DRINK AT HOME COSTS INFORMER HUNDRED DOLLARS

Man Who Gave up to Police About Quarrel Had Charge Reduced

HOOCH HIDDEN IN BUSH
Details of Affairs Down at Point Anne Occupy Time at Police Court.

Yakob Lazarink for drinking in his own house, which is a boarding house at Point Anne was today fined one hundred dollars and costs. A charge of "having" in a prohibited place was reduced to one of drinking, owing to the circumstances.

Lazarink was the man who sent the message of the quarrel on Sunday at the "Point," to the police and he claimed that he did take a drink from a bottle which was shoved before him and which he was urged to drink.

Inspector Naphin explained that liquor had been brought to the Point and hidden in bags beneath bushes and told why he felt that a prosecution was necessary in this case. Conditions at Point Anne were often disgraceful, a number of foreigners drinking.

These people used the privacy of private dwellings as westerners understand them, said Crown Attorney Carrow, who stated that foreigners went back and forth into one another's houses without knocking.

Mr. W. C. Bikel pleaded for the accused.

LAST SHIP APPEAL
Two Point Anne Men Fined for Drinking in Public

Miss Yelkie for having liquor was fined two hundred dollars. Michele Patuch and Yan Ostrovski were fined in police court late Monday one hundred dollars and costs each for drinking in a public place at Point Anne. Patuch paid $25 and costs for assaulting Yakob Lazarink and an assault charge against Ostrovski was dismissed.

Inspector Naphin was prosecutor in the O. T. A. charges.

APPEAL AGAIN POSTPONED
Township of Thurlow Cannot Settle Affairs Till October

The hearing of the appeal of the Township of Thurlow against the by-law fixing the equalization of the assessments of the various municipalities in the County of Hastings has been further enlarged until Monday, October 3rd. At the opening of the investigation last week an enlargement was made until September 27th.

London, Sept. 20.—It now seems certain that Grand Trunk stock holders will enter a double appeal against the finding of the Arbitration Board respecting the common and preference stock.

JAPAN TO USE 18-INCH GUNS

Oriental go the Limit in Size and Fighting Power of New Ships

BIG RIFLE TRIED OUT
Can Throw 3,400-Pound Shell 45,000 Yards—New Type of Warship

LONDON, Sept. 20.—According to reports which have reached London the Japanese naval authorities are preparing to "go the limit" in their new warships as regards size and fighting power. It is known that the first Japanese 18-inch gun has been produced and tried out, and this tremendous weapon will probably represent the main battery of the Owarai class of battleships, which were authorized last year, but have not yet been laid down.

The gun took twelve months to build, and has been under trial since April. It weighs 170 tons, and can throw a 3,400-pound shell up to a range of 45,000 yards. At rather less than half this distance the shell, it is declared, will penetrate the stoutest armor carried by any battleship now afloat. The Owarai is designed to carry eight of these monster weapons, and will therefore hurl twelve tons of steel at each broadside salvo.

Guns of the same calibre will probably be adopted for the four later battle cruisers of the "eight-eight" program, which are to follow the four ships of the Amagi class, but in this case the number of guns will be reduced to six a ship. Japanese naval opinion has always favored the heaviest guns that can be obtained, and the decision to build an 18-inch type was taken late in 1918, after Japanese officials in Europe had inspected the experimental British gun of this calibre. Special plants were set up at Murooran and Kure for the purpose. Confidence is felt in Japan that the Owarai will outclass all other battleships in fighting power.

"STAR" WORSHIPPERS EXCEED THE LIMIT.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The impulse of theatregoers to applaud actors as they step out from the wings each night is worrying Broadway. One manager has included in the program a request that the audience break itself of the habit.

The custom began with the greeting which star worshippers always extend on the first appearance of leading actors. Spurred on, skeptics aver, by complimentary tickets, the custom spread to lesser mortals.

The last straw came the other night when tumultuous applause interrupted a performance of a minor character, whose only assignment was to announce that the coach and pair are ready, sir.

BITTEN BY SICK HORSE
Schuster Co. Employee of Work for Few Days

Mr. William Lindsay had the misfortune to be bitten by a sick horse yesterday and will be unable to be about his duties at the Schuster Co. dock for a couple of days. He had gone into the stable to look at the animal. The horse made a grab at him and bit him in the side. Fortunately the clothing prevented the teeth from cutting the flesh and drawing blood, but the injury was still painful.

UNSPRAYED FRUIT POOR
Corn Ear-Worm in Peterboro Mistaken for Borers—Farmers at the Pairs

Following is a summary of reports made by the Agricultural Representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture:—
Dry weather has had a tendency to slow up the sowing of fall wheat, but recent rains have helped both plowing and sowing, and a larger acre than last season is likely, taking the Province over.

Waterloo puts the increase in that county as not less than one-third more than that of last year, while Kent, greatest fall wheat county, estimates the increase at ten per cent. Timiskaming reports that some farmers plowing up turnips are sowing fall wheat.

Brant says that fruit in unsprayed orchards is more or less unsalable, as much of it is wormy and spotted. The sprayed orchards are running from 50 to 60 per cent with domestic.

Haldimand states that the marketing of grain has been curtailed recently, local farmers being of opinion that prices will go higher; and that this also applies to the selling of hay.

Grey says that while some are going out of sheep raising, many are still standing by it, knowing that they will gain eventually. There is considerable local equity for purebred rams.

