulated Baldwin on his stand.

Baldwin is a Harvard graduate and was prominent in the Middle West civic affairs. He is thirty-four years of age. He is unmarried and said he had no one dependent on him.

When arraigned for sentence he delivered a long speech, in which he admitted he was opposed to the purchase of Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps, and did not favor the war or any other patriotic enterprise.

"I am an out and out heretic. I want no compromise and I'll take what punishment is due," he told Judge Mayer. "I am not seeking to evade the draft. I scorn evasion, compromise and gambling with moral issues. I am opposed to any service under conscription, regardless of whether that service in itself is morally objectionable."

No Mercy For Boche Troops

Huns Must Surrender or Be Smashed—French Army is Determined on This.

With the French Army, Nov. 5.—"We won't stop hammering the boches until they are smashed or surrender."

The speaker was a typical polli, a bearded, battle-stained Sergeant of the Territorials, attached by his own request to an active regiment. Since Verdun, he has been decorated with the Military Medal and the War Cross with three palms. He explained: "God knows I want to return to my family and farm in Auvergne. But after what I have seen of the boche methods of warfare—with all that implies—I realize we must break them utterly before laying down the sword. My comrades think the same—in the whole French army you would not find ten men to approve a peace whereby the boche escaped the justice that must be done to him."

Even now it is possible there are people in America who do not realize what fifty, inhuman swine the Germans have proved themselves to be in France. But the French soldiers know, and no political generalities about a distinction between boche soldiers and their masters will weaken the French resolve to make an end of the German military doctrine.

Foch is as determined as any of his subordinates. For the moment, despite the far-etched pessimism of Ludendorff in the first week of October, the German army manages to hold ground with desperate and expensive counter-attacks. But the enemy will be allowed no respite.

Unless complete surrender comes, we believe will fall each deadlier than the last, until Ludendorff's prophecy of disaster has been fulfilled.

Much Sickness Still

That the epidemic is abating, but that there is still a lot of sickness throughout North Toronto, is the opinion of the Victory Bond salesman of this district. "On one street alone, every third house had people ill," said one of the team. "However, we found those we could interview wonderful. In one tiny bit of a house a little woman was preparing the midday meal for her children when I called. Very courteously she asked me in, and said at once that she would buy a $50 bond. We chatted a little while, and she changed it to $100. Before I left she decided to sign up for $400. What inspired me most was her pleasantness and courtesy the whole time."

Just up to Tuesday night over $70,000 was the amount of bonds sold by Team E 30. Yesterday one salesman sold $8,000 worth of bonds one person having subscribed for $5,000 and another up to $1,000.—Toronto Telegram.

Twenty-Four Million Dollars Wasted on Bad Planes in U. S.

GROSS INCOMPETENCY SHOWN IN AIRCRAFT PRODUCTION

Charles E. Hughes Report Indicates Heavy Expenditure for Useless Effort

Washington, Nov. 5.—The report in the aircraft question held up during the last five months, has been made by Charles E. Hughes and Attorney General Gregory, and was placed before President Wilson last night by the attorney-general and was immediately made public.

Delays and waste of production, the report declares, were due to "deficient organization of the work and lack of competent direction of that work by respective members of the corporation." No defects were found with the management of the aircraft since its organization last May, with John D. Ryan as manager.

Attorney-General Gregory, in a letter concerning the report to President Wilson, says that he is in accord with the findings of Mr. Hughes. The report of Attorney-General Gregory is to the effect that the work of army officers in the corporation should be investigated. The sharp waste from the original asset of $691,851,866, the report says, was due to the abandonment of two makes of aircraft, one of them the Bristol, which accounted for a loss of $24,000,000. This report shows that losses amounted to $134,000,000, and up to October 1st the expenditure account had reached the figure of $140,000,000. Contracts lost amounted to $470,000,000. These figures are given in answer to the general issue that the sum has all been expended with practically no results.

The Daring Deed of Chaplain Nicholson

Armed Only With a Walking Stick He Walked Alone to German Dugout

Information has now been received of the exploit which recently won the Military Cross for Captain the Rev. J. F. Nicholson, a chaplain at the front, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nicholson, of Kingston.

Advancing with a Canadian Mounted Rifles Battalion he walked alone, only with a walking stick, to a German dugout. A German officer came out and said he and his men would surrender if their lives were spared. This was, of course, agreed to and a total of 4 officers and 43 men came out of the dugout. At this stage the senior officer said to Capt. Nicholson, "You are unarmed." Father Nicholson, who as a chaplain carried no arms, answered by putting his hand to his hip and saying, "Am I?" At this critical moment the M.O. arrived and as he had a revolver, Father Nicholson told him to disarm the 47 Germans. Two Canadian runners came up, armed also with revolvers, and this slender escort conducted the prisoners to the collecting post. A week later Father Nicholson was gassed, but he has now returned to duty.

Wedding Bells

PACRY—LOWERY

On Wednesday evening, Oct. 23rd, at the hour of 4 o'clock, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lowery, of Dominion street, Trenton, was the scene of a very pretty wedding when their elder daughter Hazel May, was united in marriage to Mr. Mervin Pacry, of the C.P.R. locomotive staff.

The wisomest bride was becomingly attired in a gown of pale blue silk, was unattended, and was very gracefully accompanied by her father to the altar.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. E. Ross, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, in the presence of immediate relatives and friends. After congratulations the guests sat down to a sumptuous wedding dinner, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all present, and bespoke the superior ability of the host and hostess to prepare and serve such an abundant repast. The young people are highly esteemed and we hope for their much happiness and prosperity. They will reside in Trenton, on Dominion street and are followed by the best wishes of a large circle of friends and acquaintances.—Trenton Courier.

Be Sure Employee is Not Defaulter

Notice is given under the Military Service Act that any employer retaining in his employ a man who is a deserter, or who is absent from the Canadian Expeditionary Force without leave, shall be guilty of an offence punishable on conviction by imprisonment not exceeding six months, or a fine of not less than $100 and not more than $500, or by both fine and imprisonment.

Employers will do well to take notice of this and assure themselves that each of their employees of military age and description is in possession of documents proving that he is not in any way in default under the Act. This is necessary in the employer's own protection.

Then the notice published in the press also warns employers that it should be clearly understood that the Canadian Registration Certificate given on June 23, 1918, at the time of general registration, in no way defines the status of a man under the Military Service Act.

The regulations also provide that any person who harbors or conceals or in any way assists any man who is a defaulter or absentee without leave shall be subject to the same penalty as above.

Willard Long on "Collect" Wires

Arousing Ire in New York Over Meanness in Regard to War Work Campaign

New York, Nov. 5.—Jess Willard, the wealthy non-combatant heavy-weight champion pugilist, who is busy adding to his already bulky roll in the oil business "somewhere in Texas," is apparently doing his best to qualify as the world's champion skintight. Some days ago "Sunny Jim" Coffroth appealed to Willard by telegraph to establish a precedent and contribute his pugilistic services to a good cause. Jess hastily replied, collect, that he would do anything in the world for the United War Work campaign, or words to that effect.

Coffroth was elated and immediately wired Willard to name the place, date and opponent, which Jess promptly did, at the expense of the War Fund. Along came a lengthy message, collect, in which Willard declared he was too busy in the interests of Jess Willard to come north but that some fine night after business hours he would be glad to "pull off" an "exhibition" with one of his third-rate sparring partners, "somewhere in Texas," and would be glad to send the proceeds to swell the total of the great war fund.

Quinn is the name of the town Willard wants to box in. Nobody in New York has ever heard of the place but it must be on the map for doesn't Jess Willard send telegrams from there to the great charity organizations—collect?

Appointment Given to Lieut. Sanford

Lieut. Sanford Will Have Charge of Soldiers' Aid Work

Kingston, Nov. 4.—Lieut. Sanford who has been twice overseas in France, has been appointed to succeed Major Southey, in charge of the local office and work of the Soldiers' Aid Commission.

Lieut. Sanford first went overseas with the 21st battalion, and although he was returned to Canada badly wounded and gassed, he went back again with the 156th Battalion, of which he was adjutant.

Some time ago Lieut. Sanford returned to Canada and came to live in Kingston. He has recently been helping in the Victory and Liberty Loan campaigns. He has been instructed to report to Toronto for instructions, and it is expected that within a few days he will be in the office on Bagot street, where a host of friends will be pleased to see him.

More Than Thousand Poems Submitted on the Victory Loan

Toronto, Nov. 5.—More than 1,100 poems were received and judged by Prof. M. W. Wallace in the Victory Loan competition. The first prize went to George H. Mattland, of Toronto, whose contribution entitled "Then Grudge Ye Not" was considered to possess the greatest merit.

Entries were received from every province in the Dominion, from the United Kingdom, and from many American states.

Contributions awarded honorable mention included those by Bon Peacock, "The Arimer," Ottawa; W. G. Gallford, H.M.C.S. "Nisbe," Halifax, N.S.; Gordon Rogers, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa; and Allan Sullivan, Royal Air Force, Toronto.

Miss Hyegene Manley, nurse in training at the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, is home on two weeks leave, recovering from an attack of influenza.

Every bit of ground they can handle, and that is a good bit, is being farmed and used, for the French people are some workers. Their day is very long, for at sunrise they are up and soon out, and about sunset they call it a day. I guess they do not know there is an eight-hour day. One peculiar thing about the days here is that daylight is very long. The sun rises about 4.30 a.m. or 5 a.m., and it is about 9 p.m. before it gets dusk. I am not so sure about the hour the sun rises, for we do not get up that early, but we crawl out of our nests at 4.45 and the sun is bright and pretty high then.

We are now living in billets, which are houses and barns. Myself and nineteen others are quartered in the second story, and we sure have the times of our lives, specially at night, when we are all together. The evenings are spent playing pinochle and singing. Our first night in billets is one long to be remembered, for one of the fellows thought he was attacked by the soldiers' enemy, but it was only a false alarm. We examined him pretty closely, but found no trace of cooties, but nevertheless we all went back to bed, feeling a little creepy. Imagination, I guess.

The other day, in rummaging through the billets, we found an old bed with mattress and everything bedclothes good, and in the afternoon we fixed the bed for the night and then went outdoors. When we came back, we found our bed was tenanted by chickens, not the regular kind, but the fowl variety. We soon chased them and started to fix up for the night, and in walks the lady next door, who owns this place. She began to jibber in French at an awful gait, but she made us understand that we were not welcome, that downstairs belonged to her and not us, so we beat it upstairs. Bob, let me tell you that when a French woman starts to lay down the law to you, you may as well keep quiet, for it is impossible to get a word in edgewise.

It is a funny sight to walk down the street and see a group of soldiers here and there, with their little French book out, crowded around some French dame or fellow, trying to learn the lingo. Believe me, it is a tougher proposition than you think to learn French, but I think we will get along slowly. Am giving it an awful battle anyway.

Well, Bob, this is about all for this time. Will write you again when news is a little thicker. Give my regards to all the Disston boys and girls, and don't forget our old friend Sarah. Let me know how things are going around Disston's and Tacony. Hoping this letter finds you in excellent health, will close, remaining as ever.

WAR WILL CONTINUE

A San Antonio girl wears a pin with nine service stars. Not nine brothers—nine sweethearts. The real war will start when this one is over.

On Active Service With U.S. Expeditionary Force

Somewhere in France, Sept. 15, 1918 Dear Friend Bob:

Having a few hours to myself and feeling in the humor for writing, thought I had better drop a few lines to you and let you know how things are going.

We had a very pleasant sea voyage having good weather all the way across. It rained one day and the ocean got pretty rough, but the most of us had our sea legs by that time and rather enjoyed the rolling and pitching of the good old ship. The seas were this way for a few days, and one morning we awoke and found ourselves in the smoothest of water; it was just like our Schuykill River, and, better still, we were in sight of land. It sure did look good to us. Well, we landed and took the trains for a camp, which was the "rest camp." On the train we saw a good bit of England, and I for one was rather surprised at the difference between our good old U.S.A. and England. First, their train service is queer. They have little coaches divided into compartments, and we rode eight in a compartment. Their locomotives are very small, something like the engine they have down at the Filtering Plant, but, believe me, they sure can travel some. Next, the tramcars are funny looking things. They are like our State Road dinkies, but they have an addition on the roof for passengers also. We usually rode on the top deck, because we could smoke up there. They have girl conductors and, believe me, they sure do know their job. I think they are even superior to the men, for when the conductress tells one to step lively or step to the front of the car, they do it with a snap, while if it were a man, no need to go into detail, for you know just how we all would act. The fare is a penny, and for the penny you can ride anywhere and get a receipt besides. The receipt is a bit of cardboard about 2 inches or 2 1/2 inches long by 3/4". It takes the place of our transfers at home. The conductress carries a satchel at the waist, suspended by a strap around the neck, and this is the receptacle for the big pennies. You know they are a little bigger than our half-dollar, and a few hundred must weigh a ton. So much for the transportation.

England is rather very pretty and they have some very nice houses and park places. One peculiar thing about the houses is that they are all peaked roofed. I do not remember seeing any flat roofs at all. The streets are kept nice and clean, and so are the yards of the houses. While in the train, we had a good look at both houses and roads and found them neat and clean.

The English police, too, were a funny sight for us to look at. They are dressed somewhat like our "cops," but have lots of decoration. They have silver buttons and a good bit of silver or, I should say, nickel on their collars. Their helmets are something like the German soldier's, but they have not that steel point on them, they carry a stick which is somewhat like a cane, but not quite as long and a little heavier. They are a husky looking lot, all being either six feet or over, and most of them are built in proportion, so much for England.

