...en, Mr. Askew. I guess Brousseau wasn't paying all those heads at Ste. Marie and pretending to walk his limits just to jump your timber again. I knew he had something up his sleeve, but I didn't know what. I knew there wasn't no gold round here.

The man looked at each other, and the same unspoken question was in the eyes of each. Then Lefa grabbed Hilary by the shoulder. "See here!" he said. "We ain't going to stay and fight Brousseau's rans for the fun of it. I guess it's Pierre and Leblanc in that boat all right, and that they're on their way home. We beat it for ours as hard as we can go—see? You ain't fit to do no more fighting anyway," he pleaded. "And I won't, no matter what happens—that's straight to you. I'll fight any man with fists if I got to, but I'm darned if I'll stand up against that scum with camp knives."

owing tide the ex-jobber scrambled aboard, dripping, and pushed off with the oar. Late and Hilary stood, baffled, upon the brink of the water, while Leblanc, at an ever increasing distance, began to put up the sail, shouting back defiant curses meanwhile.

"Let's go," said Hilary, and he took Marie gently by the arm. She went with him obediently, and Lefa followed with Nanette, whose lip was bloody from Leblanc's blow.

"That's the whole game, sir. He knew you'd hit upon this one sooner or later, though he'd left the island off the map of the seignior. Look, what a luff I was not to have known!"

"There's more to it than that, Lefa. That's why he tried to draw us off the subject of the river boundary. He thought that if he could get into a fight with us over that we wouldn't be thinking of the island. And this mine belongs to Rosny. I wonder Brousseau wasn't the seignior!"

"It's as good as a play," said Lefa. "It gives us the trump card," said Hilary. "It means that he'll lose his hold over him, and—well, Lefa, I feel too happy to say any more about it."

"I did not know, monsieur," said Nanette. "Pierre told me that I bring her he would get me back my sweetheart."

"You're quite right, Lefa," answered Hilary. "Come, let's get to the boat as quick as we can."

But as they started, there rang out a woman's cry. Again came the scream; and in an instant, forgetful of their resolution, they had turned and raced back along the trail.

He had been ungrateful to him, monsieur. And now I am not worthy that I should have anything to do with him.

The black shadow of the wharf began to project out of the shore line, with Baptiste's schooner moored alongside. Lights of lanterns were moving, and as the sloop drew near Hilary perceived a little group of people near the wharf.

Her eyes, lighting upon Marie's face, and then Nanette's, sought Hilary's in astonishment. But she asked nothing and waited, tier nana, which was rested upon his arm, remained there. But whereas it had been a living warmth at her, it now felt cold and heavy, and lifeless.

"Where will you take me after the estate changes hands? I cannot remain in St. Boniface, nor can I remain with you and the American. I am too old to go anywhere but to the grave."

"Well, why not?" she thought with intense bitterness, as she listened. "Have I any other duty now, save to my father?"

"Let me get at him," she panted. "I watched them. I waited. I did not sleep. He took her last night to the island. I swore to kill him. Let me go!"

"I never remembered what it was he said—implying, Madeleine said nothing. Nothing until she reached the carriage step. Drops of blood marked her progress. There she paused and looked at him. He could see her face in the light of the boy's lantern."

...ne never remembered what it was he said—implying, Madeleine said nothing. Nothing until she reached the carriage step. Drops of blood marked her progress. There she paused and looked at him. He could see her face in the light of the boy's lantern.

...ne wheels were moving before Hilary could grasp the scene, bring it home to his consciousness. And afterward he remembered that he ran beside the carriage, senselessly calling to her to let him bind her arm. He must have been half way through the village before his reason came back to him.

CHAPTER XIV.
A Letter From Morris.

The weather continued mild, and Hilary's financial prospects continued to improve. There was every likelihood now of being able to carry on through the winter. Brousseau had showed no signs of further interference with his men, and there was even the possibility of getting out another small loan.

Hilary had sent Nanette home to St. Joseph. She had promised to write to him, but, as he had expected, he had not heard from her. Baptiste had thrown up his position with Dupont and gone into the Ste. Marie limits to trap Marie Dupont and Hilary; he had not seen her since the day of their adventure.

"What had happened was this: The seigneur had not given his daughter any sign of remembrance of the events that had transpired immediately before his stroke, though he was in other respects normal, save for the paralysis of the left side. But as the weeks went by he grew more and more nervous and depressed, until one night he blurted out:

"Where will you take me after the estate changes hands? I cannot remain in St. Boniface, nor can I remain with you and the American. I am too old to go anywhere but to the grave."

She never doubted her judgment of Hilary. The story had been divined later by Brousseau since Hilary's first visit to Ste. Marie. She had heard it from tradesmen's wives, the postmistress, until their attachment and fervency, and she had scorned to think of its possibility until that night.

"I want you for my wife," said Brousseau. "You know that. Yes, Brousseau." "You know that. Yes, Brousseau."

...ne wheels were moving before Hilary could grasp the scene, bring it home to his consciousness. And afterward he remembered that he ran beside the carriage, senselessly calling to her to let him bind her arm. He must have been half way through the village before his reason came back to him.

will wait until his death to own the seignior. It won't take long," she ended, with a flicker of scorn.

He rose to embrace her, but she stepped away from him. "Not until we are married, Edouard," she said. Brousseau winced now. "It almost looks as if you didn't love me," he muttered in disgust.

"This is the contract with Leblanc to cut on the St. Boniface limits," he said. "So there's no mistake as to what you own in the river."

"Here's another document that makes interesting reading," continued Hilary, handing it to him.

"It's Lamartine's acknowledgment of fifty thousand dollars received from Rosny for fifty shares in the North Empire Development company, one of Brousseau's interests. Now look at this one. Lamartine is remitting five thousand dollars less the broker's charges for the sale of fifty shares, dated March 9, 1913. Now here's a stock market clipping from a newspaper of March 4, showing the stock at $875."

"That's where we've got him, Lefa. Lamartine's letter proves nothing, but Morris got hold of Rosny's acknowledgment, probably for blackmailing purposes, and it shows Brousseau has swindled Rosny out of $37,000 on that deal. Probably there were others. That's where his money went."

know. You could have saved Mamzelle Rosny from sacrificing herself this way. You can save her, and you're going to.

"I wouldn't let that stand in my way," said Lefa emphatically. "I don't think you'd really use that means of clearing yourself, if you were I, Lefa. And, besides, that she had my promise to say nothing, and that settles the matter. No, Lefa, you're talking nonsense."

"Maybe I am," said Lefa stubbornly. "But I ain't going to see your happiness wrecked because two women haven't the sense and the heart to clear you. And I'm going to do it!"

"That's the way all quietest talk," said Lefa. Hilary's nerves were gone, of course. Lefa knew that the last lap of the race was the grueling one. Hilary needed help, that was all. Lefa grew crafty with his ideas.

"Well, you're boss, of course," he said reluctantly. "If you've made up your mind, it ain't for me to interfere. When are you leaving, sir?"

"I shall go out with Dupont when he takes his last load," answered Hilary. "That'll be Friday. We can't have the logs through the mill before then. Dupont doesn't know yet?"

office. It was going to be winter now, he reflected, and, if Hilary could be held only three days, there could be no question of an immediate journey to Quebec.

Reaching the waste of open ground before the Chateau, he saw that a sleigh had been there that day; possibly it was in the stall that she held rang the bell, nodded to Kohllie, who opened the door, disregarding his incomprehensible address, which seemed to negative Lefa's wish to enter, and went by instinct into the living room at the end of the hall for the first time in his life.

He tapped at the door, but there came no answer. He knocked more loudly, and went in without waiting for it. He discovered the seigneur in a big leather chair before the huge glowing fire, Madeleine standing beside him and Edouard Brousseau a short distance away. There was an atmosphere of immediate constraint, as if Lefa's appearance had interrupted a tense interview. Lefa sensed it, but he did not care. He could hardly believe his luck. He had wanted Brousseau there badly, but he had not hoped to meet him.

"That's the way all quietest talk," said Lefa. Hilary's nerves were gone, of course. Lefa knew that the last lap of the race was the grueling one. Hilary needed help, that was all. Lefa grew crafty with his ideas.

"A friend told me of Dodd's Kidney Pills and of their great value. I tried one box and they helped me. I have now taken three boxes and they have done me so much good I feel I owe my life to them."

A Collection of Quaint Epitaphs

Poetry and Near-Poetry—Business and Christian Resignation Combined

Tourists in the older lands who desire to add interest to their travels should not forget that one way of doing so is epitaph-hunting. Old churchyards and abbeys furnish curious specimens. Some are serious, others are amusing, and nearly all are interesting.

Wandering through the older part of the Glasgow Necropolis, about fifteen yards from the cathedral, I came across the following laudatory and comprehensive summary of a woman's virtues:

Ye gazers on this trophie Of a tomb, send out one grone For want of her, whose life Once born of earth, And now lies In earth's wombe. Liv'd long a virgin Then a spotless wife Here lies enclosed Man's griefe, earth's loss

You will observe that there is an attempt at rhyme, although grammar and punctuation have not worried the author.

It would repay a tourist if, whilst visiting the North of Ireland, he would make an effort to see Helen's Tower, which is situated about five miles from Bangor. The Tower was built by the Earl of Dufferin in memory of his mother so extensively known by her poems and ballads as Lady Dufferin. It is on the summit of a thickly-wooded hill overlooking Friend's paine, Religion's lampe, Virtues light, Heaven's gain.

The above fills up one part of an enormous carved stone and one would imagine that sufficient had been said, but not so the bereaved. The other part of the stone is devoted to lines of a similar character. So beautiful a life had she lived that the writer is constrained to say that "Adam's blood bemoans her loss."

The epitaph, written after the death of Doctor Peter Lowe, the founder of the Faculty of Surgeons and Physicians, has been well preserved in the same Necropolis. The words on the tomb have been re-inscribed, and the copy of them is kept in a prominent part of the Cathedral. The lines are quaint, and the sentiment excellent:

Stay Passenger and view this stone For under it lies such a one Who cured many while he lived; So gracious he, no man grieved; Yes, when his physick's force oft failed His pleasant purpose then prevailed; For of God he got the grace To live in mirth and die in peace. Heaven has his soul, his corpse Dies into the sand from which it sprang; But thine, Love's rock-built Tower, shall fear no change. God's self laid stable earth's foundations so. When all the morning stars together sang.

Dr. Lowe, evidently was a physician of good cheer, which, no doubt, cured when his drugs failed. The lesson to all is a visitor.

When a visitor goes to Belfast, Ireland, one of the places of interest that he will be directed to inspect will be an Abbey, called Grey Abbey, a few miles out of town. This place of worship was built, so I was informed, in the 12th century by a daughter of one of the Kings of the Isle of Man, in grateful remembrance of being rescued from a turbulent sea. It has been in the possession of the Montgomeries for centuries. Among the ruins are stones placed in the walls to commemorate deceased Montgomeries. The epitaph and apostrophe of one of them struck me as being worth jotting down partly on account of obscurity of thought and quaintness of language:

Epitaphion, 12 March 1654. Sir James who pirates shot and there of dead; By them it the sea solemnly buried. Apostrophe. To the sub-earial elements Devouring Hades, the ever-hungry earth Would'st and shall eat up all that's of thy birth

Fa'n in thy lap by death of any kind But whom the waters drink, and lost day fine. Step then to 1st Cor. XV. 31. I have more written in my notebook concerning this worthy, but I think it wise to stop at "Step then."

Another inscription in the same vicinity is that to commemorate the memory of a certain Jean Hay. I give it as it is recorded:

"Here lies Jean Hay who night and day was honest good and just, her hope and joye was from above in which place was her trust, her spirit left her terrane part with joy to God where was her hart on the 4 day of Jan'y, 1787."

You will observe that there is an attempt at rhyme, although grammar and punctuation have not worried the author.

It would repay a tourist if, whilst visiting the North of Ireland, he would make an effort to see Helen's Tower, which is situated about five miles from Bangor. The Tower was built by the Earl of Dufferin in memory of his mother so extensively known by her poems and ballads as Lady Dufferin. It is on the summit of a thickly-wooded hill overlooking the Glendohoye Demesne. From its great height, on a clear day, one can see Belfast Lough, the Antrim Hills, the Irish Sea, the Islands of Arran and Ailsa Craig, as well as coasts of Arr, Wight, and the Isle of Man.