Halton states that a number of farmers are rushing their live stock to market in an unfinished condition due to the scarcity of feed.

Peterboro says: "There have been some cases reported, of the corn ear-worm doing damage to sweet corn. It was mistaken for the borer, and some farmers were greatly worried until they were assured that it was not that pest."

The Lennox and Addington representative says: "A marked increase in the attendance of farmers has been noticed at all the local agricultural fairs. This, no doubt, has been due to the fact that farmers are well advanced with their fall work. I notice that farmers are taking a keen interest in the educational exhibits at fall fairs, especially intended for farmers."

Mr. Geo. Mulroney, who was operated on by Dr. Robertson has recovered and returned home to Tweed.

Miss Phyllis Wallbridge left on Sunday for Victoria, B. C., where she expects to spend sometime with friends.

Mrs. J. M. Davison and Miss Davison returned yesterday from Charlottetown to spend the winter with J. W. Davison, 221 Charles St.

TRYING TO FIX BLAME FOR LOSS OF THE "MOWAT"

Capt. Demers, Wreck Commissioner at Montreal Reserves Judgment

KEY WEST CREW THERE
Evidence by Surviving Skipper and Both Wheelmen Heard at Montreal.

Immediately on the arrival of the Key West, a steamer of the Keystone Transportation Company at Montreal on Saturday, her first trip east since the Oliver Mowat was sunk, an investigation was opened before Captain L. A. Demers, Dominion Wreck Commissioner, and evidence taken in the disaster, which resulted in the sinking of the Oliver Mowat with the Captain, mate and cook.

The accident, which happened on September 1, when the vessels were near False Ducks on the lake, considerably west of Kingston, while the Key West was proceeding up from Montreal and the schooner Oliver Mowat across the lake from Platon to Oswego.

The hearing was an extended one, starting at 10 a.m. and finishing at 3.30 p.m., and the evidence adduced centred round the question as to whether the schooner's lights were burning or not and as to whether they were burning clearly. The collision occurred on a very dark clear night.

Captain Whitley of the Key West and wheelman of both vessels also gave evidence. It was one of the very few shipping casualties of the year in which Dominion Wreck Commissioner Captain L. A. Demers had to inquire, with the onset of winter, if any for loss of life.

The evidence showed that immediately after the accident both ships had done everything possible to save the life of the crew. The Key West immediately after the first impact, had kept steam up so that her stern board into the Oliver Mowat and several ladders were in the meantime placed, connecting the two ships. It was 5 minutes before the Oliver Mowat sank. The latter ship was a 3 masted schooner 47 years old and was unable to stand the first shock of the oncoming steamer.

Captain L. A. Demers reserved his judgment, which will be handed down some time during the present week. His court was opened on Saturday in accordance with his usual custom, namely to hear the evidence without detaining the ship.

Election Campaign Warms Up; King at Toronto Tonight

TORONTO, Sept. 20.—(By Canadian Press)—Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal Opposition in the House of Commons, and the Hon. W. S. Fielding, former Minister of Finance, with other Liberal stalwarts, arrived here today officially to open at West Toronto tonight, the party campaign for the general elections.

Mr. King appeared to be in excellent health and intimated that it was the intention of the party to open the campaign not with a preliminary skirmish but with a heavy bombardment and general action.

Mr. King will spend the day quietly in the city. It is expected that there will be some conferences with local party leaders with a view to securing the strongest possible Liberal candidates to contest seats in "Tory Toronto."

The program for the reception to the civil cases, six out of the eight going over to other courts. Oliver vs. Males, an action for slander, was the first case taken up. Mr. F. E. O'Flynn represented the plaintiff, Mrs. Oliver and Mr. T. F. Hall, the defendant. A conversation at the home of a neighbor is the point about which the case centres.

The other case, that of White vs. Maynard, is concerned with damages for alleged assault.

London is Puzzled.
LONDON, Sept. 20.—A decided diversity of view is prevalent here today regarding the effect of the latest telegram of Ramon de Valera to the Prime Minister, Mr. Lloyd George as to whether it means rupture or a forward step towards a conference looking to an Irish settlement. This division of opinion is notably apparent in newspaper comment, although a majority of the journals are still optimistic.

WEDDINGS

WALLACE—DIXON
A quiet but pretty September wedding took place at Lakeside, Ont., in the Methodist Church on Wednesday the 14th at 6 p.m., when Miss Kathleen G. Dixon was united in the bonds of holy matrimony to Mr. Wm. C. Wallace of Ivanhoe, by the bride's father, the Rev. S. F. Dixon, assisted by the Rev. P. L. Jull, B.A., of the Presbyterian Manse.

The bride was led to the altar by her brother, James, of the Bank of Montreal, Peterboro, and looked very sweet in a gown of white satin with silver and wore her mother's veil with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of pale pink asters with maidenhair bridegroom's gift a string of beautiful pearls.

The bride's sister, Lillian, was bridesmaid and was dressed in peach organdie with touches of black and hat to match, and carried a bouquet of pale pink asters with maidenhair fern.

John Wallace, a cousin, supported the groom. Mr. Kenneth Madill presided at the pipeorgan and Miss S. McIntosh of Stirling sang, "Until," during the signing of the register. Gifts were presented to the bridesmaid, best man, organist, soloist and ushers, Mr. Elwood Girven and Mr. Ralph Payne.