We will now go on to France. Bob, France is sure one beautiful country. If I did not like my dear old Pennsylvania so much, I would say it is even prettier than home, but I will admit it is great. It is no wonder the Frenchies fight so hard to protect their homes and country, for it is sure worth while fighting for.

Every bit of ground they can handle, and that is a good bit, is being farmed and used, for the French people are some workers. Their day is very long, for at sunrise they are up and soon out, and about sunset they call it a day. I guess they do not know there is an eight-hour day. # Y.M.C.A. TO GET THEIR $6,000 GRANT AT ONCE

City Council Last Evening Undid its Work of Two Weeks ago and Decided to Keep its Pledge to Red Triangle Work — Ald Robinson Urged Point of Legality — Coal Committees Discussed Coal Situation

The Overseas Y.M.C.A. will get the $6,000 grant the city council voted in April last and the money will be paid over at once. This step was taken by the city council last night. A large number of citizens followed the proceedings with deep interest and broke into applause on several occasions.

It was moved by Ald. Whelan seconded by Ald. Treverton that the motion passed by this council on October 21, 1918 rescinding a motion of April 8th, 1918 authorizing the payment of $6,000 to the Overseas Y.M.C.A. and also a motion passed on June 17th, 1918 withholding the payment of said grant be and are hereby rescinded and that the city treasurer be authorized to forward at once to the proper authorities a cheque for the amount of said grant, viz: $6,000.

Ald. Robinson moved in amendment that the amount of the Y.M.C.A. grant be not paid until we receive written advice from the city solicitor as to the legality of the grant originally made.

Ald. Donohue, "I'll second it." Ald. Robinson claimed there was no bylaw passed for the grant and there was nothing in the estimates bylaw mentioning the Y.M.C.A. grant. Even the amount is not mentioned there.

The city clerk being asked, said "The estimates bylaw did not mention specifically the Y.M.C.A. But the amount of $6,000 was understood."

Ald. Robinson wanted to avoid future trouble. He wanted the grant perfectly legal. "I'm just asking for a delay."

Ald. Whelan—"Just put the motion. If we do anything illegal, let Ald. Robinson look after us afterward."

Ald. Robinson "That won't do at all."

Ald. Donohue did not want to vote until he was sure where he stood on the legality of the grant. The solicitor mentioned in his letter something about a bylaw.

Ald. Robinson's amendment was lost on the following vote: Yes—Donohue, Hanna, Hagerman, Robinson—4. No—St. Charles, Whelan, Treverton, Curry, Mayor Platt—5.

Ald. Whelan's motion was then discussed.

Ald. Robinson wanted a chance to speak. He said: "If this grant is not paid, it is quite right to refund the taxes paid to the ratepayers. He was convinced the grant should not be made."

The war is just about over. What's the use of grants then? It seems a piece of foolish business to give money where it is not needed. People with relatives at the front told him he was right. One man stopped him on the street and said: "Stick to your text Robinson, you've got the people at your back."

The alderman said "Many?" The man replied "The great majority of them."

Ald. Whelan—Every city council in Canada, township and county councils had granted money to the Y.M.C.A. and was Belleville to be the only council that refused to carry out its pledge?

Ald. Donohue said all men at the front would not all see alike. He would like to see the grant made legally.

Mayor Platt started to speak. Ald. Robinson claimed he had no right to speak from the chair.

"I'm just going to say what I want to say," said the Mayor and went on to say that when the boys went away, Belleville promised their support to the last dollar and last man. If the boys overseas were to listen to two or three weeks of the mean, low, criticism that we have just had in Belleville, they would be ashamed of the place and rightly so.

If the war is over tomorrow, the soldiers will be in Europe for two years. The Y.M.C.A. has a great work to do. It is beneath the dignity of an alderman to hint that the Y.M.C.A., a noble institution would pocket six thousand dollars.

Ald. Robinson wanted to speak again but he had spoken twice already and the mayor said "you've been talking for the last three weeks and it does not amount to shucks."

Ald. Treverton said the vote was made to grant the money unanimously. Now is the time to give the boys the best even if peace is at ship coal landed here to the towns around here. Belleville has been doing to do with this as it was a question with the dealers.

Mayor Platt stated two men had got-up to criticize the fuel committee. Money had been deposited to the credit of the dealer at the mines in order to get coal. There is nothing unusual in this. Dealers had to do the same. Any coal shipped out of Belleville was of inferior grade.

Ald. Hanna endorsed the mayor's remarks. The coal sent out was counted as part of Trenton's allotment, and Belleville will get credit for it in its allotment.

Ald. Curry gave notice of a motion to have all poultry brought on the city market for sale sold by weight.

At the request of Ald. Robinson City Solicitor Masson's opinion on the grant was as follows:

Re Y.M.C.A. Grant

"Under the Act to authorize and confirm grants by municipal corporations to patriotic purposes, 'Any municipal corporation may pass bylaws for granting aid to the National Council of Y.M.C.A. of Canada for the purpose of the special work being carried on by it in furnishing and supplying accommodation, comforts, food and drink and entertainment to officers and men while on active service during the present war with the naval or military forces of the British Empire and Great Britain's allies, and under the said Act it is not necessary to obtain the assent of the electors to any bylaw passed under the authority of the act or to observe the formalities in relation thereto prescribed by the said Act.'"

In answer to a further question by Ald. Robinson, "Has the council the power to rescind the grant by resolution having been put in the estimates and collected, the largest portion of it?" I would answer that in the negative. They have no power to rescind or repeal a bylaw by resolution.

The vote was then taken resulting in the carrying of Ald. Whelan's resolution, the yeas and nays being recorded as follows:

Yeas—Curry, Hanna, St. Charles, Treverton, Whelan, Mayor Platt—5. Nays—Hagerman, Robinson.

Ald. Donohue said "I'm not voting."

Ald. Robinson, "You'll be counted in the negative."

Ald. Donohue "I don't care."

It was moved by Ald. St. Charles, seconded by Ald. Hanna that a committee consisting of Ald. St. Charles, Ald. Hanna and Chief Brown be a committee to procure and select samples of pants for the firemen and the purchase of 2 new overcoats with power to act.—Carried.

Ald. Hanna moved, seconded by Ald. Treverton that Ald. Curry, Ald. Donohue and Ald. Treverton be a committee with power to act to remedy the flood nuisance on Coleman's Rate.—Carried.

Ald. Hanna moved, seconded by Ald. St. Charles that Ald. Whelan, St. Charles and Hanna be a committee to arrange whatever public peace or victory demonstrations they may deem advisable.—Carried.

Ald. Hanna moved, seconded by Ald. St. Charles that a special committee be appointed to meet a similar committee of the Board of Trade to consider the Bay Bridge question.—Carried.

Ald. Robinson was in the chair in committee. Accounts recommended were passed, also the following recommendation:

Mr. Daniel Stapley, city scavenger asked for an increase of $25 to the remuneration which is at present paid him per annum, namely $75.

Ald. Whelan "Have you taken over the coke at the gas works for the use of the citizens?"

Ald. Robinson "It is not in our province as a fuel committee to look after this."

Ald. Whelan "How many cars of coal have the fuel committee shipped to Trenton?"

Ald. Robinson could not say.

Ald. Whelan "There's no use asking questions, we never get answers."

Ald. Donohue "Is the coal committee aware that a great quantity of coal is being shipped out? It looks like the committee to hustle to get coal and then find coal already in the city is being shipped out by the dealers."

Ald. Robinson—"The coal committee has no control over this."

Ald. Whelan "Is it true that the city committee is selling coal to Trenton?"

Ald. Robinson "It is selling alleged coal but it is three-quarters slate."

Ald. Whelan "It is the line of coal you sent money away for."

Ald. Robinson "I kicked against sending money to Pittsburgh to the credit of the dealer. I think your objection is well taken. I did not endorse it. The rest of the committee endorsed it."

The Mayor said the Schuster Co. got permission of the controller to

How Pte. C. E. Brown Came to His Death

Mr. E. G. Brown, 36 Sinclair St., has received the following letter from Lieut. Connell, telling how his son, Pte. Cecil Everett Brown, gallantly met his death, facing the enemies of freedom on Sept. 29th.

Pte. Brown, whose death was recorded in The Ontario a few days ago, went overseas from the First Depot Battalion, leaving Kingston on Feb. 5th last. About the 1st of August he went to the front and in two months that intervened between that time and his death he won the respect of those with whom he was associated by his courage and devotion to duty.

France, Oct. 6th, '18.
My Dear Mrs. Brown,
It is with deep regret that I have to confirm the official advice which I assume you will have received by this date, that your son Pte. Cecil E. Brown was killed in action Sept. 29th. Your son was in the advance against enemy strong points, which opened last Sunday morning. We had then been in battle two days and two nights, during which time your son had exhibited those same sterling qualities which have given the Canadian army its splendid reputation. On Sunday morning we made a new advance this time across the Douai-Cambrai road, a place of extreme importance to our line. We came against heavy machine gun fire. Your son was almost instantly killed by machine gun bullets. His death was without suffering. His body is buried in the cemetery of Bourlon village which is the little town on the slopes of Bourlon hill, which is covered by the now famous Bourlon woods. The village nestles in an outstretched arm of the wood, and overlooks a wide stretch of country from which we have recently driven the enemy, we hope forever.

Any sympathy that I extend to you must indeed be futile and unfeeling beside your grief, but I hope you will find consolation in the fact that your son died fighting for his country—respected by his fellow soldiers and esteemed by his officers.

I remain, My Dear Mrs. Brown,
Yours faithfully,
Horatio C. Connell,
Lieut. 38th Battalion.

Belleville, Nov. 4th.

Will you kindly publish the enclosed correspondence which explains itself? In closing, this special effort for the Sailors' Relief Work of the Navy League, permit me, on behalf of the Belleville branch to thank the public generally for the kind reception of the Boy Scouts, without whose help even the little that has been done could not have been accomplished, the parents for giving their boys the opportunity of sharing in this most worthy cause, some 35 of whom have become members of the Boy's Naval Brigade and got their badges, thus becoming attached to the greatest human power in the world—the British Navy—the press of the city for their much appreciated editorials and the many locals inserted free of charge and the clergymen of all denominations for commending the cause from their churches.

Three Local Boys Among the Dead

Two Die in England of "Flu" and One Killed in France

Three Belleville homes were saddened by telegrams from Ottawa announcing the deaths from sickness and in action of well-known young men who went overseas this year:

Pte. John Charles McKnight

Mr. William McKnight, 35 Parker street, received the following message from Ottawa: "3,058,107 Pte. John Charles McKnight died 14 General Hospital, Eastbourne, Oct. 31st, influenza, pneumonia."

John McKnight was one of the best known young men of this city. He was about twenty-three years of age and was born in this city. He was for some years an expert linotype operator, having been engaged on the staffs of "The Daily Ontario" and "The Intelligencer," where his services were highly appreciated.

"Jack" McKnight as he was known to many, was working at the latter office at the time of his enlistment. After drilling at Kingston he went overseas this year.

His father Mr. William McKnight is a veteran and pensioner of the American Civil War, and was a prisoner of war at Antietam and at Charleston, S.C.

To the members of the family the deepest sympathy is extended.

Pte. Thomas Naphin

Mrs. O. Naphin, 78 Moira St. East, has received the sad intimation that 3004102 Pte. Thomas Naphin had been killed in action on October 21, 1918. Thomas Naphin went overseas early this year and had been in the front for a considerable time.

Pte. Raymond Clarke Cooney

Mr. Frank Cooney, 305 Pinnacle street had a message from Ottawa, yesterday afternoon stating that Raymond Clarke Cooney had died of influenza and heart failure on October 28th in England.

Death of Miss Maysel T. Stork

Well Known Belleville Young Lady Succumbs to Pneumonia

Miss Maysel T. Stork, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Stork, passed away at the family residence, 184 William street last night as a result of pneumonia. It was only on Wednesday last, Oct. 30th that she was taken ill with influenza. Complications set in which made recovery impossible. When it was learned yesterday that she could not survive the day there was much sincere sorrow expressed on all sides. She died as she had lived, at peace with every one.

The late Maysel T. Stork was born in Windsor, Ontario and removed to Belleville in her childhood. She had since made this city her home. She was prominent in musical circles, her services as soprano soloist being appreciated by every organization in the city. She had been soloist in a number of churches. Latterly she was soprano soloist in Bridge St. Methodist Church. Prior to this she had been in the description of the train robber which had been forwarded by the Toronto police.

Her death means a distinct loss to musical circles in the city.

Besides her parents, Mr. C. M. Stork, manager of the local branch of the Bank of Commerce, and Mrs. Stork, there survive two brothers, May-Stork, of Winnipeg, and Charles Morris of the Post Office staff, of Belleville, and two sisters, Mrs. C. Stork and his bed for the kids. Don't take him. The Canadian Bank of Commerce at

Congratulations Maynooth

The north townships have come through once more in a great patriotic effort. North Hastings is the banner District for 1918 Victory Loan campaign.

The coveted Governor-General's honor flag, which is being presented to each district passing its objective for the Victory Loan, has been won by the North Townships, Maynooth being the canvasser.

The following telegram was sent to Mr. Douglas by Mr. W. B. Deacon, today—

Mr. Wm. Douglas,
Maynooth,
Congratulations on winning the first Victory Loan honor flag. Yours is the first district to pass its objective. Governor-General's flag being shipped today. Keep up the good work.

