COX OWES HIS VICTORY TO SON-IN-LAW ARGUMENT

House of Wilson is Beaten by Old Democratic Organization—Best Strategy Won—McAdoo Forces Swept Off Their Feet in Last Ten Ballots.

San Francisco, July 6.—Divided against itself no house stands. Governor Cox is triumphant. Palmer and McAdoo are beaten. This falls the house of Wilson in the great battle between the old Democratic organization which was defeated at Baltimore in 1912, but which took sweet revenge in 1920 by eliminating two members of President Wilson's Administration—Attorney-General Palmer and former Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo—and nominating a candidate who has not been identified with the Federal Administration in the last eight years, and who will therefore not inherit as much of the resentment against the Wilson Cabinet as the other two might have done.

It was within the power of the Wilson Administration to nominate either Palmer or McAdoo or someone else who had been a part of the President's official family. But Mr. Wilson literally kept his hands off, and his two opponents, Palmer and McAdoo, suffered from poor leadership and inexperienced management. A coalition of Palmer and McAdoo forces early in the convention would have defeated Cox. When Palmer released his delegates the moment for such a coalition had passed. The Cox managers knew they had but to hold out and win their battle on the basis of a divided body of delegates. To-day the McAdoo and Palmer men are unhappy.

Expect to Win Ohio.

But just as the disappointed friends of Lowden, Wood and Johnson gave one thought only to the prospect of perpetuating the Wilson rule, so the Democrats here compare Cox and Harding and say that as between the two they can make but one choice. Indeed, the fact that Cox carried Ohio three times as Governor and is fully expected by his supporters to carry Ohio over Harding is buoying up the Democrat hopes of victory next fall. "We will beat Harding in Ohio if you give us Cox," was the reiterated weapon of the Cox men here and it sank into the minds of the delegates who compared Cox with the son-in-law argument which the Republicans were sure to use about McAdoo. Yes, it was the son-in-law relationship that defeated McAdoo.

The McAdoo forces were swept off their feet in the last ten ballots by superior strategy. Ed Moore, floor manager for Cox, had the assistance of such astute politicians as Charlie Murphy, of New York, Jim Nugent, of New Jersey, and George Brennan, of Illinois. Those anti-Wilson forces won a victory over the Wilson people. There's no doubt of it. They shouted for Wilson and the League of Nations on platform questions, but they nominated a man who doesn't convey the same antagonism to the old line Democrats that a Wilson man would have carried.

Not Anti-Wilson

Governor Cox isn't anti-Wilson. The President has always had a high admiration for the Ohio governor and has praised the record of Governor Cox as a progressive. There is absolutely no doubt that the President will help Cox in his campaign by written statements, if that be deemed advisable. It may not help Cox in the east to have the stamp of Wilson's approval but that will be somewhat offset by the approval of the regular Democratic organizations. But in the west, unless Woodrow Wilson says Cox is a progressive and commends Cox to the electorate, the west will not warm up to Cox. The present inclination of the west is to go Republican anyway and it will take a good deal of Wilson's influence to country, let alone make him a strong candidate.

Consideration of this sort are influencing the Cox managers in trying to select a candidate for Vice-President. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, has the approval of Tammany for the Vice-Presidency, but while Cox and Roosevelt would please many delegates here, a ticket such as Cox and Murdock of Cox and Meredith would be ever so much more effective in getting western votes. Meredith is being boomed by some Cox adherents because of the belief that it will cement the Wilson branch of the party which lost the fight here and will tend to make for party harmony.

Cox's First Task

The first task of Gov. Cox is to bring into line for himself the western Democracy which fought so valiantly for McAdoo. The main trouble will be the prohibition question. Bryan himself has written articles galore during this convention calling Cox the "candidate of the wets." The women of the West are not inclined to vote for wet candidates, especially if they are championed by Tammany. Governor Cox's statement to-day saying the only question involved in prohibition was one of law enforcement, will in all probability be the line he will take during the campaign, inasmuch as the Democratic platform doesn't mention the subject. But it will take a good deal more than that to carry conviction. Governor Cox will have to choose between the more or less wet east and the drier west as his battleground, and he will find it just as difficult to be neutral in the fight as a man who tries to carry water on both shoulders.

Governor Cox is by no means of the Tammany brand in politics though he owes his nomination to Murphy, Nugent, Brennan and Taggart, but so did Wilson owe his first nomination in New Jersey to organization Democrats. Governor Cox is the sort who will act in Democratic politics in spite of the support of the bosses which he got at San Francisco rather than with an eye to it. As the conviction, he can win the east this year if any Democrat can.

Cox Goes to Mother's Grave to Pray

Dayton, Ohio, July 7.—James Middleton Cox was at his newspaper publishing plant when he received word he had been nominated by the convention at San Francisco. As soon as he received reports of the 43rd ballot, Governor Cox made the first statement since the balloting started Friday: "Boys, it's all over and we have won," he said. Then he took a pipe and tobacco out of his pockets and remarked: "I think I will take a little smoke now," but before he could light the pipe he was interrupted by a shout from the telegraph operators: "Cox is nominated," they cried.

The crowd of men in the room surged forward, caught the Governor and with triumphant shouts hoisted him to their shoulders. The men bore the nominee to his front office, where Mrs. Cox had been waiting all night for the convention results. Mrs. Cox seized her husband kissing him and the tears streaming from her eyes. Governor Cox relaxed from the strain of the campaign and his eyes filled with tears. Mrs. Eades and Miss Elinor Parker, both of Dayton, with Mrs. John Root and Miss Elinor West, both of Chicago, who had been with Mrs. Cox through the trying ordeal of the long night, captured the Governor. They all kissed him and they all cried.

After the Governor had gone to his home in the morning for a brief rest, he went alone to Woodlawn cemetery and there at the grave of his mother he prayed.

"Throw any old shoes at the bride?" "Not much. If I had any old shoes to throw away I'd get 'em fixed up and wear 'em."

White Goes To Ottawa To Receive Offer Of Canada's Premiership

Governor's Secretary Comes to Toronto—Sir Thomas Reiterates His Determination Not to Accept Post—Friends Urge Him to Change His Mind—Will Decide Today.

Sir Thomas White left for Ottawa late at the time to discuss the suggestion, when Sir Robert had not actually resigned, but in view of the rumors that were going around I felt impelled to speak. Since then I have notified Sir Robert Borden and my former colleagues that I was not available, and had the recent caucus been called upon to choose a successor to Sir Robert Borden, a letter from me would have been read, saying that I could not accept the position, and must not be considered a candidate.

One of the last it was evident that a strong pressure is being brought up on Sir Thomas to reconsider his determination. Hundreds of telegrams were received by him today urging him to accept the premiership and many more were forwarded to Muskoka before the telegraph companies learned that he was in the city. Sir Thomas is being pressed to accept the responsibility of the Premiership by members of the cabinet, members of parliament, and prominent citizens in all parts of the Dominion. Whether he will be able to withstand this pressure remains to be seen.

By Canadian Press

Sir Thomas White definitely stated tonight that he could not accept the leadership of the government, even if it should be offered to him. He arrived here this evening from Muskoka, and is on his way to Ottawa, where he has been asked, as a private councillor and member of parliament, to confer on the political situation. To a representative of the Canadian Press he repeated the statement which he has made on several previous occasions, that he was not a candidate for any office in the government, and that his name was not available for consideration. He said that he retired from the government a year ago on the grounds, first, that his health had been seriously impaired by the continued strain of his official duties, and second, because of the pressing necessity of rehabilitating his private affairs, which, during his period of office, he had been obliged to neglect wholly. He would not allow business or financial considerations to stand in the way of public duty, but with the matter of health it was different, as the public interest itself was there involved.

Will Support Leader

"I am satisfied that if my name is eliminated from consideration, an acceptable leader will be chosen, and he will certainly have my hearty support.

"I do not know," Sir Thomas continued, "why the press or my friends consider me available. I have certainly done everything to indicate that I am not. Quite reluctantly I made the statement last December when it became known that Sir Robert Borden's health would soon compel him to retire. It seemed indel-

WILSON TO STUMP FOR COX

Washington, July 7.—Definite assurances were given at the White House that President Wilson plans to take an active part in the campaign to elect Governor Cox as his successor. It was indicated that if his health permits, the President will make stump speeches for the Ohio Governor.

Turk Nationalists to Collapse Soon

Greek Troops Have Swept the Country to West of Baloukassar

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 6.—Greek troops have swept the country west of Baloukassar, clear of Turks as far as north of Adramit. They also have landed large forces at Chardex on the Dardanelles. Consequently, they expect to eliminate the Turks from the Province of Biglas shortly.

The Greek advance was so rapid and unexpected that the Turks were unable to destroy the railway, which with its rolling stock, was left intact. Dynamite had been placed under some bridges, but the Nationalists were in so great a panic that the charges were not exploded. Their retreat was in such disorder that the Greeks easily inflicted great losses upon them.

Eskishehr, the junction of the Bagdad and Angora railways, is the point where the hardest fighting is anticipated. British observers predict that the Nationalist movement will collapse within a fortnight. They say the fall of Eskishehr will result in the surrender of Konia and the complete isolation of the Angora government.

Treaty With Turkey Unchanged

(Special 4 p.m. Dispatch from Canadian Press Ltd.)

SPA, Belgium, July 7.—Important clauses of the Peace Treaty with Turkey will remain as they are, it has been decided by the Supreme Council in session here. At this morning's meeting with Premier Venizelos of Greece, the present council decided it would be impossible to grant the Turkish request for revision of these clauses. A commission of experts will be appointed, however, to study the minor clauses with reference to partial revision of documents as far as these are concerned.

Rovno Fell Into Bolshevik Hands

(Special 4 p.m. Dispatch from Canadian Press Ltd.)

LONDON, July 7.—The fortress of Rovno in Volhina to the east of Dubno and Latsk has fallen into Bolshevik hands, it is announced in a Soviet communique received from Moscow today. In capturing Rovno from the Poles the Bolsheviks took a thousand prisoners, two armored cars and considerable other equipment. In the direction of Proskuro, south of Rovno, the Bolsheviks broke through the fortified zone and are driving the enemy back along the railway in the direction of Tarnopol and Lemburg, the statement adds.

LLOYD GEORGE HANDS GERMANY ULTIMATUM AT SPA CONFERENCE

Germans Must Present a Plan for Disarmament, Immediate Reduction of Army and Surrender of War Munitions or Conference May Break Up—Plea Made for Larger Force.

SPA, Belgium, July 6.—Whether the conference on the peace treaty breaks up tomorrow depends upon whether the Germans present a plan for disarmament, the immediate reduction of the German army from 200,000 to 100,000 men and the surrender of upwards of 1,500,000 rifles in the hands of the people, as well as other arms.

Mr. Lloyd George, speaking for the allied governments at today's session, presented what may be called an ultimatum, but which Dr. Simons, the German foreign minister, termed "a very positive demand."

The German ministers are in session tonight at a villa three miles from Spa, which is picketed by gendarmes. Another meeting of the Germans will be held tomorrow morning. Dr. Simons said to The Associated Press this evening: "We do not yet know what we will do. The situation is too serious for me to make a comment on it. I would rather you did not press me." The impression among observers is that the Germans will present a plan. The German delegates do not appear unwilling for their people to see how difficult the position is. The most dramatic moment of the session was when Premier Lloyd George said: "I do not believe that the Germans intend to execute the treaty." The German foreign minister immediately interrupted, saying: "You have no right to make any such remark. We are trying to execute the treaty." Chancellor Fehrenbach, invoking the name of the Creator, cried: "We are loyally trying to execute the treaty."

Treaty Taken Up

The question of execution of the military, naval and aerial clauses of the Versailles treaty was taken up immediately after the formal meeting of the allied premiers with the representatives of Germany began at 4.30 o'clock this afternoon. The German minister of defence, Herr Gessler, explained the German situation in support of the contention of the German government, that it must have an armed force of 300,000 men to maintain order in the republic.

Sir Thomas May Yet Act as Leader

(Special 4 p.m. Dispatch from Canadian Press Ltd.)

OTTAWA, July 7.—Clearing of political skies is expected during the day. The morning has been one of conferences practically the whole of the forenoon. Sir Thomas White was closeted with Sir Robert Borden and whole political situation was discussed soon after the arrival of the former Minister of Finance. Hon. N. W. Rowell joined the conference. Despite Sir Thomas White's repeated declarations that he has no desire to return to public life, the impression persists that he may yet be prevailed upon to form the new administration.

German Plan For Disarmament

(Special 4 p.m. Dispatch from Canadian Press Ltd.)

SPA, Belgium, July 7.—Decision was reached by members of the German ministry and military officers attached to the German delegation here this morning to recommend to Konstantin Fehrenbach, head of the German delegation that the plan of disarmament for Germany be presented to the allied representatives this afternoon. The conference will, therefore, continue.

Bolshevik Attack on 700 Mile Front

(Special 4 p.m. Dispatch from Canadian Press Ltd.)

WARSAW, July 7.—Along a front of approximately seven hundred miles the Russian Bolsheviks have hurled greatest attack they have ever launched against the Polish lines. On the northern and southern flanks the Poles are retiring in the face of superior enemy attacks on northern sector being most severe. The struggle of this front will necessarily shorten their lines. The Poles have begun withdrawal at all points. The two ranks of lady bowlers from Belleville who played in Toronto yesterday against Parkdale Club were victorious over the Queen City rink.

SCOTT-McCREARY.

The home of Mrs. McCreary, 246 West St., Brantford, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday, June 30, when her second daughter, Clara, became the bride of Mr. Richard Scott, of Brantford.

The wedding was sweetly played by the bride's cousin, Miss Ruth Skeggs. The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Mr. W. P. Skeggs, looked dainty in a gown of white embroidered georgette over silk, with orange blossoms, and carrying white roses with fern. The bridesmaid, Miss Emily Rodgers, wore a becoming gown of pink satin and georgette, her bouquet being pink roses.

Following the usual congratulations the guests partook of a dainty luncheon, after which the happy couple left amid showers of confetti and good wishes for Buffalo, Detroit and Niagara Falls. The bride travelled in a navy blue satin and georgette dress with hat to match. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome set of old colony silver.

On Wednesday, June 30th Christ Church, Belleville, was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding when Jennie Pearl Thompson, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson, of Deseronto, was united in marriage to Mr. George Flemming, Louis Leverton of Shannonville.

The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a pearl ring and to the groomsmen a pearl tie pin. The young couple left on the noon train going west and returned July 1st to the bride's home where a reception was given them.

The bride received many beautiful and costly presents, showing the esteem in which she is held by her friends.

Delightful Point Traverse Sending Big Church Bell to Cheng Tu China

Amalgamation of Congregations at Picton Closes Church Whose Former Pastor Was Missionary's Father

Picton, July 5.—For forty-four years the Methodists of this little town in Prince Edward county have been summoned to worship at the Main Street Methodist Church by a 1,400-pound bell presented to the congregation in 1876 by the late Jonathan Mattashed. Now the bell is being taken down from the steeple preparatory to shipment to Cheng Tu, China.

The Main Street Church has been closed, following its amalgamation with the other Methodist body of Picton at what was formerly known as "the First Church." The pastor of the Main Street Church at the time the bell was donated was Rev. William Service, and it is his son, Rev. Charles W. Service, who is now in charge of the Chinese Methodist Mission, from whose tower the old bell will ring out its call to the faithful.

The bell bears the inscription: "Presented by J. Mattashed to the M.E. Picton Church, 1876," and it is donated to the Cheng Tu Mission. It is estimated that the cost of transporting it to China will be between $150 and $200, and the money for this purpose has already been sent here by the Cheng Tu adherents. The Picton Sunday School now maintains a ward in the Cheng Tu Hospital.

Love and Justice Are Consistent

Says Rev. Vernon H. Cowser at Baptist Church.

The Rev. Vernon H. Cowser, of California was yesterday back again with his Belleville Baptist congregation of days gone by and last evening spoke on the theme of "God is Love" at Victoria Ave. Church.

Love is perfectly consistent with the principle of the justice of God, although the human mind looks upon love and justice as diametrically opposite. We need a revelation of a sense of justice today. Since the war ended there has been an epidemic of crime, one of the results of the holocaust of war. The crying need of the hour is for fathers and mothers who love their children enough to discipline them.

"I am convinced that many parents if instead of whining 'Where is my wandering boy tonight?' would go and get a good hickory switch and go out and find where he is, there would be more boys kept out of the penitentiary," said Mr. Cowser.

Wood Valve in Production

STORY OF ITS REMARKABLE INVENTION AND EVOLUTION (By Roger Arnold in Canadian Motorist.)

As Lord Byron would say, "There is a sound of machinery by day"—in Belleville; that is, a new addition to the general sound. The Wood Air-Tight Valve plant is humming and everybody from boy to boss is on his toes.

The history of the Wood air-tight valve has never been told. If it remained for the unassuming inventor, or the unostentatious directors, to tell it the light would be kept under a bushel forever. It happened in on the news by chance, and being a writer-man, I couldn't let the amazing facts slip through my ears. I felt there wasn't a motorist in all Christendom that wouldn't like to know all about the Wood valve and how it came into being.

Wood Valve in Production

STORY OF ITS REMARKABLE INVENTION AND EVOLUTION (By Roger Arnold in Canadian Motorist.)