A reception was held at the parsonage for the guests who consisted of some of the very nearest relatives and a few other close friends. The happy couple left mid showers of rice and confetti for a motor trip to Ottawa and points east.

MCCABE—CAVANAGH
The wedding of Miss Margaret Patricia Cavanagh, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Cavanagh to Mr. John G. McCabe, Frankfort, took place this morning at 3 o'clock at St. Michael's Church, the Rev. looked charming, gowned in white charmesse satin, with pointed georgette and seed pearls, wearing white mohair hat with uncurled ostrich and carrying sweetbrier roses and maidenhair fern. Miss Mary Cavanagh, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, dressed to match georgette over satin, wearing French velvet hat with black ostrich and carrying pink roses. Mr. Thomas McCabe, brother of the groom did honors for the groom.

During the signing of the register, Mrs. T. L. Cavanagh sang "All For You."

A reception was held after the ceremony at the bride's home to which about fifty guests were invited.

Mr. and Mrs. McCabe left on the noon train for Buffalo and other American points. The bride travelled in a malay brown duetyn suit with Hudson seal trimming and hat to match. On their return from their honeymoon they will reside in Montreal. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful gifts and the best wishes of hosts of friends will follow her through life.

YAGER—ROMAN
The marriage of Miss Anna Pearl Roman, daughter of Mr. Burley Roman, 289 William St., to Roy Almond Yager, son of Geo. W. Yager, 70 Cedar St., took place this morning at 10 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, the Rev. Mr. Elliott officiating. Miss Marion Bruin played the wedding march. Miss Irene Roman, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and Mr. S. Belway, of this city was groomsmen.

During the signing of the register Mrs. Brown sang a solo. After the ceremony the guests, numbering about thirty-five, sat down to a dainty luncheon.

The happy couple left on the C. P. R. train East for a honeymoon. Both bride and groom were valued employees at McIntosh Bros., the former as stenographer and latter as accountant.

Mr. Barb Symons is visiting his father and sister in town. Mrs. Chas. Williams has returned from Cleveland accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Chas. E. Coanor.

The Rev. Archdeacon Beamish and Rural Dean Swayne are attending church conference in Kingston.

Lord Byng Glimpses Belleville; Here At Noon on Way to Picton

His Excellency Goes Back to Ottawa From Kingston for Swearing-In of Cabinet Early Today—Then Board Special Train for Bay of Quinte District.

Lord Byng, of Vimy, Governor-General of Canada, with his staff passed through Belleville exactly at twelve noon today by a special train of two cars, over the Canadian National, en route to Picton, where he performed the ceremony of declaring the 1921 fall exhibition open. The vice-regal train after reaching Trenton was switched over to the Central Ontario line over which it passed to Picton, which was reached about one-thirty.

His Excellency had been in Kingston all day yesterday, but was unexpectedly obliged to return to the Capital last night to perform the official duty of swearing in the new Meligen cabinet ministers. The ministers were sworn in at eight-thirty this morning and shortly after nine o'clock the gubernatorial party boarded the train for Picton. Early plans for the Governor's reception at Picton had to be recast, owing to the sudden change in arrangements, the arrival having originally been set for ten o'clock, and the reception arrangements had to be delayed a little over three hours. His Excellency was met at the station by Mayor Newman, Warden Monaghan, President Thompson of the Picton Agricultural Society and a military guard of honor.

At one-fifty-five a procession was formed to the Agricultural grounds, starting at Monument Park, the order of the parade being:

Band of R. C. H. A., under direction of Capt. Alfred Light; Prince Edward Veterans; "C" Co. Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment; Picton Collegiate Cadets; Girl Guides; His Excellency and party; Guests, A. D. C.; County Council; Picton Council; Prince Edward Agricultural Society; other cars; R. C. H. A. Detachment, Riding Establishment, R. M. C., under Capt. Bray.

At the memorial entrance, a stop was made for two minutes after which the parade entered the ground the vice-regal party, distinguished guests and visitors of the society, members of the Prince Edward County Council, and Picton town council proceedings to the grand stand. The formal proceedings began at two-fifteen when His Worship Mayor Newman presented greetings from the County, the town and the fair board to His Excellency Lord Byng. The Governor General replied graciously and formally declared the fair open.

A distinguished gathering was present at the ceremony and only un-toward weather conditions kept down the attendance.

Later in the afternoon His Excellency visited the various buildings and departments of the fair and at the Curling Club a reception was held in his honor.

Every preparation had been made for this auspicious event, the fair having opened its gates yesterday in order to have the exhibits in place and everything ready for the official opening.

The Picton fair is always an important one and is annually attended by large crowds, but this year's effort, in the hands of an energetic staff of officers, promises to eclipse all former ones. The officers in charge of this year's exhibition are:

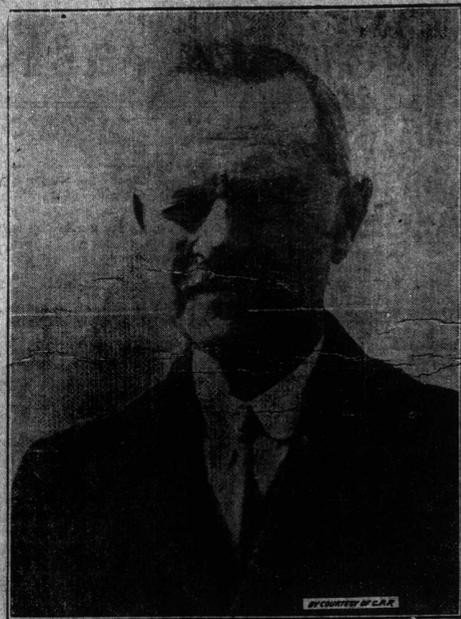

Hon. President, F. Newman; President, M. Grant Thompson; 1st Vice-President, Fred H. Hubbs; Secretary-treasurer, Alex. J. MacVanel.