City and County Standing

Hastings Co. to date $683,000
Hastings Co. total yesterday 107,550
Belleville to date 258,750
Belleville total yesterday 35,950

Hastings County on the first day of the second week of the Victory Loan Campaign has attained little better than 30 per cent of its honor flag objective. It is hoped that the second week of the campaign will bring the County to its objective, or at least Belleville should fly the honor flag if every citizen would pitch in and help and take a personal interest in having the Governor-General's honor flag flying from the city hall. A great many people who have subscribed, have not lent to their utmost, and a great many have not lent at all. During the second week of the campaign those who have subscribed should subscribe again, and those who have not subscribed should do so at once, so that during the last week of the campaign, the citizens and canvassers can be heartened by the sight of the honor flag flying from the top of the flag staff of the city hall. This can not be done unless everyone works.

Splendid Returns from the Royal Air Force

Yesterday Major R. D. Ponton, Lt. David Ketcheson, M.C., and Lieut. J. C. Carroll returned from a first amphibious campaign of the Royal Air Force at Camp Balthus, Deseronto, and Camp Mohawk. They brought back 122 applications for $12,450 of the bonds. This is a most excellent showing, and surely an object lesson to the citizens of Belleville. These men, who are risking their lives every day, and whose comrades are giving their lives every day have come forward in a whole-hearted way to subscribe for the Victory Loan to assist their comrades, who are fighting in France, and to help the country to carry on.

Competition has been very keen amongst the various airmen, one trying to out-do the other in the matter of Victory Bonds. This friendly rivalry will be kept up until the close of the campaign when the returns for the Royal Air Force will not only be a great addition to Hastings County contribution to the loan but an object lesson in patriotism.

Citizens of Belleville get busy today and lend your utmost to help your country, your town and yourselves.

He is said to fill the description of the train robber which had been forwarded by the Toronto police.

Easy Pill to Take

Some persons have repugnance to pills because of their nauseating taste, prepared as to make them agreeable to the most fastidious. The medicine can take them without feeling the revolution that follows the taking of ordinary pills. This is one reason for the popularity of these celebrated pills, but the main reason is their high tonical quality as to their effectiveness.

Obituary

Influenza has claimed another victim in the person of Mr. H. B. Froste, member of the firm of Carman and Froste, barristers, of Regina, Sask. Deceased was the son of the late Mr. Fred J. He had been practicing in that city for the past five years. Three years ago he married Miss Blanche Knight, also of Regina, who with a little daughter two years of age, are left to mourn the loss of a devoted husband and father. ## ERNEST G. NEWPORT

Ernest G. Newport, editor and publisher of The Deseronto Post, passed away on Sunday night after a few days illness from pneumonia at his residence, Thomas St. Deseronto. Deceased is survived by his wife but no family. The funeral took place this afternoon with interment at Nanapanee. He was a young man and was married a year ago to Miss Windover, of Nanapanee.

Mr. Newport came to Deseronto and purchased The Post from Mr. Lyons about four years ago. He had previously been employed on The Whig at Kingston. In The Post he was issuing a bright, newsy paper and enjoyed an extensive job patronage as well. He was himself an expert practical printer. Ambitious and industrious he was making a fine success of his business. About the town his obliging and genial manner made him exceedingly popular. He was public-spirited and assisted in many activities to promote the general interest. At the time of his demise he was treasurer of the Belgian Relief fund.

To the young wife and the other friends who have been so sadly and prematurely bereaved The Ontario extends its sympathy.

THEY TOOK HIM

To any and every slacker we dedicate the following story about a patriotic American woman. It is too good to keep to ourselves:

There is a man in Boseman, Mont., who will probably go through life bewailing the injustice of the draft board that certified him for service, despite the fact that he presented a letter written by his wife to prove that he had a dependent family. Here is the letter:

"Dear United States Army: My husband asked me to write a recommendation that he supports his family. He cannot read, so don't tell him. Just take him. He ain't no good to me. He ain't done nothing but play a fiddle and drink lemon essence since I married him, eight years ago, and I got to feed eight kids of his. There are only 330 patients in the military hospitals in M.D. No. 3. This is a marked reduction during the past week. There were 8 admissions and 31 discharged as cured.

Major Porter, A.P.M., proceeded to Ottawa today on duty.

Pte. Michael Kostuk, one of the Russian platoon which went overseas with the 2nd Reinforcing Draft Company from the 59th Battalion in November, has returned from overseas, and is at casualty depot awaiting disposal. The police force are winding up their work in hunting up delinquent dog-owners, who have not paid their pet's taxes. In some districts quite a few canines have been found.

Quite audible were the sounds last evening about 9.30 of wild geese flying southward over the city. Evidently they were driven from the north by the wintry weather.

Mr. Fred Froste, paying teller at the Standard Bank here received word yesterday that his brother Harry, a barrister of Regina, had succumbed from influenza. The deceased leaves a widow and young daughter at Regina, his mother, Mrs. F. J. Froste, of Deseronto and another brother, Charles performing guard duty at K.

VICTORY LOAN PICTURE SHOW HUGE SUCCESS; REPEATED TONIGHT

Hastings County Total to Date $766,300 — Still Far Behind Honor Flag Objective — Maynooth Wins Crown.

Fully 2,000 people assembled last night in front of Griffin's Palace Theatre on Front street to view the Victory Loan films, which are being shown by the Griffin Amusement Co. for the Victory Loan committee.

Very great interest was shown in the pictures. They were unexcelled films and the sentiments expressed were appealing to patriotic Canadians.

Belleville's total to date is $362,650, less than one-half of objective sought. Yesterday $43,900 was sold in the City. Belleville must hurry to get to their objective.

Maynooth reported in sufficient subscriptions yesterday to not only win the honor flag of the Governor General, but to also add a crown, which represents 25 per cent more than the objective.

Deloro Doing Well — One other bright spot in the County of Hastings is Deloro. The Deloro Smelting and Refining Co. to date have sent in 129 applications for their employees for $25,500.

County Passes Three-Quarter Mile Mark — Hastings County's total last night was $766,300, the amount for the day being $103,200. This is below the objective sought for $116,000.

Tribute to Late Miss Stork — During the prevailing epidemic, the Angel of Death has visited many homes. Young voices which filled their homes with joy and innocent merriment are forever stilled.

He gazed on the flowers with tearful eyes. He missed their drooping leaves! It was for the Lord of Paradise. He bound them in his sheaves.

IN MEMORIAM — FARNHAM — In loving memory of William Farnham who died suddenly Nov. 6th, 1917.

OSHAWA ARMORIES CON- VERTED INTO EMER- GENCY HOSPITAL

Brockville Youth Killed by Fall

A Series of Difficulties Mr. David Stevens a former resident of this town, now of Mariposa, experienced a few thrills last week in connection with the work of filling a silo out in that neck of the woods. He was the man inside and every- thing went well until the work was nearly finished and he attempted to crawl out through the manhole at the top which was a boy's size, but other men came to his relief and en- larged the opening. The prospects of being canned with the corn was bad enough, but when David emerged from the hole and straightened up, landscape from that viewpoint had nothing on him. To stay there was out of the question and to descend by the ladder was equally impos- sible, so ropes were brought and se- curely fastened around his body when he was lowered the forty feet safely to the ground.—Orono News.

Ripe Raspberries

Despite the fact that November is almost here, the lateness of the sea- son did not deter the same raspberry patch of Mrs. Noah King, Belmont Lake, from producing a fair crop of luscious berries, a goodly sample of which ye editor enjoyed for his breakfast on Monday morning. The berries were of good quality, though not quite as large as those of the ear- lier crop.—Hawlock Standard.

Epidemic Serious in Oshawa

Owing to the seriousness of the epidemic in Oshawa and the large number sick from the disease, the armory has been converted into an emergency hospital. The report, however, that black diphtheria was raging and that the town was under quarantine is not correct.—Port Hope Guide.

Birdman a Prisoner of War

Lieut. H. B. Monaghan, R.A.F., of Picton, who has been missing since August 17th, is now reported a pris- oner of war at Karlsruhe. He en- listed in 1915 at Weyburn and is a nephew of J. F. Cryderman, Pope avenue. Lieut. Monaghan was pil- otng a bombing plane when he was forced to land on German territory.—Toronto Star.

For Early Closing

An agitation is under way among the merchants of Brockville to have the places of business closed at five o'clock each afternoon excepting Saturday throughout the fall and winter months. This movement was given a trial during the coal short- age of last winter and worked suc- cessfully, being the means of saving a large quantity of fuel. With the change from summer time a number of proprietors of larger stores not- iced a big difference last evening in the amount of light used after five o'clock and it is believed that little opposition will be met to the pro- ject.

Killed by Fall

Brockville, Nov. 2.—Merrick Edg- ers, aged fourteen, youngest son of Eugene Edgers, of Morton, near here met his death by falling from a tree near his home. Besides his parents, two brothers and two sisters survive. An older brother, Pte. J. W. Edgers, was killed in action a year ago.

Fall Resulted in Broken Ribs

Mr. Wm. Batten, of Drummer, met with a serious mishap on Tues- day of last week. He was engaged in making some repairs to the side of a silo on his farm when the board on which he was standing broke and he fell a distance of fifteen feet. In- cessantly, being the means of saving a large quantity of fuel. With the change from summer time a number of proprietors of larger stores not- iced a big difference last evening in

Picton Girl in France

In last week's pictorial section of the Montreal Standard was a picture which would be of particular inter- est to many in Picton. It represented a Red Cross Ambulance on duty in France, with driver in uniform standing close beside it, who was easily recognizable as the young lady we knew through all her grow- ing up years as Bernice Young. A note with the picture explains, how- ever, that it is Mrs. Stamford War- rington, wife of Capt. Warrington, and only child of Mr. E. M. Young, barrister, and Mrs. Young, "Clara- mount", Picton, who for many months drove an ambulance as a V. A. D. worker with the convoy at Et- apes, France, being constantly ex- posed to enemy shell and machine gun fire. Capt. Warrington's pic- ture also is shown and referred to as follows: "Capt. Stamford Warring- ton, of the 24th Battalion, belongs to a well known Montreal family. His

The Bridge to the British Market

The Victory Loan is a bridge over which the farmers of Can- ada drive their hogs, their cattle, their grain and all their surplus crops to the profitable British market.

For, the money raised by the Victory Loan enables Canada to give credit to Great Britain. And only by means of that cred- it can Great Britain buy the products of Canada's farms.

Therefore, when you come for- ward at your country's call and loyally lend your money that Canada may continue her vig- orous prosecution of the war, you are also benefitting yourself and the whole farming community.

It is the duty of every earnest Canadian not only to invest heavily in Victory Bonds 1918, but to work among his neigh- bors to make the loan a success.

Before the subscription lists close, every man should realize the sterling character of the investment; the good interest return of 5 1/2%; the undoubted security offered in the Bonds of this wealthy nation; and the vital importance to all classes of people, particularly to the farm- ers, of the Victory Loan 1918.

Gasoline Famine Hits Lindsay

Automobile gas was exceedingly scarce in Lindsay the past week and many motorists applied for it in vain. A quantity is being kept at the garages for doctors, so that they may not be hindered in their fight with the epidemic. The same con- ditions exist in neighboring villages, quantities being reserved for the physicians. The cause is due to the great hold-up on the railroads owing to the influenza epidemic, it being impossible to secure help to handle the freight.

Terrible Experience of Returned Soldier

Minus Leg and Other Fractured, Was Marooned in Woods for a Week

Fredericton, N.B., Nov. 4.—Pri- vate Andrew Stackvale, of the or- iginal "Fighting 26th", an inmate of the military hospital here, who had been lost since October 22nd, was found in the woods, bruised and helpless, last night by a searching party. Stackvale, who was fifteen months in a German prison camp, lost one leg in the war. He left the city Oct. 22nd to drive to Minto. On a lonely, not much frequented road, he was thrown from his car- riage and the horse ran away. Be- ing without crutches and helpless be- cause of a fracture to his remaining leg, received in being thrown from the carriage, he was unable to move. He lay in the bushes just a week, subsisting on roots which he could dig up with his hands.

He was brought back to the mili- tary hospital here where it is feared the other leg will have to be ampu- tated, as blood poison has developed from the fracture received.

Seven Orphaned by "Flu" Epidemic

Two Families of Seven Children Put in Foster Homes

Captain T. D. Ruston, Children's Aid Inspector, has just returned from the village of Marmora, where he investigated two sad cases of seven children left orphans by the ravages of the "flu." In one family the father and mother both died, there being but two days between their deaths. They left four children, ranging in ages from one year to six years.

In the second case the mother died at noon and the father at seven in the evening of the dread disease. They left three children.

Captain Ruston had the seven children made wards of the Society and they are now in suitable foster homes.

Nurse Crosier Passed Away

Her Life Had Hung in the Balance For Several Weeks

From Friday's Daily

After three weeks' struggle against influenza and pneumonia, Nurse Minnie Helena Crosier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Crosier, passed away in Belleville General Hospital last night. Miss Crosier had been stricken with the influenza while engaged at her duties of attending patients suffering with the malady at the hospital. The disease soon developed into pneumonia. For weeks she had been putting up a fight for recovery, many times she seemed at the point of death, but rallied. Several times it was felt she might recover but ultimately the hope was abandoned, as there was a possibility of her passing.

Nurse Crosier was born at Whit- by but her home was in Lindsay. She took her course as nurse-in-training at Belleville General Hospital, grad- uated and became an assistant of Miss Greene, superintendent. Her loss is distinctly felt by the staff of the hospital.

The remains were shipped by Messrs. Tickell and Sons' Co. to Lindsay this morning. Burial will be made in the family plot at Port Perry.