As Lord Byron would say, "There is a sound of machinery by day"—in Belleville; that is, a new addition to the general sound. The Wood Air-Tight Valve plant is humming and everybody from boy to boss is on his toes.

The history of the Wood air-tight valve has never been told. If it remained for the unassuming inventor, or the unostentatious directors, to tell it the light would be kept under a bushel forever. It happened in on the news by chance, and being a writer-man, I couldn't let the amazing facts slip through my ears. I felt there wasn't a motorist in all Christendom that wouldn't like to know all about the Wood valve and how it came into being.

Talk of the Town and of the Country

Three tramps were given protection at the police station on Sunday night.

Mrs. J. Bailey, Moira Street east, complained to the police that her little daughter was knocked down by a bicyclist on the sidewalk.

"Sun kissed monograms" are my lady's newest fads at Atlantic City. The method is simple and the effect striking. A pair of plump shoulders, a few strips of designed court plaster and a penknife or pocket scissors do the trick. The sun tans the exposed skin, leaving that under the strips white and gleaming when the plaster is removed. Such a monogram can be seen for long distances. And, of course, decorative skill needn't be confined to monograms.

Two bicyclists were this morning fined five dollars and costs each for riding their wheels on sidewalks in the city.

Dr. Reamon, whose thesis for his degree was a defence of the method used in his book, "English for New-Canadians," is the first Canadian to receive such a degree in education from Cornell. Dr. Reamon is a graduate of Queen's Faculty of Education.

The case has been in court for several months and was fully and exhaustively argued by able counsel for both sides.

Have you ever been up in the air to watch a thunderstorm grow? If you were merely on the ground looking up, then you saw only the bottom of it. The airman is the one who sees just what is happening in a thunderstorm, and the blith and growth of a regular summer joy killer.

A few hours before the sky was, perhaps, perfectly clear. All at once a few white patches become visible to dot the whole sky it is a warning sign. Each fluffy cloud represents the point where moisture rising from the earth has begun to condense. The rapid formation of the clouds means uneven heating of the surface of the earth and the presence of lots of moisture in the air. The clouds grow together, forming a continuous rolling mass of dense vapor, cutting off the flyer's view of the earth.

So far the storm has been only threatening. The clouds have spread sideways as far as they can; now they begin to grow heavier. The heated air from the earth below pushes through the heavy layer and bulges it upward. Higher and higher it is pushed, while more and more moisture condenses and this great bulging mass of vapor, sometimes three or four miles high, has become a thundercloud. Its bulging top are called "thunder peaks or thunder heads," and they are responsible for the lightning and the heaviness of rainfall and the hail we sometimes have in midsummer.

The energy of a thunderstorm is amazing, says a writer in Popular Mechanics. A single great cloud may contain billions of pounds of water vapor. The flashes of lightning from cloud to cloud are sometimes twenty miles in length, and when we stop to think that it takes a current of 15,000 volts pressure to produce a spark an inch long, we can only wonder at the approximate amount of electricity involved in a single flash.

Sometimes the wind of a thundercloud or the "squall," as it is called is violent enough to level trees, and is improperly called a tornado. There is a big difference. A tornado is a violent whirlpool of air that sweeps across the country and twists off trees and roofs in its path. The wind from a thunderstorm blows straight away from the storm and never twists. The tornado is always dangerous, while the wind from a thunderstorm is only occasionally dangerous.

Broadly speaking, there are three general stages in the development of a thunderstorm. There must be strong currents of moist air rising from the earth, as indicated by the appearance of the white patches of cloud. The condition must continue until the sky is covered. And lastly, the force of these upward currents must be great enough to push the clouds up into thunder heads. A thunderstorm then results.

Waste and Extravagance

The main factors in producing the present conditions in commodity prices are in the last analysis, waste, extravagance and laziness. Such questions as scarcity of materials, high wages, transportation costs, profiteering, etc., are merely the results of these fundamental causes, says the Shoe and Leather Journal.

The tremendous war expenditures created obligations which have had to be met by large increases in the currency. In other words, there was not enough gold to meet the world situation and promises to pay had to be issued which put into circulation paper money far beyond the safe proportion recognized in times of peace.

The inevitable result has been that it now takes two dollars or more to buy what could be bought before for one. Then the wastage of products such as food, clothing, steel and other necessities of war, created a great shortage of supplies for ordinary use with consequently enhanced values.

With the apparent abundance of money and the high wages paid to munition workers came a reckless extravagance on the part of wage earners in this department, followed by demands of other workers to be put upon a footing of more or less equality. The shortage of labor caused by the transference of multitudes of workers from ordinary occupations to the production of war materials helped to make these demands successful.

High wages promoted reckless expenditure, with the result that production left natural channels to meet the increased demand for expensive and luxurious goods. Automobiles, high class apparel, costly furs, furniture and other expensive commodities were in demand by those who previously had been content with less showy requirements.

The result was to centre production in lines of the luxury class to the disadvantage of those that were intended to meet the ordinary demands of the country. It is the wild extravagance that has boosted wages and made the cost of ordinary commodities so high.

Taking the automobile business as an example, it is claimed that in the United States there is now a car to every three families of the population. This means that the frenzied activity in this line is robbing other industries of needed help and other trades of a patronage necessary to their proper existence.

The same tendency has militated against the production of ordinary shoes, furniture and foodstuffs. In spite of the great world need the farmer has been handicapped in his endeavor to produce sufficient to feed the population even in this continent.

One of the greatest evils the world is suffering from at this moment is the aversion of the ordinary producer to put punch into his work. In spite of the high pay, production is admittedly a third less than it was six years ago.

The remedy for present conditions lies not with governments or trade associations, but with the individual. Cut down extravagance, cut out waste, do a full day's work, whether on the farm, in the shop or in the office, and relief will come naturally and easily.

The raiders were busy again Friday night in Port Hope, and made a clean up of all the liquid refreshments at the Canadian Express office. The large window in the rear door of the building was pryed off but then the robbers were confronted with another heavy door with three bolts leading to the main office. In this door were two small panes of glass and one of these was removed. It was then an easy matter to remove the bolts and take possession of the office. One barrel of whiskey, of 25 gallons, valued at $160, two cases containing twenty-four quart bottles, and several vendor bottles were stolen. None of the other express parcels were molested. That the thieves were experts at the business, is shown by the fact that in the removal of both windows not a pane of glass was even cracked. The Express Company will use every means to locate the guilty ones.

The crop outlook throughout the county of Peterboro appears to forecast an excellent crop. The haying will begin this week and while some farmers have a light crop, on the whole they are satisfied. The grain looks better than it has in years they say, and few complaints have been heard from the growers. The rain Friday did a world of good and Saturday the farmers were very optimistic when they talked "crops."

The gardens are the pride and joy of the farmer's wife for everything is doing well. The potatoes are in bloom, and the bugs are back again in large numbers, but this is only a reminder that they will soon have new potatoes.

The hide and liver of mud sharks form the basis of a brand new industry in British Columbia to be manned by returned soldiers and aided by provincial government capital. The skins, when tanned, make up into a variety of choice leathers, and the huge shark livers are rich in heavy oil, which, when pressed out, brings a high price as a lubricant for heavy machinery. There are four or five skins to the shark; the outer makes leather for suit cases and heavy wear, the inner leather fancy goods and automobile trimming.

After almost thirty-five years service as a missionary, Miss Ellen M. Blakely left Marash also en route to the United States.

Miss Buckley was among the group of Near East Relief workers in one of the boy's orphanages in Marash when trouble began in the city late last January. It was in this building that more than three thousand terror-maddened Armenians sought safety during the fighting. The building was constantly under fire and its occupants always in danger.

When the ill-fated retreat from the city was begun by the French, Miss Buckley refused to abandon her work. She remained during the turbulent days that followed the capitulation to help carry out the American organization's relief programme.

At a meeting in Springbrook, a Civilian Rifle Club was organized with the following officers: Capt. John McKeown; secretary, Wm. McInroy; treasurer, Ernest Eastwood; committee, William Sules, Simon Matthews and W. A. Bateman. It is given out that any person between the ages of sixteen and sixty may join the club. A good range will be constructed in Rawden township, and prizes will be given by the association.

Dr. John C. Hibben, in his baccalaureate sermon at Princeton University traced modern evils back to a loss of respect for womanhood, introduced, he says, by the modern woman's excesses in dress and dance.

The Peterboro Employment Bureau has arranged with the Department of Immigration for the bringing out from the old country of farm and domestic help and have received word that two men are now sailing for Canada who desire work on farms. The Bureau is anxious to place these men. More are expected later. During the past week the Bureau has had 38 applications, 33 vacancies of which 27 were for unskilled labour, has placed 36 of which 7 were women, and has referred 43 to vacancies. There is a big demand for unskilled labour and the average is 50 cents per hour, which compares favourably with wages elsewhere for unskilled labour.

George Ireland who was born in Prince Edward Island 87 years ago, but who came when a boy with his father to the English settlement Smithfield, where he helped to help out a home for the family in the forest, was buried Friday. In 1858 he married Miss Eliza Miller, and settled on a farm in Brighton township. Mrs. Ireland died five years ago. Two of their children survive: Wilfred, on the homestead, and Arthur of the firm of Ireland & Purdy, Toronto. Mr. Ireland was a Methodist, and for some years a circuit rider, or local preacher, and many a time supplied a pulpit. He was a strong temperance man. For some years he has resided at Trenton, and the funeral took place from his son's residence thence to Carmen cemetery Brighton township.

The golden jubilee of the Hilton Methodist Church was held Sunday, the preacher being Capt. the Rev. Wm. G. Clarke of Trenton. Monday the special anniversary services were continued with a lawn social and entertainment.

The steamer Victor, purchased at Detroit, Mich., by officials of the Brockville-Morristown Transportation Co., for the ferry service, arrived at Morrystown after being delayed for two days at Oswego while necessary papers for operating the craft were secured to replace those destroyed when the steamer H.P. A Pill That is Prized—There have been many pills put upon the market and none upon public attention, but none has endured so long or met with so much favor as Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. Wide-spread use of them has attested their great value, and they need no further advertisement than this. Having firmly established themselves in public esteem, they now rank without a peer in the list of standard vegetable preparations.

CANADIAN INDUSTRIAL ALCOHOL COMPANY, FIRST IN THE FIELD

Great Distillery Corporation Turns From the Manufacture of Beverage Goods to Industrial Alcohol—Already Shipping to All Parts of the World—Alcohol for Power—Now Turning Out 20,000 Gallons a Day But Industry Still Only in Its Infancy.

Unknown and unnoticed by most of our citizens, a great industrial transformation has been taking place in their midst that will, we predict, mean great things for the development of the Belleville district and the commercial future of Canada.

For nearly three generations the Corby distillery, at Corbyville was engaged in the production of that which cheered and also, upon occasion, inebriated. Then along came the Great War and the Corby distillery left off the manufacture of whiskey to engage in the production of alcohol for use in the preparation of explosives.

No Whiskey Made at Corbyville For Several Years.

No return to the manufacture of the jag-processor has since taken place and it is the intention of the parties now in control that there shall not be any return.

The old Corby Distillery Company has gone into voluntary liquidation and will soon be no more. Its assets have been taken over by the Canadian Industrial Alcohol Company, which is practically the old Company under a new name.

Incidentally, it might be mentioned that the manufacture of the hard stuff is fast becoming a lost art in Canada. The great Gooderham and Worts plant at Toronto, where the famous "G & W" was created, is being scrapped. The J. P. Wiser and Sons distillery at Cornwall is closed and is now merely disposing of the residue of its stock. Seagrams at Waterloo is also closed as is also the St. Hyacinthe Distillery Co. St. Hyacinthe, Quebec.

The only distillery in Canada where beverage goods are now manufactured is at the plant of Hiram Walker and Sons at Walkerville. There manufacture is still going on though on a greatly reduced scale.

Nearly 600 Per Cent. Increase in Output.

Through the kindness of Mr. William Hume, distillery manager at Corbyville, a representative of The Ontario was shown through the great producing plant at Corbyville. It was easily one of the most interesting industrial processes we have witnessed but one that can be made intelligible to the reader in only its boldest outlines.

The development within the last six years has been enormous. Prior to the war the output of the whole plant at Corbyville was 2,500 gallons a day—a very satisfactory total. But since that time the production of alcoholic goods now reaches the wonderful total of 20,000 gallons or 100 tons every day.

The Process of Distillation

There are six varieties of alcohol, the most important being ethyl alcohol derived from grains, fruits or molasses and methyl alcohol, derived from wood.

Ethyl alcohol is obtained from sugar. Before alcohol can be manufactured from cereals, the starch in the grain must first be converted into sugar. Then the sugar is broken up by fermentation into alcohol and carbonic acid gas.

The discovery of the process of distillation is credited to Arabs and dates back over 700 years ago.

The fact that alcohol vaporizes at 180 degrees and water at 212 degrees is made use of to separate one from the other. By heating a retort containing a mixture of alcohol and water, to 180 degrees, or a little more, the alcohol is driven off in the form of vapor and then collected while the residue of water remains in the still.

Molasses Now Mostly Used.

West India, or black-strap molasses from Cuba is now the main dependence of the Canadian Industrial Alcohol Co. for its raw material. The high price of grain the past few months has left cereals out of the question as a basis for alcohol. The molasses is brought in large tank ships to New York and is then transferred to smaller boats and brought to Belleville via the Erie Canal and Lake Ontario. Or more frequently it is pumped into tank cars at New York and shipped via Grand Trunk ferry to Cobourg.

Three immense tanks receive the molasses upon arrival at the plant at Corbyville, and a fourth tank is now being erected. The molasses is then pumped into huge tubs within the distillery building and mixed with the proper proportion of water. The larger tubs contain several thousand gallons each.

Here a yeast is added and the interesting process of fermentation sets in. In about 48 hours fermentation has been completed and the liquid is then passed through the giant stills, sixty feet high where distillation takes place.

One of the most interesting sights is to watch the amber brown liquid in the great tubs or vats, ceaselessly boiling up from the bottom as though heated to a high temperature. As a matter of fact the violent agitation is produced solely by the growth of the yeast plant and the temperature is around 105 degrees.

A vapor of carbonic acid gas is continuously rising from the vats. As carbonic acid gas is now a valuable product for use in the manufacture of effervescent drinks, it is the purpose of the management at Corbyville to collect this carbon dioxide and thus add to the dividends.

Shipments Made to All Parts of the World.

The finished alcoholic product is run into metallic casks of about the same size as the old oaken barrels and is then ready for shipment. There are now 10,000 of the unfilled metal casks lying in the yards, to give some idea of the magnitude of the output. Shipments have been made in recent months to Europe, South Africa, Asia and in fact, to all parts of the commercial world. The cost of each metal cask, empty, is $21.50.

Canada to Take Care of Output.

But Mr. Hume confidently anticipates that Canada will in future take care of all the industrial alcohol that the Corbyville plant can turn out.

By an act passed at the session of the Dominion parliament just closed many hampering restrictions upon the manufacture and sale of industrial alcohol were removed. It will now be permitted, for instance, to use any corner grocery to sell denatured alcohol, if the proprietor so desires. The denaturing process is usually carried out merely by the addition of wood alcohol which makes it practically impossible to drink.

The word "alcohol" will be dropped entirely and the denatured alcohol must be sold under the name of methyl hydrate and labelled "poison."

No Competition in Canada.

The Corbyville company is the first and only organization in Canada to turn its attention to the manufacture of alcohol for industrial purposes, up to date it has been selling its product abroad in competition with the older established plants in the United States and elsewhere. In consideration of the greater transportation costs of the molasses here as compared with plants on the American side, the successful outcome is a fine tribute to the skill and business sagacity of the men behind it.

Corbyville.

A Market of Endless Possibilities. Alcohol is the most widely used of all chemical products in the processes of manufacture, with the single exception of sulphuric acid. The anti-freeze mixture for use in automobiles in winter is a new and rapidly extending purpose.

Alcohol is especially important in the manufacture of aniline dyes, varnishes, lacquers, chloroform, chloral, iodoforn, felt hats, inks, shoe polishes, paints, pastes, smoking and chewing tobacco, vinegar, water colors, rubber and rubber goods, shellacs, photographic print paper, chemicals, films and dry plates, moving picture films, jewelry and watches, explosives, ether, dental alloys, celluloid, barometer and thermometer tubes and in hundreds of other products and processes all too numerous to specify here.

Alcohol For Power.

But it is in regard to the possibilities of alcohol as a substitute for gasoline for power purposes that deepest interest is now being taken. Mr. Hume has reason for believing that there is a vast field for alcohol as a future source of power.

Alcohol produces power in the same way as gasoline, that is by successive explosions of minute quantities. But the explosion of alcohol is much more powerful than that of gasoline and engines are not fitted for the more powerful liquid. The favorite method in which to use alcohol to produce power is to form a mixture with a certain proportion of benzol and kerosene.

Another New Motor Fuel.

A dispatch from London tells of another new motor fuel in which alcohol is the principal ingredient. After a series of trials in motor boats, the British Admiralty has just made a confidential report on the far-reaching possibility of using a new motor fuel—"Natalle"—in naval vessels.

This substitute for gasoline, which has been used successfully three years in Natal, South Africa, the fuel manager of an automobile association said today, is a mixture of alcohol and ether and other things, and is made cheaply in South Africa, where there are large tracts of waste vegetation from which power alcohol can be extracted.