Directors—H. B. Bristol, W. J. Carter, J. H. Horsey; 2nd Vice-Carter, J. H. Davidson, L. Frith Fraser, W. H. Gough, M. Gilbert, E. M. Herrington, V. S. R. B. Leavens, H. D. Leavens, Carmen Metcalfe, Ed. B. Pottelle, A. F. Welbanks, S. A. Welbanks, Arthur Wright, Howard Leavens.

KINGSTON, Sept. 20.—(By Mail)—His Excellency Lord Byng of Vimy arrived in the city this morning on a visit to the Royal Military College, and was met at the C.N.R. station by Major-General Sir A. C. Macdonnell, K.C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., Commandant of the R.M.C.; General W. B. M. King, C.M.G., G.O.C.; General F. W. Hill, C.B., C.M.G.; Lieut.-Col. Hodgins, Lieut.-Col. Browne and Lieut.-Col. H. E. Pense. There was a fairly large crowd present when His Excellency stepped from the private car Cornwall, which had been placed at the foot of Earl street, immediately in front of the Locomotive Works office.

A guard of honor, composed of members of the P.W.O.R., most of whom were former members of the 21st Battalion, was in command of Lieut. Frank Ludlow and the colors

PASSED THROUGH BELLEVILLE AT NOON.

HIS EXCELLENCY LORD BYNG got his first glimpse of Belleville today when he passed through on a special train from Ottawa to Picton just at noon. He was in Ottawa this morning to swear in the new cabinet and left there shortly after nine o'clock. He was expected in Picton about 1.30 p.m. of the famous 21st Battalion graced the position of honor. The band of the P.W.O.R. played the opening bars of the National Anthem as His Excellency and party stepped from the car, and all came to attention.

After a brief inspection of the guard, His Excellency met the officers present and spent a few minutes in recalling with each of them interesting and well-remembered incidents from the Western front and then he entered his carriage with Major-Gen. Sir A. C. Macdonnell, the guard of honor, consisting of a detachment of mounted R.M.C. cadets, took post, and the party moved off by Earl, King, Princess and Ontario streets to the R.M.C. Large crowds lined the streets through which the party passed and all eyes were trained on His Majesty's latest representative in Canada, the man who had won such fame for himself at the front, and who had endeared himself to every soldier who had come within his sphere of influence.

His Excellency was accompanied by Major Willis O'Connor, P.P.C.L.I. and Captain Joffe, of the Guards, as aides-de-camp. At the R.M.C. The Vice-Regal party reached the College grounds promptly on time, at 11.35, and the members of the staff were on hand to receive the distinguished visitor. His Excellency met each member personally and chatted with them for a few minutes, after which an inspection of the College buildings was made. Following this the party was entertained at luncheon by Major-Gen. Sir A. C. Macdonnell and staff, at which His Worship Mayor Nickle was a guest, and this in turn was followed by a visit to the College gymnasium, where the cadets put on a splendid exhibition of pyramiding, vaulting and jumping, which was watched with great interest by the visitors.

After the luncheon the cadets and a number of visitors assembled in Currie Hall, where His Excellency addressed the cadets, briefly touching on their work and its importance as fitting them for the work of their careers.

The program of aquatic sports followed, and this was witnessed with great interest by the visitors, as well as by a large number of citizens who went over. His Excellency and party, as well as other invited guests attended a dinner in honor of the Governor-General at night at Grant Hall.

Quite a number from this vicinity attended Porter's picnic in Trenton on Wednesday last. Mrs. J. Rollins of Ivanhoe and her sister, Mrs. McGregor of Ft. William spent Wednesday last at the home of Mrs. C. Spencer.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Ketcheson and Mrs. Longwell, of Toronto, called on Mrs. M. Rose one night last week.

Mr. A. Welbourne, of Lakefield, spent the week-end at the home of Mr. E. Lowery.

Services were held in the Methodist Church here by Rev. Mr. Beck.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Saylor of Stirling also Mrs. Connell of Marmora, is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Whitton.

Miss Mary Harte has returned home after spending a few weeks at Ramworth.

Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald who were recently married at Stirling, have taken up residence at Point Anne. Mr. and Mrs. John Mosher spent Sunday at Crookston.

DELICATE GIRLS NEED NEW BLOOD

Rich, Red Blood Means Health and Strength.

The anaemia of young girls may be inherited, or it may be caused by bad air, unsuitable food, hasty and irregular eating, insufficient out-of-door exercise and not enough rest and sleep.

It comes on gradually, beginning with languor, indisposition to mental or bodily exertion, irritability and a feeling of fatigue. Later comes the palpitating of the heart, headaches, dizziness following a stooping position, frequent backaches and breathlessness. In a majority of cases constipation is present. There may be no great loss of flesh, but usually the complexion takes on a greenish-yellow pallor.