In the reception room of this Tower, a glance reveals that Robert Brown, Lord Houghton, Lord Tennyson and Rudyard Kipling have made it the subject matter for their genius, for verses of the afore-mentioned are copied on plates mounted in panels in this room. I transcribe Brown's inscription which reveals the hall-mark of his genius:

HELEN'S TOWER Who hears of Helen's Tower, may dream perchance How the Greek beauty from the Scaean Gate Gazed on old friends unanimous in hate. Death-foam'd because of her fair countenance. Hearts would leap otherwise at thy advance Lady to whom this Tower is consecrated! Like hers, thy face once made all eyes elate Yet, unlike hers, was blessed by every glance.

The Tower of Hate is outworn, far and strange; A transitory shame of long ago, It dies into the sand from which it sprang; But thine, Love's rock-built Tower, shall fear no change. God's self laid stable earth's foundations so. When all the morning stars together sang. A correspondent to one of London weeklies says that in Kingsbridge, S. Devon, there is an amusing epitaph to one Bone Philip:

"Here lie I at the chancel door. Here lie I because I am poor. The further in the more you pay. But here lie I as warm as they." The following on a husband and wife, on the same stone, are very good:

"I am anxiously expecting you, A. D. 1827." "Here I am, A.D. 1867." In T. P.'s Weekly, some time ago, there was given an epitaph on a publican, in which advertisement and Christian resignation are exquisitely contained:

"Here lies the landlord of The Lion; He's buried here in hope of Zion. His wife, resigned to Heaven's will, Carries on the business still." A correspondent to the same paper says he copied one from "Cornish Notes and Queries." It is clever, and the question is pertinent, perhaps impudent. The epitaph is over the grave of a child:

"If I was so soon to be done for I wonder what I was begun for?" Like many another child's question, it will remain unanswered.—C. L. Cowan.

Railroad Officials Pass Hat and Send Boy Trampers Home

Toronto Knights Started to Walk From Montreal to Queen City

Brockville, Aug. 21.—Wearied by six days' constant tramping over the ties, their shoes practically worn off their feet, their stomachs and their pockets empty and with over 250 miles of their contemplated "hike" remaining to be covered, Willie Darrock, 14 of 30 Maud street, Toronto, and Armand Mance, 11, of 21 Centre avenue, same city, were picked up Tuesday evening by G.T.R. detectives W. V. Haslam and E. Allan at Wales station. Wednesday afternoon thanks to the efforts exerted in their behalf by Brockville railroad officials they were sent on their way home rejoicing at their good fortune, clothed and fed, their fares paid and with eight dollars jingling in their pockets.

A few days ago the boys set out from Toronto to visit Mance's grandmother in Montreal. They travelled by train safely, but were disappointed to find that the woman was not there. Strange to say, Montreal did not suit them and, stranger still, they decided to return to Toronto. With the sum of one dollar as their combined capital, a healthy appetite, and absolute confidence, they set out to walk home, a distance of 334 miles. This was on Wednesday of last week. For the first day all was plain sailing. They made fairly good progress, fed themselves through casual purchases in the village stores and at night slept in the waiting room of a station. The next day their capital vanished and when darkness fell, they were glad to drag themselves, hungry and worn out, to a shed beside the tracks. So it continued until Tuesday night, the boys leading a hand-to-mouth existence and becoming more and more exhausted. The elder boy several times proposed that they should jump aboard moving freight trains, but was dissuaded from doing so by his comrade who, although the junior of the two, appears to have monopolized most of the grey matter of the party. He is able to speak three tongues, English, French and Italian.

Walked 77 Miles The boys had covered 77 miles on foot when discovered by the railway constables at Wales Tuesday night, and they looked like it. Mance's toes were protruding from his shoes and the nails practically ground off by contact with the gravel. They were covered with dust and railway grime, complained of a terrible emptiness in their mid-interior region and needed rest in the worst way. Fearing that the boys might meet with some mishap on the rails the constables brought them here and found them lodging for the night, at the same time relieving their other necessities.

Wednesday the question of the boys' disposal was taken up. Police Magistrate Page could take no action in the matter as the nominal offense with which they were charged, trespass, was committed outside his jurisdiction, in the county of Dundas. The constables then appealed to the Children's Aid Society, which suggested that the boys be returned to Cornwall and placed in the care of the Children's Aid there. Finally, as they were of the Roman Catholic faith, Rt. Rev. Monsignor Murray was approached and at once contributed towards purchasing tickets for the boys to go to Toronto. This plan met with the ready sympathy of Trainmaster George Cooper, Freight Agent F. A. Smith Hassard and other railway officials who subscribed a sum more than sufficient to pay the boys' fares and also replenished their wardrobes. Both of the boys are fatherless.

Another Man Would Shoot Over Falls

SHUBENACADIE, N. S., Aug. 19

Grim determination marks the preparations being made by William Barbrick, the local man, who is building a barrel to "shoot" Niagara Falls, and who will make application to the city next week.

Barbrick has adopted a motto which he says he has long believed in. The motto is: "What men have done, men can do." Lord of Creation. Barbrick says if another man made the trip in safety, he can do the same. He also says he was never defeated by a woman, and does not intend to allow it to be done now.

Barbrick, who is now engaged in farming, is said to have a splendid record in the British Merchant Marine, where he served during the greater part of the war. He is an experienced sailor. He said that if he made good at navigating through the waters mined by the Germans, that he should be able to "navigate" the Falls.

He is secretly guarding the plans for his barrel, which he says is entirely different from any yet made for such a trip. He refuses to let anyone see the barrel, with the exception of two friends, who are helping him to build it.

Wedding Bells

McKENNA — McNAMARA

St. Gregory's Church, Picton, was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding on Wednesday morning, when Miss Margaret McNamara and Mr. Arthur McKenna were united in marriage by Rev. Father Carson. The bride wore a navy blue travelling suit with leghorn hat to match and carried a corsage bouquet of sweet heart roses. Miss Helen Bond, who attended the bride, wore a turquoise blue suit, a black net hat with roses trimming, and bouquet of opelia roses. Mr. John Keogh assisted the groom. After the wedding breakfast the party motored to Belleville whence Mr. and Mrs. McKenna left for Ottawa and points east.—Picton Gazette.

HINEMAN — LINDSAY

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the parsonage by Rev. Alfred Brown, on Tuesday evening, August 10, the contracting parties being Elmer Hineman of Elmbrooke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hineman, and Miss Ena Lindsay, Belfast, Ireland. The bride was dressed in a fawn Jersey travelling suit with black hat touched with yellow. After the wedding ceremony the bridal couple returned to the home of the groom's sister, Mrs. William Connors, Church street, where a sumptuous wedding repast was served. The happy couple were the recipients of many beautiful presents, showing the esteem in which they are held. Mr. and Mrs. Hineman will take up residence at Elmbrooke.—Picton Times.

TRIMBLE — CONNORS

A quiet wedding took place at North Toronto when Miss Marjorie Connors, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Connors, Toronto, became the wife of Herbert Trimble, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Trimble, Picton, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Trimble, Toronto. The ceremony which was performed by Rev. Father Dollard, was witnessed by only the immediate relatives of the contracting couple. They left for Montreal on their wedding trip, after which they will reside in Picton.—Picton Times.

WEARY TITANS IN THE LAST DITCH

By J. E. Middleton

Public ownership and development of water-power resources is a settled policy in Ontario. Again and again in all parts of the Province the electors have given proof of their confidence in the principle, and in the method of administration as provided in the enabling legislation.

The Hydro-Electric Power Commission is able to present a record of public support. After ten years of activity, marked by great expansion of the electric-power business, the Commission is able to present an administrative, engineering and financial record which is impregnable.

That record confirms the judgment of the courageous men who argued in all parts of the Province the necessity of natural power resources and gave the electors an understanding of its bearing upon the industrial progress of the Province.

Surely it is time for the weary Titans still opposing Public Ownership and operation of electrical utilities to climb out of the "last ditch," dust off their garments and go home in peace. Public sentiment is too strong for them. They can never break the "Hydro" lines. It is true that they can maintain a guerrilla warfare for some years—but what is the use? Their strategy of trying to frighten the ratepayers has utterly failed. Their tactics of "discovering" serious faults in the characters of Public Ownership leaders have been without avail.

In the early stages of the campaign of education the electors were assured positively that the estimates of the "Hydro" engineers were absurd. They were told that a public body could never approach a private corporation in economical administration or in general efficiency. They were warned that "interference" with the legitimate business of private capital would utterly destroy the credit of the Province and the municipalities and would saddle the people with a great load of unproductive debt. Many other declarations, similarly ill-founded, were made. Yet the electors of property and responsibility—those qualified to vote on money by-laws—stood behind the "Hydro" and gave it a chance to "make good."

No one can deny that the enterprise has been successful. Despite the financial and economic uncertainty which followed the declaration of war, despite the scarcity of labor, high prices of labor and materials, the sudden rise of the munitions industry and its equally sudden cessation, the Hydro enterprise in every detail has proved itself in the eyes of all reasonable men. The System has been self-sustaining and more. Not one cent of municipal or Provincial taxation has been levied for its support. Great reserves have been built up. Objections have been met promptly and the public of the service has come to the approval of common sense.

Surely now the "last-ditch" might give themselves and the country a rest.

Jumping from a second storey window to escape a rejected auditor, Mary Velloto, 19, Lyndhurst, N.J., fell on a picket fence and while crawling away to hide was shot and killed by him.

During the week ending August 2, anthracite coal production in the U.S. was 1,757,000 tons compared with 1,870,000 tons same week last year. Output to date is 52,318,000 tons, against 49,177,000 for corresponding period last year.

National Safety Council declares a person is killed by an automobile every 35 minutes and that three times as many persons are killed by motor accidents as in all factories, mines, railroads and other industries in the U.S.

Then it seems he became afraid and left town. He was arrested yesterday. The authorities are satisfied that his intentions were all right.

SUGGESTION OF DREDGING

Our old River Moira appears to have pretty nearly gone dry, probably in sympathy with the rest of the country, and we would now call the attention of our Hydro Electric enthusiasts to witness the volume of water which is not coming down the river. We might also draw the attention of our Winter Ice Experts to the channel of the river which can be seen if you look carefully among the weeds. The City Council would be doing a valuable work these days when the water is low, by having some of the weeds and rubbish that has accumulated in past year dredged out so that the ice may have a chance of getting out when our next spring floods come along.

FREEMASONS PAY HONOR TO SIR GILBERT PARKER

Memorable Occasion at Masonic Temple Last Night—Traveller, Novelist, Empire Builder, and Brother Mason Welcomed By Hundreds of Craftsmen.

Masonry in Belleville is honoring Rt. Wor. Bro. Sir Gilbert Parker, of the Grand Lodge of England, last night honored the craft. The distinguished guest was a brother among his brethren at the Masonic Temple. This was his first appearance in Belleville as a Mason.

Freemasons of all ages flocked to the lodge room to do honor to the guest. Not only was Belleville represented but Masons from the surrounding district were also largely in evidence.

The occasion was memorable for young and old. The older brethren, many of them the closest friends of Sir Gilbert Parker in the old days, were represented in larger numbers than usual. To the younger brethren the occasion was an inspiration.

The reception took place in the lodge room. The company to the number of over two hundred then dined in the dining room. R. W. Bro. Col. S. S. Lazier occupied the chair. At his right sat Sir Gilbert, and R. W. Bro. Col. W. N. Ponton, Deputy Grand Master, and at the left Wor. Bro. Hon. Nelson Parliament, Speaker of the Legislature, and Bro. W. B. Northrup, Clerk of the House of Commons. Wor. Bro. D. Barrage was vice-chairman.

Eureka Lodge orchestra composed of Prof. Hunt, piano; M. Young, violin; W. Hart, clarinet; D. Brown, flute; H. A. Thompson, trombone; played a number of selections. Bro. James Booth sang the "Floral Dance" and Bro. H. Wrightmeyer, "The Skippers of St. Ives."

"The King." The pledge of "The King" was honored in royal Masonic fashion, with the singing of the National Anthem and cheers.

"Canada and The Empire." "This is to be a red letter day in Belleville," said the chairman, Col. S. S. Lazier. "The first sentiment I intend to give is 'Canada and the Empire and with it I couple the names of two distinguished Canadians—Bro. W. B. Northrup, and Hon. Nelson Parliament. What a proud feeling we ought to experience! Who would not be proud to be citizens of such an empire. We are proud of the position of Canada in the Empire."