It is manufactured in some places as a by-product of the sugar industry.

Now Closed Down.

As is their annual custom, the Corbyville company has now discontinued manufacturing for the summer months. They will reopen in about ten weeks. This vacation permits of repairs that are not possible while the plant is in continuous operation.

About 200 hands have been employed the past season, operations having been continuous night and day.

Additions and Alterations. The immense, nine-storey bonded warehouses for the storage of whiskey, while maturing, are now no longer needed. One of these, however, will be remodelled so that it may be used as a mixing-room for methyl hydrate.

A fine new office building 40x30 feet is being constructed the present season. Also a commodious shipping-room 60x96 feet.

The Men Behind.

The men of enterprise, behind the Canadian Industrial Alcohol Company, who have caught the vision of tremendous possibilities in the future demand for alcohol, are: Sir Mortimer B. Davis, President; J. R. Orton, Vice-President; W. R. Rainer, Treasurer; F. C. Brofee, Secretary.

The above gentlemen are resident in Montreal.

The manager at Corbyville, as previously stated, is Mr. William Hume. Mr. Hume has risen from the ranks and received his fully-merited promotions because of his business acumen, skill in management and thorough knowledge of the multifarious duties and processes.

The Chief Chemist at Corbyville is Mr. Geo. W. Appel, a thorough student and investigator, enthusiastically devoted to his work.

Mr. J. W. Lille is mechanical superintendent and one of the busiest men in the country, as well as one of the most capable in his department.

The Corbyville Distillery in its new development and enterprise represents possibilities of which we scarcely dare to dream. It is now a pretty lusty infant, but looking to the future it would seem that the present plant is no more than an infant when compared with the greater growth that seems bound to come. The Corbyville people are the first in the field and priority here means conquest of markets.

Talk of the Town And of the Country

NO APPEALS TO JUDGE

The time has expired for appeals from the court of revision on the 1920 assessment to the county judge. The council can now pass their estimates and make the levy. The city clerk has requested the Board of Education to prepare its estimates as soon as possible.

LITTLE GIRL BROKE LEG.

Elizabeth Lewis, young daughter of Mr. Thomas Lewis, Bridge St. East, had the misfortune to fracture her left leg just above the ankle on Monday evening at Presau's Ice Point where the family is spending the vacation. The fracture was reduced.

WORK ON CITY HALL TOWER.

James Lardie and Earl Collins have been working on four hour shifts painting the City Hall tower. Mr. Lardie worked for Mr. H. Collins, who has the painting contract, twelve years ago at house painting and was brought here from Hamilton in tower work. The work was halted today owing to the rain.

PROTEST HEARD TONIGHT.

Mr. Ed. A. Thomas, who umpired the bases at Peterborough in the Belleville-Peterborough game last Thursday and Col. E. D. O'Flynn are going to Cobourg this evening to the hearing of Belleville's protest against interference with the game by a Peterborough crowd nabbing Thomas. Col. O'Flynn represents the G.T.R. team.

TABERNACLE EXCURSION.

The Tabernacle Methodist Sunday School's choice of a day for their excursion was not a very favorable one. In spite of rain showers about one hundred and fifty people took in the first trip this morning to Twelve O'Clock Point.

FIELD DAY POSTPONED.

Owing to the continuous rain the committee in charge of the Independent Order of Foresters' Field Day were compelled to postpone the celebration to a later date. Announcement will be made in the papers of the new date in a day or two. Supreme Field Secretary Abley came from Toronto to attend but returned by the next train.

CHARGED WITH ABDUCTION.

J. H. Dean aged 24 years, arrested at Gananoque and brought to Belleville by P. C. Trueshot was remanded this morning for a week until July 14th. He faces a serious charge of abduction of a girl named Deborah Viola Lawrence. The case comes from Caniflon.

REMANDED A WEEK.

In police court this morning Oscar Spafford was again remanded for a week on a charge of theft.

INSPECTORS HERE TOMORROW.

The Belleville Board of Health expects that the Provincial Engineers will be here tomorrow to go into the question of the alleged contamination of the Moira River. The officials could not get here yesterday.

DESTROYING FLOWER BEDS.

Serious complaints are being made of the depredations to the new flower beds that were planted in the grounds around the C.N. Station, not only are the blooms being parieted as soon as they appear, but plants have been torn up and trampled. If those who are guilty of this mischief will not be warned, nothing remains but to make an example of them in police court.

DISTURBED SUMMER SCHOOL.

The police had a call last evening to Albert College where, it was said, some boys were disturbing the Summer School. The officer that responded found the disturbers had left.

KILLED BY FALL FROM BUGGY.

When he was thrown out of his buggy at Tanworth on Tuesday last by his horse taking fright at a person passing with an upraised umbrella, Hiram McKim, Kingston, received injuries which proved fatal a short time after being removed from the side of the road. Deceased had a coat thrown over his head to protect him from a heavy rain which was falling at the time.

GIVEN TERM FOR ESCAPING.

Eugene Gilmour, of Picton, has been sentenced by Police Magistrate Williams to eighteen months in the Ontario Reformatory, having been convicted of two charges. One was the robbery of Malcolm Danard after persuading him to accompany him to a home in Sophiasburg for over night. The other charge was escaping from Picton jail, later being recaptured. He was sentenced to a like period for both offences to run concurrently.

PAINFULLY INJURED.

Last Thursday, Arthur Hopper, who drives a four-horse team for the Fembroke Lumber Company, received injuries by a kick from a horse which for a time it was feared would prove fatal. He was hitching the horse and was reaching over the tongue of the wagon when one of the animals kicked him on the right side of the face. The bone was fractured in two places, above the eye and below the eye, while he was thrown with such force against the load that three ribs were broken and other minor injuries inflicted.

BIG AIR SHIPMENT.

The first big cargo of merchandise to be carried a long distance will shortly pass Belleville when a test shipment will be made by the Bishop-Barker company from New York to Toronto. The load is estimated at 900 pounds and will be brought to Toronto by way of the Hudson River, along Lake Champlain to Montreal and along the St. Lawrence past Belleville to Toronto.

VICTORY AND FELLOWSHIP.

Bright Addresses at Summer School Last Evening.

Soon after supper last evening the delegates at the Summer School at Albert College, gathered on the lawn for "Twilight Talks" from Rev. C. S. Reddick, B. A., of Janerville, formerly of West Huntingdon. Following the introductory talk on "Defeat" came one on "Victory." Christians sometimes imagine they are wronged, especially when they are tired. Failures seem to come more frequently to the high-strung nervous temperament.

Freedom.

We should remember that freedom from susceptibility or possibility of wrong would also mean being free from resenting injustices.

Victory, then, is not to be sought by destruction of our nature. The heart of the message of God's Word is that victory comes through the introduction of a new life principle. By that we become masters and control ourselves. That transcendent life must be the life Jesus lives now, it must be Jesus Himself.

Failures.

Victory comes in recognizing we are failures. We must hand our lives over to Jesus Christ with all its susceptibility to weakness. "Some Christians let Jesus Christ into the throne room but not upon the throne," says Dr. McNeil. We should take Jesus by the hand and put him on the throne of our heart.

Evening Meeting.

There was a large attendance at the evening meeting when Rev. W. Elliott occupied the chair.

Capt. Rev. H. B. Kehny gave a very inspiring address on "Fellowship," which sparked with wit and wisdom. Coming to Albert recalled previous memories. He looked for the old pump but found it not. The boys and girls used to meet there and those were refreshing moments.

Fellowship.

Those deprived of fellowship with others in the sparsely settled parts of the land sometimes go insane. Hermits and wild men keep away from society, but almost invariably they become degraded. There may be lack of fellowship in a crowd—a sense of loneliness.

Not Simply Words.

Fellowship cannot be narrowed to merely verbal communications. Tenyson and Carlyle used to spend much time together, neither saying much but on parting would say: "Haven't we had a splendid time." There was communion of mind with mind, the leaping forth of thought.

Fellowship means sharing mental and moral as well as temporal values. The speaker believes there never was a time when the milk of human kindness flowed as today. The time will come when the nations of the world will unite for the common good.

Art.

In art men share what they have seen. If we see anything beautiful we call others to see. There are some great pictures to which the artists have not put their names as they desired others to see the beautiful without knowing who had painted the pictures. John Morley saw what the artist saw in the picture of the Virgin and the child Jesus. A poorly clad woman standing beside him exclaimed: "Who wouldn't be good if she had a boy like that."

The artists' idea of architecture makes us feel like worshipping God in the sanctuary. The supreme desire of great writers is that their thought may be shared by others.

Heart of Jesus.

The heart of Jesus yearned for fellowship. He loved the house at Bethany. "Having loved his own, he loved them to the end," and these people were not perfect.

Some of the disciples wanted to stay on the Mount of Transfiguration, but Jesus said No. There was need of them at the base of the mountain. Whenever there is human need we should give ourselves. Look up the people who come to your community and give them good cheer.

On the cross Jesus died of a broken heart. Jesus still wants us to sympathize with him and to extend His Kingdom.

He loves us in spite of our foolishness and failures. There was no upbraiding of disciples when he left them. "My peace I give unto you."

The Cross and the Grave did not change Jesus. He still sympathizes as He did with those whom He met by the wayside. He shared his power with others and we need a greater sense of responsibility.

And in Heaven the decisive thing will be fellowship. To be with Jesus will be fellowship.

Doesn't Come Unmasked.

No wealth of art or literature enters the mind, masked or stays unmasked. The youth who says: "I don't want fellowship with art or Christ" might as well be a Hottentot in the darkness of Africa. He shuts himself away from the great things.

Christ breaks the bread into your hand that you may pass it on to others.

HOW TO OVERCOME NERVOUS TROUBLES

A Returned Soldier Tells How He Regained Health and Strength

Nervous troubles of all kinds, particularly nervous debility, work a remarkable transformation in the patient. The change is both physical and mental.

The cause of this debility is generally starved nerves. The blood, which gives the nervous system its food and power to work efficiently, has become thin and weak, and until the blood regains its tone and strength there can be no improvement in the condition of the nerves.

Friendship A study of contrasts is the jealousy and hatred of King Saul for David, and the noble friendship of Saul's son, Jonathan, for David, for their hearts were knit together.

An Exile Saul hunted David so he became an exile. But David saved Saul's life during this period, and the king repented for a time, only to break out in fury again.

Jerusalem Later he was made king of all Israel, and Jerusalem became the centre of worship. He showed his kindness toward the sons of Saul, and the son of Jonathan became one of his chief guests.

Sins and Sorrows One of the Sunday School lessons shows us the sins and sorrows of David, for he sinned and his sin found him out.

She Found Relief For Her Backache

MRS. M. LAFONT TELLS OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Sends a Message of Cheer to the Thousands of Canadian Women Who Carry a Load of Pain and Weariness Through Their Daily Work.

Pro. Ste. Marie, Sask., July 5. (Special).—"I have used three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and one of Diamond Dinner Pills for backache.

"They cured me." This short message that goes direct to the point, comes from Mrs. M. Lafont, a well-known and highly-respected resident here. It must bring cheer to that great army of Canadian women who daily go about their household duties weighed down by that curse of womanhood, dreary dragging pain in the back.

The relief that Mrs. Lafont found had come to thousands of other Canadian women through the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. That shows that the ache is caused by the kidneys. For Dodd's Kidney Pills are purely and simply a kidney remedy. For more than a quarter of a century Dodd's Kidney Pills have been a household remedy in thousands of Canadian homes. They have earned their place in the family medicine chest by the good work they have done. Ask your neighbors about Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Presentation and Address

Purse of $100 Presented to Rev. F. H. and Mrs. Howard by Their Stirling and Carmel Friends

GLEN ROSS, July 5.—The annual picnic of Carmel Sunday School, accompanied and assisted by several other schools on Anderson's Island Dominion Day was a positive success in every degree of the day's proceeding. Stirling Methodist Church people came out in a body along with those from other churches. There were also a great many present from Mt. Pleasant, Wellman's and other places. Among those from Belleville were Mr. and Mrs. F. Vandervoort and Mr. and Mrs. A. Carlisle.

One of the most pleasing features of the day was the fact that about 3.30 p.m. the crowd was called together with the pastor, Rev. F. H. and Mrs. Howard as the centre of attraction, while Dr. C. F. Walt endeavored to and succeeded in giving a very appropriate and appreciative impromptu address, expressing the true sentiment of the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Howard, both at Stirling and Carmel, nor did he forget to mention the faithful, earnest self-sacrificing spirit shown by both of them during their sojourn with us.

He also referred, especially to the great zeal and enthusiasm with which Mr. Howard worked for the success of the National Campaign, as was proven by the fact that Stirling Circuit was the winner of both the $500. prizes awarded. In conclusion the Doctor expressed a wish that the pastor and his family might find as loyal friends where they were going and his work be crowned with success.

A purse of $100.00 was then presented to them by Mrs. A. W. Green as a remembrance of the many friends appreciating the uplifting influence of their teaching and example for it was not all in what they said as in the way they lived.

Mr. Howard in replying for himself and wife expressed with some show of feeling their deep gratitude to the people, both for the purse of money and their kindness to them, making mention that while the money would have its place in value, he valued most highly the attitude of the people to himself and family. He also stated that while endeavoring to do his best for the Master and the people, he had been duly rewarded by the fast friendships formed which he believed would never be broken or forgotten.

Mr. Howard preached to us on Sunday his farewell sermon from Isaiah, 48:10: "Ye are My Witnesses, Saith the Lord." He also announced that all being well the new pastor, Rev. Archer, would occupy the pulpit next week.

Miss Myrtle Weaver from Trent Bridge, is home for the holidays.

Mrs. J. B. Weaver was taken suddenly ill on Sunday and Mrs. Bissonette and Potts were called in. After suffering great agony with her stomach for a few hours with her stomach relieved and is now reported recovering slowly.

July 12-24.

Final arrangements are being made for the boys' camp which opens on Monday next, July 13th. Every boy planning to go must appear now, don't leave it until the last minute, you will be sure to forget some article that you will need when you get to camp. Here are some of the things that you will need; be sure to check up on them before the end of the week: two heavy blankets, pillow, sweater, shirt and trousers, khaki or scout suit, comb, soap and towel, pyjamas, extra pair of socks, rain coat, knife, fork and spoon, plate, cup and saucer, fishing tackle. A soldier's mess tin would be better than a cup and saucer. If you are unable to get a mess tin, get a tin plate and cup or something that is not breakable. The scout's motto is: "Be prepared," so be sure and check up on your camp kit before Saturday.

Mr. Robinson Claims Unfair Treatment

Editor Ontario:
I crave your indulgence for the purpose of granting me the privilege of making a few remarks on some statements made by Mr. Bice in reference to my last letter on Spiritualism. Considering your editorial note which was appended to Mr. Bice's last letter I would not ask for the privilege of trespassing on your valuable space were it not for the fact that my opponent has in two or three instances placed me in false positions. I neither ask nor expect any favors from my opponent, but I do ask and expect fair play instead of unjust treatment.

My opponent intimates that my articles have been devoted to "discussing everything except the matter before us." This is wholly untrue as could be readily seen by any intelligent reader of my letters, and I am willing to leave this matter to the judgment of that class of readers.

My opponent also says that "Mr. Robinson now claims that Luke 23: 43 is changed in the Revised Version." In reply to this I must truthfully say that no such statement is to be found in my letter. The only reference I made to the R. V. was to Acts 20: 26, where it reads: "I testify unto you this day," and Deut. 30: 18 "I denounce unto you this day." I referred to these two passages to show that there was nothing incongruous in my claim that "Verily I say unto thee today (or this day), thou shalt be with me in Paradise." Or, as it is found in Rotherham's Testament, "Verily I say unto thee this day: With me shalt thou be in Paradise." In many passages the translators do not all arrange the words in exactly the same order nor use the same English words as equivalents of the Greek or Hebrew as the case may be. This, of course is well known by a great many, but Mr. Bice paid no attention to my references to Deut. 30: 18 and Acts 20: 26 R. V. My opponent preferred to lead your readers on into a false scent by putting this question: "Why should Jesus say to the thief this day, thus emphasizing the time of the saying instead of the time they should meet in Paradise? The above two passages were referred to for the very purpose of showing that the position of "this day" in Rotherham's Emphasized N. T. was not an isolated case and was not inconsistent with at least two other passages in the Bible, and in fact I may add that we occasionally hear this form of expression in common conversation today. If Mr. Bice had given my whole argument here I would have no reason to complain of unfairness in them.

After throwing some dirt at Prof. Jas. Moffatt, D. D., Professor of New Testament Greek and exegesis, Mansfield College, Oxford, on account of his treatment of 1st Peter 3: 18, wherein this passage is claimed to be an interpolation quoted from an apocryphal book (Enoch) Mr. Bice tries to place me in another false position as follows:

"Mr. Robinson challenges me to name the text where it is said Christ preached to the spirits in prison." My answer to this is that I made no such challenge. Mr. Bice in his letter (Jesus) descended into hell—the text of May 17 "did say that He grave—and during the three days preached to those in the same place, so says the text. He (Jesus) must have had a very dumb audience to preach to if Mr. Robinson's statement that the dead know not anything is true."