Corn causes much suffering, but Holloway's Corn Cure offers a speedy, sure, and satisfactory relief as a medicine for the stomach.

We are Still Waiting For The Proofs

Editor Ontario.

In your remarks on my letter in yesterday's Ontario you say "If Alderman Robinson imagines that any procedure of the Belleville City Council by which support is denied to those who are suffering and dying in our behalf on the battle-fields of Europe, is going to prove popular with any large section of the citizens of Belleville, we fear he is greatly mistaken in the spirit of the manhood and womanhood of this city." This Mr. Editor is a sample of the unfair treatment you have indulged in when criticising my letters and the course that has been pursued in connection with this matter. No one knows better than the editor of The Ontario that Ald. Robinson is not seeking to deprive the soldiers on the battle-fields of anything that is due them; in fact my sympathies run entirely in the opposite direction, and it is because that returned soldiers are complaining that the got very little of that two million dollars that I have put up this fight. I may say that I enjoy the fight of this kind very well, but I will not battle with an unfair opponent. This is largely why I decline to give attention to the editorials which have appeared in The Ontario in relation to this subject.

You say you are still waiting for proofs of the charges. To this I must say that considering the unfair way the editor has treated the proofs already presented it would be useless to bring forward additional evidence of returned soldiers, which is the only kind of proof available at the present time. These valiant men are beyond all praise when on the battle line and in the trenches, but when they returned home unharmed and make complaints about not receiving their fair share of that two million, it is then discovered some of the friends of the Y.M.C.A. that their statements are not reliable; or, as it is said, Robinson, Mr. Editor, who is producing false evidence in the name of the returned soldiers? Somebody is lying evidently according to the editor. Who is it, Mr. Editor.

A. Robinson.

Editor's note.—Ald. Robinson accuses The Ontario of "unfairness." In what does our "unfairness" consist?

Ald. Robinson speaking in the Belleville City Council on the night of October 21st, made the most serious charges imaginable against the honor and integrity of a large body of men whose duty it is to administer the greatest war services, aside from the Red Cross, to the men at the front-line in France, The Ontario gave a very full, and, we believe, an absolutely fair report of Ald. Robinson's remarks upon the motion of which he was the mover. Ald. Robinson based his charges, in the main, upon the statements made in an anonymous letter.

The Ontario as a public journal challenged Ald. Robinson as a public servant to furnish such proofs of his charges as his extremely grave character demanded.

We have since given Robinson a grand space in our columns to bring forward his evidence but he has produced nothing more substantial than anonymous reports from two or three returned soldiers.

As the person making the charges, Ald. Robinson must consider it his duty to see that the charges are substantiated.

In his present letter Ald. Robinson apparently gives the impression that the returned soldiers are a unit against the overseas "Y."

We would remind Ald. Robinson that the only large and representative organization of returned soldiers in Canada is the Great War Veterans' Association. That body after the most painstaking investigation into charges almost identical with this Ald. Robinson has reported that he is responsible for the charges and without foundation.

Until Ald. Robinson can show that the findings of the G.W.V.A. are untrue, he has no right to throw upon the body of returned soldiers the onus for these charges.

The overseas Y.M.C.A. claims to be serving the soldiers at the front-line and in camp at the war theatre in Europe.

If the Y.M.C.A. is a fraud and sends itself to be, then we must assume that those who seek to discredit and destroy the support upon which it depends for existence are seeking to destroy a most essential service to the men at the front.

If the Y.M.C.A. is a fraud and an aggregation of scoundrels and grafters as Ald. Robinson has, in effect, claimed in the city council, he should bring forward the most incontrovertible evidence that those far-reaching accusations are true.

Until Ald. Robinson produces the documents he must himself stand charged with the most extreme "unfairness" to the overseas Y.M.C.A.

The Ontario has not at any time resorted to personalities in discussing the issue that Ald. Robinson has raised by his action in council. We have endeavored to discuss the matter purely as a public question. If at any time we have resorted to "unfairness" that action has been purely involuntary on the part of the editor. Our desire is to be fair to everybody and in this era must include the overseas Y.M.C.A. and the men they serve.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Mine and family wish to thank their many friends for their kindness and sympathy shown them during their recent sad bereavement.

The Pioneer of The Present

We have left behind the days of the ox-led trail and the remote and lonely log cabin in the unbroken forests, but there are still the wildernesses to be penetrated and conquered and the consequent calls for the trail-blazers to lead the way.

We are not thinking so much of the great opportunities which invite with romantic thrill (to some, at least) toward the clay belt of New Ontario or the Maple Land of the Laurentians, though there are still great conquests possible. Nor are we alluding to those less remote expanses of wooded wilds lying along our older colonization roads within a hundred miles of our provincial frontiers and largely returning to the control of the Department of Crown lands by the drift of the masses toward the cities.

What we mean to call attention toward is figurative but very apparent. For years we have been developing a vast unthinking populace, so far as the general public is concerned. We have been much engrossed in the aim of having a home, or rather some property, that farmers and urbanites have found the competition so keen that their best could not be devoted to anything unusual. We delegate some less busy neighbor to our committee meetings, a few careless or cunning citizens have formed our councils, the politician and mere partisan has led in parliamentary matters, until at last we find ourselves in a veritable wilderness so far as the ideals of true politics, municipal and national, is concerned.

Some one says, "A crank!" Just look, will you? The Food Control for millions of people, scattered over one of the greatest countries on earth, and that under the direction of a man who could not even succeed in the management of a small corporation. The presidency of a great railroad given to one who has had no experience in railway construction or maintenance except as a frequent customer of a Pullman or dining car. Lawyers to legislate against their own constituents and doctors to increase their own fees until a privilege to cross over a bridge your fathers built or an attack of appendicitis means a chattel mortgage upon the old mare, if not on your own skin. How can we escape these conditions? How shall we get out of this jungle?

Trail blazers have made! Real pioneers! Somebody who is clear-headed and clean-handed. Somebody who fears not party-wolves or lions or demagogic tigers and panthers. "Somebody who believes that light is a purifier and pools and bogs are a breeding place for pestilence and plague." Come, they from city or country, from the first line of the second line trench, they will and the millions of militarism to be met, the glories of tradition to be cast down and mysterious and intricate slinkholes to be filled in a dumping ground for rotting for months, and years, perhaps, to come.

Mantoulin has given us the cue; whose is the next move? A straight line is the shortest distance between two given points—let us learn how to make it.

Lo, before us gleam the camp-fires. We ourselves must Pilgrims be. Launch our Mayflower and sail boldly.

WHAT THE Y. M. C. A. DOES FOR THE BOYS AT THE FRONT

Douglas Scott Writes Direct From the Firing-Line and Tells of the Service to the Men in Action

Mrs. (Rev. Dr.) C. T. Scott has received the following letter from her son, Gnr. Douglas Scott, now at the front for many months past, on the firing line in France. The letter was not written for publication but as it incidentally mentions the Y.M.C.A. and its work at the front, Mrs. Scott has kindly forwarded it to the Ontario. The letter is one of those valuable communications, written by a bright, observant, impressionable boy, which will in time form a part of the war's most valuable literature. His unqualified endorsement of the work of the "Y" bears all the more weight because it is an uncollected and unbiased opinion, sent with no thought of publication.

He didn't know. "Well," Selby said, "I didn't know either, but seeing he didn't know, I decided to tell him." Then there is "Dunc." He has served in the navy, and has seen some of this war's naval fighting. He has lived in Vancouver, though born in England.

Of the seven of us, three taken their turn issue, three do not and one doesn't care whether he gets it or not. I have yet to be shown that the rum issue is a necessity, and not, in the long run, a detriment. I have yet to see where rum has anything on hot cocoa, which leads naturally to speaking of the Y.M.C.A.

The boys out here are certainly out of sympathy with the attitude of the Great War Veterans' Association has taken against the Y.M.C.A. I hear nothing but good spoken of the "Y," out here. I tell you the "Y" is doing a simply marvellous work. When an advance is made, the "Y" is far from being the last thing to move forward. It stays right with the boys, too, and they have nothing but good to say of it. Some time ago when we were pulling into a new position, it was awfully dark, the wind was blowing and it was pouring rain. Believe me, that two cups of hot tea from the "Y" sure hit the spot. They also, when needed, set apart a portion for wounded men only, and not long ago, I saw standing under that sign, a group of slightly wounded men—Canadians, Imperials, Highlanders and one German—all enjoying good hot tea and biscuits "on the Y.M.C.A."

Dear Mother: Oct. 1, 1918.

I think this is No. 26. The last I wrote was on Sept. 26th, as far as I can remember. Do you get all my letters? I often wonder. Dad's parcel of papers arrived a few days ago, and I was certainly glad to get them. The magazines which I like most to read are: "The American," "The World Wide," "Maple" and "Life." My sweater and underwear arrived together soon after the papers. I climbed into the sweater at once as the weather is pretty cool now. The underwear I packed into my kit bag to keep for really cold weather. Gee! I hate having to change into heavy underwear. But don't worry mother, I'll do it when it's necessary. We have a fire on in our stove and it feels pretty good just now. The happiest times we have are, after a hard shift on the guns, to come back to our billets and sit around the stove. We have a victrola going with all the latest records and there's some porridge, cocoa and custard being made on the stove. "They are a pretty good bunch of boys on our gun crew. There's our bombardier, who is in charge of the crew; he's fussy and hard to please at times, but not a bad scout on the whole. He certainly looks after us well and won't let us take unnecessary risks either. He is from Montreal. Then there's Harry, he pulls the lanyard and keeps our breach in order. Really, he's one of the best natured and finest fellows I've met. He's from the Maritime Provinces. His father is an old retired sea-captain of eighty. Then there's "Tom." Tom is a farmer from B.C., and though only twenty-three, likes to give the impression of having had a very broad experience. He's a good scout though aside from that, and he knows the Patrick's in B.C. Then comes "Joey," he's just a kid, and has more just pure "guts" than anybody I've seen yet. Funny part of it is, he doesn't seem to realize it himself. He's from Toronto. Then Selby, he's another Toronto fellow and has a passion for machinery and finding out things. He wants to "see the wheels go round." He can lecture by the hour on the breach mechanism of a Mauser rifle, or the powers of a four-wheel-drive motor lorry. He is full of a simple dry humor that makes you split your sides. It was he who told me one day that he asked an officer what was the muzzle velocity of a sixty pounder. The officer said he didn't know. "Well," Selby said, "I didn't know either, but seeing he didn't know, I decided to tell him." Then there is "Dunc." He has served in the navy, and has seen some of this war's naval fighting. He has lived in Vancouver, though born in England.

Of the seven of us, three taken their turn issue, three do not and one doesn't care whether he gets it or not. I have yet to be shown that the rum issue is a necessity, and not, in the long run, a detriment. I have yet to see where rum has anything on hot cocoa, which leads naturally to speaking of the Y.M.C.A.

The boys out here are certainly out of sympathy with the attitude of the Great War Veterans' Association has taken against the Y.M.C.A. I hear nothing but good spoken of the "Y," out here. I tell you the "Y" is doing a simply marvellous work. When an advance is made, the "Y" is far from being the last thing to move forward. It stays right with the boys, too, and they have nothing but good to say of it. Some time ago when we were pulling into a new position, it was awfully dark, the wind was blowing and it was pouring rain. Believe me, that two cups of hot tea from the "Y" sure hit the spot. They also, when needed, set apart a portion for wounded men only, and not long ago, I saw standing under that sign, a group of slightly wounded men—Canadians, Imperials, Highlanders and one German—all enjoying good hot tea and biscuits "on the Y.M.C.A."

Sometimes when there's nothing doing, we make souvenirs. I've made a rather pretty little paper knife out of a German bullet which forms the handle, and a French bullet, which forms the blade. You see a French bullet is copper, so there's little trouble to beat it out flat. I may send this to Lulu for her birthday.

You know, the longer I'm out here, the more I realize that I'm going to land back into civilian life someday, and that it's going to be a mighty big change. With me it's going to mean more than just a little adjustment too. I'm coming back with practically no training for life—I mean nothing practical. I have no business knowledge and only a senior matriculation standing. Two valuable years have been blotted out and if I go ahead through college it will mean starting where I left off—but with that handicap of two years practical experience lost. Sure! I'm getting experience of a kind and I sometimes think I would never have missed it for worlds, but it's not what is going to tell. It is my opinion that no man should go straight through a college career, having had no other training. These two years, obliterated. I would like to have spent in that other training. As it is now, I will either get it when I get back, or take it out of my career after the university is left behind.

However, I'm not worrying about it and am determined that ten years from now, those lost two years shall have made no difference.

Good-bye and loads of love,
Douglas.

From Thursday's Daily.
ARMSTRONG ALEX. ANDREWS

The funeral of the late Armstrong Alex. Andrews took place from "Irmin," the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Andrews, 26 Octavia Street, yesterday afternoon. There was a very large attendance of relatives and sympathizing friends. His Sunday school class from John street Presbyterian church attended in a body. The start of the sup's office, Grand Trunk, of which deceased was a member, was also represented by full attendance. In addition to the above there were many of his young associates from the High School, Y.M.C.A. and various athletic clubs, who mourned the passing of one who had been popular as a boy, a student and a lover of clean sport. "Ping," as he was known by his chums, had been particularly clever in his work at High School. After making a promising Academic record, he took a position in the sup's office of the Grand Trunk. His genial, obliging disposition and capacity for hard work brought him quick recognition and merited promotion.