After the toast had been honored Bro. W. B. Northrup, Clerk of the House of Commons, was accorded a stirring reception as he rose to speak. Mr. Northrup traced the history of civilization and said the center of world power was ultimately likely to rest in Canada, no country being as richly endowed by nature. Canadians' self respect made Canada enter the war, Britain has given us absolute liberty. We have paid nothing for Canada, for our naval protection. Britain spent $35,000,000 in English money on the fortifications of Quebec. What will be our future? It has been laid down that the Dominions differ only in stature, not in stature. It is perfectly certain that the ties that bind us to the Motherland will be increased in number. Britain can have only a limited population, but there is no reason why Canada should not have a population of a couple of hundred millions if we live up to our ideals. Perhaps the King may live in Canada in the course of time and ultimately a prince will be born in Canada.

The Hon. Nelson Parliament, Speaker of the Ontario Legislature, declared that a debt of gratitude was owing to those pioneers who helped in moulding the ties to the Motherland. "I think that in the next war, we will take a greater part than in the war just ended, for I don't think the last war has been fought. Great Britain has been great by reason of the doggedness and uprightness of her citizens. Rich as are our resources our greatest asset is our citizens."

"We have had warlike struggles, but we must face struggles in the political, religious and social worlds. We honor Britain more than ever in the past for her part in the war. Our immediate concern is to develop Canada for the sake of the empire which must prevail. We must live up to a high standard and thus we shall have rendered service to our country, our God and to ourselves."

"Col. Ponton is an empire-builder at home," said the chairman introducing the deputy grand master, who was to propose the toast to the guest.

R. W. Bro. Col. Ponton, in his opening remarks referred to the friendship of Masonry. He pointed out the unique position occupied by Sir Gilbert Parker. "Have we not realized that he is the link. He has kept in touch with Quebec. Sometimes we may fuss, but it is always in the family. That is the way with Sir Gilbert Parker. We would like you to tell those in England that we can sing 'Rule Britannia' as well as in England, and Scotland. We remember the absent brethren. We also remember our dead. We in our lodges never forget those immortals who have passed beyond our ken."

The Deputy Grand Master put an Irishman to the credit of Sir Gilbert, who is said to have been asked if he were born in Belleville. "No I was not born in Belleville, but I was born in the district 'contagious' thereto." (Laughter.) Col. Ponton declared that the Masons of Belleville included Lady Parker and Miss Josephine Parker in the welcome. Col. Ponton referred to a banquet in Quinte Hotel in Belleville in January 1902, when Sir Gilbert was welcomed home.

The University of Toronto has honored Sir Gilbert as one of the Imperial Press Conference. Among the letters received at the time of the Old Boys' Reunion was one from Mr. G. S. Wilson, who referred to the guest of the evening as a most distinguished and representative citizen.

"We pledge ourselves to give of our best with all our zest to the King and Country," said Col. Ponton, calling on the assembly to drink the health of "Our Guest in His Old Home."

In 1897 Mr. Bigelow told Sir Gilbert a story of the Kaiser as a school boy salting toy ships. He had said "When I come to throne I will have a fleet greater than Britain's. That was the Kaiser at 12 years of age."

Sir Gilbert referring to his affection for Belleville said "When my turn comes to go, I shall lie in the most beautiful grave yard in the world—that's the Belleville cemetery."

The guest referred to French Canada of which he had written stories emphasizing the life of the habitant. "It is no use despising French Canada. I don't forget that French Canada defeated the troops that were sent to capture Canada. Perhaps Quebec does not share all our imperial aspirations. I say this, 'If ever there should come a time when detachment is discussed the French Canadian will be the first to resent it.' He is as loyal as the U. E. Loyalist."

"Had I lived in Canada, I should have opposed Sir Wilfrid Laurier. I attacked him in 1911 in the House of Commons on the reciprocity issue." Later Sir Wilfrid met Sir Gilbert as if nothing had happened. "Whatever I think of Laurier, I think he was a great man," said Sir John Williamson the other day. I think so too, said Sir Gilbert.

Sir John A. Macdonald, Sir Etienne Cartier, Sir Wilfrid Laurier will be known as the leading Canadians. When Sir Wilfrid Laurier became Prime Minister he set the seal on Confederation. Sir Gilbert said regarding the unrest in Indian and Egypt: "I for one believe that neither Egypt nor India will be taken away from the empire."

"We must never forget the thousands' tradition in England with the crowd. That is why I don't hope that the King of England will live in Ottawa as King of the Empire."

I do not think we should put ourselves in the position of being mortgaged to the United States. Canada has not a fleet, nor a large enough army to defend herself if attacked. I don't believe the United States will attack. But we must not cease our military training. For myself I don't believe that war has ceased. To prevent war is one of the greatest duties of every citizen of the empire. The King is our representative. He holds in his hand the only tie of empire—simple yet enduring as time itself. I will never believe, the empire will fall to pieces. Right, Liberty and Justice are enthroned in the person of King George the Fifth. We have in the Prince of Wales a very valuable asset to the Empire."

Sir Gilbert said he held four degrees in Canada from Trinity, Laval, McGill and Toronto Universities. "Canada has honored me much, but no honor has given me such pleasure as your welcome here tonight."

"It is my privilege and it is my pleasure to propose the toast of the three lodges of Belleville—Moira, The Belleville and Eureka. The Lodges of Belleville."

The toast of the lodges was drunk and W. Bro. Dr. J. W. Kinneer, Wor. Bro. D. Barrage and R. W. Bro. F. E. O'Flynn responded. "There is no man that Canada owes more to than Sir Gilbert Parker," said Mr. O'Flynn "for he made Canada known to the world before the Great War."

Bro. John Elliott proposed the toast of the City of Belleville, to which Aid. Bone responded, referring to the city's improvements undertaken by the Council and Chamber of Commerce.

At the request of Col. Ponton, Sir Gilbert Parker proposed the health of the chairman, Col. Lazier responded gracefully to the pledge. A memorable night closed with the singing of And Lang Syne and the clapping of hands, followed by the National Anthem.

During the evening Sir Gilbert told several admirable stories, revealing all the genius of the raconteur that he is. His style of speaking impressed the assembly. He is sincere, deliberate and yet passionate, his language being concrete and not too highly decorated.

Rt. Wor. Bro. Nixon, was a visitor in the city last evening. On Wednesday afternoon about thirty brethren with Sir Gilbert Parker, as their guest, toured Prince Edward County, visiting Wausop, Glenora, Picton and other points of interest along the most beautiful of drives. Ten Princes Edward brethren joined the party. The company dined with Mayor Newman of Picton, at the Royal Hotel. The party returned to the city at eight o'clock.

Electrocuted at Windsor For St. Michael's

Tragic Close to Life of Leon Goyer, of Belleville.

The news of the death of William Leon Goyer, of Belleville by electrocution in Copeland's Garage at Windsor yesterday came as a great shock to his many friends. The news arrived during the afternoon and was imparted to members of the family at St. Michael's picnic where two brothers were playing ball and another playing in the orchestra.

The late William Leon Goyer was born in Belleville 23 years ago and was a son of the late Augustus Goyer. He spent the greater part of his life here. He leaves besides his mother, six brothers, Frank, Fred, Archie, Joseph, Lawrence and Charles of this city and three sisters, Mrs. Leslie Powell, Bay Point, Calif., Mrs. Smith, Montreal and Miss Helen Goyer at home. He was a member of St. Michael's Church and was a fine type of young man. The deepest sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.

The remains will arrive here tonight and be taken to his late home, 81 South George St.

A despatch says: Windsor, Aug. 18.—A grounded steel cable used in operating an automobile elevator in Copeland's garage, caused the death of Leon Goyer, an employe, today. Goyer had grasped the cable in such a way that he received the full force of more than 500 volts of electricity through his body. He was living when help arrived, but died a few minutes after medical aid arrived.

Two Children Killed and Mother Injured at Trenton.

TRENTON, Aug. 17.—A sad fatality occurred at 10.30 this morning at a Canadian National Railway crossing in the west end of the town, when a Grand Trunk train No. 10 struck a car driven by L. A. It seems that the car was being driven to the races at Trenton. The accident occurred on the crossing near the C.N.R. roundhouse.

Fine Weather For St. Michael's

Annual Outing Was an Unqualified Success—Attendance Large.

Fine weather, big crowds, an elaborate program, financial success and a general good time were the features of St. Michael's annual picnic yesterday in the Pine Grove. From early morning until ten-thirty the grounds were the scene of great activity. Booths flourished everywhere.

The new pavilion which Father Killeen had erected for dancing was much admired. The floor is of hardwood and the space is sufficient to accommodate the largest of crowds. Many danced the light fantastic to the strains of the Sills orchestra.

The dancing hall was naturally the place where congestion was the greatest. A fine spread was set before the hundreds who partook of the meals at noon and in the evening. Prices were most reasonable, the supply of viands ample, and everything testified as to the excellent culinary qualities of the ladies of St. Michael's parish.

Under the direction of Mr. J. Fitzgerald and Mr. S. Flagger, a series of games were run off with the following results:

- Girls' 8 years and under: 1. Kathleen Quinn. 2. Lena O'Neill. 3. E. Ethier and A. Hughes (tie).
- Boys' 8 years and under: 1. J. Murphy. 2. H. Doran. 3. L. Connolly.

St. Francis Club, of Toronto, played the G.T.R. of Belleville in a seven innings baseball match and won over the locals by 9 to 3. The G.T.R. team had started the game with a great handicap and were unable to overtake it. Freddy Goyer and Frank Goyer, a second baseman, started in the game and had played until two men of St. Francis' team were out, when the news arrived that their brother, Leon, had been killed in an accident in Windsor. The Goyer boys left the field and the message put a damper on the game, for the local men had little spirit in the match and the crowd was shocked by the calamity which had come upon the family of the Belleville G.T.R. pitcher and second baseman. Prior to the arrival of the telegram, the G.T.R. had staged a double play. Parker, without warning, took the pitcher's mound and had a streak of six hits. Six runs were scored. Kelleher took the ball for the rest of the game and only allowed three runs. He gave a fine performance of strike-outs. In the second the strikers scored once and in the seventh twice. Belleville's first score was in the fourth and in the sixth, Parker drove a long hit to right scoring Meagher and W. Mills. The game was left unfinished at the end of the seventh innings when the visiting players had to leave for their train.

Dr. O'Callaghan acted in the capacity of umpire. The teams were as follows: St. Francis—Dillon, r.f., Glynn, s.s., Conroy, l.f., Conlan, 2b., Beeson, 3b., Quimet, c.f., McCool, 1b., Britton, c., Morley, p. and second, G.T.R.—Ross, c.f. and 1b.

Grant Predicts Postponement of Operation of Adolescent Act—Town Unprepared—Will Likely Allow Further Period of Six Months to Get Ready.

TORONTO, Aug. 19.—That the operation of the adolescent school attendance act would be postponed, was the prediction made Monday afternoon by Hon. R. H. Grant, minister of education. This act, which calls for the compulsory attendance at school of adolescents from fourteen years to sixteen, as from September 1, 1921 and, in certain cases, to those between the ages of sixteen and eighteen years, from September, 1923, was made law by the lieutenant-governor a short time ago.

"It is not likely that the act will come into operation at the time set," stated Hon. Mr. Grant, "in fact I think that the time limit will have to be extended because the municipalities are not prepared, and evidently will not be prepared. We will probably give them a further time, perhaps six months, and we will expect them to be prepared to enforce the act."

No difficulty is expected in regard to the attendance of adolescents between the ages of sixteen and eighteen years, as the time set for this is September, 1923. In the case of these, the attendance will be only for a certain number of hours a year and will be largely utilized for technical training at night.

Lineman Touches Live Wire and Meets Death

Was Repairing Transformer North of Oshawa Saturday, Following Storm—Last Words to Companions Below "I'm Alright"—Home Near Belleville.

OSHAWA, Aug. 19.—Death came almost instantaneously to Charles W. Wilmes, a hydro lineman, on Saturday afternoon when he accidentally came in contact with a live wire while repairing a blown-out transformer near Oshawa. Although 2000 volts had passed through his body he was still able to call to his companions below that he was "alright," but his heart gave out immediately afterward and his lifeless body fell back into the safety belt.