Now my challenge was for Mr. Bice to quote the "text" which says that Jesus preached to those in hell or in the grave, as Mr. Bice interprets it, which is not what is stated in 1 Peter. Again Mr. Robinson did not state "that the dead know not anything." The Bible makes this statement, not Mr. Robinson. At his opponent Mr. Bice's last shot, before turning his back to the Bible and quoting from science, is this: "The rest of my friend's article pertains to a discussion of the condition of the wicked in the next world and is not germane to the subject before us, hence we pass it by." This is just one more misrepresentation, for there is no "discussion of the condition of the wicked," to be found in my letter, referred to. I merely called attention to the fact that in the passage where the spirit is said to return to God who gave it no reservation is made in the case of the ungodly, this I did to show that "spirit" here could not mean an immortal entirely. In this sense the spirit (breath) of all mankind returns to God who gave it. I did not discuss the condition of the wicked at all.

Yours for Truth and Fair Play,
A. ROBINSON.

Where Union Counted and Brought Success

Sunday Schools of Ameliasburgh Township Held Most Successful Picnic.

If ever people enjoyed themselves near home and cheaply, it was at the monster union picnic of the Sunday schools of Ameliasburgh township held in the fine hickory grove belonging to W. H. Redner, of Rednersville on Thursday, July 1st.

The day was delightful and over a thousand people gathered, representing nearly all the fourteen schools very well while numbers of people were present from Belleville and other points also.

The grocery stands were managed by the two merchants of the village, Messrs. Thompson and Gilmour and were so well patronized that nearly fifty dollars were reported as net gain in part compensation for the prizes for the fine list of sports.

Immediately following a bountiful dinner the popular Rednersville band marched in from the hall and introduced a splendid programme over which Mr. C. Wannamaker, the efficient T. P. S. S. President, acted as Chairman. Hon. Nelson Parliament, M.P.P., gave a brief but excellent address emphasizing the importance of the individual life as a community asset and declaring that the Sunday schools are and should be the best means of developing these assets.

Mr. C. W. Burr, County S. S. Pres., in his usual interesting manner, gave an encouraging vision of the county and township S.S. opportunity, and Rev. A. Foster of West Belleville church held the great audience with the charming story of Enoch Arden, drawing the moral of the beauty of strong sacrificing manhood and urging that this spirit be more manifest in S.S. work in our day and through us. The band gave several interspersions of music and Miss Grant of London and Mrs. E. Alyea, of Coneseon Circuit gave each a well chosen number in elocution.

The list of sports included a baseball game and about fifteen races for little folk ten years and under for which prizes were given at the booths. Rope walking contests, married couples and young couple's races, back-to-back and free-for-all races, preacher's race, superintendent's race, Sunday School Teachers' and public school teachers' races, old men's, fat men's, fat women's races and other common contests filled up about three hours, with Rev. Mr. Foster as judge and Mr. D. T. Stafford as starter.

The special prizes for those who secured most ribbons were won by Mr. Ross Robb, of Rednersville and Master Morris Beckwith of Massasaga and the silver cup for the Sunday school holding most ribbons came to Rednersville upon the following schedule: Rednersville 26; Rossmore 23, Massasaga 12, Victoria, 9, Centre, 6, Lake, 5, Salem, 5, and six other schools less than above.

QUINTE SCHOOL OPENS; ALBERT THROGGED

Yesterday by every train and by automobile came young people from the Bay of Quinte Conference to the Summer School at Albert College.

There was one of the largest registrations for the first day in the history of the School. Many who came in the afternoon entered the arena of sports and good fellowship was in evidence. In the evening the College chapel was nearly filled with delegates and visitors, the Rev. W. P. Rogers, B. A., Ex-President, Bay of Quinte Conference in the chair.

Preceding this a brief "Life Talk" was given on the lawn by the Rev. C. S. Reddick, B. A., Janerville, who spoke on "Defeats."

Two Phases

There are two phases of Christian experience getting right with God and keeping Right with God. The first is a fact, the second a life. Many have no reason to doubt the fact of getting right with God, yet are not happy often because of defeats. They have become fretful because of circumstances and wish they could learn to be content with circumstances.

Other People

Some become impatient with those who love them and whom they love, or it may be with themselves and become discouraged. They perhaps make resolutions and break them and give way to anger. Some grow spiritually apathetic and no longer love to read the Bible or pray, although at one time they delighted in these. Why these defeats? Is there not something better for us?

This will be the subject for Tuesday evening's Life Talk. At the evening meeting the Rev. S. A. Kemp, President of the school, struck the key note. His theme was "Jacob Alone at Jabbok."

Alone With God

We may be alone in a crowd. Jacob had said his family across the brook and as night darkened was conscious of loneliness and also that the Face of the Past was looking into his soul. Some would have pretended not to see the Face, but Jacob treated serious things in a serious way and questioned what they meant. So as he looked into the Face he heard a voice accusing: You robbed your brother, you broke your mother's heart. The facts were against him.

All Night Fight

A man may have a struggle to be honest with himself and God. Jacob was ready to face the fact and so was soon on his knees confessing. The man who appears to lose is a winner. The result of the struggle was a change of name. Jacob became Israel who had power with God and with men.

Peter's name was changed from Simon to Peter because he used the

with his sons.

Mrs. John McKenzie and Mrs. L. Watson, of town, have been spending the last two weeks with their niece, Mrs. J. E. Cleak, of Windsor. Mr. Ira Foster, of Bancroft, has disposed of his residence and ice cream parlor to Mr. Allan Smith, of Madoc, now engaged in the Belleville Creamery.

Mrs. Angus McKenzie has been in Lansdowne a few days attending the funeral of her sister, Mrs. D. G. Copeland, who died suddenly on June 18th, her husband having died suddenly ten weeks previous.—Review.

About People

Every reader of The Ontario is invited to contribute to this column and assist in making it bright and interesting. If you are going away on a visit or have guests at your home send or telephone particulars to editorial rooms of The Ontario.

Mr. Joseph Babcock has returned home from Flint, Michigan, where he has been for some time.

Mr. William Reddington, of Rochester, N.Y., is visiting at his sister's, Mrs. H. W. Barragar, 60 Octavia street.

Mrs. H. F. Mitchell and son Percy Mitchell, Foster Ave., and the Misses Stratton, George St., motored to second chance given him. He had fallen in courage and fidelity, but had repented. Jacob repented and arose a new man, full of tenderness and willing to tell his brother, Esau, he had wronged him.

The Rev. Wm. Higgs, Madoc, followed with an address on "Glorious in the Cross." Mr. Higgs has long been associated with the school in various capacities but said this was the first time he had made a set address at it.

Some Pictures

As we look on the picture of Wellington and Blucher meeting we think of the struggle behind it. As we see Nelson, the centre of a sea-fight we think of the motto "England expects each man this day to do his duty." There is another picture sketched not in colors but in words: "God forbid that I should glory save in the Cross of our Lord, Jesus Christ."

Some glory in money, rise early, work late to gain it. Some haven't amassed wealth but they have tried to with passion.

Others sacrifice pleasure and health to get education; others, political power. Everything must bend and fit in to the one purpose.

The Cross

Is there any real connection between the Cross of Calvary and the Crosses in Flanders? Deep down in our hearts, we feel there is. The cross is the symbol of sacrifice and of service that leads to death to achieve the purpose. There is no more fitting symbol of the Christian religion than the cross.

The old standards and flags are kept sacredly in the cathedrals of England because they remind of great struggles and victories.

The cross reminded Paul of great battles and sufferings yet he gloried in it because he appreciated the power of wealth, education, citizenship, yet he made the religion of Jesus Christ the great purpose and passion of his life.

Poor Prospects for Fruit Crop in Durham County

Several Large Orchards Visited—Frooest Apple Crop in Years—Labor Problem Causes Anxiety.

Last week it was our privilege, says the Oshawa Telegram, to visit West Durham, possibly the most famous apple district of Canada.

Our first visit was to the farm of Mr. W. A. Gibson. He has about 100 acres of apple orchards and 10 acres of pears and cherries.

Mr. Gibson said fruit crop near lake was very poor, but farther back it was very good. The crops are also very backward because of the lack of rain.

The apple growers of the district are seriously handicapped this year owing to the shortage of barrels in which to ship their fruit.

Next to the container problem, the big difficulty is picking and packing the fruit. The young men are all gone to the factories and Mr. Gibson could count fifty young men formerly employed as pickers, that are now in the cities.

Visiting the farm of Mr. W. E. Beeman, we were greeted by the old gentleman, Mr. E. C. Beeman, whom we found on the verandah enjoying the fresh lake breeze.

Mr. C. R. Lovelins, of the neighboring farm, was busy with the fanning mill, but we had an interesting talk just the same.

Professor Caesar, entomologist, of Guelph, visited the district on Friday and found the "green bug" in some of the orchards.

For Your Husband

"My wife always buys me Deacon Shirts," said a farmer the other day. They are both well satisfied. The farmer is sure of a good fit, with plenty of room for arm freedom.

The wife is proud of the neat appearance and the freedom from mending and patching, and the eternal sewing on of buttons. The wear is there.

Cupid had 29 victories to his credit in the city of Peterboro this month. Last year, only 18 marriage ceremonies were performed so June is keeping up its reputation as the month of weddings.

45 baby boys and girls were ushered into the big world by the stork in June, while last June, 33 answered the muster roll, 19 deaths in the past month occurred or 3 more in June 1919.

Building permits issued at the Kingston city engineer's office during June, were valued at $139,770. For the same month last year the permits were $72,770.

For six months to the end of June, 1920, $414,735. For the same period last year, $339,859.

Permits have been issued for thirty-five dwelling houses for the half-year.

After a barn belonging to a farmer named Abrams, residing near Summerstown station, had been burned last week, Abrams found bones in the ruins which aroused suspicion.

He gathered them in a bag and took them to Dr. Hamilton, coroner, Cornwall, who pronounced them to be human. The suspicion is that a tramp took shelter in the building and fell asleep while smoking.

Another party of girls from England and Scotland arrived in Guelph Thursday morning for the Guelph Worsted Spinning and Carpet Mills. There were 18 in the party and they were met at Quebec by Mr. E. Clough of the Spinning Mills. They are a fine looking lot of girls and are well skilled in their work.

While operating a pump at the summer residence of D. W. Ogilvie, Prescott road, Brockville, Wednesday morning, Charles Jackson had his right hand caught with the result that a portion of the index finger was amputated. The injury was dressed by Dr. W. Fred Jackson.

With the top of his car so badly damaged that it had to be replaced, and one fender badly bent when his car rolled over into the ditch five miles east of Oshawa on the Kingston Road recently, Mr. Louie Yeates of Peterboro, was compelled to spend the night in Oshawa.

Meeting a car, Mr. Yeates turned out to give it room to pass his McLaughlin, and was then unable to regain the road, owing to Toronto. The accident occurred about 2 o'clock in the afternoon and the next day at noon Mr. Yeates got his car, all repaired. Louie is one of the greatest baseball sports in Peterboro and is manager of one of the teams in the City Baseball League.

James Moore Hickson, Church of England layman, who has been on a tour of North America in connection with his "healing mission," conducted his last service on this continent on Wednesday at the Church of St. Alban the Martyr, Ottawa. The church was again crowded to capacity and hundreds were turned away, unable to gain admission. Mr. Hickson leaves Ottawa en route for England.

An experienced baker and one who has had considerable executive experience, Mr. R. Fraser, an Oshawa boy, has been appointed manager of the Oshawa branch of the Nut-Krust Bakesies System. Mr. Fraser before the war was a baker for Mr. Tod, and when in England with the Army was in charge of the Tobacco and Supplies Department which did about $12,000 business a week.

The patients at Rockwood hospital, Kingston, enjoyed a strawberry festival Tuesday afternoon on the beautiful lawn and amongst the groves.

Only thirty patients out of the 570 inmates were unable to attend the festival outside, and these were amply provided for in their dormitories. Many visitors and friends of patients were also in attendance. Col. the Rev. A. Gordon took an active interest in the proceedings. Father Casey was also present, meeting with the patients.

The W. J. Carier, owned by the Ogdensburg Coal & Towing Co., went aground on Pond shoals, four miles west of Oswego, N. Y., during a heavy fog at 3.30 o'clock Wednesday morning. The boat was light and on her way from Brockville to Oswego to load coal. At 10 o'clock the same morning the Carier, under the command of Capt. James Martin, was released by the steamer Isabella H., and proceeded to Oswego under her own steam. It is thought the vessel's shoe may be damaged.

The masons in the city of Kingston Friday morning went out on strike. The old agreement between the employers and the masons in the building trades came to a close on the first of July, according to the masons, and Friday morning they demanded $1 per hour for an eight-hour day, but it was refused by the employers. As a result the masons quit work until a settlement is made and forty-five men are out of work for the time being.

Mr. Wallace, who is erecting the Robert Meek school on Bagot street, is the heaviest loser over the strike as the erection of the school is under contract. Pigot and Healy is another firm which will be slightly affected but not as much as Mr. Wallace.

Henry Fuller, about 40 years of age, an inmate of the Ontario Hospital at Whitby, was drowned in Lake Ontario sometime on Saturday night, 19th, and his dead body was found on the shore on Monday morning. Fuller wandered away from the institution about 7.30 p.m. on Saturday, and as soon as his absence was noticed a search was instituted. He could not be found, however, and it was not until about 8 o'clock on Monday morning that another inmate discovered the body lying on the beach, where it had been washed ashore, a short distance from Wm. Hills' fishing camp. Coroner Dr. C. F. McGilvray of Whitby, empanelled a jury on Monday evening, where the evidence of several witnesses was taken. The jury was composed of Wm. Maw, foreman; Thos. Conlin, R. S. Vickery, James Gray, John Gimblet, B. Bryan, Geo. A. Huntley, F. R. Graham. The jury's verdict cleared the attendants and staff from any blame in the matter. Fuller was from Toronto, and had been at Whitby since January last.

The undercarriage which Harry Hawker dropped from his airplane when he took flight from St. Johns, Nfld., a year ago, on his pioneer attempt to cross the Atlantic without stop, has been recovered, and presented to the Public Museum for keeping with other exhibits associated with the colony's history. The gift was made by W. B. Grievie, M. D. C., who purchased the carriage after fishermen had picked it up off Cape St. Mary's, 200 miles southwest from the point where it was dropped into the sea. When Hawker set out on his trans-oceanic attempt on May 15, 1919, he flew over the airframe of Frederic P. Rayham, almost on the edge of the coast. Within sight of his rival, who was standing by his plane unable to take off because of an adverse wind, Hawker cut loose his undercarriage as a gag to contest for the honors of the air, and to lighten his load; then winged away seaward with Ireland as his object. Rayham, accepting the challenge, sought to start notwithstanding the unfavorable conditions, but he was unable to leave the ground and his machine was wrecked. He was injured, and his navigator, Major C. W. Morgan, almost killed. Hawker, it will be recalled, flew 1,100 miles before engine trouble brought him down. The undercarriage was actively sought by Hawker's agents and by others as a souvenir, but search of the coast and nearby waters, long continued, failed to disclose the wheels and their mount. Fishermen recently picked up the carriage off the coast, southwest of Cape Race, and brought it into Presque, where they disposed of it for a nominal sum.

Prince Edward Has Beneficial Downpour

Pictou, July 2.—Prince Edward was soaked with a drenching rain this afternoon that has helped crops materially. The force of the downpour, however, was great enough in some sections to beat down tomato plants already in blossom. Strawberries are too nearly over to be hurt much. This crop has been most generous here, with prices averaging around 17 cents. Scarcity of boxes has made handling of the fruit difficult.

Mr. A. Wims of Montreal, is in the city.

VISITING CHEMISTS TOURED HASTINGS

Enjoyed Program Arranged By Belleville Committee—Interest Shown in Mining in Hastings County—Some Leading Chemists From U. S.

A short visit of twenty-four hours in Belleville and Hastings, but packed with pleasure and interest was that paid by the American Institute of Chemical Engineers. They came here on their annual outing in connection with the convention at the request of Capt. Lucius E. Allen, C. E., who was given every assistance by the municipal, financial and social leaders of the city and county. It was unique that their visit to Belleville and Hastings fell on Dominion Day when the visitors could see the Canadian patriot at his best. It provided an occasion for mutual understanding and the birthdays of Uncle Sam and of Canada are only a few days apart.

The members of the Institute left New York City last Saturday at six o'clock—a happy party of chemical engineers, many of them accompanied by their wives and daughters. They voyaged by the night boat Berkshire to Albany, N. Y. Steamer trips were made on Lake George and Lake Champlain. On Monday the business was held at Montreal. On Tuesday the party were the guests of the City of Ottawa, where they visited the Parliament Buildings and the Bureau of Mines.

It was eleven o'clock on Wednesday night when the special arrived at the Canadian National depot with the visitors. Alderman R. D. Ponton met the train as acting mayor and extended a welcome on behalf of the corporation. He was accompanied by members of the reception committee. The G. W. V. A. band was present and played patriotic airs. Many of the guests kept their berths on the train but about fifty went to the Hotel Quinte.

Among the leading chemists in the party were:

- President—David Wesson, Montclair, N. J.
- Vice-Presidents—Henry Howard, Boston, Mass.; A. W. Smith, Cleveland, Ohio; Hugh N. Moore, Berlin, N. H.
- Secretary—John C. Olsen, Brooklyn, N. Y.
- Treasurer—F. W. Frerichs, St. Louis, Mo.
- Auditor—Chas. F. McKenna, New York.