He was active at baseball, basketball, rugby and other sports that appeal to young men of his ardent nature; and in all of them he played the game in a manly way. In every walk of life he made friends and yesterday's concourse was an evidence of the sorrow each one felt because of the premature close of a young life, where the future was so bright with promise.

The Rev. D. C. Ramsay, pastor of John St. Presbyterian church, conducted the religious services at the home and the grave side.

The bearers were Harold Copple, Allan Meagher, John McGill, Lorne Deaton, Porte Marshall, Fred Deacon. The floral tributes were unusually numerous. Among those sending expressions of this nature were:—

Reply to Mr. Flint

Editor Ontario—

Kindly permit me space in your valuable paper, to reply to Mr. J. J. B. Flint. He propounds many questions in his letter of Oct. 30th which we believe is occupying the minds of almost all thinking people.

We will endeavor to confine our remarks to the one heading of his article viz: "Where are the Souls of the Departed?" To approach the subject from the proper quarter—the first thing necessary is to find what the soul is. We agree with Mr. Flint that the body returns to the dust (as also the Bible states), and goes into the soil. Mr. Flint states that sacred books written years ago declares each body contains an immortal soul, I do not dispute his word, but there is one book, to me the most sacred of all, has no such statement, no such expression as immortal soul, never dying soul, or deathless soul and that good old sacred book is called the Bible.

Let us go to the Genesis account of creation which I believe to be the best authority on the subject. Gen. 2:7 And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground and breathed in his nostrils the breath of life, and man became a living soul. Notice the body was formed from the dust of the earth, but was lifeless, inanimate, next God breathed the breath of life into his nostrils and he became a living soul. I am sure that the word soul means a sentient being, it is taken from the Hebrew word Nephesh in the old testament and the Greek word Psyche in the new, the word Nephesh occurs about seven hundred times in the old testament and is applied to the brute creation twenty-eight times, the word Psyche occurs one hundred and five times in the new testament and twice it is applied to the beasts that perish. There is only one statement in the Bible which teaches the immortality of the soul and it is poor authority when we consider the one who uttered it; (Our Lord said of him that he was a murderer from the beginning and abode not in the truth because there is no truth in him for he is a liar and the father of it, (John 8:44); That statement we find in Genesis 3:2, 4; where the serpent (Satan) said ye shall not surely die, in contradiction to God's statement, ye shall surely die, Gen. 2:17.

We find the new testament harmonizing with the condemnation which God pronounced on our first parents; in Romans 5:12, we find this statement; Wherefore as by one man (Adam) sin entered into the world and death by sin and so death passed upon all men for that all have sinned.

We saw that it was the union of the breath of life (which the wise man Solomon said belonged also to the beasts Eccl. 3, 19-22) with the body that made the soul or sentient being, so the separation of the two would result in the death of the soul or our Lord some times termed it asleep, as in the case of Lazarus, John 11th chapter. No doubt our Lord used the term asleep because He knew there would be an awakening in the resurrection. The Apostle assures us that there will be a resurrection of the dead both of the just and unjust, Acts 24:15; all our Lord states in John 5: 28, 29; Marvel not at this for the hour is coming in which all that are in the graves shall hear His voice and shall come forth.

The Apostle Paul shows us that it is not the body that comes forth (though sowed not) that body that shall be raised, Cor. 15:51) for God will give it a body as it pleases Him, that is where all the souls of the human race are, in the great prison

Call Up Another Class

Ottawa is Watching Developments at the Front.

Ottawa, Oct. 31.—Developments overseas with regard to the allied terms of armistice are being watched with interest at Ottawa on account of the potential bearing on the Military Service Act. The question of calling up another class is on the agenda of the Government for immediate consideration and there are various suggestions as to who next should be summoned. The principle of continuing reinforcements to the men in the field is fully accepted, but it is improbable that any move will be made until, in the next week or so, it becomes known whether or not the enemy is to surrender. In the meantime men are coming in, but only at an ordinary rate. Any prospect of immediate peace would naturally influence the Government's action regarding calling up additional classes.

PETERBORO STILL FIGHTING THE "FLU"

Exploded a Cartridge

$478,050 First Day from Counties

In the Victory Loan drive throughout Leeds and Grenville, which opened Monday morning, the first honors were captured by the town of Prescott which "went over the top" and raised its objective of $200,000. An Honor Flag was shipped to that town today with congratulations of the officials of the counties' organization. A total subscription of $478,050 was reported at headquarters last evening from the different districts in the United Counties and the opinion was expressed today that this district will not be behind when the final returns are completed. The subscriptions for the first day are better than last year's returns and the canvassers report that they are meeting with good success in all districts. The Canada Poundries and Forgings, Ltd., loaned the Canadian Government $110,000 yesterday, through the local headquarters of the Victory Loan, and Gananoque reported $30,000 in special subscriptions.—Brookville Recorder and Times.

The building has not been occupied for about two years. Miss Hattie Reid, matron in charge of the Isolation Hospital here, will be in charge of the Emergency Hospital staff. Several more deaths have occurred locally from influenza.

Newspaper—and Woman

Why is a newspaper like a pretty woman? To be perfect, it must be the embodiment of many types. Its form is made up. It is always chased though inclined to be giddy. It enjoys a good press; the more rapid the better. It has a weakness for gossip; talks a good deal; can stand some praise; and it's awfully proud of a new dress.—Stirling Leader.

Arrested when Calling on Lady

Peterboro, Nov. 1.—To be taken into custody while calling upon a lady friend was the galling experience of an alleged deserter from the Canadian Engineers, who was arrested at a house in this city by the military and civilian policemen. It is stated that the young man deserted from his unit about July 25 and has since been leading that free and easy life which follows the release from military discipline. He made the fatal mistake of allowing the dictates of his heart to overcome his prudence and ventured into the city to call upon a lady friend and fell into the clutches of the constabulary of the law. He will be handed over to the military authorities without delay.—Review.

The City of Lille

Written for The Ontario by Chas. M. Rice, Lawyer, Denver, Colorado.

Can you not see them, these pitiful demens of Lille, as the Belgian and French artillery clatters into the city?

For four years they were excluded from the world—from news of their husbands, fathers, brothers and sons in the army. For four years the hatred, helmeted hordes had marched through their streets; their homes had been invaded day and night by a brutal soldiery; their men deported; their maidens spirited away to a fate which they knew all too well, but of which they seldom spoke.

For four years they stood in line for their scanty portion of food supplied by the charity of nations. They were deprived of everything which makes life sweet—of liberty, the right work, to speak their thoughts, to assemble together untrammelled. They were shut without grief, in the dead of the night their hearts stood still at the footfalls of every soldier who passed at their door. Death or degradation, which?

But now the oppressor has fled and their own bronzed boys are riding into town—all that are left. Such a stretching of eyes, from both soldier and civilian, as the wheels rumble over the stones! Such suching from an overpowering joy! Such tears flowing like rain upon their faces; syncope prayers, inarticulate cries, wild sobbing, frenzied and protracted embraces. Never again, this side of heaven, will these inhabitants of Lille behold such a glorious vision. Never again on this earth, unless the dead rise from their graves, will there be such reunion of life. The long, black specter-haunted night has lifted. They are free!

Isn't it worth while Canadians, Americans, to have had a hand in the right work, to speak their thoughts, to assemble together untrammelled. They were shut without grief, in the dead of the night their hearts stood still at the footfalls of every soldier who passed at their door. Death or degradation, which?

But now the oppressor has fled

Barn Burned in Sidney

On Saturday last, the barn on the farm vacated a few days before by James Gay, of Frankford, was burned with all its contents. The farm was recently sold by Mr. Gay to Mr. Parks, of Madoc. The day after Mr. Parks' auction sale, or last Wednesday, the straw-stack near the barn caught fire but was noticed in time and, by the help of neighbors, the barn was saved. On Saturday, however, the barn itself caught fire from an unknown cause and the flames made such rapid progress that nothing could be saved. The crop of grain which had been threshed was still in the granary and there were a number of implements. The barn though old was still in good condition. A fine new basement stable was underneath. Mr. Gay was the owner of the grain. The loss is partially covered by insurance. The farm, prior to Mr. Gay's occupancy, was owned by Mr. Shores and previous to that by Mr. Rose.

big Bill—while Wallace Reid will give "His Extra Bit," Lillian Gish is to present "The Invasion" and a Mack Sennett Comedy is entitled "It's a Cinch." "If this happened to you would you buy bonds?" is the question. Norma Talmadge asks in her Victory Loan vehicle but Geraldine Farrar has a unique presentation entitled "The Tie That Bonds." Ever popular William Farnum is to be seen in "A Mother's Heart" and Corinne Griffith stars in "A Wise Purpose."

"But what is Charlie Chaplin going to do?" some may ask. Sure enough he is among those who will do all they can so he is going to add his share by making a new comedy. Its name? Nobody knows. That's a trade secret but when the secret is out Charlie will be in the midst of the fun helping with everybody else.

In addition to these special features an educational film showing how the Victory Loan money is spent and entitled "Money Bags" has been contributed. This is a most interesting picture for it explains in a way that would not be possible without the motion picture, how the money that a man or woman loans the Government on a bond is kept right at home and how in a very short time it helps directly or indirectly the person who loaned it.

It is interesting to see the money go to Ottawa, from there to a lumber camp up north where spruce is being cut for use in aeroplanes, thence for food and clothing, then from the storekeeper back to the wholesaler and from the wholesaler to the clerk—right back to the man who gave it first.

But this is only one feature worked out by the Dominion Publicity Committee. There are many more. It would seem as though any and every means is to be employed to bring the importance of the loan right to the hearts of the people. No stone is being left unturned and if a man is not reached at the theatre, on the street car, from the newspaper or the pulpit he is sure to be found out in some other original way. There is no escape.

Farewell Party

A farewell party was tendered to Mr. and Mrs. James Gay and family, of the fourth concession of Sidney, on Tuesday night, prior to their removal to Frankford where Mr. Gay has purchased a new residence. The neighbors who came in large numbers were well provided with refreshments and a happy evening was spent. Mr. and Mrs. Gay were presented with a beautiful book-case and their daughter, Miss Lily, with a music cabinet. Mr. Gay and his family have made a host of friends since he has resided in Sidney and their removal from the neighborhood is deeply regretted.

An Exaggerated Opinion

That Kingston is Not Friendly to Soldiers

On Monday a returned western soldier stationed in Kingston, called on the Whig to give vent to what he evidently considered was a genuine grievance. He accuses the people of our city of maintaining a hostile attitude to men in khaki, and to returned soldiers in particular. He claims that in Kingston the soldier (unless he happens to be a native) is treated with the assumption that he lacks respect for women and the other attributes of a decent manhood; that he is made to feel that he is tolerated rather than welcomed. One claim is that Kingston fails to turn out to meet its returning veterans, and that no attempt is made by the people of Kingston to make up to the soldier what he has lost by leaving home and friends to take up arms in the defence of his country.

While this soldier evidently felt that there was every justification for his statements, it is only fair to the people of the city to say that his claims seem greatly exaggerated. There is no doubt that the people of Kingston, individually, do not take the returned soldier to their hearts as the people over in England do. But still the citizens are not by any means hostile to the boys who wear the khaki. There are few homes in the city which are not represented in the army, and there is a great feeling of sympathy for those who have come back from the front. The people of Kingston, however, have never been of a very demonstrative nature. This is noticeable in many ways. In the theatres, for instance, there is very little applause for the articles in comparison with many other cities. At heart the people welcome the boys, and wish to make them feel that Kingstonians are glad to have them in their midst. The large majority of the people in the city would resent any statement that this is not so. Yet many soldiers who come to the city from other places carry away with them the impression that Kingstonians have no kindly feelings towards the troops.

This is not so as has been proved in many ways since the war began, and while the soldier from the west who feels that he is in a hostile country may have a little excuse for thinking that the people of this city are indifferent to him and his comrades, the Whig would like to assure him that behind the bars of conversationality which prevent freer intercourse between the strangers within our gates are the citizens, there lie hearts that are in great sympathy with the boys; hearts which are ready to do all that is possible for the soldiers who are stationed here.—Kingston Whig.

Slim Market Attendance

From Saturday's Daily Few Changes Were Noted in Prices Today

The market attendance was more slim today than usual, owing no doubt to sickness and desire to avoid crowded places. Prices were unchanged in the main. Eggs ranged from 55 cents to 65 cents per dozen. The offerings were not numerous. Butter sold all the way from 53 cents to 60 cents per pound. Chicken prices ranged from one dollar to one dollar and a half per bird. Ducks were offered at $1.25 to $1.75 each and found ready buyers at these figures. Potatoes were quoted from $1.25 to $1.50 per bushel. Cabbages brought 10 cents; carrots 30c peck; parsnips 30c peck; beets 30c peck; turnips 20c peck; onions 50c peck; apples 25c to 30c peck. Baled hay will bring $18. to $20. per ton for immediate shipment. Grains are quoted as follows: oats 70c to 75c and barley $1.00. Hides are sold at 12c to 14c per pound. Beans are worth $4.00 per bushel. Meats show no change—beef hindquarters 18c to 20c; lamb 25c.

The Greatest Home in the World

The Ladies Home Journal for November has a striking full-page illustration in colors copied from an already famous painting by Gotsch. The illustration shows a party of soldiers, just as they are coming in from the trenches, tired, exhausted, wounded, mud-covered. They are marching directly towards an American Y.M.C.A. hut standing in the background. The door stands wide open with the word "Welcome" above. Lights are streaming from the windows, giving one the impression of warmth and good cheer. The picture tells its own story but underneath are the words, "The Greatest Home in the World." Below that again appears the following: "Them Y. Huts?" said a private. "Why they're everything to us fellows except mother."