Cases of this kind, if neglected, become more serious, but if taken in time there is no need to worry. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which are free from any harmful or habit-forming drug, are just the tonic needed to remedy this wretched state of health. Though it is not noticeable, improvement begins with the first dose. As the blood is made rich the pallor leaves the face, strength and activity gradually return and the danger of relapse is very slight.

If any symptom of anaemia appears, prudence suggests that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be given at once, and the sooner they are taken the more speedily will their action improve the blood. You can get these pills through any dealer in medicines, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MANY "WASTED" COINS FOR CHURCH AFFAIR

St. Andrews Young People Have Novel Plan to Collect From Those Who Were Asked

A most novel invitation was sent out by the Ladies' Aid of St. Andrews' Presbyterian Church for an afternoon tea held in the parlor of that church yesterday afternoon. A little apron with the following instructions were sent:

The little pocket you plainly see, For a special purpose is meant to be, Now, measure your waist-line, inch by inch, And see that the measure does not pinch.

For each small inch it measures around, In the pocket place a penny round, The game is fair, you will admit, You "waist" your money, we "pocket" it.

Bring your knitting and lots of cheer And we'll talk over plans for the coming year.

This envelope, sealed with apron, too, Will be a ticket admitting you— If cleaning house and cannot come, Just send the pennies and we'll have the fun.

The envelopes containing aprons and pennies were giled high on the collection plate at the door. The tea tables with their decorations of Autumn flowers were prettily arranged around the room. The refreshments served were most delicious. Mrs. Perry and Mrs. Arthur McGie were in charge of the tea room. Mrs. W. J. Campbell presided at the tea table while helping to serve were Mrs. Diamond, Mrs. MacRae, Miss Hays, Mrs. McCoy, Mrs. Frost, Mrs. Fletcher, Miss Fenn, Mrs. Fenn, Miss Sprague and Miss Muir. Miss Fenn presided at the piano during the afternoon.

LIFE IN MOON AND UPON MARS EXCITES EXPERTS

American Astronomers Declare Existence of Life in the Satellite

MARS NOT POPULATED?

French Scientists Fight Oral Battles Pro and Con as to Planet

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 21.—Dr. C. C. Booth, John H. Chase, and T. G. Beede, well-known local astronomers, have announced their belief in the discovery of life on the moon, hitherto regarded as a dead planet. Mr. Beede operates one of the largest telescopes in Ohio. All three are recognized observers.

"We found a beautiful fleecy effect from one mountain to another," said Mr. Chase, "and agreed that one of the mountains we had seen was Aristarohs, from which a cloud extended to Herodotus. We found Aristarohs to be a mountain that glitters, and is composed probably of crystals. We also observed a streak of light with changing colors between it, and Herodotus, which would indicate we had discovered a low form of vegetation."

"We also saw an apparently permanent rock formation, but which we believe might be some substance being thrown out by craters. This fact would further indicate existence of life on the satellite."

Mr. Chase said their study of the moon followed reports by Prof. Pickering of Harvard, who said he had observed white patches on the edge of the highest craters and fleecy streaks changing in appearance, as well as color changes. According to Prof. Pickering, the white patches denote snow, the fleecy streaks clouds, and the changing colors a form of vegetation.

Paris, Sept. 21.—French astronomers, and especially Abbe Moreaux, director of the Burgess Observatory, are heaping ridicule on Prof. Macatee's calculations that by using a mine shaft as a barrel for his mercury and telescope he will be able to produce photographs of Mars similar to those which could be made were the planet photographed from a distance of five miles.

"As a matter of fact," Abbe Moreaux said, "Mars would be brought, perhaps, about a thousand miles from his vision, but as a distance of a thousand miles what can be seen beyond a general contour, which has already been well defined?"

"As to canals on Mars, we are sure as we will ever be that they are natural valleys some three hundred miles wide. It is unlikely even on such an ancient planet, that they have ever been worked by human beings."

Abbe Moreaux is preparing a paper regarding Mars, which for years has been a subject of special study by him. In this he intends to refute the popular theory that Mars is inhabited by a superdeveloped race. He contends that the rarified atmosphere there, which he estimates is comparable to that existing ten miles from the earth, would not permit human life to exist.

OTTAWA, Sept. 21.—Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, the Prime Minister, announced his new Cabinet shortly after 9 o'clock this morning, as the members of the cabinet filed out of the Governor General's office, where swearing in had taken place.

Changes in the Cabinet as announced by the Right Hon. Mr. Meighen were as follows:

Railways and Canals, Hon. J. A. Stewart, Lanark. Trade and Commerce, Hon. H. H. Stevens, Vancouver. Justice, Hon. R. B. Bennett, Calgary. Postmaster General, Hon. L. G. Beley, K.C., Quebec. Secretary of State, Hon. Rodolphe Monty, Montreal. Health, Immigration and Colonization, Hon. Dr. J. W. Edwards, Frontenac. Soldiers Civil Re-establishment, Hon. R. J. Manion, Fort William.

Customs Excise, Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, St. John, N. B. Finance—Sir Henry Drayton. President of Privy Council—Hon. Dr. L. G. Normand, Three Rivers.

Without Portfolio, Hon. James Wilson, Saskatoon, and Hon. Edmund Bristol, K.C., Toronto.

The Portfolio of Solicitor General remains to be filled later. The Prime Minister stated that the Right Hon. C. J. Doherty would probably receive an appointment to some other office. There were no changes in the other portfolios.

ANOTHER LETTER REGARDING COMMERCIAL STREET SEWER

Editor Ontario.