Ex-Presidents of the Council—G. W. Thompson, Brooklyn, N. Y.; A. B. Little, Cambridge, Mass.

Directors—A. F. DeBeers, Chicago Ill.; A. C. LaGruir, Brooklyn, N. Y.; J. V. N. Dorr, New York, N. Y.; Herbert Dow, Midland, Mich.; A. A. L. Vellion, St. Louis, Mo.; C. T. Bragg, Detroit, Mich.; H. S. Miner, Gloucester City, N. J.; C. L. Reese, Wilmington, Del.

Mr. Lucius Allen, chairman of the Reception Committee, had met the party and accompanied them to Belleville.

Dominion Day Dawns.

The visitors awoke bright and early and found the weather ideal for their outing. Parties toured the city early, but it was nine-thirty before the proceedings began. Then about forty automobiles drew up at the Hotel Quinte to take the gentlemen of the party for a tour of the district. A photograph of the guests was taken in front of the Quinte before they started on their tour. The automobile cavalcade was the largest ever seen in Belleville. Touring Victoria Park and East Belleville the chemists were then sped along by their Belleville hosts along the country roads to Stirling, Mar-mora and Deloro.

As soon as the men's party had left Mr. J. A. Higgs set in motion an automobile tour for the ladies which took in the city and east and west of it along the shores of the Bay of Quinte. At noon Mrs. L. E. Allen entertained the ladies at luncheon at the Hotel Quinte. In the afternoon tours to Picton and Wellington were made.

Arrival at Deloro

The chemists enjoyed the motor outing very much. The country was new to them and their eyes were opened to the importance of Hastings as a mining centre. Shortly after eleven o'clock, after a most enjoyable trip the party reached Deloro, the home of the Deloro Smelting and Refining Co., where Cobalt ores are treated, such as Cobalt and Arsenic. The processes were exemplified as was the manufacture of stellite metal in electric furnaces. Mr. S. B. Wright, manager of the works was and in the pulp and paper mills, where Dorr thickeners are in daily use, either for the thickening of cyanide sludge or in the collecting of pulp in the process of making paper. Mr. Arthur D. Little, one of the ex-presidents, needs no introduction to Canada, for he was associated during many years with the development of Canada's natural resources under the direction of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Mr. T. B. Wagner, is the father of "mazels" and of many other corn products. Mr. Herbert Dow is an old Belleville boy, who went to Michigan years ago and is now president of the Dow Chemical Works, of Midland, Michigan. Mr. H. S. Milner is best known in connection with his work on the Welsbach burner, and Mr. C. L. Reese, scientific director of the Dupont American industries, has Canadian industries which include the Canadian Explosives Company and several other larger concerns. The hardest working man in the institute is undoubtedly Dr. John C. Olsen, the energetic secretary, who year after year has been elected to this office, which he has held continuously since the inception of the institute. Dr. Olsen is in many ways the heart and life of the organization, and to him more, perhaps, than to any other man is due the success which the institute has won.

Talk of the Town and of the Country

On Wednesday afternoon a fire was detected on the roof of the Springer Brass Manufacturing Co. Ltd. It had apparently been caused by a spark from the furnace. A sudden wind had risen at the time. The staff and employees of the works set to work with buckets and extinguishers and put out the blaze without calling the fire brigade.

A fine exhibition in Room 20 of the Quinte Hotel, attracted the attention of the American Chemical Engineers yesterday. The minerals and metals shown were all from the rocks of Hastings County as follows: Molybdenum ore, ferro-molybdenum manufactured at the Tivoli Steel Company's plant; gold ore from Belmont; fluor spar from the Bailey mine; tool steel from Orton ore; Vanadium pig iron, iron ore; galena from near Gilmour station, corn-dum; the purest iron pyrites in America from Queensboro; talc from the Henderson and Anglo-American mines; alderite from Hungerford mine; a core of limestone at a depth of fifty feet from the Ontario Limestone and Clay Company's quarries and hydrated lime, 98% calcium hydroxide exhibited by the same company. There were also exhibits of brass goods manufactured by the Springer Co.

Mrs. Cecil Stuart and her small daughter, Ottawa, and Miss Nell Merrie, Belleville, are the guests of Mrs. Russell Stuart, Lower Alfred St., Kingston. Mrs. Stuart came to Belleville on Thursday en route for Vancouver.

The special train conveying the party of Chemical Engineers was accompanied by the General Superintendent, Mr. W. R. Kelly, Mr. C. Erice Green, Industrial Commissioner of the Canadian National Railway; Major G. G. Omsmanney, of the Department of Development of the Mr. Norman L. Rankin, Special Publicity Agent of the same department of the C. P. R.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Irwin, 47 Cemetery St. passed away this morning.

Mr. Angus Buchanan, physical director of the Y.M.C.A., has received notice that his brother-in-law Mrs. Buchanan's brother, Mr. Edward Smith, had been drowned at Hamilton. He was drowned by the capsizing of a canoe in Hamilton bay. A Hamilton dispatch gives the following particulars:—Edward Smith, aged 17, whose parents reside at 14 Fairleigh avenue, was drowned in a canoe yesterday afternoon when a canoe overturned. He and Vincent Brown, 393 Wilson street, were in the canoe, and young Smith started to take off his coat, and in doing so upset the canoe. Both clung to the canoe for a time, but Smith got a cramp and was forced to let go and sank. Brown was rescued shortly after. Efforts to recover the body of Smith were without success up till midnight, when the attempt was abandoned. Mr. Smith, the father of the drowned youth, left the city yesterday on a fishing trip, and was recalled as soon as his son's death was reported to Mrs. Smith.

Two Havelock youths got into serious trouble on Monday night, when they stole the Ford car belonging to Mr. Wm. Anderson, of Round Lake. The car was found to be "missing" about ten o'clock in the evening, and the surrounding villages were communicated with by telephone in an effort to locate it. Soon afterward a telephone message from the Campbellford police stated that they had the car and the two youths who were driving it. Constable Allport, immediately left for Campbellford, and on arriving there found that the boys were fictitious names to the Campbellford police, but later admitted their true identity. They had purloined and lodged in the cells over night, one being admitted to bail in the early hours of the morning. Magistrate Mathison, before whom the charge of theft was laid, remanded them for trial before Mr. and Mrs. H. Bradshaw spent Monday at Mr. W. Bradshaw's. Mr. and Mrs. Blake Way, Mrs. Lydia Way and Beattie, spent Sunday at Mr. W. Blair's, Trenton.

Says Athol Gow in the Toronto Star: Gossip has it that Ed. Scott, Hillcrest's star pitcher, will be ineligible under the residence rule to play for Hillcrest if the team happens to qualify for the Ontario championship. There is a report going about that the Ontario Amateur Baseball Association executive held the opinion that Scott was not a bona fide resident of Toronto on January 1st of this year, and therefore does not qualify for the Ontario series. The Toronto Amateur Baseball Executive gave Scott his clearance papers to pitch in Toronto, but it is said that the O.A.B.A. have something up their sleeve to the effect that Scott did not reside in Toronto last year. The nearest town for him to play in is Lindsay, and this year he worked in a lumber camp up at Halliburton until March 20. Well, if the O.A.B.A. have objection to Scott's residence rule they should get busy at once and let Scott know where he is at. It would be poor business to let Scott go into and through the city championship, which is quite possible, and then throw him out of the Ontario series. It is up to the proper authorities to clear the air. Scott is having the best season of his career. His performance against St. Francis when he held them to two hits shows that he is in rare form. He has filled out and is twice as strong as in 1918, and has developed a lot of stuff this year. Many critics think Scott will be the sensation of the year. Hillcrest are planning their faith to him, but they should get another pitcher to help Scott, as he cannot twirl Saturdays and mid-week games, and then again what would happen to Hillcrest if Scott was injured or forced out of the game through illness?

The county of Lennox and Addington memorial erected in honor of 153 soldiers killed in the Great War, was unveiled Thursday with full military honors in the presence of an immense crowd. The monument stands in front of the Court House, bearing the names of the fallen engraved on it.

Batters should use a bat corresponding to their ability to swing it. Don't slug, use a short swing or chop stroke. Stand firmly, but easily, left foot slightly forward, ready to step into and hit the first good ball pitched. Try to place the ball when necessary. Bunting should not be attempted when the ball is not over the plate and over the waist line.

When base running get a quick start from the plate for top speed to first base. With a chance for more than one base, touch the bags from the inside. Slide feet first, as a rule pushing the left foot forward to the bag and throwing the body out and towards outfield territory. When leading off a base, watch the ball, trying to beat the pitcher by learning to time his motions, so as to get the most out of his "wind up" and your speed.

Remarkable improvement is shown in the condition of 35 patients suffering from advanced cases of cancer who have been treated with the serum discovered by Dr. T. J. Glover, of Toronto.

No hope was held out for the recovery of any of the patients when Dr. Glover first administered his serum, but yesterday, it was stated, they were all free from the dreadful agony they have been suffering, and many were making plans for the future.

Since the first announcement of Dr. Glover's discovery the outdoor department of St. Michael's Hospital has been besieged with persons suffering from the disease. No cases are treated unless reputable physicians first testify that patients are suffering from cancer.

Mr. J. Alex McGregor, former editor of the Peterborough Review, has accepted the editorship of the Retre Mercury, and left on Friday to begin his duties. Mr. McGregor was forced by illness to resign from his position with the Review some time before its absorption by the Examiner. The prominence Mr. McGregor has attained in Canadian newspaperdom will doubtless be enhanced under the inspiration of his fresh energy and interests and responsibilities.

On Thursday of last week, June 24th, Miss Elva Hillier, whose parents reside near the Factory Hill Cobourg, was found to be missing from her home. She left a note saying that she was going to Peterboro. The matter was reported to Chief Russ, of Cobourg, who made enquiries, but can find no trace of her in Peterboro. Inquiries made by Mr. Russ, who has communicated with the authorities in other places, and also inquiries made by her family, have so far failed to elicit any information as to her location. Miss Hillier is about sixteen years of age. A young man, Mr. A. Hubber with whom the young girl was friendly is also away from town, having left the same day. It is not known whether or not they went together.

A white robin has been seen in the vicinity of Conesecon. Another peculiar bird reported from Conesecon is a robin with white feathers in tail and another feather tipped with white. A white robin was observed in the same vicinity last year. It is hoped some of the bird lovers in that vicinity will make observations and report fully on these rare specimens.

Sir Adolphe Routhier judge of the Vice-Admiralty Court, a noted jurist and author of "O Canada," died Tuesday night at his summer home at Ste. Irene Les Bains. A meeting of the Cobourg Harbor Committee was held on Tuesday to consider renting land at the harbor to Mr. George Greer, with whom it is understood Mr. Hicks, of Peterborough is associated. Mr. Hicks, who is a coal dealer is desirous of bringing in coal by schooner here for the purpose of supplying his customers in the Electric City. If the privileges are secured it is their intention, we believe, to erect sheds and arrange for the loading of cars direct from the boat. The committee will allow a trial cargo to be brought in for Peterborough at the rate of 5c per ton harbor toll, but 15c will be charged on all subsequent cargoes.

The Coldsprings Cheese Factory with its contents, was totally destroyed by fire early Wednesday morning. The building was unoccupied and the origin of the fire is not known. About 2.30 o'clock Messrs. Allen and Arthur McIntosh discovered that the building, which was a frame one, was a mass of flames. It was situated about twenty rods west of the Central Telephone Office at Coldsprings. They called to some of the neighbors, as they feared that the fire would spread to other buildings, but we understand that the roof had fallen in before any one reached the scene of the fire, so all that could be done was to guard adjacent property. There were two vats two presses and probably other material for making cheese in the building. Mr. H. R. Free, Cobourg, owned the factory which was not operated last season, nor for this year. It is understood that there is insurance.

KILLORAN—CORRIGAN

A very pretty ceremony was solemnized at St. Charles' Church, Read, on June 21st at 9 a.m. when Hugh I. Killoran, Camden, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Killoran, was united in marriage to Ivanna L. Corrigan, daughter of Mr. Michael Corrigan, by the Rev. Father McCarthy. The wedding-march was played by Miss Myrtle Killoran, cousin of the groom, as the bridal party entered the church. The bride was handsomely attired in white silk crepe-de-chene with georgette overskirt trimmed with pearl beads and a dainty white hat of georgette with a spray of lily of the valley. Miss Margaret Harrison, cousin of the groom, attended the bride and was dressed in white crepe-de-chene with a pretty white hat to match, while Mr. John Corrigan, brother of the bride, was best man. During the ceremony three beautiful solos were ably rendered by Miss Myrtle Killoran and brother John, cousins of the groom.

After the ceremony a large number of intimate friends motored to the home of the bride, where a sumptuous repast awaited them. The happy couple left on the midnight train at Belleville for Toronto, Niagara and western points. A large number of costly presents such as cut glass and other useful articles, testified to the esteem in which the young couple are held. The happy couple will take up their residence in Camden. The best wishes of a large number of friends go with them, wishing them bon voyage through life.

NEW, UNIQUE MARINE RAILWAYS ADD TO JOYS ON TRENT ROUTE

Navigation to Open For Small Motor Craft Along Entire Route From Lake Ontario to Georgian Bay—High Speed Lifts and Incline Hoists.

During the recent history-making years "going over the top" in some strenuous capacity, whether by the tank route, on foot with a Lee-Enfield, or at home helping to put through a Victory Loan, has become an international sport of sports.

The engineers in charge of the construction work on that piece de resistance, the Trent Valley waterway, not to be outdone, decided to apply this idea to their undertaking just to give the impatient ones a little surprise, and the marine railways, designed to transport motor boats quickly over the portions of the canal not yet completed, are the result.

Canalizing Complete

Cutting through the solid rock is slow work, and can only be carried on during the summer months. The canalizing of this route is complete from Lake Ontario to Lake Couchiching, and open to boats up to 35 feet in length, and when the two locks under construction on the Severn river are completed, a through route will be established to Georgian Bay for large-sized boats. It is on this section that the temporary expedient of using marine railways to enable boats up to 35 feet in length to make the through trip has been resorted to. Don't be afraid to trust your latest mahogany or egg-shell finish craft to these railways. They are as solid and substantial as the rock they rest on, and the cars run right down into the water at each end, allowing the boat to float on or off as the case may be.

The carriages are so designed as to carry moderate sized boats without any undue strains. There is no special reason for limiting the length of boats to 35 feet, other than the weight of the craft and the straining effect of a long overhang. Although built as a temporary expedient, they have proved so satisfactory in operation that their use will be continued permanently for small craft. By them a motor boat of ordinary characteristics can be taken over the 50-foot hills, which they are intended to surmount, in about 4 or 5 minutes, counting from the time of its arrival at one level until it starts off on the other. Large power developments are completed alongside each of the marine railways, and they are operated electrically.

Cruising Delights

Some years ago, the writer, in a series of articles in Canadian and American boating publications, endeavored to describe the delights of a motor boat cruise through the beautiful lakes and rivers of the Ontario Highlands. The interest displayed from all quarters was convincing proof that this waterway will be one of the greatest attractions on the continent each summer.

The Canadian Government exhibited a huge map of this waterway at the recent New York Motor Boat Show, and if all the motor boat men who promised themselves this trip make good, the new waterway is in for a lively season.

In recent summers many boats made this trip from the American side up through the route as far as Washago at the upper end of Lake Couchiching. Instead of having to return from this point they will now, thanks to the new railways and a lock, be able to go to Georgian Bay. Senator W. H. Bennett, of Midland, has long been an enthusiastic champion of the Trent Canal project. He has given valued assistance in the preparation of this article.

Arrival of the Pioneer

Early in the last century, when pioneer settlers began to move into central Ontario, advantage was taken of the series of waterways known collectively as the Kawartha Lakes, which now constitute the interior section of the Trent system. These lakes drain to Lake Ontario, via the Ontonabee river, Rice Lake and the Trent river, the latter stream emptying into the Bay of Quinte at Trenton.

In the other direction, drainage to Georgian Bay takes place via the Talbot river, Lake Simcoe and the Severn river. The portages were abolished at an early date in the Kawartha region, and a system of locks built to provide navigation from Balsam Lake, the summit level, to Lakefield, at the foot of Katchewanooka Lake. There was another navigable stretch also provided between Peterboro and Hesley Falls,

J. Symons of this city to Star in the East Lodge. It was also the concluding visit in his tour of the seventeen lodges of Prince Edward District.

It has been a most successful tour. The District Deputy was everywhere received with the utmost warmth and cordiality. By his uniform courtesy and tact, as well as by the eloquence of the messages he has delivered in reference to the Masonic craft, he has a reputation that will make him one of the most popular representatives who have ever filled that honorable office.

The officers of Star in the East Lodge exemplified the work of the third degree in Masonry. The District Deputy, in his criticism, commented very favorably upon the work done pronouncing it most impressive and ranking with the best he had witnessed on his tour.

The following officers did the work:

- I. P. M.—Wor. Bro. D. R. Platt. W. M.—Wor. Bro. A. M. Thompson. J. S.—Bro. D. G. Atsworth. S. W.—Chas. Pearson. J. C.—Garnet Taylor. D. of C.—Wor. Bro. W. W. Fitzgerald. Organist—Bro. T. Fillingham. Secretary—Wor. Bro. E. L. Hubbs. Treasurer—V. Wor. Bro. W. G. Nell.