Repairing Storm Damage. Along with John Ashby and A. Colson, fellow employees of the Hydro Electric Power Commission of Ontario, stationed at Oshawa, Wilmes was sent out to repair a blown out transformer in front of the farm of John Guy, near the McLaughlin farm, north of Oshawa on Saturday night. The transformer was blown out by the storm "that passed over Oshawa that afternoon. Wilman, who went up the pole to which the transformer was attached, was fully protected with all the lineman's most modern apparatus, and though he was not careless, his arm accidentally came in contact with the live wire. Artificial means of resuscitation were applied for two hours and a half but without avail. Unfortunately the telephones in that neighborhood were all out of commission at the time. The circuit was formed by the wet pole. Wilman was alone on the pole at the time of the accident. His two companions being on the ground below.

Death Purely Accidental. Dr. John Moore, of Brooklin was the first doctor on the scene and was followed by Coroner Dr. Rundle of Oshawa. The latter decided that the

Weekly Paper for Peterborough

Will be Known as The "Weekly Chronicle."

Peterborough is to have another weekly newspaper. "The Peterborough Weekly Chronicle," published by the Chronicle Publishing Company in the plant formerly occupied by the Merchants' Press. The new company is being backed principally by labour subscriptions, and T. Tooms, M.L.A., is managing director. A press and machinery have been purchased and are now being shipped, and it is expected that the first edition will be published on Saturday, 23rd August.

Mr. Tooms stated Tuesday afternoon that though the new paper is being published by capital subscribed by labour, it will treat labour problems only on a broad basis, and will publish all news without fear or favour, its editorial policy, Mr. Tooms said, would be based on broad and democratic principles.

The subscription list so far, according to Mr. Tooms, is satisfactory, as the various labour organisations are giving it their support. A job printing plant will be operated in connection with the paper, of which Mr. Alex. Miller is manager.

Worms in children work havoc. These pests attack the tender lining of the intestines, and, if left to pursue their ravages undisturbed, will ultimately perforate the wall, because these worms are of the hook variety that cling to and feed upon interior surfaces. Miller's Worm Powders will not only exterminate these worms, of whatever variety, but will serve to repair the injury they have done.

CAUSE OF SCAFFOLD'S COLLAPSE A MYSTERY

Inquest Into Death of Clavel C. Atkins Concluded

"That Clavel C. Atkins came to his death by the falling of a scaffold on which he was working while decorating St. Andrew's Church in the city of Belleville, and that there has been no evidence to show what caused the scaffold to give away and fall."

The above verdict was handed in to Coroner Dr. H. A. Yeomans last night by the jury.

Chas. F. Cochrane, associate of the late Clavel C. Atkins, was the main witness last night. His partnership with Mr. Atkins was not registered.

There was a big offering of apples, the prices ranging around one dollar per bushel.

Corn also marked a decline to 15 cents per dozen.

Large pumpkins have reached the market at 20 to 25c each. Vegetable marrowns range at 6 to 10c.

Meats are driving downward. Lamb is quoted at 90c; beef hind-quarters wholesale at 20c and fore-quarters at 15c; hogs bring $18.50 with no shipments, this week and further declines predicted.

The hide market has taken a further decline. Raw beef hides are quoted at 6 to 8 cents per pound, veal skins 10 to 12c, lamb pelts 25 to 50c.

The wool market is dormant. Red currants were offered today at 25c per box and gooseberries 20c per box.

Strawberry tomatoes sold at 15c per quart. Chickens were sold at $1.00 to $1.25 per pair.

Carrots, onions, beets, etc. sell at 5c per bunch, celery 5, 10 and 15c, large peppers bring 5c each. Crapapples sold today at 25c per peck.

Eggs were selling at 60c per dozen retail. Wholesalers pay 55 and 57 cents. Butter brought 70c.

Atkins' pot was on the scaffold, so that he would have to turn back to the scaffold to dip his brush. "I was standing for a few minutes at the extreme end of the plank, then I sat down, then I lay down full length with my head towards Atkins. There was no conversation then between Atkins and myself. I don't think I was lying there three minutes. The next I don't remember anything."

"Is that all the light you can throw on this?" "That is all I know."

"Do you think the accident was 'On my part?' Not that I know due to any carelessness?"

ATKINS' POT WAS ON THE SCAFFOLD, SO THAT HE WOULD HAVE TO TURN BACK TO THE SCAFFOLD TO DIP HIS BRUSH.

They took also private subscriptions for the same periodicals. A number of charges were against them, but only three were tried, viz., of obtaining subscription rates from O. Brown, C. Lafèche and C. MEMOIR. 1916—August 21—1920.

For many years along Life's path, We walked and talked of gain; We built our castles in the air, As though they would remain.

The sky was blue, the sun shone bright; The birds sang in the trees; Gay flowers graced the way we trod, Their perfume filled the breeze.

Life's summer passed, the winter came, And with it days of woe; We bent our hearts to daily care, And sought God's Will to know.

We turned our faces heavenward, In sunshine and in rain; We shared each other's happiness, And bore each other's pain.

At length the time for parting came, And she was called to go, While I must wait without the gate, And linger here below.

Four years of loneliness have sped, The waiting won't be long; When we, with joy, shall meet again, And sing the "glad new song."

NEW LIQUOR ROUTE IS ESTABLISHED?

Many Oshawa citizens gazed intently into the heavens, looking towards the west, recently to see if they could detect the airplane which whirled could be distinctly heard in the town. It has now been reported to Chief Friend of the Oshawa police force that the plane came to earth in the south east ward and left five cases of liquor for thirsty Oshawa residents in that neighborhood. It seems to rain liquid as well as water from overhead.

VETERAN CANOEIST DIES IN BUFFALO

Frank S. Thorne, familiarly known as "Dad Thorne," passed away Friday, at the home of his daughter, at Buffalo, in his eightieth year. He was commodore in 1899, when the Canoe Association held its meeting at Hay Island. That was a record year of the association, over 400 members registering.

NO WORD OF CONVICTS

No further word of the escaped convicts had been received at the warden's office at the penitentiary up to Wednesday afternoon. It is still believed that the men are in hiding in the neighborhood of Robinson and guards are attempting to apprehend them. It is very difficult to work in that district, however, owing to its rugged nature and inaccessibility.

MRS. G. H. HARROLD

The uncertainty of this thing called life came with startling suddenness to Deserontionians on Friday, August 13th, in the death that morning of Mrs. G. H. Harrold, at the early age of 34 years.

Mrs. Harrold's sudden demise came after a severe attack of diabetes followed by unconsciousness which lasted from the evening before.

The late Mrs. Harrold whose maiden name was Florence Clara Bowditch, was born at Kingswood, Bristol, England. She was the second eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bowditch. On August 17, 1912, she was married to G. H. Harrold, and seven years on the day she was buried she and her husband came to Canada and settled in Toronto. From Toronto Mr. and Mrs. Harrold went to Shawville, Que. New York and Winnipeg were later places of residence. During the war Mr. Harrold enlisted in Winnipeg with the R.A.F. who sent him to Deseronto. Mrs. Harrold came here in May, 1917, and has since been one of our most estimable citizens. She was an Anglican in religion—a lady in every sense of the word, devoted to her family, and the best of neighbors.

OBSERVE ALL RELIGIOUS HOLIDAYS

Russian people observe rigorously all religious holidays—five at Christmas, ten at Easter, three at Carnival and almost every week one extra day, when an anniversary of some saint is celebrated. On these days everything is closed and nobody works. The six weeks of fasting preceding Easter are strictly observed by everybody, and the more devout do not even eat eggs or drink milk and do not use sugar, because it is refined with blood. The last three days of Holy Week are still more respected, for no food at all is consumed. For Easter Sunday, very large cakes, sometimes three or four feet high, are cooked, with beautiful ornaments on the top, and eggs skilfully painted. Both cakes and eggs, with other tables, are brought on Easter eve.

OBITUARY

The automobile industry is now the second greatest industry in America—second only to steel—according to statistics published in a recent number of one of the leading automobile publications of the States.

During 1919 there were manufactured 1,556,737 passenger cars and 305,142 trucks. This exceeds all previous records—even those of 1917, the banner year of the industry. The total value, both trucks and cars, was $1,807,594,590. With accessories included, these figures reach more than the $2,000,000,000 mark, thus placing the automobile industry next to steel among the manufacturing interests of the country.

THE NEWLOVE INQUEST

BOWMANVILLE, Aug. 21.—The court room was packed Thursday evening to inquire into the cause of the death of Henry Love Newlove on Saturday, August 7th. Dr. A. S. Tilley, coroner, presided. Mr. A. J. Armstrong, Cobourg, represented the Crown and Mr. H. J. Harkins, Toronto, the family. Miss Johns, stenographer.

Jurors were H. R. Jollow, Chas. F. Rice, T. J. McMurty, N. S. B. James, P. F. Newhouse, Colson Jeffrey, W. H. Hobbs and R. T. Stephens.

Witnesses examined were: Guy Casey, W. J. Ross, W. Mills and Alvan Morden, Belleville; Mr. and Mrs. Milton Pollard, Harry Roberts, Dr. B. J. Hazelwood, Bowmanville; Fred Albert Belys, Toronto, and Melville Newlove, son of deceased.

The evidence adduced showed that the late Henry Newlove, farmer, living a half mile east of Bowmanville cemetery, was on the night of Saturday, August 7th, struck by a Studebaker auto driven by Guy Casey, knocked down, the car passing over him, the body being between the wheels. Car was stopped from 5 to 6 feet from where the body was lying. Only wound noticed was a cut under the chin. Three men in car saw Newlove on road and agreed in evidence that he got in front of the car only a few feet from it, so suddenly that no one could tell how he got there—his hands were extended at right angles to his body. He was struck by the radiator and fell on his back. Casey said car was going at about 18 miles an hour. Two of the Belleville men after the accident went to Major R. J. Gill's and phoned to Chief Jarvis and Dr. Hazelwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Pollard came along in their truck and were stopped and asked if they could identify the injured man. Mrs. Pollard, after examining him loosened his collar, and had his boots removed and sent a man for water. The other two men had previously moved the body nearer the edge of the ditch to permit autos to pass. Later when several autos were stopped on the road Fred Cowick, the body lay, his auto badly smashing the face and possibly causing other injuries. Fred Cowick, who was riding with Cowan said he heard a man call to stop and help up his hand, but Cowan evidently had not heard it in time and did not notice the man lying on the ground possibly owing to the glare of the lights.

The injured man was placed on Mr. Pollard's truck and rushed to the hospital, but died en route about 11 o'clock. It was about 9.30 when the accident occurred.

The jury's verdict is to the effect that Henry Newlove's death was due to being struck by auto driven by Guy Casey and that there was negligence on his part, but did not state on what particular evidence this opinion is based.

TALK OF THE TOWN AND OF THE COUNTRY

INJURED BY AUTO

On Sunday a horse and buggy driven by Mr. Fred Potts, Trenton, was run down by a speedy motorist and the rig badly damaged. The accident happened near the bridge on the York Road, so the charge for speeding will come under the jurisdiction of an adjoining municipality. Mr. Smith, who was with Mr. Potts in the buggy suffered a broken arm and other injuries.

CAUGHT 18-POUND MASCO

Harvey Belcher was the happiest one in a bunch of five men who left Napanee last Monday morning for the day's cruise and fish. Why? Because while trawling up through Hay Bay, opposite the old U.E.L. church, he had hold of one end of the line an eighteen-pound masco took firm hold upon the other end and determined to try conclusions with Harvey while he had him out in deep water. The trawlers headed their boat toward shore, and though nearly a mile had to be covered, the struggle lasted until they were close to shore when the masco finally decided Harvey was one too many for him and succumbed. The catch was not very heavy in numbers but this was fully compensated for by the one in whom all the interest centered. The day was delightful and all returned home about 9 o'clock perfectly satisfied with the day's outing. Harvey feels that he stands a winning chance for the dollar promised to the one of the Gibbard boys who hauled in the largest fish during the week's holidays.

YACHTS SHOULD CARRY LIGHTS

On Wednesday evening last a number of cottagers at Sturgeon Point made the trip to the Corn Roast at Pleasant Point by motor boat; others took the good ship Linton's, while a few paddled or rowed across the lake. We have already heard of three motor boats returning late, who nearly run down smaller craft. Says The Lindsay Warden. A fast yacht, with no lights, came within a foot of ramming a skiff with six passengers. If he had hit the skiff there was no chance of saving the lives of the occupants, as it was a very dark night, a big wave rolling and three children and two ladies amongst the six. Two other nearly similar reports have been reported to The Warden, and we understand steps are being taken to see that all yachts observe the law, by carrying light, as it is strictly against the law to run without them.