Obituary

MRS. JANE BAILEY

Mrs. Jane Bailey, widow of the late John Bailey, of Harold, died October 18th at the home of her eldest son, Allen Bailey, where she had resided since the death of her husband early in January.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. S. F. Dixon of Rawdon Circuit. Mr. Dixon read the 14th chapter of St. John, Mrs. Bailey's favorite chapter, and preached an excellent sermon from the first verse: "Let not your heart be troubled; believe in God, believe also in Me."

Deceased, whose maiden name was Miss Jane Tucker, was born in Rawdon where she resided most of her life. She was in her 82nd year and was a faithful member of the Methodist church and was respected by all who knew her.

Surviving are four sons and four daughters. The sons are Allen and John of Rawdon, James of Belleville, and Charlie of Stirling. The daughters, Mrs. Archer of Marmora, Mrs. H. T. Johnson of Sarnia, Mrs. G. Belshaw of Harold, and Mrs. W. Gunning of Hoard's. Interment in Bethel cemetery.—Stirling Leader.

MILTON BIRD

One of the most untimely deaths which has been known in Madoc Township occurred in the Allen Settlement on October 17th, when the life of Milton Bird came to a tragic end.

The unfortunate young man was engaged in silo filling on the farm of Mr. Jas. Cassidy and was on the scaffold at the top of the silo putting up some pipes when a defective scantling upon which the scaffold was laid, broke precipitating him to the solid concrete bottom, thirty-six feet below, causing injuries from which he never regained consciousness, death following in about an hour and a half.

Milton was a modest young man, twenty-nine years of age, well-known throughout the Township of Madoc, and his untimely passing has cut short a very promising career, and cast a gloom over the Allen Settlement which will be felt for some time.

He leaves to mourn his loss four sisters and three brothers: Sarah and Ottilie, at home; Mrs. Wm. Keene of Queensboro; Mrs. Jas. E. Diamond, of Hart's; Albert, at home; John T., of Standish, Mich.; Dan, of Rimington.—Madoc Review.

MRS. JOHN LYONS

After living more than the allotted span of threescore years and ten, there passed to rest on Saturday morning last another of Prince Edward's landmarks in the person of a heroine, Mrs. John Lyons, of Belleville. On Friday the deceased had been about the house as usual and had assisted her daughter, Mrs. S. W. Pettigill, with whom she has made her home for many years, and who has been so devoted to her mother, in household duties, and retired late in the evening in her usual cheerful way. When Mrs. Pettigill went upstairs on Saturday morning the shock she received can be but faintly imagined when she found her mother had passed away with no apparent sign of a struggle with the last enemy, and with her head lying peacefully on her hand. Beautiful transition for the aged saint of God, who just the day previous had expressed her readiness to go when called. The late Mrs. Lyons was born in Ameliasburg, eighty-three years ago, the daughter of Daniel Maybee and Mary Snider, and had resided practically all her life in this county. She is the last of a family of twelve children. She is survived by four children: Mrs. S. W. Pettigill, Picton; J. S. Lyons, connected with the British Whig, Kingston; Isaac Lyons, publisher of The Sun, Fort Covington, N.Y.; and Mrs. Clark, New Jersey.—Picton Times.

MRS. SCANLON

Mrs. Scanlon, who has been a resident of Canada for seven years, died here on Sunday. The remains were laid to rest in Belleville cemetery. Her husband but no family survives.

Little Girl Shot Dead; Cousin Was Unloading Shotgun

Daisy Marshall, Aged Eight, Instantly Killed

A TRAGEDY AT DAYTOWN

Daytown, Nov. 4.—On Tuesday last Daisy Marshall, aged eight years, met death at the hands of her cousin, Charles Babcock, aged thirteen years, who accidentally discharged a single-barrel shotgun in a lower room of the residence of Mrs. Amanda Mattice, the grandmother of both children.

The circumstances surrounding the sad event are that Charles Babcock, the boy, had used the gun recently for shooting. He left it in the house with one cartridge of .44 calibre in it. After dinner he was about to unload the weapon. He was sitting on a bed at the time and his little cousin, Daisy Marshall, was standing about three feet away. The gun was accidentally discharged and the little girl received the full charge in the left side of the face. She died instantly.

An alarm was at once given and Dr. Kelly, of Delta, notified. He went to the scene but his services were of no avail as the little girl was beyond the power of human agency. Dr. Kelly informed Coroner W. E. Harding, of Brockville, of the affair.

The latter, accompanied by Chief Burke, visited the scene Tuesday night. The coroner held a close inquiry into the circumstances and investigated the previous history of the boy. After consideration he decided that an inquest was unnecessary and issued a warrant for the burial of the victim.

The little girl was a daughter of Pte. William and Mrs. Marshall. The husband is overseas, and left Canada in May, 1915. The Marshall home is situated about a quarter of a mile away from that of Mrs. Amanda Mattice. The dead girl had gone to the residence of her grandmother for the purpose of assisting in the housework, as Mrs. Mattice is upwards of seventy years of age and is an invalid. Besides the father and mother she is survived by four brothers and three sisters. They are: Ptes. Harold and Richard Marshall, both of whom went overseas with the 156th Battalion; James Joseph, Gracie, Jessie and Alice.

The boy who committed the deed is a grandson of Mrs. Mattice. She adopted him in infancy on the death of his father. He appears to be a bright and intelligent boy.

This is the second sudden death that has happened in the Mattice household in past few weeks. The grandfather, Richard Mattice, was drowned on Sept. 9th last in falling out of a boat in Upper Beverley Lake, a half mile from the scene of his residence. He was overcome by a weak spell, and when taken from the water was dead. At the time Charles Babcock and Pte. Richard Mattice, the two grandsons, were in the boat with the elderly man.—Brockville Recorder and Times.

Lures Hungry Germans

Girl Seeks Husband Through Listing Her Supply of Edibles

German papers are reprinting with much humorous comment upon the drawing qualities of the advertisement, the following matrimonial notice inserted in a small provincial newspaper of the Rhine district, by a single lady desirous of obtaining a husband.

"I have fourteen hens in the yard, a wine press, six hogs, four head of cattle in pasture, two hams and some sausage hanging in the chimney, a blind mother who can spin and weave, a small vineyard, twenty-five cherry trees, fourteen apple trees, ten plum trees, a stock of home-spun linen and some wine. Besides that I have a piano and a lute. Wounded soldiers who are still able to do a little work on the land or around the place and possess an honorable character, are asked to send information about themselves."

Military News

The Department of Militia and Defence gives an absolute and unqualified denial to an absurd rumor that has gained credence in some parts of Canada to the effect that because of the possibility of peace there will be a suspension of the sending of reinforcements overseas for the present.

Ptes. Wm. Sanderson, M. Brown, G. G. Morris, C. W. Watson and J. Sharpe have been discharged from the Casualty Company, No. 3 District Depot, to civil life as medically unfit for further service.

Sergt-Major Gilbert Boss, clerk on the G.S.O.'s staff, has been given permission to transfer to the Siberian Expeditionary Force and will leave for the West in a few days.

Lt-Col. R. J. Gardner, A.D.M.S., MD No 3, continues to make good progress and his condition is quite satisfactory.

Lieut. E. W. Clark has been transferred from the C.A.S.C., M.D. No. 5, Valcartier, to C.A.S.C., M.D. No. 3, Kingston.

Winter caps are being issued to the troops of Kingston for wear during the ensuing winter months, to be worn any time after Nov. 1st.

Gunner F. A. Scott, No. 3 A.M.C. Training Depot, has been transferred to C Battery, R.C.H.A.

The band of the R.C.H.A., Kingston, have taken part in eight military funerals during the last ten days.

All ranks of all units in the Kingston garrison have been ordered to take part in the Victory Loan parade.

Lieut. H. C. C. Walkem, M.C., R. E., has received an appointment at Petawawa Camp as resident engineer, and is leaving at once for that place.

While the Toronto military district is occupying the centre of the stage respecting hospital facilities (or lack of them) for the care of those suffering from the epidemic, it is interesting to know that in M.D. No. 3 there is no cause for complaint. Hospital accommodation is ample and the mortality has been very low. The following figures speak for themselves: Total number in hospital under treatment for influenza on Oct. 18th, 642; deaths from influenza and pneumonia, 25. The number of cases has been reduced by 190 during the past ten days, indicating that the disease is on the wane. Total number of cases on Oct. 25th, 452.

Capt. Hugh Macdonnell has been struck off the strength of the C.E.F. owing to disability.

Orders have been sent out from Militia headquarters, Ottawa, to all depot commanding officers, instructing them to extend to Nov. 15th the harvest leave granted to soldiers.

A DIFFERENT TONE

How humble is the German tone these days, compared with past truculence! Here is von Papen, the vice-chancellor, quoted as saying: "Our enemies distrust our sincerity for peace, mainly on account of past events. For that reason we cannot take amiss their doubts. No fire-eating there. There is an admission that "past events"—that is, general crookedness, trickery and frauds—have justified Allied suspicion, and that such suspicion must be regarded as reasonable. This is a serious reflection on the methods of the Kaiser's government; but of course it is true. The eyes of the Hun are at last being opened to what the rest of the world already knows.—Philadelphia Record.

Thread Shortage

It is Making Things Difficult for Harness Makers. That harness makers will have to close their shops in the course of a short time if the thread situation is not eased up was the announcement made by a dealer this morning. He stated that thread which formerly sold for 80 cents a pound was now being offered, in very limited quantities, at $5 a pound. A ball which was retailed at 10 cents a short time ago, cannot be bought for a dollar at present. The thread, in past years, has been imported from Ireland, but now the government has placed a restriction on ships and the product cannot be sent overseas. The Dominion government is bonusing a company to manufacture the article in Canada but it will not be in operation until after Christmas and by that date the situation will be acute.

Miss F. H. Brough Passed Away

Remains Will Be Brought Here From Toronto For Burial

Miss Florence H. Brough, a well-known Belleville girl, only daughter of the late George Brough, passed away in Toronto on Sunday. She was born in Belleville 24 years ago and until a few years ago was book-keeper for McIntosh Bros. of this city. Latterly she had been living in Toronto. She was a very popular young lady and the news of her death came as a great shock to her many friends in Belleville. Death of Mr. Wm. G. Stapley

His Son Robert Was Buried on Tuesday Last.

William G. Stapley succumbed last evening to an attack of influenza at his home, a second concession of Thursday. He was taken ill on Wednesday last. His son Robert was buried last Tuesday, having died of the epidemic. William G. Stapley was a son of the late Edgar G. Stapley and was born in 1850. He lived in the vicinity of Belleville all his life, being for thirty years an employee of the Grand Trunk Railway system. He was a Methodist in religion. The surviving members of the family are his widow, three sons, William H., Allan E. and Walter W., and three daughters, Mrs. George Kiser, Mrs. Wm. Beatty and Mrs. B. Moore, all of Rochester.

Four Autos Were Renewed

But Police Recover Them For Owners.

Borrowing, taking or stealing (as it stands in law) of automobiles is getting into an epidemic in Belleville. On Saturday and Sunday nights four motors representing a cash value of $4,500.00 was taken from the places where they had been left by their owners. Hours afterwards the machines were found in other parts of the city by the police. The authorities promise prosecution if they can find the offenders.

Dust Causes Asthma. Even a little speck of dust to see will lead to agonies which no words can describe. The walls of the breathing tubes contract and it seems as if the very life must cease. From this condition Dr. J. D. Kellough's Asthma Remedy brings the user to perfect rest and health. It relieves the passages and normal breathing is firmly established again. Hundreds of testimonials received annually prove its effectiveness.

NEED HALF A BILLION FOR ONE YEAR'S EFFORT

Victory Loan of 1918 Will Finance War and Keep Army in Present State of Efficiency as Well as Support War Industries at Home

With a war expenditure of a million dollars a day Canada faces the coming twelve months with the greatest confidence that the people are united in their determination to see the thing to a successful conclusion. This war expenditure means $860,000,000 paid out for the actual prosecution of the war in the field, on the payment and upkeep of our immense army. But there is more than that to take care of. In the past the Government has had to make provision for the marketing of the grain crop, the output of the dairies, the building of ships and the making of munitions for the armies of our allies. Some of these activities are good paying business propositions and the money we spend now will be repaid, but the Government must have sufficient funds at its disposal to enable it to make advances covering the operations of several huge industries.

Just One Year's Cost The present Victory Loan will finance the Government during the coming year. It will total $500,000,000.00 if the expectations of the Finance minister are realized, and every cent will be needed to carry on the war as we have been carrying it on, that is, to the limit of our resources. The war has cost Canada to date about a billion dollars. It is mounting daily, as our forces increase and as the casualty lists grow. The first six months of the year were comparatively quiet on the Canadian front, but since Poch struck, our gallant men have seen much hard fighting. Large numbers have fallen, swelling the total killed in battle to about 33,000 and the total casualties to about 200,000. This is the record of value of our Canadian troops. It represents a sacrifice, compared with which the subscribing of a loan of the dimensions men-

A Comparison Our monthly war bill is more than we spent for all purposes during the whole of 1918. This year's war bill will be equal to Canada's total expenditure from 1888 to 1889 inclusive. In the first three months of this year the charges on war account almost equalled the total revenue of 1911. This is a heavy burden, but think what is at stake. Five hundred millions is the price of Victory this year. It is a small thing compared with some of the burdens of our Allies.