The Ontario and Rice Lake division has been completed and is in operation. The work upon the Severn river division was interrupted by the war, and several years may elapse before this section will be ready to pass full sized vessels.

Owing, however, to the large summer colonies of motor boat enthusiasts in these regions, a small lock at Port Severn has been constructed, giving access from Georgian Bay to Gloucester pool, near the mouth of the Severn river. This lock is 100 feet by 25 feet, with six rest of water. Also at other points of the river, where high lift locks will be required for the regular canal traffic, the marine railways have in the interim been provided to carry over motor boats of the class frequenting these waters. This permits boats to ascend from Georgian Bay to a point a couple of miles below Washago, where a lock and canal of standard size is nearing completion and will be available to pass motor boats into Lake Couchiching early next summer.

The response by R. W. Bro. Symons was characterized by the same earnest eloquence as has distinguished his messages elsewhere and left a lasting impression on all who have been privileged to hear.

The toast to "Canada, Our Country," was given a splendid patriotic setting in the masterly address by Lt.-Col. M. K. Adams, of Picton, and Bro. John Elliott of Belleville. Col. Adams spoke in a complimentary vein while Bro. Elliott, in the vivid picture he drew of our magnificent Canadian heritage was followed by his audience with rapt attention and frequent applause.

Bro. Clayton Burr gave to "The Ladies," one of the finest tributes that has ever been heard in this district as he proposed a health in their honor.

The response by Bro. Dr. A. C. DeMille of Picton was a chaste and beautiful deliverance and a fine expression of loyalty to the merits of the gentler sex. Bro. Don Gullett also spoke briefly.

The final toast to "Star in the East Lodge" briefly proposed by R. W. Bro. Symons was briefly responded to by W. Bro. Thomsan, V. Wor. Bro. Fitzgerald and Bro. Capp, Ainsworth.

Prior to that the "Sister Lodges" were honored in timely or humorous addresses by W. Bros. Vick, Picton, Noxon, Picton, Grant of Saskatchewan, Bro. Rev. J. Gall, of Ameliasburg and Geo. B. Vanblarcom, editor of The Canadian Lumberman of Toronto.

The program was also enlivened by several excellent musical selections. A quartet consisting of Bros. Shurie, Fillingham, Nash and Mordean gave a number of renditions to the delight of all. Solos by W. Bro. Parliament and Bro. Clayton Burr were also heartily enjoyed.

"Auld Lang Syne" and the national anthem brought an evening of great profit and enjoyment to a fitting close.

Are Wheat and Flour Prices So High?

The Judge-Jones Milling Company, Limited, hands us the following copy from "The Northwestern Miller" of Minneapolis, Minn.:

The following interesting comparison is furnished by Elisha A. Robinson, Manager of the Flour Department of Henry Horner & Co., Chicago:

"In the early part of May, 1867, spring wheat flour sold at wholesale in Chicago at $15. per bbl., and winter wheat flour at $16. at 18. The retail price was about $2. per bbl. more. Winter wheat flour sold from Nashville, T. O. Chicago, at $18.50 per bbl., and Plant's extra winter wheat flour from St. Louis at $18. per bbl. wholesale and $20. retail."

"In May, 1867 spring wheat sold in round lots at $3. per bushel, and a car lot on track sold at $3.10."

"This was two years after the close of the Civil War. At that time, land could be bought in western territory at $1. at 10 per acre, and the normal price of common labor was $1. at 1.25 per day. How about the present price of flour, with land at $50. at 400 per acre?"

Charged With Auto Theft

Hours before Mr. J. W. Sullivan of Frankford, knew that his car was missing the Belleville police had two Frankforders under arrest, Gordon Smith, aged 20 years, and Edward Howard, aged 30 years, charged with theft of the Ford.

Police Officer Charles W. Thompson was touring the back yards in the business section of the city about two-thirty o'clock when he found two young men in a garage yard on Campbell street with a car. He was suspicious and called Serg. Naphin who was nearby. The men did not give satisfactory answers to the officers and were brought down to the police station. Officer Thompson took Smith and Serg. Naphin was following with Howard, when the latter gave him the slip, ran across the market square, over to the river bank, up the wall across the lower bridge and was lost to sight. Messrs Naphin and Vanmeer took out the police itney and about two hours later while steaming along the Trent Road saw Howard cross the road to the O. S. D. They went up and found him on a verandah.

In court this morning the youths were arraigned on charges of theft and remanded without plea. They were advised to consult counsel as according to the new law if they were guilty the minimum term was one year and the maximum two years. Howard was also charged with breaking from lawful custody while under arrest.

Dr. John Ferguson Receives High Honor

Former Belleville Boy Appointed to Succeed "Morrison of Peking" as Advisor to the President of China

Many former friends in Belleville will be grateful to learn of the high honor that has been received by Dr. John C. Ferguson. He has been appointed to an office of international importance as advisor to the president of the great Chinese republic. In this position Dr. Ferguson will have an influence and standing practically equal to that of prime minister in countries with representative institutions.

Dr. Ferguson is a son of the late Rev. John Ferguson, who passed away in this city a few years ago.

Mrs. A. F. Sherman, John Street, is a sister. He is a graduate of Albert College.

The following editorial appreciation is from the Boston Herald of June 25th:

A successor is found to the famous "Morrison of Peking" as political advisor to the President of China in the person of John Calvin Ferguson, well known in Boston and recently at his home in Newton. Morrison was one of the many men of genius and tact whom the London Times employed as its correspondents at the capitals of the world. His death a short time ago was a subject of international comment. Dr. Ferguson, but little inferior in experience and not at all in information has been president of Nanking University, present of Nanyang College in Shanghai, secretary of the Chinese ministry of commerce, chief secretary of the imperial Chinese railway administration, foreign advisor to the viceroys of Nanking and Wuchang, foreign secretary to the ministry of posts and communications, councillor to the department of state from 1915 to 1917, and advisor to President of the republic of China since 1917, with numerous honors annexed to his name. He now succeeds to the post held by Dr. Morrison. He has had much newspaper experience in China, but whether the Times will seek his aid in any such capacity is not known. Dr. Ferguson was born in Ontario, but educated at Boston University. Only a few months ago he stirred a City Club audience to enthusiasm by his address upon the problem of Shantung.

OUR CLOSEST CALL

The American Magazine is conducting a prize story contest on the cheerful theme, "The Nearest I ever Came to Death."

The idea behind the contest is not only to secure some interesting material for future issues of the magazine but to direct attention to the many fool things that people do that endanger life.

For, be it understood, that virtually all accidents are avoidable and unnecessary and are usually the result of gross carelessness or inexcusable ignorance.

The writer has no intention of entering into the competition, but he will tell how he once came very near to utter annihilation. It was all through a very simple misconception in regard to public opinion. Any fool would have known better.

It occurred during the third year of the Great War. The launching of the German submarine campaign and the considerable success attained by that campaign in the first few months after it was inaugurated caused great uneasiness in regard to the food supply. Everybody was talking conservation.

The writer, thinking only of conservation, then advocated repressive measures against the dogs of Belleville. We recommended that the tax upon dogs should be increased in a drastic manner and that people should themselves voluntarily do away with their dogs and give the food saved in that way to pigs or chickens or something really useful to prevent famine rather than to cause famine.

The proposition looked good on paper but we soon made the interesting discovery that poor Fido had more friends around the city than had the editor of The Ontario. Instead of talking about lynching parties for dogs the indignant champions of dogdom talked about lynching parties for editors who didn't know enough to mind their own business.

Only abject apologies and frenzied explanation that we didn't mean the particular dogs belonging to parties making complaint but rather some of the worthless curs belonging to other people, saved us from a fate too horrible to describe.

This experience taught us that the dog has a host of friends and that he who rashly insults the dog or kicks some good-for-nothing hound around must reckon with the master of the hound.

The dog has many friends because he has first shown himself friendly. He is the only animal that voluntarily will leave his own kind and follow and serve man. He so ingratiates himself into the goodwill and affection of his master and his master's family in many cases that there is set up a bond of attachment that causes a real wrench to the heart-strings when anything happens to break it. Often there is more than a sentimental reason.

About a month ago the writer, through the kindness of Mr. Mackenzie Robertson, proprietor of the Belleville Creamery, enjoyed a motor trip from Belleville to Bancroft. We had reached a point a few miles south of Bancroft and were going over the summit of a grade and abruptly dipping down into the hollow where Sprackett's mill is located. As the downward slope came into view we received a sudden shock, for seated fair in track and only a few feet in front of the rapidly advancing car was a little bare-headed boy of three or four years. He was playing in the sand and altogether unconscious of the imminent danger to which he was exposed. It was too late, even with emergency, to stop the heavy roadster in time. But quicker even than the speed of the car, a great shaggy dog sprang out of the bushes and in front of the child and stood there the picture of resolution and fearlessness, apparently determined that if harm came to his little charge there would first have to be a reckoning with him.

Fortunately the road at this point broadened out a little from the customary narrow trail. Mr. Robertson, who has acquired deftness from familiarity with roads as crooked as a corkscrew, made a quick turn of the wheel, swerved the car to one side and missed the child and its intrepid guardian by inches.

But the picture etched on memory by that one brief moment of experience, is one of those unforgettable things that must always remain with us.

And from that picture of a white-breasted, black-coated dog, with his dauntless eyes, challenging death itself, it is not difficult to deduce a reason why these faithful, four-footed friends endear themselves to their human masters.

May we close with this bit of philosophy from a late issue of The Boston Herald:—

People who give the square deal to the lower animals will be all the more likely to extend it to men. The youth who is taught respect for the life beneath him—taught not to injure or kill any animal wantonly—will be all the less likely to do harm to his fellow-men. Much of the violence and cruelty which still lingers in our civilization may be traced to lack of the humane element in the education of the young. It seems a far cry from considerations like these to federations of the world, yet international peace begins, if anywhere, in that reverence for life, for individuality, for personality, which has its root in kindness to animals.

Unhappiness reigns in New York. That city has discovered that it is far from being the largest or most populous in the world. The capital of the British Empire is still the capital of the globe by right of population.

During the war there was a time when New York aspired to be the financial and commercial centre supreme above all others. That dream has faded. London is rapidly winning back her financial supremacy, and not many years will elapse before she will lead all other cities in this as well as in all other respects.

Meanwhile there is a bigger rush of people into London than there ever was into any city since world history began. There is a "boom" there at present.

Businessmen from all quarters of the earth are hurrying there as fast as steam can bring them. Thousands of Asiatics who have made money out of the war are going to London to spend it. The Chinese servant has begun to make a sporadic appearance in British homes. Visitors from Overseas Dominions are legion; those from the United States no less numerous. And they are not all holiday-makers or globe-trotters by any means. They know that at present the opportunities for trade with Britain have never been greater, that the work of building up exhausted Europe must be largely done through London offices and with British money.

And so real estate in London has risen to fabulous heights. The newspapers record an instance where a man was offered a million dollars profit on a single deal in West London and refused it. Yet this is not wild speculation. The keenest businessmen in the Motherland admit that property, despite its high price, will bring a good return as an investment. Hence there are those who prophesy that before 1930 London will be a city of ten million people, leaving New York far behind indeed.

o o o o

Portsmouth (England) Town Council has agreed to purchase for £51,000 the Great Salters Estate with a sea frontage of nearly three-quarters of a mile to Langstone Harbor. An appeal will be made to the Canadian Government and the other Dominion Governments to help in the development of the harbor which would become a port for their combined use to which the produce of the Dominion would come for distribution to other parts of Britain and the continent. We are afraid that Canada has no money to spend for such a purpose.

TO MY DOG

They say you have no soul, but in your eyes—
 Your great, brown, brooding eyes that look in mine—
 There lies that near approach to love divine;
 That fine devotion clothed in humble guise.

And in the night, when brutes in human form,
 Possessed of souls, prout round to do us ill,
 What means that watchful care that guards us still
 While we unconscious lie in Morpheus' arms?

That great, broad, tender love that you bestow
 With constancy that oft puts man to shame,
 What matter if we fall to rightly name
 The quality that bids your fineness glow?

And in those hours when, resting at our feet,
 You lie in quiet brooding, ah, who knows
 What subtle power still more subtly grows,
 Preparing higher forms of life to meet.

Aye, rather say we do not understand
 The mystery of life and death and growth;
 The soul which seems to travell forth in both
 Humanity and those so near to man.

—Josephine E. Reed.

OTHER EDITORS' OPINIONS

MEDICAL FADS

At last a doctor has expressed an opinion which has been in the minds of a good many people, and that is the fashion of fads which seems to prevail among a certain portion of the medical profession. The most recent one is the attributing to the teeth a host of the ills to which flesh is heir, and insisting upon the removal of these useful implements. Dr. Mills, at the Philadelphia County Medical Society, pointed out the fashion in this, and said he had known results of it which were not only unsatisfactory, but so harmful as to call in the question of their verging on criminality. He also referred to the fads of removing the tonsils and the appendix, and concluded by saying that if the craze for violent removal goes on, it will come to pass that we shall have a guinea, glandless, toothless, and he was not sure but we might have a witless race. In drawing attention to this, we are not intending to make any reflection upon an honorable profession, a profession which does so much to benefit humanity, but only wish to point out the danger which follows the too ready acceptance of any so-called cause of and remedy for diseases. Fortunately the tendency appears to be among leading medical men to advise the use of the knife being delayed as long as it can—and of the forceps—and to trust as much as possible to the astute and kindly aid which Mother Nature gives. Dr. Mills' warning may have a good effect in stopping the fashion of medical fads.—Kingston Standard.

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF IT?

What do you think of it?
 Here is a young man with his college degree of B.A. and a bright future before him. He was among the first to enlist, spent two and a half years in continual service in the battle line with the Field Artillery, with the result today he has almost completely lost his hearing, and he can't possibly pursue the calling for which he spent so many years in study and at so much money to prepare himself. He is now drawing a paltry $13.00 per month from the pension fund, and he has had the greatest difficulty to obtain even that much.

Here comes an M.P., whatever that stands for—and in a lot of cases it doesn't stand for much,—and he is to get an annual rake-off of $4,000 for warning a seat occasionally in the Parliament House at Ottawa.

And if there happens to be two sessions a year of course he will get $8,000.

A few public men do make great sacrifices to grind out legislation for the people, but we are satisfied that fifty per cent. of the men who go down to the Ottawa trough annually do not make a dime's worth of sacrifice, either of their time or business.

A lot of them while they carry on their usual business with very little handicap and are making more out of their seasonal allowance than they do out of their business, for the time spent.

These men are hanging on to their jobs at Ottawa as long as possible and are clamoring for a $4,000 seasonal allowance, many knowing that this year and next will be their last chance.

We think this thing is a shame and a disgrace and the people of this country should not stand for it. The men who have sacrificed to the limit and have said, "here's my life if necessary," should get even-handed justice.

It's all right enough to prance up and down on a public platform at a bun feed or a Sunday School picnic, swinging our arms and prating about what we are doing for our brave boys, but it would take a mighty lot of that kind of hot air to buy a meal ticket or a suit of clothes for a returned man or his child.

The M.P. who has kept his potato trap closed on this soldier's indemnity question should be ashamed to look a returned man, his wife or child in the face.

If the men who stood in the trenches day after day, month after month, if these men saved our Empire and country, if they saved our skins, and Heaven knows they did, then don't let us try to pump them full of hot air—they got plenty of gas from their German friends—but let us as a nation show proper recognition of their services. Let us show them that we meant it when we said with hands lifted aloft to high Heaven, "We will give our last man and our last dollar."

It's all very well to give a tabulated list of what the Yankees and others are paying their returned men to establish our generosity. What should these men get?
 Every man who stood in the trenches should receive $2,000 in cash and if he is disabled he should receive further aid in proportion to his inability to engage in remunerative work, whereby he or his family may be decently provided for.—Oshawa Telegram.

Talk of the Town and of the Country

Thomas A. Edison, internationally famed inventor, is expected at Association Island, near Alexandria Bay, next Thursday to attend the banquet of the Edison Lamp Works' officials there next week. An invitation has been extended to Mr. Edison to join the electricians at the island next week, and he has agreed to leave his laboratories long enough to come to the island and attend the banquet. Fast experience, however, has taught the electricians that it is a difficult matter to get Mr. Edison away from his laboratories, and they are now not sure that he may not be so interested in some experiment when the time comes to start that he will cancel the trip.

At the recent meeting of the Leeds County Council through a readjustment of the county assessment, the figure for Gananoque was about doubled. The new amount is $13,595.66, and the rate for county purposes is fixed at 4 1/2 mills, which will make the contribution from the river town quite an item. At the County Council session the road between Gananoque and Sealey's Bay was made part of the provincial highway, a bylaw being passed to that effect. That road will become part of the Ottawa-Kingston highway.

Tabby cats are not the only animals, besides the foxes themselves, that can nurse baby silver foxes successfully. J. Gordon Noakes, sales manager for the New York Fur Auction Sales Corporation has received information telling how a female Belgian police dog, part of the protective force of a New York State fox farm, had nursed three little "silvers" until it was time to wean them. The mother fox had refused to care for the little ones soon after they were born, but the police dog, herself a mother of seven puppies, took the job willingly. Mr. N. Noakes' informant said that the good care she took of her foster family is evident from their size and the fine condition of their pelts. By "adopting" the fox pups the dog saved the owners of the farm from a threatened loss of several hundred dollars.