SAD DROWNING ACCIDENT

A very sad drowning accident occurred on Tuesday, August 23rd, at Hastings, when Harold Dunford Nicholson, the 10 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick James Nicholson, of Toronto, was drowned. Mrs. Nicholson accompanied by her daughter and son had just arrived in Hastings on Monday, and were staying with Mrs. Wansborough, at her cottage, and were looking forward to a pleasant visit there. On Tuesday afternoon the two children went out fishing, and had evidently crossed the dam, as they were seen together on the wharf along side of the dam. The little girl decided to go home, expecting the brother to follow, but when he did not turn up they became anxious and a search was made for him in the water above the dam, and Mr. Wm. West found the body with a large pike pole against the logs in the dam. How the little fellow fell into the water, will never be known as there was no one who saw the accident. The sister left for home about 5 o'clock and the body was recovered at 8 o'clock. The sincere sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson in the loss of their bright little boy.

NEW ASSISTANT AT ROCKWOOD

Dr. T. D. Oudry, an 1895 arrival to take up his duties as assistant superintendent at Rockwood hospital. Dr. Cumberland was formerly assistant superintendent at the Ontario Hospital, Toronto, and subsequently at the Ontario Hospital, Whiteby, and has an excellent army record. Although he was a fully qualified practitioner of three years' standing at the outbreak of the war, he might get overseas without undue loss of time, and served at Salonika and in France. Dr. Cumberland is a graduate of Toronto University and entered the service of the Ontario Hospitals upon graduation. He has therefore considerable experience in hospital work, is an excellent administrator and has a thorough knowledge of mental diseases. Dr. Cumberland will no doubt keep fully alive the traditional atmosphere of Rockwood.

HUFF WAS FINED.

Hubert Huff, a hotel proprietor of the Sandbanks Hotel, was brought before Magistrate Williams on the charge of selling liquor. He was convicted and fined $200.

GRASSHOPPERS DO DAMAGE

Grasshoppers have done a lot of harm in Uxbridge township this year. One farmer states that they destroyed a first and second crop of turnips for him, also his buckwheat and oats, and were starting on the potatoes. Apparently they will eat any green thing on the place. Farmers have suffered similarly in different parts of the township.

SUFFERED SERIOUS WOUND

A little son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Church, Fairfield, met with a serious accident while holding a post for his father to drive in the ground. The axe glanced off cutting a gash in his forehead, which required nine stitches to close. Dr. Parvis, Brockville, is attending him.

DID NOT WEAR BATHING SUITS

Campers and residents along the Forty-Foo trail near Wartman's farm near Kingston, are much incensed over the action of three young men who went in bathing at the lake shore there on Tuesday afternoon without donning bathing suits. They declare that if the performance is repeated, prosecution will surely follow.

GROCER DISAPPEARS

A number of residents of Morrisburg are mourning the disappearance of George W. Townsend, formerly superintendent of the Canada Tack & Nail Co.'s works, and latterly proprietor of a grocery business, with more than passing sorrow. Eight weeks after Mr. Townsend opened the establishment, he made an assignment and the next day disappeared with his family, excepting an infant child, five weeks old, which was left in the care of a Morrisburg lady by Mrs. Townsend, who said she was going to visit her mother and have a rest. According to Morrisburg reports, people there had been securing groceries from him at practically cost price. His creditors meet this week.

THIEVES STOLE GOODS

On Sunday morning someone broke into the building of Graves, at Harrowsmith, near the hotel, now occupied by a Jew, who has been selling dry goods and readymade clothing for a short time at Harrowsmith, and a quantity of goods was taken. A suit of clothes was found about the village, which is an evidence that thieves had been at work. S. Lee, butcher, reports the same night that thieves broke into his shop and carried away a side of mutton, and a large roast of beef.

DOES FARM CHORES AT 81 YEARS

James Porter, who on December 13th will be eighty-one years of age, is another of the old residents of the county of Frontenac who is able to do a day's work on the farm. On Thursday when a representative of the Whig called at his home he found him busy doing the chores. Mr. Porter, who was born in Aberdeen, Scotland, has lived on his farm near Verons for sixty-five years. When he and his father came to Canada they settled there. The task of clearing the land required years. Mr. Porter can well remember cutting a large tree which grew where the present homestead stands. The farm consists of three hundred acres, of which sixty acres is under cultivation at the present time. Although advanced in years, Mr. Porter states that he is still able to do a good day's work. He would like to get men to help him, but as they are scarce he tries to do a good portion of the work himself. When asked something about the early days, he said that as the roads were very heavy they did not take heavy loads of potatoes and vegetables to the market at Kingston.

REVIVING OLD MEADOWS

To renovate old meadows harvest the hay crop early. Just as soon as the field is clear, disc, harrow or cultivate the surface sufficient to break some of the sod surface so that seed sown will come in contact with the soil.

Sow a mixture of the following:—
Aslike 6 lbs.
Red Top 6 lbs. per acre
Timothy 6 lbs.

When the seed has been sown, run a spike tooth harrow over the surface to cover the seed. Next apply a top dressing of barn yard manure at the rate of 12 tons per acre. This work should be done immediately after the seed is sown. The earlier the seed is sown the stronger the growth of plants will be to withstand the winter. Manure applied early will force the growth of the young plants, revive the parts of the old meadow that is unbroken and will be well incorporated in the soil before winter sets in. Low pasture lands can be revived in the same way and seeded early in August.

YIELD OF WHEAT AND BARLEY GOOD

Considerable threshing has been done in different parts of the country and from reports the yields of wheat and barley are well above the average. Several farmers, who have threshed out their fields of both these grains, report that wheat averages 30 to 35 bushels to the acre, and barley 40 to 45 bushels. This will be good news to those in the country who have fields of these grains and who have not yet threshed.

MINING GOING ON AT HYBLA.

NEW DOLOMITE MINE FOUND

The discovery of material which can be used for many purposes, has been unearthed a few miles from Bancroft, and prospects are said to be very bright. Mineral experts from New York have looked the mine over and claim they can dispose of practically the entire output; and laid a very high estimate on the value of the ore. The mineral is called Crystalline Dolomite. It is not a new mineral as it has been used in the United States and Germany for certain purposes, but as far as known no deposit of it had been found in Canada, pure enough it could be made of much commercial value.

The deposit in question has been reported on by Mining Engineers to be an immense deposit and of exceptional purity, so that a great number of uses can be made of it.

It makes a splendid filler for paint, and can be used with a percentage of white lead, and experts say will give a more lasting paint than all white lead. Experiments show splendid results without the use of white lead at all.

BIG GASOLINE EXPLOSION

Two men were killed and twelve injured when a two-thousand gallon gasoline reservoir exploded at Syracuse Friday morning. Among the injured is J. B. Jardine, secretary of the Toronto Harbor Commission. His injuries are not believed to be serious.

ACTIVE IN BORDER CITIES

License Inspector A. G. Sykes, Brockville, who has been on special duty for some time in the Windsor district, has been especially active of late in the effort being made to check the operation of rum runners along the Western Ontario border. Recently he assisted in the arrest of three Tecumseh men, including one motor truck driver who is charged with peddling liquor in cases along the Detroit river front, and a resident of Sandwich, who is charged with selling 29 cases of liquor.

MISSIONARIES WILL SAIL FOR EAST

During 1920 nineteen new missionaries will be sent out to the Chinese and Japanese fields by the Methodist church of Canada. Rev. G. Tench, a graduate of Queen's, is sailing for Kobe, Japan, with his wife, on August 31st. Both will teach in the University at Kobe. On the same boat will be Miss Hammond, Miss Moir, who will also teach in Japan. Dr. Armstrong, Kobe, who has been spending his furlough in Toronto, will sail with his family on Aug. 30th.

DROWNED IN ST. LAWRENCE

While bathing at Lalone's Point about nine miles below Odgensburg, Thursday noon, Virginia Wallace, cashier of the Hermon National Bank, was caught in the swift water and dragged by an undertow to her death. Two or three other children were with her at the time but were powerless to render assistance. The alarm was quickly given and grappling parties began to search for the body, but it was still missing Thursday night.

MADE IMPORTANT ARREST

Mr. Harris, G.T.R. constable at Belleville, on Monday at Scarborough Junction made an important arrest. He took in charge a man named Martin and also a car he was in charge of. In the auto he found upwards of $2,500 worth of ladies' fine footwear, and it is alleged that it is stolen property. Martin was subsequently taken to Toronto jail. Three other men were in Martin's company, but they decamped.

BOOTLEGGING IS STOPPED

As a result of activity on the part of license officials, whose forces along the St. Lawrence have been augmented, bootlegging in that district is practically at a standstill, although it is said consignments continue to be smuggled across the border in fast motor boats.

Suffered Three Years Until She Tried "FRUIT-A-LIVES"

DAME PETER LAMARRE

Potato St. Pierre, P. Q.

"I think it my duty to tell you how much your medicine has done for me. I suffered for three years with terrible Eczema. I consulted several doctors and they did not do me any good.

Then, I used one box of 'Sootho-Salva' and two boxes of 'Fruit-a-lives' and my hands are now clear. The pain is gone and there has been no return. I think it is a marvellous cure because no other medicine did me any good and I tried all the remedies I ever heard of, without benefit until I used 'Sootho-Salva' and 'Fruit-a-lives'.

'Fruit-a-lives' cooled the blood and removed the cause of the disease, and 'Sootho-Salva' completed the cure."

Men's Clothes to Drop But Not Woollen Cloth

LAWRENCE, Mass., Aug. 19.—Men's clothing will sell at lower wholesale prices this fall, in the opinion of William M. Wood, president of the American Woollen Company. He referred to clothes that go on sale at retail in the spring of 1921. At the same time he declared that woollen cloth would not drop in price.

Mr. Wood added that the company's mills, according to present indications, would be re-opened soon after Labor Day.

"The prospects look bright, but that is the most I can say for the present," he said. "We are receiving numerous inquiries from persons looking for cloth. We are like fishermen, we have our bait and it appears now as though we are getting bites."

Ottawa Physician Loses Life in Canoe

OTTAWA, Aug. 19.—Dr. Arley Quackenbush, well known Ottawa homeopathic physician, lost his life in a canoe accident some time Monday afternoon or evening near the Little Chaudiere, on the French River, about 40 miles southwest of North Bay, Ont. The news was received by the family Monday, but from the meagre information it could not be gleaned how he came to his death. He was born in Belleville, Ont., 53 years ago.

WAS ONCE A RESIDENT

Kingston has had an interesting visitor lately in the person of Miss Spilsbury, who, when a girl, lived there with her uncle, Jas. Durand, at that time registrar of the city of Kingston, whose home was the old stone house on King street, now used as a box factory. Miss Spilsbury's grandfather was one of the three naval officers who came out with Sir James Yeo, to receive grants of land from the crown, Capt. Spilsbury being in the neighborhood of Peterboro. Miss Spilsbury, who was keenly interested in the changes made in Kingston, especially admired the Royal Military College and Queen's University, with its many buildings. She went down to Gananoque to spend several days at "The Inn", with her brother, Dr. Spilsbury, Yonkers, N. Y., and see Spilsbury Island, one of the Admiralty group, about seven miles below Gananoque, which was named after her grandfather. She has now returned to her home in Coburne, Ont.

dent. The number of miles flown was 734,200 for the first year, and goods carried totalled 116,498 pounds. Up to the end of March more than two hundred thousand pounds worth of imports and exports were carried by air between the United Kingdom and the Continent. A total of one hundred and fourteen aerodromes were licensed and five hundred and ninety-seven machines were registered during the first year of civil flying in England.

TRAIN DITCHED NEAR BEAVERTON

A long train of loads and empties, with a Lindsay crew in charge, came to grief between Lorneville and Beaverton Monday night about 10.15 o'clock. Ten loads of lumber, shovels, etc., passing through from the east and their loads being piled high and strewn along the tracks for a considerable distance. The cause is at present unknown.

The train was in charge of Conductor J. McElroy of Lindsay, the engineers on the double-header being W. King and Grant Wakelin. The caboose was also tossed on its side and the boys shaken up, but fortunately no person was hurt.

Tuesday morning traffic was delayed considerably and transferring of passengers and freight took place.

THE YOUNG FOLKS ARE GONE

Commissioner Edward Moore, of Kingston, says that if there is any decline in population it is due to the number of young people from eighteen to twenty-five years of age who have left to secure employment elsewhere. The houses are all occupied, but boys and girls are absent who would have gladly stayed if they could have obtained suitable employment.