Mr. Flint Replies to Mr. Stewart

Dear Sir, In first Corinthians in the 15th chapter, verse 51, we find "Behold I show you a mystery. We shall not all sleep, but we shall be changed. Verse 53, last clause of verse "This mortal must put on immortality."

Mr. Stewart says "that all of the souls of the human race are in the prison house of death." As I understand his view is that all souls go upon death into this "prison house" and remain there until the judgment day. This world is said by geologists to be millions of years old. Upon an average forty millions die annually. From the dawn of creation to the present time, the number who sleep in this "prison house" must be incalculable. Let us examine the statement briefly. Moses died and was buried in Nebo. Elias was John the Baptist, as the disciples understood. In the transfiguration, Moses and Elias appeared and were recognized. Moses died, John was beheaded. According to Mr. Stewart's view, these men were in this "prison house of death" to remain there until the judgment day. Elijah was a man. Instead of going to the "prison house" he went aloft in a chariot of fire. Job said "In my flesh shall I see God. Lazarus died, and was in this "prison house," several days, yet he did not remain asleep there. The rich man in hell, when Lazarus with his sores was present, was not asleep in the "prison house." It must be a pleasing thought to the Kaiser and his race of demons, and the Turks, gory, with the blood of millions of Armenians and all other monsters of the human race, that instead of roasting in hell, they will be comfortably asleep with all the good and the righteous until the millions of years pass before this world shall end. A most comfortable doctrine to hold for all the vicious creatures of the world. At the end of the world, after millions of years of sleep, the recollection of the sins perpetrated so many ages before, must necessarily be rather misty. Samuel was a man and died. He appeared and evidently was far from being asleep as he was able to prophesy the soul's fate. Christ descended into hell, and preached unto the spirits there so that these spirits were not asleep. Christ spoke to the thief and said to him, "This day shalt thou be with Me in Paradise." It is of no consequence, whether the word soul is in

Messages of Hope to the Old Folks

ISIDORE COMEAU SAYS DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS CURED HIM. Though Sixty-eight Years of Age, His Kidney Disease is Completely Gone, and He Gives All the Credit to Dodd's Kidney Pills. Green Point, Gloucester Co., N. B. Nov. 4.—(Special).—"I am sixty-eight years of age, but well and hearty. "You can sell everybody that Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me of kidney disease completely. "I want everybody to know how thankful I am to Dodd's Kidney Pills." Thus does Mr. Isidore Comeau, well known and highly respected here, express his gratitude to the remedy to which he gives the credit of making him well. And his words are a message of hope to the men and women of Canada who are nearing the allotted span of life. It is the kidneys that first feel the wear and tear of a long life. There has been the work of keeping the blood free from those impurities that are the seeds of disease. Nine-tenths of the ill from which the old folks suffer are directly due to weak or diseased kidneys. Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills are not the remedy they have been looking for.

Skinned Cats Sold as Gray Squirrels

Country Boy Does Thieving But Fraudulent Trade with San Francisco Epicure. San Francisco, Nov. 2.—Society folk and epicures of San Francisco are indignant because for months they have been deceived. What makes it worse is that a sixteen-year-old boy, a country boy at that, is the "base deceiver."

Jimmie Burkett, of Lone Oak Cal., acted as guide for a party of San Francisco millionaires on hunting trip through the mountains of Shasta County a year ago last summer. Jimmie is mountain bred and wise in his generation. He is a crack shot and knows the mountains as a preacher knows his Book. The boy killed many squirrels and caught many trout for the party. When the sampling trip was over he had entered into a deal whereby he was to send to his San Francisco friends so many squirrels per week. Grey squirrels, as is well known, are a delight to any epicure's palate. Then Jimmie began sending the "squirrels" to his friends. His fame grew and his business increased. Each member of the camping party told a friend of the wonderful "squirrel" dinners. Jimmie's mail order business increased and he was making money fast.

But it is against the law to sell grey squirrels. The game wardens heard about the "squirrel" business and combed out Jimmie's trail. No arrests have been made, but Jimmie's business has failed. He ships no more "squirrels." His former customers are indignant and Jimmie will never again make another party from San Francisco. The sportsman have his "numbers." The truth is that Jimmie sent them no squirrels at all. He just raised the common or household variety of cats, and as soon as they were the size of a squirrel he killed and skinned them and sent them to his customers. Say "squirrel" to several San Francisco capitalists and clubmen and a fight will follow. Say "meow" and ran for your life.

Gen. J. E. Minns Gives Soldier's Opinion of Y. M. C. A.

Belleville Nov. 4, 1918. Editor Ontario, Sir,—I have just returned from overseas where I spent a little over two years. Seeing the controversy in your paper, regarding the Y.M.C.A. and feeling the charges made against that splendid institution to be unjust, I have ventured to send in this letter hoping that it may in some small way help to dispel the haze of suspicion and distrust, which is at present surrounding this work in the minds of some of the citizens of Belleville.

Many of the charges made, have I believe, been supported by letters written by soldiers in France. Let me suggest that the men who wrote these letters have become so accustomed to regard the Y.M.C.A. as a part of the life over there and to reap the benefits occasioned by the work it has been doing, that they have never stopped to consider what France would be like if there were no Y.M.C.A.'s.

One statement in particular I noticed, which has absolutely no foundation, is that "the Canadian soldier pays for everything he gets and the Y.M.C.A. never gives away anything." Time and time again, on returning from trips up the line, I have stopped at their booths by the roadside and have been given free coffee or tea—not one cent, but as much as I could drink. Not only do they give away hot drinks, but also biscuits, cigarettes and writing paper. I have even known them to distribute magazines and reading material just as they came from the publishers' hands.

It is true they charge for staple articles of food, such as tin meats, vegetables, fruits and so forth, but you get them at the lowest prices and I have never known these articles to be given away by any patriotic institution.

Not only is the Y.M.C.A. doing a wonderful work in France, but also in England, helping to provide the boys who are over there on leave without friends or relatives to visit. Perhaps the following incident will give you a little idea of the work they are carrying on in England.

I was standing in front of the Y.M.C.A. huts in Trafalgar Square, in London, waiting for its enquiry office to open, when some one accosted me from behind, slipping me on the shoulder in the friendliest manner, turning around I was confronted by a soldier dressed in the regulation Y.M.C.A. uniform. He grasped my hand, asked me how long I had been in the city, where I was going, and innumerable other questions. On finding that I had no friends in the city, he directed me to the Beaver Hut, about five minutes' walk from where we were standing and invited me to join one of their touring parties. These touring parties, he explained left every morning and enabled the soldier to get in a week's sight-seeing in London, bed and meals included, for a very small sum if the man had attempted to make his same trip himself, it would cost him three or four times as much. I was not staying in the city long enough to avail myself of this opportunity, but I did attend one of their theatre parties and obtained a seat at one of the best theatres which normally would have cost me twelve shillings, for the ridiculous sum of three shillings. This is but one example of the way in which the Canadian soldier "pays for everything he gets" at the hands of the Y.M.C.A. If the Y.M.C.A. is out of money it is going about in a very unbusiness-like way.

I had an opportunity later of spending a couple of nights at the Beaver Hut. This I think is the finest soldiers' club in London. Here the Canadian soldier is surrounded by every comfort and convenience imaginable and you have only to look at the faces of the men to know that the work of the Y.M.C.A. in this particular spot has not been in vain.

If the people of Belleville are anxious to help in the war, I do not think they can do better than support the Y.M.C.A. in the splendid work they are doing to provide for the comfort and welfare of the boys at the front.

(Sgd.) Gen. J. E. Minns.

Bonds That Bind the "Brotherhood of Solidarity"

This was Colonel W. N. Ponton's definition of Canadian Victory Bonds in his striking speech on Thursday night, "Blessed be the tie that binds" with the three sinews of war—men, munitions and money—he was that will crown peace with victory. The proud possessors of Victory Bonds, secured by the whole resources of the Empire, (for we stand "one and all"), are neither creditors nor debtors, but full partners in the country of their birth or adoption, not merely sharers in the sentiment, but factors in the life, present and future, of Canada, the great highway and granary of the Empire, said Colonel Ponton.

Mercy is twice blessed—it blesses him that gives and him that takes; and so does a Victory Bond. It is an asset which gives self-respect and a realization of private wealth devoted to public service, and it strengthens the great Dominion as well by supplying present needs and by that practical patriotism which gives fibre to a nation.

There is a tide in the affairs of men and nations. On such a full tide we are now afloat. Keep faith with the dead, but keep faith with the living, too. As they fight over there, let us work over here, all together, and let our bit be our best.

Every boy can attain manhood; every girl can attain womanhood; all can attain full citizenship by exercising the right and privilege of owning a Victory Bond. It should be more than a duty, though even the path of duty is the way to glory. It should be a glowing pride and satisfying pleasure to save from earnings, to sacrifice luxuries, to concentrate efforts in investing in the greatest of all consols, in this greatest national insurance policy—greater than any life insurance, for the issue is life itself.

"God save our splendid men, Bring them safe home again." Every subscriber to a Victory Bond is a participant in the answer of the god of battles to this prayer. Have Bonds ready for Christmas. Give nothing else. Have Bonds ready for the home-coming. Our happy warriors will bring trophies from No Man's Land. Let us welcome them with the greatest of all trophies of Every Man's Land—Canadian Victory Bonds.

The "banks" help over there—the "banks" will help over here all those who thus keep faith with the friends of freedom. And you who have increased your war earnings, who have profited by your war industry, I say, "Consolidate your gains," carry on, and over the top. The honor of Belleville—of Canada, is at stake. "Play up, play up, and play the game. Take passage in the flagship "Victory", staunch and true, the old invincible. Take shares in the greatest co-operative national trust company—Canada; a splendid and lucrative investment at a permanent premium and consecrated to the noblest of objects.

A word is not always as good as a Bond. We want words and Bonds—the contagion of enthusiasm in action, the will to live, the will to serve, the will to conquer and to save. This great loan is really a great gift to each of us in which we all share in spirit and in benefit. "It is not what we give, but what we share; for the gift without the giver is bare."

It is through this Victory Loan that we will show not merely the practical instincts of thrift for the future and the preservation of our treasures, but also it is and ever will be the expression crystallized in action of the grateful voice of a whole people, a great people. As Tennyson proudly wrote in his ode on Wellington:

"A people's voice, we are a people yet; We have a voice wherewith to pay the debt Of boundless love and reverence and regret For those brave men who fought and kept it ours."

Keep the home fires burning; yes, but also the beacon fires, the signal fires. Feed the guns and the men behind the guns. Let everyone who has the potential ability, now or in the near future, feel the thrill of the great electric current which unites and vivifies this our great British

48 Flu Deaths in October

In City of Belleville—Largest List on Record—Seventeen Other Deaths.

City Clerk J. Wilfred Holmes has forwarded to Dr. McCullough, Provincial Officer of Health a tabulated statement of the deaths in Belleville during the month of October. Just closed. The fact is disclosed that within the limits of Belleville a record was reached in the number of deaths—thirty-six, six, five, of these forty-eight were due to influenza and pneumonia. Belleville's record for the three months, July, August and September, was 40 deaths, which is a fair average for this time of year.

The first death from influenza occurred on Oct. 10th and from then until Oct. 31st, the deaths from this disease mounted very rapidly. The second death was that of a soldier of the depot battalion on Oct. 11th.

The heaviest toll occurred on Oct. 23rd and Oct. 28th, when there were four "flu" deaths on each of these days. On many days there were three deaths from influenza and pneumonia.

There were eleven deaths of soldiers and three of nurses on the hospital staff in October. The range of ages of those fatally attacked by the "flu," was from one year to eighty years. The most of the deaths were between eighteen years and forty. The deaths were as follows:

- Under ten years—4
- Ten to sixteen years—9
- Seventeen to nineteen years—5
- Twenty to twenty-nine years—15
- Thirty to thirty-nine years—16
- Forty to forty-nine years—2
- Fifty to fifty-nine years—3
- Sixty to sixty-nine years—1
- The seventeen deaths not caused by "flu," were from malnutrition, paralysis, apoplexy, heart failure, obstruction of bowels, serf-deceit, prematurely and stomach trouble.

Outside of Belleville, but in the immediate vicinity many deaths resulted from influenza.

The ravages of the epidemic can be appreciated by the sad sight in Belleville cemetery and in St. James cemetery. In the past three weeks in these two resting places several scores of Belleville residents have been laid to rest. On their graves the flowers are still fresh. Everywhere one turns, he sees a fresh grave. On Sunday these two cities of the dead were visited by many who have recently been bereaved.

Died of Burns

Little Girl's Dress Caught Fire While She Was at Play

Hamilton, Nov. 4.—While her mother was out Tuesday afternoon, Wilhelmine Darby, aged ten years and eight months, was playing in the rear yard at cooking potatoes over a bonfire and fanning the fire with her dress. After repeating this several times the little girl was caught in the flames and her dress, which was made of very fine material, caught fire. The child, immediately realizing her danger, rushed into the house and called on her sister for assistance. She tried to wrap the child in a large overcoat that was hanging nearby, but being panic-stricken the child rushed out into the yard again and was for some time running around before her sister could catch her. A hurried call to some of the neighbors brought them to her assistance and before long they extinguished the blaze. The burns which the little one had sustained were very serious and she was rushed to the city hospital, where medical help was obtained. But it was all of no avail and death came shortly after midnight that evening.—Herald.

IF YOU WANT MONEY

"If you want peace see Foch," is Canada's reply to Germany. "If you want money see me," is Canada's word to the boys overseas in the Victory Loan drive.