Chief Post Office Inspector George Ross, with headquarters in Toronto, was in Oshawa last Saturday with the view of establishing a letter carrier system in Oshawa. He took a general view of the situation and said that the streets of the town of Oshawa, were not sufficiently named nor the houses numbered, to start delivery immediately. On some of the houses where there are numbers, they are so old that they have become discolored and are not easily discernible. These would have to be renewed. "This is badly needed in Oshawa," Postmaster Tamlyn, at Oshawa says, "to relieve the very greatly congested postal delivery system now in vogue here." In a few days the postmaster expects a member of the post office department will be in town for the purpose of laying out Oshawa into sections for the post men.

It is apparently not generally known that it is illegal to use postage stamps on cheques, money orders and promissory notes and so the Special War Revenue Act has been openly disregarded. The inland revenue stamps that the banks use exclusively are the only kind to be used and merchants and others in outlying districts may obtain the proper stamps by addressing the collector of inland revenue. The Act has been so openly violated, especially around Indian River, that the post office inspector has had his attention drawn to it and has been in communication with Mr. Buller on the subject. In certain districts it is alleged the selling of postage stamps for putting on cheques if not actually encouraged by the postmaster has not been interfered with and the practice has grown until steps may have to be taken to stop it if warnings do not suffice.

Inspector F. B. Taber has seized 14 cases of liquor in Brockville, during the past few days. On Friday three cases of liquor addressed to one Mortimer, Hartley street, and three cases addressed to one Davis, King street west, were seized, and Monday, four cases of gin addressed to G. Taylor, Brockville, fell under the watchful eyes of the inspector. In all cases the names of whom the consignments were shipped were fictitious, but no arrests were made. Tuesday afternoon at the Union depot Inspector Taber seized four cases of gin that had come by express for delivery to a fictitious address.

Mr. H. J. Boyle, for some time a resident of Peterboro city, may be included among Peterboro's progressive and enterprising business men. With keen perception of business methods acceptable to the average modern shopper these days, he has leased and refitted W. G. Routley's old grocery premises, 189 Charlotte street, opposite the White House, where he will conduct a modern grocery business on the self-serve plan. This means that goods are so conveniently displayed, and in many cases ready packaged, that customers can walk in, serve themselves, pay for their purchases, and retire, without experiencing any tiresome waiting for busy clerks. A long counter down the store's centre on which package goods are arranged separates the premises into two parts. Shelves along both walls hold a miscellaneous stock of provisions and groceries, all plainly priced. On leaving the store customers pay for their purchases at a cashier's desk, and so simplified is everything that customers are assured of no delay. Appointments are spick and span. The store has been entirely re-decorated in cream and white, offering a most pleasing and clean looking effect. By eliminating the cumbersome counter and fixtures found in an ordinary grocery store, Mr. Boyle has made more room in the premises and visitors at his store are delighted at the light and ventilation which prevails. Mr. Boyle is a returned soldier, going overseas with the 73rd Highlanders from Montreal. He lost his right leg at the Somme in 1916. He enters the grocery business with considerable experience in all its lines. The public is assured of quick, reliable service at this self-serve grocery where prices will be as low as possible for high grade goods.

Bulgaria will lose much of its charm if it be true that its inhabitants are abandoning the art of rose-growing. Twenty years ago the traveler from Adrianople to Kestnik—a distance of some 90 miles—found "roses, roses" all the way. Only two varieties were to be seen—the damask, used in the manufacture of the various rose confections beloved by Orientals and the musk, proved by experience to be the best for making attar, which a Persian poet declares to be more precious than gold. Tradition says that the scent originated through a certain Sultan ordering a fountain in his garden to be kept supplied with rose water. The action of the sun presently concentrated the oily particles which rose to the surface, and the gardener, supposing the water to have become corrupt, skimmed off the floating oil. In this operation some of the globules burst, releasing a delightful fragrance.

The first permanent Atlantic cable was laid in 1866, connecting Ireland with Newfoundland. An earlier cable between these points was lost in construction, but was later recovered, and completed. In 1868 a cable was laid from France to Duxbury, Mass., and in 1873 the fourth Atlantic cable connected Ireland and Trinity Bay, Newfoundland. Several cables have been subsequently laid and are still maintained. Prof. Morse, the inventor of telegraphy, may be considered the inventor of the cable, although he had little to do with its mechanical construction. To Cyrus W. Field goes much of the credit, for its accomplishment was largely due to his foresight and energy.

Lately a lot of people have been boasting of the earliness of the crops from their kitchen gardens. Quite a number have spoken of having green peas already and the lettuce and radish reports date back almost to the first of April. Mrs. L. M. Fry, R.R.1, Gananoque, has a garden with a record to make all the boasters sit up and take notice. She served green peas from her own garden on Tuesday, June 22nd, and furthermore served new potatoes grown by herself on Saturday, June 26th. Other early gardens will have some job beating that record.

Word was received at the Archbishop's Palace, in Kingston, Tuesday morning that His Grace Archbishop Spratt is sailing for home on July 28th. His Grace will leave Liverpool on July 28th, and will come to Montreal, from there coming on to Kingston. Arrangements are being made for the reception of His Grace, and he will be accorded a most hearty welcome home. Word was received Tuesday that Rev. Father Hartigan, of Deseronto, who is with the Archbishop on his visit to the Vatican, has been made a Protonotary Apostolic by the Pope, with the title of Monsignor. Mr. Hartigan, who is well known in Kingston, and his elevation to the high rank in the Catholic Church is a source of pleasure to his many friends. It is very likely that Archbishop Spratt will arrive in Kingston on or about August 6th.

Falling through an open hatch on the steamer Rock Ferry, owned by the George Hall Coal Company of Oswego, Alphonse Mesette, 44, of Lewis, Quebec, narrowly escaped death near Cape Vincent at an early hour Monday morning. It was at first thought that both his back and neck were broken but X-ray examinations showed his injuries to be confined to the spine. Both his neck and head were badly bruised. He underwent an operation at the Sisters' Hospital, Watertown, Monday afternoon and his condition is satisfactory.

Evidence accumulates that Mr. Joseph Lawrence of 196 Bruce street, London, Ont., possesses some mystic power beyond explanation in terms of science or phrases of logic. All over the city of London are people who are said to bear evidence in their bodies to the power of prayer. Most of the cases reported are of the less complex kind, but last night Mr. Lawrence told reverently of something for which he takes no credit, yet which may eventually turn out to be a most amazing happening. A little child was blinded after a severe illness and Mr. Lawrence and many others have been praying that night may come back. Lately Mr. Lawrence states the child has been enabled to tell sunlight from shadow. In fact, he is now able to tell his friends by their shadow. Other cases reported by good authority show that skin diseases of the kind usually known as "incurable" have disappeared under the fervent imploration of Mr. Lawrence. Thirty people, it is stated, are now being "treated" by Mr. Lawrence. Mr. Lawrence does not believe in "laying on of hands." The amazing results achieved under his praying is asserted by him to be power of prayer alone.

Of this sum $745 was realized from the sales tax and the rest from the so-called luxury tax. However Collector of Inland Revenue R. McDonald, states that when all returns are in the amount will go well over the $4,000 mark.

The second edition of the poems of Mr. David Burns, who lives in Brooklyn, entitled "Random Writings" is just off the press and it is truly a work of art typographically. It is entirely new matter. The opening selection "The Old Log House," is one with a most quaint and pathetic touch and brilliantly descriptive. It paints a vivid picture of the old home which will bring a flood of memories of childhood days to everyone who reads it. Another selection in the book "The Devil Resigns to the Kaiser" is as good as a tonic.

Although Mr. Burns began his literary career late in life he has proven conclusively that he possesses extraordinary natural ability as a writer and his productions have received a spontaneous welcome. He has a bright entertaining style which never fails to please.

Mr. Burns' first edition of "Random Writings" was accorded unstinted recognition from many prominent business and professional people holding the highest positions in the state, including Premier Borden and L. M. Montgomery, the author of the "Anne" books.

Nicholl Stewart, had a miraculous escape from instantaneous death. He was driving a team of horses and at the Drummond street railway crossing, Kingston, the horses were struck by the Ottawa-Toronto C.P.R. passenger train. One horse was instantly killed, and the other had to be shot. The man was thrown out of the waggon, but, outside of a slight scratch on the head, escaped injury. There is a bell alarm at this crossing, but as the man is almost totally deaf, he was unable to hear the alarm or the approach of the train.

When she got out of the car she picked up the bouquet of flowers and forgot the satchel. Mrs. Mary Ramsay, aged seventy-three years, who resides at 426 Princess street, Kingston, lies in a serious condition at the Kingston General Hospital as result of being knocked down by street car No. 28 near the corner of Division and Princess streets on Monday evening, shortly after seven o'clock. The hospital authorities report that Mrs. Ramsay suffered a broken collar bone and a broken hip. During the night she rested very well.

Mrs. Ramsay had been living at the home of Mr. Hartman, 426 Princess street, for some time. Monday evening she went down off the house steps and was in the act of crossing the street a short distance from the intersection of Division and Princess streets when the belt line car was coming up the street. It is stated that she was in the centre of the track when the street car struck her and threw her to the side of the road. The car was brought to a very sudden stop by the motorman reversing the power. James Reid's ambulance was summoned and the injured woman was removed to the General Hospital in an unconscious condition.

When interviewed regarding the strike of the nurses in the Tuberculosis hospital at Guelph, Major Letta, the Kingston administrator of the D. S. C. R., stated that he was called upon to send nurses to Guelph and on Saturday the following left by the midnight train: Nursing sisters Blais, Parry, Evans, Gibson and Turner. He had no particulars regarding the cause of the strike beyond what appeared in the Toronto papers, but it was apparent that the strike was due to sentimental grounds entirely. He had not heard whether the new nurses accepted the conditions found at the hospital but presumed that everything was running smoothly.

One horse was instantly killed, and the other had to be shot. The man was thrown out of the stern section of the freight steamer Canadian Otter, built and launched in two sections at Welland by the British American Shipbuilding Co., passed down the river Tuesday afternoon. Two tugs of the Sincennes-MacNaughton line handled the section, one towing from the front and the other acting as a rudder at the rear. The section was towed down stern first and left Welland on Thursday for Montreal, where the sections will be joined. The craft, which is of 3,350 tons dead weight, is the first boat launched in two sections in Canada.

The Colorado beetle, familiarly known as the potato bug, is an unknown quantity in some gardens this year, while in others only one or two have so far been seen. Apparently they did not get down far enough to escape the frost during the winter. The absence of this pest is a great relief to those who grow their own potatoes.

OLD GLORY AND UNION JACK INTERTWINED IN A UNIQUE DOMINION DAY CELEBRATION

American Institute of Chemical Engineers Join Canadians in Splendid Banquet at Hotel Quinte—Many Eloquent Ad- dresses and Happy References to Relations of Amity Subsisting Between Two Great Countries—Auspicious Close of Day Sight Seeing.

Amid laughter, feast and song, the American Institute of Chemical Engineers concluded their tour of Hastings County by a splendid banquet at Hotel Quinte. The party of distinguished visitors, with the ladies accompanying them, filled the spacious dining-room almost to repletion, and there was accommodation for only a limited number of local representatives. It was a joyous banquet with a contagious spirit of conviviality to give zest to the proceedings.

Two National Anthems but Only One Tune

Particularly auspicious and pleasant it was to see Old Glory and the Union Jack suspended side by side at the head of the banquetting chamber. When the joint toast to "The King and the President" came to be honored, the company rose en masse and sang first the British national anthem and then "America" to the same tune. The stentorian voice of Sandy Burrows led in both and both were caught up by the 200 guests with equal fervor. Then followed "The Maple Leaf", as a special tribute to the day.

An Invitation That Was Accepted.

Capt. Lucius E. Allen assumed the role of toastmaster after the feasting was ended and gracefully discharged his duties.

On behalf of Belleville and Hastings County he welcomed the party of visitors to our city. It had been a rare pleasure, indeed, for him to show to this party of experts something of the beauties and the resources of our county and county town. He was deeply grateful to the chemical engineers for accepting his invitation, though when he gave the invitation he had no idea it would be accepted. (Laughter). He was proud to have them with us. He knew that if they came they would bring with them some of the finest ladies in America. (Cheers). This was the most important gathering of scientific experts who had ever assembled at Belleville. There was a reason for their choosing Montreal as the place of convention. (Laughter). But their reason for coming to Belleville was not so apparent. He hoped, however, that the visit would be to them pleasant as well as profitable. He himself had forgotten most of his chemistry. He was now what is known as a "mixer". (Laughter).

Dominion Day Should be Called "Institute Day"

David Wesson, President of the Institute, in response to the toast, "Our Guests," was in a happy mood. The invitation extended by Capt. Allen to visit Belleville had been so enticing they simply couldn't resist it. The cordiality of their welcome had exceeded their fondest anticipations. They were accorded the special honor of being welcomed at the depot by a band from overseas. The joy was continued when they arrived at our beautiful hotel. Belleville was a delightful place to rest in. (Laughter). They had had a most beautiful ride through the country. At Deloro they had tried to kill them with kindness at the luncheon. Then they were taken out, to complete the process, in the arsenic department. (Laughter).

President Wesson then referred in pleasant terms to the cordiality of the relations existing between Canada and the United States, the friendliness of which had at one time been disturbed by the machinations of a German king.

It was twelve years since the American Institute of Chemical Engineers had been organized. This was the first occasion upon which they had held their outing in Canada. He saw the two flags side by side, on Canada's national day, indicating international amity and goodwill. He hoped they would always wave together, and suggested that they also call Dominion Day, "Institute Day."

Presentation of Medal

At this point in the program, Dr. Sadtler, well known author and consulting engineer, had a pleasant duty to perform. He was commissioned to present to Hugh K. Moore, of Berlin, N.H., the Institute's medal. Some years ago the Institute had provided for the awarding of a medal to such of its members as should prepare papers of merit, giving the results of original work in scientific research. The medal had been awarded only one previous occasion. It was now his pleasure to bestow the medal a second time. Mr. Moore was a man who read long papers. (Laughter). But he was, none the less, a man of whom the Institute might well be proud. He had read the first of these papers at Buffalo, in 1917, and he had prepared a paper each year since.

Boosting the Price of Paper

Mr. Moore, on rising to accept the medal, was received with cheers. He professed to think the medal had been awarded to him because he produced the most paper, rather than the best. If he now stopped writing it would help to reduce the present high cost of paper. (Laughter). A medal from the Institute of Chemical Engineers meant something. Its acceptance carried with it a moral and ethical responsibility that he hoped he would faithfully discharge.

He Likes Canadians

Prof. Charles Baskerville of the University of New York expressed his liking for Canada and Canadians. The league of nations, proposed by President Wilson, was a human document, and therefore not perfect, but it was great in the promise it gave for the future.

What Is a Chemical Engineer

John C. Olsen, of Brooklyn, N.Y., Secretary of the Institute, after referring to the delightful visit, said there was considerable doubt as to just what a chemical engineer was. The president had tried to explain it, but they didn't know much more after he had got through than before. (Laughter). Mr. Moore was a real chemical engineer. Professors are about twenty years behind the times. Anybody will tell you that. (Laughter). Professors are those who know how to teach to others what they don't know themselves. (Laughter).

Chemists were, like ancient Gaul, divided into three parts or classes. These were:

1. Analytical chemists, whose duty it was to analyse, to take apart, and tell you what were the chemical constituents and proportions of any substance in earth or air.
2. Research chemists, who give their time to finding out things not known before.
3. Chemical engineers, who combine and utilize the work of 1 and 2. It was their duty to produce. They took charge of such work as the production of sugar from beets, explosives, acid, paper from trees, etc. They had seen at Deloro a wonderful new metal called "stellite," a metal from which knives and cutlery could be made, that would not rust nor corrode nor require scouring.

"The City of Belleville and County of Hastings"

Seldom in his long career of fine oratorical successes has Lieut.-Col. Ponton spoken so effectively as in the five-minute address in which he responded to the toast, "The City of Belleville and the County of Hastings."

This was Canada's natal day, but he believed that nowhere in this broad Dominion, except at Belleville, was there a joint celebration of the day by citizens of the great Republic and the great Dominion. He was an imperialist through and through (cheers), but he had received the honor from McKinley, the martyred President and Secretary Bayard, of being appointed American Consul at Belleville. (Renewed cheers). He hoped the institute would come back soon, and to a greater Canada. "Better lo'ed ye canna be, weel ye no come back again?" There was an international boundary line, but it was only a border for friends to shake hands across. (Cheers). It had been his honor, as commanding officer of the 15th Regiment, to lead the first uniformed Canadian soldiers into the United States since the unpleasantness of 1812, when they had been welcomed by the city of Rochester. (Cheers). To the visitors he would extend the sentiment of a toast that had once been applied to him in Ireland: "May your soul be in Heaven three weeks before the devil knows you are dead." (Laughter and prolonged applause).