Some time ago a letter of mine appeared in the Ontario in reference to the Commercial street sewer, in which I stated that the City Council would be remiss in its duties to the rate-payers on this street if it did not order an investigation of certain matters in connection with the construction of this sewer and the West Dundas street sewer as well, notwithstanding the fact that considerable time has elapsed since my letter appeared no perceptible move has been made towards looking into the matters complained of but as usual "mum" is the word applicable to the inaction of our aldermanic servants in relation to these sewers.

Now, Mr. Editor I trust you will allow me to trespass further on your good nature by asking you to contribute space in columns of your paper for some additional remarks in reference to these sewers.

Since writing my previous letters on this subject I called on the City Clerk and asked him to be kind enough to let me know the amount of money the contractor was to receive for the construction of the Commercial St. sewer. But just at that time it was not feasible for the clerk to give me the desired information, but afterwards my request was answered in writing, but on reading the information furnished by the clerk I was surprised to find that the contract price of the Commercial St. sewer was not given separately, but, instead of this, the amount for the two sewers was given together, namely $15,526.13. But the clerk's statement showed that City Engineer estimated the cost of the sewers separately: Dundas street, $16,275.20; Commercial Street, $6,339.00. I afterwards asked the clerk to explain why the cost of the two sewers were given in one amount instead of separately and in reply he intimated that he could not do so as he could not find the prices stated individually.

Now in this connection the question arises how will this affect the Commercial street people providing the cost per foot of sewer is based on the two sewers collectively instead of on Commercial street separately? I believe that if we could get what the contractor gained by being allowed to construct the Dundas St. sewer along in the ditch, instead of along the high level of the street as per specifications, we, on Commercial street, would be greatly benefited financially. To my mind at least the cost of constructing the Dundas street sewer along the depression should save a large amount of money to the contractor. The writer of this does not profess to be competent to put even an approximate value on the savings accruing to the contractor by being allowed or instructed to make the deviation referred to from the original specifications, but he has been told by another sewer contractor that savings on the two sewers mentioned on account of deviations adopted should not be less than $6,000. Well although this estimate may be absolutely correct suppose we discount it one third making it $4,000. If this then should prove to be a correct estimate to whom, I ask, does this large amount of money belong? Morally at least, to the rate-payers who have to put up the cash to pay for constructing these sewers.

An, or advantage which accrued to the contractor was (if I am correctly informed) that the public works department had men dig but the ditch, to the rock on Dundas street West, just a few months previous to the excavation of the sewer and of course this saved the contractor that much labor which he would have had to pay for instead of rate-payers having to do so. It is quite true that the engineer in his report to the council says that an arrangement was made with the contractor for the allowance of three hundred and some odd dollars (which seems a paltry amount) for deviation from specifications for the Commercial street sewers. But it seems apparent that nothing of this nature was even attempted in connection with the Dundas street West sewer. Why not? Echo answer, "Why not?"

In my previous letter on this subject I asked if these changes in the sewer plans had been referred to the Council for approval, but no answer to this query has been given by the council as far as I know. But one day last week I queried the Mayor regarding this and he told me that the Council had never been consulted at all in reference to this very important matter. Now this method of managing the City's business seems to the writer to be less cumbersome than what even the City Manager plan would be, for I understand that the City Manager would necessarily have to consult the Council in connection with all important matters. But our present system, especially in the Public Works department seems to obviate such a roundabout course, and a short cut to the end in view, it must be admitted, is much more expeditious. Still the latter method has its defects and is therefore objectionable, and in fact I may truthfully say that the rate-payers on this hill are very much dissatisfied with the way this method has worked out as applied to these sewers. Indeed some go as far as to say that the method adopted in connection with these sewers is rotten with a big R. So there is an intense feeling here that the Council should institute an investigation of this whole business by appointing a man who is an expert in relation to sewers and specifications for same and in this way procure an authentic unbiased report as to what the difference should be between the original contract price and the cost of the work as finally carried out in accordance with the changed plans.

DR. JOHN C. FERGUSON TO REPRESENT CHINESE AT DISARMAMENT MEET

Belleveulan will sit at the International Conference on Disarmament which opens at Washington D.C., on Armistice Day, Nov. 11th, namely Dr. John C. Ferguson. He will be one of the representatives of China, where he is high in the counsels of state.

A message to this effect was received in Belleville today by Mrs. A. F. Sherman, sister of Rev. Dr. Ferguson. This statesman who has devoted a good share of his attention to the international politics was in Belleville a few months ago, where he addressed the Rotarians on the after-war outlook.

Mr. Clifford Lloyd and Mr. Benj. Pratt, of Belleville, are visiting their uncle, Mr. Benj. Bingham, Peterboro.

Miss Hazel Morden, Shannonville, is leaving tomorrow to enter the General Hospital, Kingston as a nurse-in-training.

CURZON SENDS SHARP LETTER TO RED CHIEF

Attention Called to Alleged Breaches of Faith by the Soviet Government

WANT EXPLANATION. Gives Details of Central Asia and Afghanistan Campaign and Demands Reply

LONDON, Sept. 21.—Great Britain's sharp note to the Soviet relative to the activity of Bolshevik agents in the near east claimed precedence in interest over the Irish situation today. The protest sent to the Soviet Foreign Minister seemed to have features which appeared to foreshadow important developments.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—The British Government has despatched a strongly-worded note to Moscow calling the attention of the Soviet Government to alleged serious breaches of faith involved in the pursuance by the Russians throughout Central Asia and Afghanistan of a campaign of intrigues hostile towards Great Britain. An explanation is demanded.