OCCUPY NEW WAREHOUSE

The J. A. Johnston Co., Brockville, wholesale dealers in boots and shoes, are now occupying the additional warehouse which has been erected in rear of their establishment at the corner of Church and Bussel streets, Brockville. The warehouse, which is one storey in height with basement, is 60x35 feet in dimensions and provides much-needed floor space for the concern. It is of brick construction on a concrete foundation. D. Ross held the contract for the concrete work, Haggerty & Son that for the brickwork, and H. Bedard the contract for the roofing.

PRESCOTT BOY NABBED

John Hannibal, a 15-year-old Prescott boy, enamored with the idea of working in Western Canada wheat fields, left home without permission of his parents Monday and reached Ottawa successfully in his long pilgrimage. His father, however, who surmised where the boy had gone, communicated with Ottawa police headquarters, and in company with another young man from Prescott, the wanderer was taken into custody at the Capital. Hannibal will be returned to his home.

Howard Green, employee of the Laing Produce & Storage Co., Brockville, suffered a fracture of the left arm early Tuesday morning when the member became caught in a machine at the plant. In addition to the fracture the flesh of the arm was slightly lacerated. Dr. J. F. Purvis reduced the fracture at the General Hospital.

ARE IMPROVING CROSSINGS

In pursuance of the policy adopted on other parts of the road, employees of the Grand Trunk Railway at Brockville, are removing planking from crossings within the town limits and are replacing it with crushed stone. This does away with the necessity of renewing the planking which is frequently torn up by passing trains and provides a better roadway for vehicles.

COBOURG'S TWO BANDS MAY UNITE AS ONE

There is a big movement afoot in Cobourg for the amalgamation of that town's two bands under one head. The Mayor brought this question up at last Council meeting when he contended that it is to be done a short time before the present bandmaster, Mr. Chenhall, left town, and less something were done in the way of unity, Cobourg would have two bands with one bandmaster. He advocated something being done to bring these two bands together. His proposal proposed that a bandmaster be advertised for, to lead a new united band. This proposition met with Council's approval.

DICTATED WILL TO TALKING MACHINE

To make a "fraud-proof" will,

Theodore Mentz, a Des Moines lawyer, has dictated his will to a talking machine, and at the end of his dictation had two men spell to the machine their names in full. The record was then put on a machine and the voices reproduced. When Mr. Mentz was satisfied that everything was correct he took the wax record to the County Clerk's office and had the box containing it sealed with wax and filed. An Iowa statute, however, says that conveyances of property worth more than $200 must be in writing.

STORED GRAIN IN PARLOR

I. W. Keifer, a Missouri farmer, couldn't get room in any of the storage houses nearby to store his wheat and so he took out the furniture from his parlor and now has 200 bushels of wheat stored there until he can get it to an elevator.

TO TEACH AT THE SOO

Mr. and Mrs. John Craig, William street, Kingston, welcomed home their daughter, Dellerine, a kindergarten-primary specialist, who has been attending the University schools Toronto, for the past six weeks, where she passed her examinations qualifying her as supervisor of music. Miss Dellerine leaves shortly for Saint Ste. Marie, where she is to teach.

OATS FROM BROCKVILLE

So proud is James B. Kirker, Lee Valley, Algoma district, of oats grown in that section of the province that he has expressed to the Brockville Recorder and Times a sample head grown on the farm of James Root. It is over six feet in height. Mr. Root has a ten-acre field bearing oats all of about the same height.

DYNAMITING WALLS

The removal of the old Pedar Plant, at Oshawa, is rapidly nearing completion and at present dynamite is being used to remove some of the old walls.

BUY RIVER PROPERTY

Dr. A. C. Bickelhuys and S. J. Vroman, of Syracuse, N.Y., have purchased from James Poole, of Grenadier Island, the river property known as Pith Pine Point, located four miles down the river from Alexandria Bay. Two modern bungalows will be erected and the remainder of the property divided into building lots.

COULDN'T GET TAX COLLECTOR

Nobody desires the position of tax collector in Winton. At least that is the finding of the town council after advertising for applications for the position and endeavoring to secure a collector for personal canvass.

There were no applicants and the town fathers were unable to persuade anyone to accept the position. As a result the council, at its meeting Monday night, decided to have the taxes payable to the town treasurer until after the second installment is due, and then the names of delinquents will be handed to a regular collection agency for further action.

BOY STRUCK BY JINNEY

A serious accident which came very nearly proving fatal, occurred on Saturday afternoon about 2.30 o'clock on King St. East, Oshawa, in front of J. S. Kyle's store, when Alex. Lewis, a seven year old boy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lewis, Ritson Road South, was struck and knocked down by a passing jinney, the property of William Cole, and driven by Clarence Manning.

Besides sustaining injuries to the head and face, the lad was found to be suffering from a severe concussion. He was taken to the hospital in an unconscious condition and remained in that state for twenty-four hours, rallying only on being disturbed on Sunday afternoon. Yesterday he was so greatly improved as to permit his removal to his home, but he will be confined to his bed for some time before he will be well enough to be out again.

WILL BUILD BRIDGE

The work of demolishing the bridge over Lynde's Creek, to the west of Whitley, began Tuesday morning with heavy blasting necessary in destroying the cement abutments. This bridge was built by the town ten years ago, but is too narrow for the provincial highway in course of construction. Jack McDonald, the contractor, helped to build the C. P. Ry into Whitley.

Fraser, president of the Trent Waterways Development Association, re-marking upon the beauty of the route and stating that hereafter he will visit this district annually.

Preparing Grains For Fall Fairs

Secret of Success is Thoroughness

It pays to advertise. There is no better advertisement than to be a prize-winner at the Fall Fairs, and no crop on the farm can be exhibited to better advantage than the cereal crop. To attain the best results, a special plot should be maintained and kept thoroughly clean, free from weeds and all impurities. Harvesting should be done by hand, keeping the sheaves as neat and straight as possible.

First and foremost the grain in the sheaf must not be weathered, it must be perfectly dry and of good colour. The best results are obtained by the use of slightly immature straw, as it will be found to be less brittle and easier to handle. The straw should be spread in thin layers in the sun to dry; the sun will bleach the straw as well as dry it. Use only straight, uniform straws to make the sheaf; two or three sheaves should be collected in the field to allow for waste.

The majority of persons have the idea that all the straws should be the same length and the heads all placed on the same level. This would give us the square head, in which, when tied, the majority of the straws would break off below the head. The ideal sheaf has a rounded head with a gradual curve. This rounded head is produced by allowing the central straws to stand a little higher than the surrounding straws and each layer of heads that are added, to gradually slope away from the centre. The large sheaf may be conveniently formed by first making a number of small sheaves and then placing them together as though they were individual heads, gradually sloping them in of the same manner. To finish the sheaf a layer of individual heads should be placed around the whole, producing a finish exhibition sheaf. All the loose leaves should be plucked off the outside of the sheaf with a jack-knife, leaving only the white shinning straws, and all heads that do not conform to the symmetry of the head may be cut off, leaving a perfect sheaf. Coloured ribbon about one-half to three-quarter inches wide, may be used with good effect to cover the binding strings.

Threshed by Hand.

The remainder of the plot should be threshed by hand. This will form the bulk sample for the Fair. If the plot were kept pure in the field there will be very little that will need to be done to the threshed sample. A good fanning mill will remove all shrunken and small kernels, all chaff and dirt. The fanning mill must be clean; many an excellent sample has been ruined by a dirty fanning mill. Thoroughness is the secret of a good sample; the fanning mill should not be spared even if it means fanning away 50 per cent. of the original sample.

The bulk sample may be double bagged for shipping to the Fair. The sheaf should be shipped in a box, three-quarters of an inch longer and one-half inch broader and deeper than the sheaf. The sheaf should be wrapped in paper and tied, fitted into the box, and kept in position by supports.

With our present day standards always improving, great care must be taken in preparing the exhibits for our Fall Fairs. No prize will be won by the farmer who puts up a rough sheaf or a poor sample. The secret of success is thoroughness.

Storm on Saturday Did Much Damage

Trees Blown Down, Streets Flooded—Much Trouble For Wire Services

Oshawa, Aug. 18.—One life was lost and a great deal of damage done on Saturday as a result of the severe rain storm which was accompanied by lightning and thunder, that passed over Oshawa and vicinity on Saturday afternoon between one and three o'clock. Charles Wilman, a Hydro Electric lineman lost his life in the evening when repairing a transformer that was blown out during the afternoon, near Columbus.

Trees Blown Down.

All that remained of the large tree in front of the Salvation Army Barracks came down during the rain, falling to the south, fortunate not to the west where it would have blocked traffic on Simcoe St. South. A big elm tree at the north west corner of Ritson Road and King St. East also came down. It fell across King Street and blocked traffic for a short time. It was removed with the aid of a team.

Barber Shop Flooded

Harris' Barber Shop on King St. East was flooded out early in the afternoon and as a result only one chair was working for a time. The catch basin on King St. East near the Post Office was a little island with water several inches deep all over King St. and Wellington St. The lights and power supplied by the Hydro Electric went off and on during the storm as limbs fell across the wires and were burnt through and fell. Only minor mishaps occurred to the wires of the Hydro in town.

300 Phones Out of Order

About 300 telephones, half of them in Oshawa and the remainder on the rural lines, were out of commission due to a cable box being put out of order by the storm. Bowmanville's telephone system was also partly put out of business.

The taxis in town had a gala afternoon of it.

Several of the new cement sidewalks cracked owing to their sinking when the earth under them was washed away or fell in. Many of the water connections leading into houses fell in, making a pretty sight of a good many of Oshawa's lawns. One horse and wagon got stuck on Bruce street, the front part of the wagon becoming detached from the rest while the horse sank deep into the road.

Reports of flooded cellars were numerous. Many fields of standing grain were damaged by the heavy downpour.

Collegiate Master Drowned in View of Friends at Coast

William S. Way, B. A., Lost Life in Lake Washington, Wash.

GRADUATE OF McMASTER

Had Been One Year Here and Had Been Re-Engaged For the Year 1920-21

BROCKVILLE, Aug. 18.—William S. Way, B. A., aged 23, master in history at the Brockville Collegiate Institute, was drowned in Lake Washington, near Seattle, Wash., on Sunday afternoon, according to a despatch from Seattle. Mr. Way is said to have lost his life in full view of relatives and friends. The body was recovered.

Mr. Way, who had been attached to the staff of the Collegiate Institute for one year, and who had been engaged to act in a similar capacity next term, was on a tour of the Pacific Coast and Western Canada in company with his mother, Mrs. J. L. Bannister, Forest, Ont., his sister, Mrs. Chalk, of Forest, and Miss A. Barron, 146 Ellsworth avenue, Toronto. He left here on July 9, was joined at Toronto by the other members of the party and went west by way of the Northern Navigation Company steamer and the G. T. P. railway. From Prince Rupert, B. C., a side trip was taken to Skagway, Alaska. Other points visited were Vancouver and Victoria. Mr. Way's intention was to return home by way of Vancouver, Okanagan, Landing, Brandon and Winnipeg.

The late Mr. Way's home was in Forest, where he spent the greater part of his life and attended the local schools. Matriculating into McMaster University, Toronto, he followed a successful course there and two years ago graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Deciding to engage in educational pursuits, he took a course at the faculty of education, Toronto, and last year secured the position of history master at the Collegiate here. It was his first educational post. His services were so satisfactory that the board of trustees had re-engaged his services for 1920-21.

"Mr. Way was a most painstaking and conscientious teacher," said J. Husband, principal of the Collegiate Institute; "this morning when advised of his colleague's death, 'He was a young man of great promise and will be much missed by teachers and pupils alike.'"

Exodus of Teachers is Growing Serious in the West

In the West Other Questions Besides Salary Must Be Considered.

REGINA, Sask., Aug. 16.—Calling attention to the serious nature of the exodus from the teaching profession now taking place in this province, W. J. McNeely, of the Teachers' Exchange of Saskatchewan Department of Education, shows that there are several other considerations besides those of salary which are operating to the detriment of the profession, and consequently of the interests of the children's education. "Even at salaries of $1,400 and $1,550 per year, with free house and fuel," said Mr. McNeely, "we find that teachers are leaving the profession for more remunerative work, where living conditions are more favorable than are found in many rural districts. Lack of good boarding accommodation, lack of interest on the part of trustees and ratepayers, and the short term of engagement are also playing their part in forcing good teachers to take up other work. A teacher cannot do efficient work in any district unless she has the cooperation of the trustees, and the ratepayers and can safeguard her health and keep her energy by having good living quarters. She must also have good equipment and a comfortable place in which to do her work." Mr. McNeely's report for 1919 shows that during the year 739 teachers were placed, an increase of 279.9 per cent. over the placements for 1918. Taking the records up to the third week in June, it is found that 524 teachers have already been placed.