ROXBORO

Rev. P. W. Currie returned home Friday evening after some weeks spent in Toronto and London. At the former place he attended the meeting of the Synod of Toronto and Kingston, and at the latter the London Poultry Association Fair, where he secured a pen of First Prize White Wyandottes at a handsome figure. These birds will add to an already choice flock a new distinction as they come from the farm of John S. Martin, Port Dover, and one has never been beaten in a show. Also a choice trio of Rhode Island Reds, a breed that only needs to be known to be appreciated. Mr. Currie has always taken a keen interest in livestock, and at this time in our country's need a special effort at production should be the aim of all our people.

WHAT YOU CAN'T AFFORD

Just what you can afford cannot be the measure of your patriotism now. Just to "buy a Bond" and wear a Victory Loan button is not enough today. Even if it satisfies others, it will not satisfy yourself.

The Victory Loan makes a call on patriotism. Your patriotism is measured by your capacity for sacrifice. So you have to buy more than bonds—that you can't afford to buy. It is the one more bond that you can't afford, the one more bond so big that to buy it really hurts, that will give you your share in the spirit of these sacrificial days.

The hour calls to you for sacrifice. Our boys at the front are waiting for your answer. Act—and act now.

WHEN WE HAVE SEEN

Written for The Ontario by Chas. M. Bice, Lawyer, Denver, Colorado

Two phrases we should like to hear from our president's lips—"Unconditional Surrender" and "Our Allies." They are on the lips of almost every other American.

"Unconditional Surrender" above the White House door would not only ease many minds, but would sweep away a mass of cobwebby, confusing thought.

There is another objection to conditions, no matter how wisely drawn, and it is exemplified by the president's withdrawal of his "autonomy" clause by reason of the subsequent recognition of the Czech-Slovak government.

Until French, English, Belgian and American soldiers are patrolling the streets of Berlin; until the archives of the Central Powers have been opened and their contents published; until the Allies know by actual occupation of German territory, the heart of the German people's mind; until the last victim of Prussian oppression is free to tell his story—until all of this has happened, neither punishment nor reparation can be definitely fixed, nor can the guarantees necessary to be extracted from Germany be determined.

Any condition won by Germany will, we may be sure, be for her good, not ours or the world's. We are sure of the justice of our cause, let us make equally sure of our method. The straightforward, simple and perfect method is unconditional surrender. Conditions of any kind will befog the people, and may create heart-burnings among the Allies when they come up for interpretation before the final council. They have, unfortunately, emanated thus far, largely from America; and it is clearly Germany's aim, as far as possible, to place America in a false position of settling as a judge or arbitrator, before whom she, on the one hand, and England, France and Italy on the other hand, will plead their respective cases. A very cunning scheme it is, too, fraught with great danger.

Germany may talk—is talking—of the Kaiser's abdication—of democratic reforms, of a change of heart, etc. Let us answer: We will believe when we have come and seen for ourselves.

Wilson has proclaimed that we are prosecuting this war to make the world safe for democracy, and within a few days he has advised the enemy that it must conform to his requirements regarding its future form of government. He has drafted and had accepted, temporarily at least, by the Central Powers, a set of peace terms intended to bring to fruition the age-old dream of idealists, a world-federation of democracy.

Yesterday the president came out with a message to the American people, asking them, in effect, to make him dictator by returning his party to power in the coming election (Nov. 5). This hardly chimes with his theory of making the world safe for democracy, for it really smacks of the ways of kaiserism. His officials frittered away hundreds of thousands of dollars in air-craft "experimenting" while the armies abroad are waiting for aeroplanes. He must expect criticism for such exhibitions of incompetency.

Mr. Wilson's severest critics have come from his own party who recognized his shortcomings, and have been courageous enough to denounce his blunders. We don't want anything that savors of dictatorship in this country. We want the world made safe for democracy but to the exclusion of partisan politics or mere party triumphs.

A Soldier's Opinion of the Y. M. C. A.

The following letter appeared in The Montreal Gazette day before yesterday. As it gives one of the most intimate and specialised accounts of the work of the Y.M.C.A. at the front we reproduce it for the benefit of the readers of The Ontario in order that they may have before them first-hand evidence and not hearay as to what is being done with the Y.M.C.A. funds overseas.

The letter also pointedly expresses the opinion of the soldier on active service in regard to those who through ignorance of the facts or from other causes have sought to block this grant in Belleville.

Sir,—So much has already been written in refutation of the charge preferred against the Canadian Y. M. C. A. in connection with its work overseas by those whose opinion is of most value viz: the boys who are fighting our battles so creditably, that further testimony seem superfluous. The following extract from a letter recently received from my son, who has been with the 6th Infantry since its inception, and who at the present time is acting as despatch rider, is so much to the point, however, that it seems only fair to the Y. M. C. A. that what he has to say on the subject should be given publicity. He says:

"We held an indignation meeting last week concerning a cartoon which recently appeared. This was a picture of a typical Y. M. C. A. hut in front of which stood a wounded soldier saying something to the effect, 'I haven't got a dime to buy a free cup of tea,' and coupled with it a tirade on the business greed of the early days of the war. Were we sore? Hanging is far too good for whoever put that in. Why people who knock things they know nothing about is something I can not understand. The Y. M. C. A. is a very interesting concern? Why, I could talk for hours on the advantages I personally have derived from the Y. M. C. A. during the period I have spent in France. The gallons of tea, generous of milk and sugar, and oranges that I have had free of charge must have cost them something. Recreation huts, free literature, circulating library, concerts, money exchange, etc. all have tended to make my life happy in France. The 'Y'

Sub. Warfare Not Abandoned

Germany Merely Halts it for Purpose—Part of Her Bid For American Favor

London, Nov. 1.—Reports of German submarines being recalled to home ports, coupled with comparative inactivity on the part of the U-boats, are being discussed by the admiralty officers here. It is not believed that Germany has abandoned her submarine warfare.

The view officially expressed is that Germany, in checking the operations of submarines, hopes to lend weight to the evidently insipid reports that she is withdrawing them. It is possible Germany expects to create a better feeling in America by this procedure, and doubtless plans to bolster the waning morale of the submarine crews by demanding less of them.

At the Admiralty it is believed that if the inactivity continues, most of the submarines will be withdrawn temporarily. The men will be given leave, and the boats will be repaired preparatory to the next great effort on the part of Germany.

Adjutant Trickey who has been in charge of the local work of the Salvation Army has proceeded to Toronto and Ottawa on the Red Shield campaign. Owing to the prevailing sickness it was impossible to have a farewell gathering, but there is no doubt he will be missed by the local corps and the citizens of Belleville for his patient, persevering and energetic toil. He endeared himself to all. Early and late he was on his Master's business helping and blessing those around him. In the first stages of the "flu" epidemic he was a constant visitor to the homes of those in need and many have cause to bless him. There was a great advance in the local efforts and in the attendance at the meetings. Could he have remained for the usual period there would have been a bright prospect. Adj. and Mrs. Goodhew of Montreal, have already taken over the work and we have no doubt that they will make good and in them those in need will find good friends. We give them a hearty welcome to the city and wish them every success in their work.

Dominion Police are Moving From Here

Kingston, Nov. 1.—Ever since the organization of the Dominion police for the enforcement of the M.S.A., the headquarters for this district have been in Kingston. Chief Graham who was appointed at the head of the district made his first headquarters here and later moved to Ottawa, leaving the local control in the hands of Sergeant Jean Slesch.

The Dominion police have been using a room in the basement of the city building granted by the City Property Committee.

Today the headquarters for the district were moved to Trenton and Tweed, and the police are being moved from Kingston to these places. Some of the work of rounding up deserters is being done by members of the G.M.P.C. under Major Porter A.P.M. and occasionally an evader of the M.S.A. gets the attention of Major Porter's men, but most of this class of work is being done by the Dominion police.

It is rumored in well-informed circles that the force will soon be dissolved, and the work all grouped under the G.M.P.C., the members of which are all in uniform.

There will be a number of changes in officers made at once, especially among the heads of the organization. There are a number of Kingston men on the force, and it is said at Ottawa that these constitute the best material among all the police, doing this class of work.

Derailment Near Marysville

Twenty G.T.R. Cars Blocked Traffic Yesterday and Today. About nine o'clock yesterday morning a derailment occurred on the Grand Trunk, two miles east of Marysville, as a result of which about twenty cars of an eastbound freight train left the track. Fortunately nobody was hurt. There was considerable damage to rolling stock and freight. The cause is being investigated today. The track has been blocked, although this afternoon it is reported that one line is clear. Last night G.T.R. through passenger trains were sent over the Canadian Northern, but on other trains the passengers were transhipped over the G.T.R.

Letter of Sympathy

Mrs. C. Losse, Rosmore, Ont.—Please accept my deepest sympathy in your great loss. Your brother was killed just as the battalion advanced to the attack on the morning of the 27th. I was quite close to him when the shell exploded and can assure you that he would feel no pain, as death was instantaneous. He was a fine soldier, always smiling and willing and a very brave man. We are all most sorry that we should lose such a fine soldier and man, but it will be some consolation to you to know that he died in the fulfillment of his duty with his face to the enemy.

We have buried him in a pleasant little cemetery alongside his comrades and friends near the village of Ince. Again assuring you of much sympathy, believe me Yours very truly, Fred J. North, Lieut.

That the snake was numb with cold was probably his salvation.

Grant to Y. M. C. A. According to Law

At the last council meeting Ald. Curry gave as his reason for recommending the Y.M.C.A. grant for overseas work his belief that the grant last April was legally passed.

A letter received from Hon. W. D. MacPherson, provincial secretary points out that at the last session of the provincial legislature the act in reference to the voting of money for Patriotic purposes was amended to include the Y.M.C.A. or Red Triangle.

The amendment reads as follows: "The National Council of the Young Men's Christian Associations of Canada for the purposes of the special work being carried on by it in furnishing supplies, accommodations, comforts, food and drink and entertainment to officers and men while on active service during present war with the Naval and Military Forces of the British Empire and Great Britain's Allies."

We are informed that it is legal for a council to make grants, with out a vote, from the people to three organizations only—the Canadian Patriotic Fund, The Red Cross and the Y.M.C.A.

Prince Edward Men Invent New Gun

Joseph Anson and his Son, Pte. Arthur Anson, Invent Machine Gun That Will Fire 16 Shots a Second

Joseph Anson, of Crofton, working in conjunction with his son, Pte. Arthur Anson, has invented a new machine gun that has points of superiority over any other yet in existence. The principle of action is altogether different from that of the Lewis or any of the standard guns now in use. By Mr. Anson's device the gun will fire one bullet at a time, or in volleys of five, nine or sixteen simultaneously. Forty-eight shots can be fired in three seconds. The gun, complete, weighs about forty pounds. It is specially designed to meet the requirements of aeroplane gunnery.

By firing sixteen bullets at once a hostile plane can be struck at sixteen different places, and there is far greater certainty of its getting to a vital part than when bullets are fired singly as in the case of the Lewis or other machine guns. Mr. Anson showed The Ontario a photo of his new invention which has already been given a satisfactory trial. It will at once be submitted to the War Inventions Board at Washington and London, Eng.

Mr. Anson has already invented a device for application to aeroplanes which enables them to rise from the ground or from a confined enclosure at a much sharper angle than was previously the case.

The latter invention was submitted to the Board in Great Britain some months ago and Mr. Anson has just had the satisfaction to learn that his device is being adopted and a preliminary cheque of $2,500 was forwarded to show that the invention was a success.

Pte. Anson is a veteran of the war. He was seriously wounded at Vimy Ridge, April 9th, 1917, and has, since his discharge, been working with his father at Crofton. Both father and son have a great natural taste for practical mechanics and have given a demonstration of their ability to turn their skill to practical use.

Mr. Mikel Urges Citizens to Buy Victory Bond

Mr. Mikel's Address at the Open Air Victory Bond Meeting, Corner of Front and Bridge Sts.

The Victory Bonds of 1918 are sold in denominations of $50 and up and are repayable in gold with interest at 5 1/2 per cent. by the Dominion Government. Purchasers therefore have the whole wealth of Canada as security.

The purchase price can be paid all at once or in payments extending over 128 days. That is, a $50 bond will cost 39 48-63 cents per day for 128 days, so that a $50 bond can be bought by almost everyone who is employed. Some may have to deny themselves to do so. Most mechanics and even laborers get more than 39 cents per hour; with them, one hour's pay per day would pay for the bond.

The proceeds of the Victory Bonds will be loaned to Great Britain in buying food and war supplies from Canada, so that every farmer, every mechanic, every laborer, every storekeeper, everyone who has any property or other financial interest in Canada is more or less dependent on the success of the sale of these bonds. The more we lend Great Britain, the more she will be able to buy, and will buy from us. The more she buys from us the more profit we will make and the better off will our people become.

There are six classes of persons who won't buy bonds: 1st class—the Hun sympathizer; 2nd class—the person who wants more interest. This class of person is not only helping the enemy but he is striking a blow at our farming interests, he is throwing hand grenades at our business men, he is pouring poison gas on our manufacturers, turning the machine guns on our mechanics and laborers. He is choking our boys in the trenches—all for a half or one per cent. more interest. 3rd class—the person who would sooner put money in fancy clothes, automobiles and other unnecessary expenditures than buy bonds. 4th class—the pacifist, the non-resister and conscientious objector. This class of people brought the war on us and they would sooner see us lose than give any help to win the war. 5th class—the person who can't pay 39 cents per day for 128 days. Too many young men spend that much every night in the pool room, or over-eating in a Chinese restaurant. 6th class—the thoughtless ones.