The note, which was written by the Foreign Minister, Earl Curzon, was delivered to the Moscow Government two days ago. It details a number of "flagrant violations" of Russia's undertaking under the trade agreement with Great Britain to cease anti-British propaganda, and particularly enumerates the activities of the Third Internationale of Moscow in India and Afghanistan, quoting in substantiation thereof a statement by M. Stalin, president of the eastern section of the Third Internationale, urging the eastern secretariat to devote itself to undermining the external power of England and France.

It is declared in the note that the British Government has evidence of continued intrigue with Indian revolutionaries in Europe, some of whom were invited to Moscow last June to discuss the best means of bringing about a revolution in India and also refers to the activities of Rothstein, the Russian representative at Téhéran, who is declared to be importing large sums and known to be subsidizing Persian newspapers to carry on an anti-British campaign.

The gravest charge pertains to the Russo-Afghan treaty and M. Tchitcherine's insistence upon a clause in this treaty providing for the opening of consulates in eastern Afghanistan.

The British Foreign Secretary asks for definite assurance that these activities, constituting breaches of the trade agreement, shall cease.

A MOTHER'S ADVICE

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones she is always happy to recommend them to others. Her advice, given after a careful trial, can be readily followed with assured good results. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which never fail to regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach. They always do good—they cannot possibly do harm even to the youngest babe. Concerning them Mrs. P. Laforest, St. Nazaire, Que., writes:—"For three months my baby was constipated and cried continually. On the advice of a friend I gave him Baby's Own Tablets and now at the age of five months he is perfectly well and weighs twenty pounds. I am delighted to be able to advise other mothers to use them." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brookville, Ont.

CHURCHES DIVIDED, LANDLORDS A UNIT, IN ARBUCKLE CASE

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 21.—With broadside attacks launched against the entire motion-picture industry by some Los Angeles clergymen who cite the Arbuckle case as proof that the screen's most dangerous enemies are "in its own ranks," and pleas from other pastors to their flocks that they should not condemn Arbuckle without a full hearing, or judge all motion-picture folk by his deeds, the Church here has divided on the famous case.

At the same time, motion-picture stars in the Hollywood colony face a serious housing situation. Landlords of many famous film luminaries have notified them that they must quit the premises, and many property owners have proclaimed their homes are not for rent at any price to motion-picture actors.

BELLEVILLE FOLK HELP TO SWELL TORONTO'S MEET

Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd-fellows Attracts 25,000 People There

HON. N. W. ROWELL

Evidences of Canadian-American Unity Noted Upon All Sides

Several dozen Oddfellows (and Rebekahs) from Belleville were in Toronto for the monster meeting there of the Sovereign Grand Lodge. It was estimated according to despatches that 25,000 visitors were in the city. The week-end saw visitors coming in from all directions.

Pessimists who affect to see an ever-widening rift in the relations between the United States and Great Britain, and, more particularly between the United States and Canada, will find little to bolster up their beliefs in an observation of the spirit of fraternity and unity of interests that exist between the Canadian and American sections of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Oddfellows, now in session in this city. Still less would those disturbers have relished the evidence of that good feeling displayed by a mixed Canadian and American audience of two thousand, at the Sovereign Grand Lodge church service and sacred musical concert at Massey Hall on Sunday afternoon.

There they would have witnessed the spectacle of delegates from every state in the Union, and representatives of every province in Canada, roundly applauding the appeal of a former Canadian minister for an application of those principles which have preserved the Canadian-American peace for over a century, to the wider field of international relations. There they would have seen an audience, drawn from every section of the United States acknowledging in no uncertain fashion a plea for unreserved co-operation between Great Britain and the United States as the only guarantee of the stability of international relations of the immediate future.

For Peace of World
Hon. N. W. Rowell was the speaker, and he struck the keynote of the gathering when he declared that the two nations must stand side by side to preserve the peace and lead the world until such time as workable machinery for the settlement of international disputes by arbitration was evolved. Referring indirectly to the attitude of the United States to the League of Nations, he pointed out that although there was a growing realization in both countries of the peril of the appeal to force of arms, they were not in agreement as to the method to be adopted to overcome that danger. Until such time as some practical method was ascertained, to the world's only salvation lay in the friendly co-operation of the two countries.

The presence in Canada and the United States of such great fraternal orders as the Odd Fellows, stated the speaker, was in itself an excellent illustration of this co-operation in its best form. Such orders, he believed, had done much to make possible the one hundred year peace between the two countries. There had been disputes, but they had been settled by arbitration.