Hay, has completed her full course as a Kindergarten Primary teacher. Miss Hay is now on the staff of Campbellford Public School. Campbellford Herald.

MADOC JUNCTION.

Those who attended the closing of the camp meeting at Oak Lake on Sunday report very interesting services and a large crowd. The Evangelist spoke in the evening from Rev. 20 and 15: "And Whosoever Has Not Found Written in the Book of Life Has Cast Into the Lake of Fire." Porter's picnic in Stirling last week drew a large crowd from far and near. Mrs. Werden left last week to visit friends in the States. Miss Vivian Clarke has returned to her home in Chicago. Mrs. W. Hagen and baby Norma of Kitchener visited friends here this week. Mrs. George Eggleston attended the funeral of her nephew Clarence Hough, near Coneseo. Those who mourn have the sympathy of many friends here. Mrs. Chas. Bryant and daughter Olive, of Gananoque, visited friends here last week.

SUCCOMBS TO INJURIES

Leland Stewart, formerly a newspaper man of Syracuse, N.Y., was found unconscious under his overturned automobile on the State Road across the river from Brockville. He suffered a fractured skull and was badly burned on the arm and chest, the injuries proving fatal before he could be removed to a hospital. No one saw the accident, but it is believed that the lights of the car suddenly went out, causing Stewart to lose his bearings. The authorities seized both the car and the wet goods.

FUEL AND COAL RATES.

New processes of utilizing low grade bituminous and lignite coal for fuel purposes promises to make available for consumption from Montreal to the Pacific coast the deposits of Alberta. This is an Alberta view and there are similar deposits in Saskatchewan, Manitoba and undoubtedly in Northern Ontario, or shall we say in Northern Ontario. The process is one of treating the low grade coal for its by-products, condensing the carbon which thus becomes of smaller bulk and cheaper to ship, and of high fuel value. There is nothing else in Canada quite so important to the Lady of the Shows as a solution of the fuel problem. With that solved, we could feel independent of the rest of creation. Whether this would be good for us remains to be seen, but undoubtedly it is something to be desired. Even as it is, we could get much fuel from the west in Ontario but for the theory prevailing in the operation of railways that is not adopted in any other business—the theory of charging as much as the traffic will stand, that is to say putting on the highest possible rate that will allow any traffic to pass. In general business the theory is to make prices attractive and so encourage business, trusting to the increased turnover for the larger profits. It works out in the post office, in street cars, in the Hydro Electric power distribution, in the departmental stores, but the railway theorists will have none of it. They believe in choking off traffic by imposing rates which are only paid under the pressure of necessity.

ROADS PARTICULARLY BAD

Motorists report that they never saw the roads between Lindsay and Omeme so bad and so much cut up. The eight miles to Reaboro is particularly bad. It is also reported that the expensive piece of road, built under the Good Roads System through Omeme last summer, is very choppy and fast going to pieces. On the road from Omeme to Millbrook the hills are badly washed out and covered with rolling stones.

BARN AND CONTENTS DESTROYED

The barn of Mr. Charles McCann, of Seymour was destroyed by fire, resulting from its being struck by lightning on Saturday afternoon last. Mr. McCann's loss will be great. His season's crop of hay and wheat and a new binder and wagon were a prey of the flames. He had $1000 insurance. SHE IS QUITE ACTIVE Mrs. J. Bongard, Point Traverse, who is eighty-two years of age, recently accompanied some relatives on a berry picking excursion. Driving about two miles she gathered valued at $150 in the recent matriculation examinations. The young student, who is just seventeen years of age, was a former student of the Kingston Collegiate Institute, and took a very difficult course in Greek, Latin, and French. He is a son of Prof. Stone, who held the chair in Civil Engineering at Queen's University, during Prof. A. McPhail's absence overseas.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

The four-year-old son of Mr. E. C. Hall, the well-known hardware merchant, Campbellford had a narrow escape recently when he released brakes of his father's large McLaughlin car, which was standing on a hill, causing it to run away. The car dashed down the hill, gathering speed as it went. Fortunately the boy operated the steering wheel so that the car turned toward the curb, smashing into a Chevrolet with such impact as to cause much damage. The lad escaped without a scratch. The accident should be a warning to people not to allow children to tamper with cars.

DIED FROM OVERSEAS INJURIES

At Mowat Military Hospital, Kingston, on Sunday Gunner Harold Angrove, son of Mr. Edward Angrove, of Campbellford, formerly of Cobourg, passed away after an illness of about two and a half years from paralysis. At the outbreak of war in 1914 he was a member of the R.C.H.A., Kingston, and went overseas with that corps that year. After three years' service overseas he was thrown by a horse, which fell on him, injuring his spine. He was returned to Canada and since Christmas, 1917, he has been in hospital in Kingston. He was born in Cobourg, and resided there until he enlisted with the R.C.H.A., previous to which he was with the Heavy Battery and 40th Regiment. A brother, Gunner Samuel Angrove, was killed in action in 1916. The remains were brought to Cobourg for interment, the funeral taking place Tuesday morning to St. Michael's church and cemetery.

Representatives of the Dominion government and of the Ottawa River Improvement Company have been taking measurements at High Falls on the Madawaska, with a view to improving the dam and slide for river driving.

GOLF BALL KILLED SPARROW.

A decidedly remarkable happening occurred on the links of the Cataraqui Golf and Country Club, Kingston, on Monday when a golf ball driven by Mr. C. E. Taylor hit a sparrow, in flight, and instantly killed the little bird. Mr. Taylor, who when he is in form, as he is now, is noted for his long wooden shots, was driving from the third tee. This hole is commonly known as the "dog's leg" and in order to get to the hole in the second shot it is necessary on the first shot to carry well over a hill about 175 yards away. Mr. Taylor, who at the time was playing with Mr. J. J. Newman, the club professional, for his first drive hit a screamer that soared high and straight, and well above the hill. Just as it was beyond the hill in mid air and going at terrific speed, a sparrow started up from a nearby tree and proceeded in its hurried flight directly across the path of the approaching ball with the result that the ball hit the unfortunate little bird squarely in the body, killing it instantly. A singular thing in connection with the episode was that the ball did not seem to be even momentarily arrested, but continued strongly on its flight.

GOT FINANCIAL HELP

The thoughtfulness of a Lindsay blacksmith for the unfortunate position in which Mrs. Geo. Alport finds herself because of her husband being incarcerated and there being no visible means of support is commendable. This gentleman has succeeded in collecting a tidy sum of money to pay the daily bills and keep the woman and babe in good health until other means of support are forthcoming.

CANNOT COMPLETE IT IN TIME

Although work is proceeding on the new stadium at the upper Queen's campus, it is not anticipated that the structure will be completed in time for the games in the fall. Scarcity of cement and other materials are ascribed as the cause of the delay. It is quite possible that the games will be played there, although, on account of the softness of the ground, it will not be possible to have practices there every afternoon.

SALARY INCREASED

The Official Board of the Canitton Circuit, in the absence of the pastor, Rev. J. S. McMullen, who was on his vacation, did a very gracious and praiseworthy act in increasing his salary from $1350 to $1650 including horse keep, thus reaching the disciplinary minimum.

FACE SERIOUS CHARGE FOR THEIR FOOLISH ACT Should the escaped convicts be recaptured, they will be faced with the serious charges of escaping and theft. The criminal code provides that anyone may be sentenced up to seven years for the first offence and up to fourteen years for the second offence. Considering the fact that the young men had only a few months to serve, and that the odds are against them in the matter of recapture, it appears that they might better have served the balance of their term in the penitentiary.

A GIANT SEAPLANE

A giant flying plane, said to be the largest commercial seaplane in the world, passed over Cobourg harbor last Thursday on its way from Montreal to Toronto. The plane, which has a cabin and accommodation for 16 passengers, had eight on board on its trip, and they could be easily seen as the plane flew close to the water. It has an upper wing space of 105 feet, and is driven by two motors of 425 horse power each.

BROKE HER ARM

A painful accident befel Mrs. C. A. Moore, of Campbellford, on Friday afternoon, August 6th, when she fell from an apple tree, causing a fracture of her left arm. Mrs. Moore was on a ladder picking some apples, when the ladder gave way and she fell some distance to the ground. She was alone at the time, but recovered sufficiently from the shock to be able to call in medical aid. She is at present doing well.

ATTEMPTED TO CUT HIS THROAT

Thos. Williams, an inmate of the House of Refuge, at Cobourg, who was committed from Murray Twp. attempted to take his life on Wednesday last week by cutting his throat with an old tobacco knife. The wound extended from ear to ear, but was not deep enough to sever any artery. Dr. Field, the local physician, had to put seven stitches in the wound. The old man has been melancholy, and had not been just right in his mind for some time. He was taken to the hospital ward at the goal, and is recovering nicely under the care he is getting.

BRIGHTON HOTEL SOLD

After having conducted the Clarendon Hotel, at Brighton, in a highly satisfactory manner for more than two years, Mr. Herb. Greenfield this week disposed of the plant and good will to Mr. Geo. Goheen, until recently manager for Amesset and Saynor. Mr. Goheen took charge of the hotel on Tuesday. Mr. Greenfield is not anticipating entering any other line of business immediately and declares that he will now enjoy a good rest. He is highly gratified at the support afforded him by the people of Brighton and vicinity and hopes that the same patronage will be extended to his successor. Mr. Goheen is by no means a novice in the hotel business, having conducted hotels in Coborn and also Campbellford. He came to Brighton about six months ago to take charge of the local branch of Amesset and Saynor's stores, and in that capacity was favorably known.

Niagara Peninsular Has Immense Crop

Raspberries Were Plentiful But Price Was Maintained By Canner's Early Quotations Based On Expectations of A Light Crop.

GRAPES ABUNDANT

Grimby, Aug. 23.—Old Mother Nature is not doing foodstuffs out by the pound and exclaiming: "It is the war." If you want to see good measure, press down, running over to the Niagara Peninsula, where the corn tops are, and the meadows are in bloom. And the birds make music all the day.

These plums and apples are so thick on the branches you feel you could strip them off as you would grass seed from the stalk. Peach tree limbs are bent to the earth with the weight of the fruit. In many places boughs are torn from the trunk, the crop is so heavy. If a branch is not altogether severed—it hangs by even half an inch of bark and wood—the parent tree still feeds it. The fruit keeps on growing and matures.

Peaches are still green and just commencing to take color. In a week or ten days' time the orchards will be a picture worth a day's travel to see.

Young pear trees, shaped like little poplars, show almost as much fruit as foliage, and older trees are equally laden. Pears are not quite as prolific this year as last. There was a super-abundance of them.

Same in Solomon's Day

Acres of grapevines form row upon row of low green hedges, separated by parallel strips of soil. If you walk on the tidily harrowed soil that stretches like brown ribs of well-knit stockings between these rows, you find the hedges are more like a wonderful frieze in conventional design, thick with clusters of grapes, wide shouldered and long. Surely of such vineyards Solomon sang: "The vines with the tender grape give a good smell."

More Than Thousandfold

On one Niagara farm they picked twenty tons of wax beans from six acres, and have a lot left to thresh and sell when matured.

From the same farm they shipped three carloads of early plums grown on an orchard that last year yielded only two hundred and fifty-six quart basketsful. Their wheat threshed thirty-five bushels to the acre and they got $2.15 a bushel for it.

From a two and a half acre orchard fifteen tons of cherries were marketed, bringing as a rule $1.25 for six-quart baskets and six cents a pound from factories. So far throughout the peninsula there has been no waste. Raw fruits, farmers tell you, have moved off very well.

Feed For Cows and Pigs

While Torontonians are paying ten cents for cabbage growers are glad to get five cents a head wholesale for big eight and ten-pound heads. Likelihood of more than they can market is not worrying them. If the surplus is fed to the stock it will save buying so much shorts.

Who's the Profit?

The only grumble heard in the land concerns tomatoes. Although poor City Peter's purse has still to produce twenty-five cents for three pounds of tomatoes, or seventy-five cents for a basket, farmers are only getting thirty-five cents a basket.

"This doesn't pay us by the time we plant and pick and wipe and pack and haul them," the growers say. "Not with baskets costing us eleven and twelve cents and, more apiece. Sold by the bushel it would be all right. If we leave them on the ground till the factories start canning we'll get fifty cents for sixty pounds."