Hon. Nelson Parliament

Hon. Nelson Parliament, Speaker of the Ontario Legislature, was received with cheers upon rising. This had been to him one of the most interesting evenings of his life. He saw here intertwined Old Glory and the Union Jack. He hoped the present peace between these two great nations would always prevail. In the past hundred years, the United States had had a glorious history, with marvelous development. He believed that the next hundred years would witness similar marvellous development in Canada. He had no fear from invasions of the kind witnessed tonight. He hoped the two flags would be intertwined upon all occasions to maintain a league of peace. (Cheers). The Anglo-Saxon race must stand together. (Cheers). Canada, like the United States, was rich in resources. But it was upon the character of our citizenship that the future depended. (Applause).

The Acting Mayor

Major Richard D. Ponton, as Acting Mayor, in the absence of His Worship, Mayor Riggs, gracefully acknowledged the honor done to Belleville by the visit of so distinguished a company. They came, not from a foreign country, but as kinsmen and neighbors from another part of the great Anglo-Saxon heritage. (Cheers). He paid tribute to the practical work of the chemical engineers during the war. Without their assistance the contest must have gone against us. When the Germans had unloosed their poison gas in the spring of 1915, it was the chemical engineers who came to the rescue with their invention of respirators and gas-masks, and had thereby saved thousands of lives. (Cheers).

Ex-Warden Nugent

William Nugent, County Clerk, and ex-Warden of the County of Hastings, thought that everything necessary had already been said. He complimented Capt. Allen upon his invaluable work, when County Engineer, of giving to Hastings County the finest system of permanent bridges in Ontario. He informed the visitors that they had only touched the fringe of the resources of Hastings in their hurried visit. This county had richer and more varied mineral deposits than any other in Ontario. We needed technical advice and assistance to develop those resources. Therefore he particularly welcomed the visit of America's foremost experts and authorities.

Mr. John Elliott

As the party had to leave to take their train, Mr. Elliott spoke but briefly. Capt. Allen had put the county and city under obligation many times before, but never so greatly as when he had succeeded in securing a visit from this splendid organization. He hoped to have another visit in the not distant future. A hearty rendition of the National Anthem brought the banquet to an auspicious close.

Social Held by Sidney Baptist

Victoria Ave. Baptist Choir Provided Music

An ice cream social and entertainment was given at Sidney Baptist Church last evening which was attended by scores of people from near and far.

Sandwiches, ice cream and cake were dispensed out-of-doors in abundance and a booth provided cool drinks to thirsty individuals many of whom had driven several miles to attend the function.

After the delicious refreshments a programme was given consisting of choruses, duets, solos and recitations. The musical programme was given entirely by the Victoria Ave. Baptist Choir, Belleville, under the direction of Mrs. W. S. Rathman. The chorus, "O Canada," and "Land of Hope and Glory," (Elgar) and a novel band which rendered two selections were contributed by the full choir, and were heartily applauded.

Mrs. Luscombe and Mr. W. S. Rathman received insistent encores for their solos and the popular duet "The Garden of My Heart," by Mrs. Luscombe and Mr. Newsome received enthusiastic applause. Some splendid recitations were given by Miss Mildred Lloyd, Miss Georgina Rutman and Miss Worell, each young lady being called to return and render an encore. The church was fortunate in securing Mr. McIntosh of the Department of Agriculture, of Stirling, who performed, in a most efficient manner, the duties of chairman. He interspersed each number with witty remarks which kept the uncomfortably filled church in excellent good humor. The Minister, Rev. Mr. Campbell, welcomed the people and thanked the artists for their assistance in making the event a success.

A number of Belleville people besides those taking part in the program attended the affair.

Beach Cleared of Rocks For Bathers Convenience

The parks committee yesterday cleared a portion of the beach at the west end of Zwick's Island opposite the dressing quarters, so that bathers may enter the water without being annoyed by the rough cobble stones. Quite a number of people enjoyed bathing yesterday although the weather was not ideal.

It is the intention of the Parks chairman to set out shrubbery this autumn on Zwick's Island.

Many Changes on Railways

New Fast Train Links Ottawa With Toronto

Hon. J. D. Reid, Minister of Railways announced a number of important changes and consolidations in connection with the unification of the Canadian National and Grand Trunk Railways. An important feature is a new fast joint passenger service between Ottawa and Toronto, by the use of the Grand Trunk tracks between Toronto and Napanee to Ottawa. The new trains will leave Toronto at 12 noon, and reach Ottawa at 7.15 p.m., and leave Ottawa at 1.15 p.m., reaching Toronto at 8.30 p.m. These trains will not run on Sundays.

Canadian National trains Nos. 32 and 33, between Yarker and Cobourg will be taken off and service provided by the operation of Grand Trunk local trains Nos. 29 and 30, from Belleville to Toronto and return over the line of the Canadian National from Napanee to Colbright. The reduction in mileage effected will result in an estimated saving of $700 per month.

The committee of management has authorized many other consolidations of facilities and operations at points heretofore served by both railways, with a consequent saving of from one to seven thousand dollars per annum in each instance. Changes in Eastern Ontario.

In the Eastern Ontario district the following changes are authorized: Kingston—Use of Grand Trunk terminals instead of Canadian Pacific, as at present.

Napanee—Joint use of Grand Trunk freight house and passenger station.

Trenton—Use of Canadian National Railway's freight house by Grand Trunk.

Belleville—Use of Grand Trunk freight house by Canadian National Railway.

Application will be made to the Board of Railway Commissioners for the elimination of interlockers at crossings at Cobourg, Brooklin and Mount Albert.

While fishing with a hook and line she suddenly felt a tremendous tug on her line. New potatoes made their appearance in quite large numbers this morning at $1.60 per peck or 20c per quart, while the old-timers held at $6.00 to $7.00 per bag in spite of the advent of the 1920 crop.

Strawberries advanced today to 30c per box. They were very plentiful. Cucumbers range at 20 to 30c each and cabbage sells at 25c per head, lettuce brings 5 to 10c; radishes 10c per bunch, three for 25c; onions 10c per bunch, beets 10c or three bunches for 25c and rhubarb 10c. Green peas are quoted at 40c per quart, while tomatoes are worth 45c per pound.

Meats are easier—beef hind quarters 20c; beef by the carcass 18c; veal 20c dressed, 13c liveweight, lamb 35c per pound.

Hogs were a little firmer this week at $19 per cwt and porkers brought $8 each today. Hay remains at $25.00 per ton baled. Loose hay was offered at $25. Eggs sold at 45 to 47c wholesale and 48 to 50c retail. Butter advanced to 70c retail today. Some grocers got it at 63 to 65c. At this season not much dairy butter is being produced owing to the demands for milk and cream. Hides are very much of a drag on the market. Beef hides range between 6 and 10c; veals 12 to 15c; deacons 75c to $1.00; lambskins at 50c; shearlings 35c; wool 15c to 20c; horsehides $4.00.

Old Picton Resident Passes

One of the old residents of the town of Picton passed away on Sunday last in the person of Mr. John MacGillivray, Queen Street, aged 83 years. Mr. MacGillivray had been in failing health for some time but was able to be about as usual. On Sunday afternoon he started for a walk and dropped dead while walking along Main street West. He fell to the ground and when found immediately afterward, life was extinct.

Mr. MacGillivray was born in the north of Scotland in 1837 coming to Canada with his parents when a small child settling first in Kingston and later in Adolphustown. As a young man he came to the town of Picton where he has since resided. He served in the Fenian Raid of 1866 as a non-commissioned officer.

His wife whose maiden name was Adeline Williams, survives him; also a family of four children, one son, Rev. (Capt.) John MacGillivray, Pastor of the Presbyterian Church, St. Thomas and three daughters, Mrs. W. J. Jewell of Napanee and Mrs. Clarence Way and Mrs. Inslay of Picton.

The funeral was held at his late residence on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. A. V. Brown, officiating. Interment in Glenwood Cemetery.—Picton Gazette.

Right Rev. E. A. LeBlanc has arrived at St. John's after an extended visit to the Old Land and Rome.

The Kingston Smelting and Refining Co., with a capital of $1,000,000 has received a provincial charter.

WEDDING BELLS

YAN BLARICOM — VANDEWATER

A quiet wedding was solemnized at Regina on Saturday, June 12th, when E. W. Van Blaricom, barrister, of this town, was married to Miss Kathleen Vandewater, of Belleville, Ont.

Mr. Van Blaricom returned to Tisdale early in the week and will shortly be joined by his wife, who, after the wedding, left for a two weeks' visit to her home in the east. The newly married couple will reside in their newly built home next to the Methodist church. Congratulations have been showered upon the happy groom since his return.—Tisdale Recorder.

SINE — McCULLOUGH

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding on June 30th, at 8.30 p.m., when Miss Jeanne Perry McCullough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McCullough, of Lonsdale, was united in holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Harry Sine, of Shannonville. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, and wore a suit of navy serge and a picture-hat of georgette to match, and carried a corsage bouquet of American Beauty roses and maiden hair fern. The bride was attended by Miss H. C. Wyatt (nurse-in-training), who wore a suit of navy serge and carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses. The groom was attended by Mr. D. Norman, Toronto.

After the ceremony the happy couple left for a short tour to Brockville and points east. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl necklace with amethyst setting; to the bridesmaid, a pearl bar pin; to the groomsmen, a pearl tie-pin. Both were very popular in social functions in the community. The bride was a nurse-in-training at Belleville General Hospital, and we all join in wishing them a long and happy wedded life.

YOUNG — BUNTON

At Port Hope on Wednesday, June 13th, 1920, a quiet but pretty wedding took place at the home of Mrs. Buntion, Blooms Grove, Ave., when her youngest daughter, Lauretta M., was married to Mr. Gilbert Young, of Toronto. The bride was given away by her mother and the ceremony which was performed by the Rev. C. Sinclair Applegath, took place in the living room, the decorations being pink roses, peonies and ferns. After the wedding breakfast, Mr. and Mrs. Young left for their home in Toronto, the bride wearing a tailored suit of navy blue serge with a georgette blouse to match and black mohair hat.

The presents were numerous and costly, showing the high esteem in which the bride was held, among them being a cut glass comport from the Methodist Church Choir of which she was a member.

Miss Bunton is a sister of Mr. G. W. Bunton of this city.

WALMSLEY — EVERLEIGH

A quiet wedding took place at the church of St. Mary Magdalene, Picton, on Wednesday, June 23rd, by the Rev. Louis Barber, when Bernice, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Everleigh, was united in marriage to Joseph H. Walmsley, Waupoos. The bride looked very smart in a navy serge suit with hat to match and carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses and maiden-hair fern.

Miss Madeline Arthurs was bridesmaid and wore a navy blue tricot suit and large black hat and carried a bouquet of carnations. Mr. Percy Whattam did honors for the groom. After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where a wedding luncheon was served. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold wrist watch, to the bridesmaid, an Onyx ring and to the groomsmen, a pair of cuff links. Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Walmsley motored to their future home at Waupoos.—Picton Gazette.

McGIBBON — FOSTER

A quiet wedding of considerable interest in local circles was solemnized on Monday evening last at the Mission House, Bancroft, by the Rev. H. R. Pettam, L. Th. The contracting parties being Miss Hazel Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Foster of this village and Mr. Alex. McGibbon, one of North Hastings returned soldiers, Furri. Mrs. W. Foster, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid while the groom found assistance in Mr. Norman McGhee as groomsmen. The bride looked becomingly attired in a dress of white crepe-de-chino, a dress of the bridesmaid wore a beautiful dress of white lace. After the marriage ceremony, the wedding party returned to the home of the bride, where a sumptuous wedding dinner was served. The young people of the town tendered the bride and groom a ball and shower in the Town Hall at which many costly presents were received. Their many friends wish them happiness and prosperity through life as they take up life's burdens together on the groom's farm in Turfiff. Congratulations.—Bancroft Times.

NICOLSON — BRONSON

The Methodist parsonage, Eldorado, was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding on June 23rd, when Miss Mary Bronson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Bronson, became the bride of Donald Charles Nicolson. The nuptial ceremony was conducted by Rev. A. C. Hie in the presence of only a few immediate relatives.

Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple, amid showers of confetti and good wishes, left to spend their honeymoon at Toronto and other western points. On their return they will reside on Mr. Nicolson's farm in Madoc township. Engineer Smith Injured

Head Cut While Preparing to Take Water at Frankford

Tuesday afternoon Engineer Smith, Murphy Street, of Canadian Northern Express, had the misfortune to be struck on the head by the swinging pipe of the water tank at Frankford on his homeward trip. The swinging pipe which supplies the water into the tender had been left too low and close to the tracks by the train ahead and when Engineer Smith put his head out of the cab he received a severe stroke just above the left eye, cutting clean to the bone. Mr. Smith was bewildered by the blow for some time and fell back into his cab. The heavy flow of blood was sufficient to greatly weaken him; but he rallied sufficiently to proceed home with his train. On arrival in Trenton medical aid was summoned and wound dressed. Mr. Smith will be off duty for a few days on account of the accident.—Trenton Advocate.

Blind Girl Has Received Sight

Many Cures Wrought in Ottawa by Healer Hickson.

OTTAWA, July 3.—Following the visit of J. M. Hickson, the church of England layman, who has earned for himself recognition as a "healer," one young girl afflicted from birth with blindness can see and several other cases of physical ailment and disability have been reported cured or on the way to recovery.

A woman subject to epileptic fits for eleven years is reported absolutely cured and another is reported on the way to recovery after having suffered a nervous breakdown as the result of pain from a growth on her left eye.

One reputed instantaneous cure is that of a young girl who was a cripple. The name of the young woman in the case has not been divulged, but the story is vouched for by Mr. Alvarez Pereira, 92 Marlborough Ave., Organist and Choir Master of St. Albans, who officiated at the service.

"I helped the girl up the steps to the chancel rail," said Mr. Pereira. "She was lame and walked with great difficulty so it was necessary for me to place my hands under her arms and help her. A few minutes after Mr. Hickson prayed over her and placed her hands on her head, she walked down the aisle with her crutches in her left hand."

The Sexton of St. Albans also verifies the incident. "I helped her into the church," he said, "and I saw her come out and get into her carriage without using the crutches."

Sarah Houston Killed in Auto Mishap

TWEED, July 3.—It is our sad duty to announce this week the death of Miss Sarah Alice Houston, accidentally killed Friday night at Glenboro, the result of her brother's car turning over an embankment.

Dr. Houston, his wife and boy and Miss Houston, had been spending the evening at a friend's home in the country, and while returning to town about 10 p.m. the lights of the car became defective while climbing a hill, and owing to the poor light the road was not discernable going down the other side, and they were partly off the track which took them near the edge of the embankment. Dr. Houston did not notice this until the wheel caught a few shrubs, and while turning quickly to regain the road the car turned over, confining the three of them under it, the little boy being thrown clear. Dr. Houston heard Donald calling in the dark outside the car, and told him to open the door, which the child, with great presence of mind, being only four years old, immediately did, allowing Dr. Houston and his wife to escape, but the car had to be lifted completely back to free Miss Houston, but they found that she was beyond medical aid. Mrs. Houston stayed with the body while her husband walked two miles to phone for Dr. Cartmell, of Glenboro, who was at the scene of the accident in a very short time, but found that nothing could be done.

Deceased was well known in Carman and district, having been born and raised there, and had just reached the prime of her life, being at the age of 23 years, 8 months, 13 days.

The remains were brought to Carman Saturday night, the funeral taking place from the residence of her parents on Monday. A large crowd of relatives and friends attended the funeral service, which was held at the house, a great number having to remain outside. Rev. Hugh Hamilton, pastor of St. Andrew's Church, conducted the funeral service. The burial service was read by Mrs. W. H. Hibbert, Mrs. D. Kerr and Mrs. J. Morrison, members of the local Rebekah Lodge of which deceased had been a member for several years.

Very conspicuous and numerous were the beautiful floral tributes which adorned the casket, and the cortege which followed the remains to their last resting place constituted over a hundred automobiles and buggies.

Besides her parents, she is survived by one sister, Mrs. Geo. Skinner, of Roland, and two brothers, Dr. Jos. of Glenboro, and James of Carman. Another brother, Capt. William, was killed in the late war while serving with the Army Vet. Corps. The deceased was a relative of Mr. John Houston and Mrs. (Dr.) Kindred.

Farmer Solved Labor Problem

Kept Helper by Threats to Have Him Drafted

LINDSAY, July 3.—An important judgment was handed out by Judge Swayze, Saturday, when he allowed George Miller, a hired hand, $200 and full costs in lieu of six months' wages which the plaintiff claimed was due him.

The defendant, Ben White, of Emily Township, claimed that Miller agreed to work for his keep and clothes. On the other hand, Miller claimed that White intimidated him during the years of the war by threatening to tell the military authorities that he was evading the draft.

Hastings Pioneer Passes on

At his home in Rawdon, Hastings county, Henry Brown passed away. He had been associated with the development of Hastings county for more than three-quarters of a century. He was born nine years before Belleville was incorporated as a town. As a boy, he saw the county beginning to make its first gravel roads, and where now the farmers speed along over good macadamized roads in comfortable motor cars, Mr. Brown, as a boy, rode behind a plodding ox-team to the Belleville market.

The funeral service was held in St. Mark's Church, Rawdon, of which Mr. Brown had been a member from the time of its construction. Rev. Mr. Morton the rector, officiated, and Rev. C. M. Harris, rector of Marmora, who for nearly half a century had formerly been in charge of St. Mark's, spoke feelingly of his long and cherished association in church work with his deceased parishioner. Mr. Brown is survived by his wife and seven children.