Public Pays For Bad Guess

Canners kept up the price of raspberries. They did not foresee the bumper crop that this year blessed our land. In the nipping easter airs of late winter and early spring their buyers bid high for contracts. Consequently growers were independent. They got 25 cents a box at their own stations and had the crates back, or 27 cents if shipped away. Instead of 100 per cent. of their contracts, canners got 150 per cent.

Orchards Seemed Laid Up

Apples are so plentiful some farmers say they won't be able to give them away. Potatoes and all roots are wonderful. Corn is splendid. Hay is the only crop that is short. Plums will be a gnat on the market. Just early varieties are ripe. Shriv and abundance, both Japanese plums are as plentiful as stones on a pebbly beach and much more beautiful. Orchards are luminous with the yellow light of their innumerable bulbs on graceful chandelier-like boughs went with the weight down, one orchard alone four thousand six-quart baskets were filled. Their present price is fifty cents for large baskets, but the first lots brought seventy-five for small ones.

Can't Can Clingstones

It's the early peach pinches the coin. People pay anything for something new. That's the only excuse for clingstones, according to fruit farmers. "Poor stuff, just fit for the table, and tasteless at that," they say of the clingstone peaches now offering. Good peaches will not be ripe until the end of August. Then they will be plenty for everybody. They will be on the market until the beginning of October, as there are three pickings from each tree.

Canners predict thousands of baskets of plums will never find a market. They say if growers get 50 cents a basket in Toronto it only nets them about 20 cents. Out of that has to come the cost of production, cultivation and picking. The very year that canners would like to buy plums because they are plentiful they do not need many. They are pretty well filled up with leftover from last year. Local sales were not so good and export trade fell off. This means there will be much raw fruit on the market.

Canned Fruit No Cheaper

It also looks as though, despite the wonderful crop, canned fruits would not be cheaper than last spring. It will pay the housekeeper to put down their own fruit. Lombards, Reinclands, Imperials, German prunes and all the other good canning plums will not be ripe till early in September. They are marvellously perfect and plentiful. Raw sugar is now 12 cents a pound. This price will tumble. Watch the papers for the price when it falls, then add eight cents for refining. Look for cheaper sugar by the end of September.

DESERONTO TO HAVE AERODROME

Major Drummond of the Canada Air Board was in Deseronto on Friday and looked over Mohawk Aerodrome. He pronounced this aerodrome the best he has seen in his travels and quite readily has licensed it. Mr. G. H. Harrold, who has leased the plains from the Mohawk council, was unable to meet Major Drummond upon his arrival here but a friend in need—in the person of Mr. Paul Berry—very kindly took the Major over the ground. Later Mr. Harrold met Major Drummond, who after expressing his keenest sympathy in the former's hour of sorrow, stated that the license and markings for Mohawk would be sent on at once.

Mohawk Aerodrome which is now a reality is the plains where many Canadian and American fliers learned the first about the great game of flying. During the war it was one of Canada's greatest camps. The war ended, Anglin of Kingston bought all the buildings from the Imperial Munition Board and have since been tearing them down.

Mr. Harrold, who is a certified aero engineer, has the main stopping place between Ottawa and Toronto. In fact it is just about half way. The license calls for a customs air harbor where machines coming or going across the line may be cleared. The Air Board is sending Mr. Harrold a portable hangar. He will re-erect this building upon its arrival and will stock oils, etc., to supply the wants of the men who sail the skies besides making any needed repairs their machines may demand.

Mr. McGregor was secured for the occasion of Mrs. Bruce Hopkins and the latter very kindly treated the inmates to ice cream.

TO SUBMIT DESIGNS OF MONUMENT

It is announced that architects and artists in Canada have been invited to submit designs for a monument to be erected over the grave of the late Liberal Leader, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in Notre Dame Cemetery, Ottawa. The competition is under the direction of a sub-committee of the National Liberal Committee of Canada. In view of the fact that it is the Government's intention to erect a statue to Sir Wilfrid's memory on Parliament Hill, it has been decided that the monument shall not take the form of a statue, but a simple, dignified monument, fitting his character and career. The first prize will be $500 and the next two designs will receive $200 each.

NEW BUTTON FACTORY

Equipment for the new button factory to be established at Smith's Falls is being unloaded and it is expected that the factory will be operated in less than a month. Mayor Murphy is president of the company and H. F. Shearer secretary-treasurer.

People who travelled on the Fortland road about four miles from Kingston were surprised to learn that a couple of Chinamen were operating a small farm at that locality.

Some Kingston Chinamen informed the Whig that those who are running this farm came from the province of Saskatchewan. In their native land one of them was a farmer by occupation. This is the first time that any Chinaman has taken up land in or about Kingston. Those who have visited the farm state that some very good produce has been raised on it this season.

KOBI DESERT MOST ELEVATED REGION ON GLOBE

The desert of Kobi, which is the summit of the Central Steppe in Asia, is the most elevated region on the globe and it is here scientists claim man first lived, arguing that this point of earth must have been the first to emerge from the universal ocean and that as the subsiding waters gradually gave up lower regions of earth to man he was able to descend and spread himself progressively over new acquisitions. It is from this region that the great rivers of Asia also take their rise and flow toward the four cardinal points. On the declivities of these high lands are the plains of Thibet, lower than the frozen regions of Kobi. Here are found not only the vine, the olive, rice, the legumina and other plants upon which man has depended for sustenance, but all those animals which he has tamed and led with him over the earth, as the ox, the horse, the ass, the sheep, the goat, the camel, the hog, the dog, and even the reindeer, run wild upon these mountains of Cashmir, in Thibet, and in the north of China grain has for years been found to be growing wild without ever being sown or tilled, and here also wild animals that have lived there while man has tamed others of the same species, are numerous.

RACED WITH "COO"

One of Lindsay's automobile owners, who enjoys a good joke, even though it may be on himself, tells a splendid story. He was driving over a good piece of road between Port Hope and Cobourg a few days ago, when a motorcycle drove alongside his car, and then moved a little faster as if inviting a race. This was too much for the driver of the auto, and he opened up and took after the cycle and finally passed him in a cloud of dust. On arriving home he received a summons to call and settle, as he was charged with exceeding the speed limit. He had been racing with a motor cop.

ESCAPED FROM GOAL

Eugene Gilmore, a young lad awaiting removal to the reformatory, escaped from Picton goal on Sunday. He jumped from one of the court house windows. This is the second time he has escaped from the county goal.

FOUND TOMBSTONE AND COFFIN

While the excavation work for the new B. R. Street building to be erected on Simcoe street south, just north of Athol Street, Oshawa, was proceeding on Thursday, one of the workmen uncovered an old tombstone. It was a large white one about two inches thick and lying flat on the ground. Underneath it an old-fashioned coffin, one that is wide at one end and tapers down to the other, was discovered, but no bones were seen. The inscription on the stone was not legible but from what can be read it is in memory of a man and his wife. "Natives of Forfar, Scotland." The date of his death appears to be Dec. 7, 1833, while his wife was born on August 7, 1817, and died in July, 1888.

PRIEST LIVES ON FEES OF FARM PRODUCTS

The Russian priest has always been considered as a holy person, and his hands and tunic are reverently blessed by the peasants. The orthodox priest wears a wide and long tunic, black, gray or brown in color. His allegiance forbids him to cut his hair and beard, so that many priests who have abundant hair are obliged to plait it in the same way as a woman, hiding the braid under the tunic. Nobody can become a priest if he is not married, and not long ago clergymen were obliged to marry only clergymen's daughters. A country priest is generally very poor and lives exclusively on fees paid him at baptisms, weddings and funerals, and these fees are largely in the form of eggs, chickens, flour, etc., which he receives from the peasant instead of money.

NEWLY PAINTED

Mr. Alex. Taylor, of Picton, has just finished painting the turrets on the tower of the Methodist church at Picton, and the rim around the dials on the town clock. It is a job for a steepjack and Alex. has made a good job of it, adding much to the appearance of the building.

DRY WEATHER PLAYS HOB

Evidently the dry weather is playing hob with things in general, at Picton's Hill. The White's correction there sends the following: "Everything is drying up for want of rain. The blackberry crop, has been a failure. The apples are falling off the trees, the flies are very bad on the cattle and water is very scarce. Only for the lake, the people would have a hard time getting water."

FELL FROM LOAD

The third violent death within the last three years to members of the same family occurred last Wednesday morning when Mr. Richard Sleep of the Base Line West, near Whitty, passed away. Mr. Sleep fell from a load of hay about two weeks ago, but was thought to be only slightly hurt, although he had not been feeling well from the time of the accident. Last Wednesday morning he was feeling very ill and a doctor was called, but he passed away at 10 o'clock. Mr. Sleep had been a resident of the district about Whitty for many years and was widely known. He was unmarried.

NEW THEATRE OPENS OCT. 1

Oshawa's new theatre—the Regent, as it is to be called—is rapidly nearing completion. The announcement is made that the opening date will be Oct. 1. In locating such a fine playhouse in Oshawa the Famous Players Canadian Corporation, Ltd., decided upon most up-to-date plans and the Regent will embrace many unique characteristics that for its size are not outdone in the larger centres of population.

WIDENING TWO BAD HILLS

A steam shovel has been at work during the past week widening Starr's Hill, east of Whitty. The grade is also being reduced. This hill has been both narrow and steep, and it was not a good place for vehicles to pass, particularly at night. Moore's Hill, west of the Union cemetery, has been greatly widened and the grade much reduced. It still has to be surfaced, but when that has been done the hill will be so greatly transformed as hardly to be recognized as the former steep grade that has been the dread of motorists by night.

500,000 Dodge Cars

On July 1, 1914, Dodge Brothers were completing their last contract as manufacturers of automobile parts. The first Dodge Brothers motor car had not yet been built. On July 1, 1920, a great crowd of workmen assembled within the gates of the factory and let loose a mighty cheer as a glistening new roadster was swung into position on a high platform adorned with flowers and American flags. "It was Dodge Brothers' motor car No. 500,000.

RATHER EXPENSIVE SHOOTING

A dog attacked a trespasser on a farm near the town of Oshawa on Tuesday and in order to scare him off the man raised his gun and fired. Unfortunately the shot struck the dog, resulting fatally. The owner, who valued the dog highly, was about to launch an action in the police court but the "gunman" settled at $75, plus some costs incurred.

DIFFICULT GETTING BROKEN STONE

Work on the Provincial Highway is likely to receive a serious setback, according to the Minister of Highways. During the past few weeks the work has been hindered by the contractors who supply the broken stone, being unable to keep up with the orders. A more serious obstacle to progress is now looming up in the greatly increased freight rates imposed by the railways. These rates, it is claimed, will prohibit the securing of broken stone in the usual way. The only alternative now is to get the stone from quarries adjacent to or convenient to the highways that are very few constructed. As there are very few suitable quarries that could be utilized, it may be a long time before the program of the Government with respect to the Provincial Highways can be carried out, says the Pictorial News.

FELL FROM HYDRO POLE

Frank Wallace, one of the linemen employed in the construction of the Norwood Hydro Electric system, fell from a thirty-foot pole on King street one day last week, and miraculously escaped fatal injury. Wallace is one of the most experienced men but in some manner his feet became unfastened and he fell to the ground. He was picked up unconscious and removed to the King's Hotel, Dr. N. F. Sutton attending him. No bones were found to be broken but it was feared for a short time that he had suffered severe internal injuries. Fortunately such was not the case and he was able to be out of bed in a couple of days although feeling quite sore.

YOUNG LAD KILLED

A fatal accident occurred at Reid Bros. barrel factory, Picton, on Tuesday afternoon, when George Austin Hyderman, five years old, was killed by a bursting pulley. It appears that the little lad, who lives very near Reid Bros. mill, was sitting, apparently out of harm's way, on a platform at the end of the mill, when the governor belt ran off and a large pulley burst, a flying piece hitting the boy on the head and injuring fatally. He never regained consciousness and died in about an hour. His parents have resided in Picton for several years. There are five other children in the family, two girls older and three boys younger than the little one who was killed.

UP-TO-DATE KITTENS

The other day the little daughter of a Salem household was watching a family of small kittens at their first meal of chicken bones. They were somewhat shy at having to eat before an audience, and first one little kitten would come up and get one little chicken bone and retire to a corner of the arbor to eat, and then another little kitten would slip up to its own particular place. The child watched them for a long while and then she came running into the house. "Mother," she said,