EIGHT LABOR MAYORS LEAVE FOR GAIROLOCH

Intend to Seek Personal Interview With Premier on Unemployment Despite a Warning

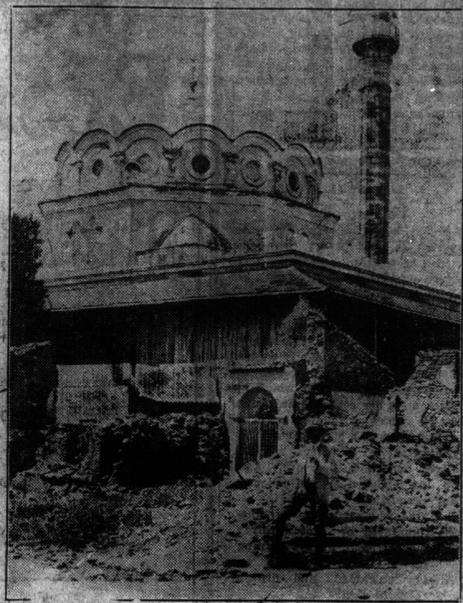

LONDON, Sept. 19.—Eight Labor Mayors of the London boroughs started for Gairoloch tonight with the intention of seeking a personal interview with Mr. Lloyd George or the unemployment question. They had previously wired the Prime Minister expressing the hope that he would soon be well enough to receive them, while regretting his illness, they declared: "In view of the terrible outlook of unemployment for the winter, we are compelled to obey our deep moral conviction that it is our duty to proceed to Gairoloch."

GLASGOW'S VIEW.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—The view is expressed in Glasgow in connection with the proposed removal of the battle embargo that there is not at present in Canada cattle suitable for the British market and that it will probably take three years to get animals into shipping condition.

MOTORS CRASH

On Saturday night two motors collided on the Shannonville road a few miles east of the city. Considerable damage was caused to the machines, but the drivers and occupants escaped without injury.

Gossip From Old Billets Apres La Guerre Fini

Shooting Match in Armentieres—The Men Are Back Home Now—Marguerite Married—The Estaminet of the Seven Sisters.

ARRAS, Aug. 26.—(By Mail to the Toronto Telegram)—Apres la guerre fini, tous les soldats parti, etc. That much-looked for time has come to the old western front as it has to the rest of the world. Elsewhere, with labor troubles, and Irish troubles and the high cost of living, it sometimes seems that after all the war wasn't such a terrible time, but here there can be no doubt of the blessing of peace.

The sky is free from planes and balloons and bursting shrapnel, the earth is free from marching men, the roar of shells and the whine of bullets.

In the towns and in the fields, Frenchmen, who are neither old nor crippled, go about their jobs, and there is work for all here, for there is much to be done.

Old Army Mokes

The queer-looking teams that used to work more or less together, are gone. No longer do you see a horse that is a mere wreck of bones hitched in with a cow to pull a plow about. The horses now are short, chunky lads and look quite up to their task.

Often you see an old army mule, the branded arrow still visible on its flank, pulling a wagon through the streets. They move slowly, these mules and appear to enjoy their new life better than dragging around a lumber or packing ammunition up the line. The peasants jerk to them from the carts and shout as the reins and they see and haw in French as contentedly as ever they did in English.

Down in Armentieres on a Sunday the estaminets are crowded and there is a shooting competition going on outside one. A drummer steps out and taps his drum once and a Frenchman puts down his glass, wipes the foam off his beard and picks up a rifle. There is a target slung up on a high pole and if he hits it, it bursts into flame and the drummer does a long roll on the drum. If he misses it there are only two loud beats. It would be funny to watch these rather fat, middle-aged men shoot at a target with all that ceremony unless you remembered that they are the same men that held Fritz back at Verdun, where there wasn't so much formality, but the shooting was just as good.

The Orchestras of Lille

At Lille, which was so long under the Boches, they are having a gay time. In the station square at night you can hear seven or eight orchestras all playing at once and most of them are automatic. Compared to the noise they make, a barrage is a lullaby, but the people sit in the cafes and on the boulevards and sip their beer and cream and appear to enjoy it all.

Bully-Grenay Unchanged

Up in Bully-Grenay there are many signs of the war. At the entrance from Aix Noutette the words, painted in white, "This is Bully" are still visible. But the cheery grocery store and wine-shop where the troops used to get baths and meals when they were lucky enough to get back here is in different hands. It isn't nearly so well kept now as it used to be when it was run by Marguerite Guyot and her father and mother, with the occasional assistance of Cousin Jeanne from the butcher shop.

Marguerite has gone and got married to an English ex-soldier and now runs a millinery shop farther up the street. She's the same old Marguerite though, and any of the troops that were lucky enough to know that epicure during the war can be sure of a welcome and a meal at 12 Rue de la Gare, Bully-Grenay, from Madam Shrimpton-Guyot. She'll even remember your name and unit.

The old wagon lines and rest billets on the Lens front haven't changed much. All of you will remember different ones, but they were all a good deal the same.

Gossip of Boyettes

Boyettes, for instance, is the same dirty little cobbled road, lined with small shops and stables and estaminets. Many of you will remember the estaminet that used to be called the Seven Sisters, probably because there were only four. It's been closed as an estaminet since the troops left. One of the sisters is married and lives at Bully-Grenay. But Henriette, that is the rather chunky one who looks very well satisfied with herself and the world in general, but mostly with herself, and Regine and Jeanne are still there, and here again a pilgrim can be sure of a hearty welcome.

Regine went down cellar immediately and got a pitcher of beer, for it was a hot day out, and then we sat around and talked over old times.

The girl who kept the estaminet across the street, (I forget her name), is married now, and Julie who kept the billet up the street is engaged, but generally things have moved slowly in Boyettes. Regine says that they have done much work in the fields since the war and Jeanne the youngest, is looking a bit tired, for there was a big dance in Boyettes last night that lasted till day-break. The mother is sick in the new room that used to be the parlour of the estaminet, but she listens intently to the conversation and often calls through the door to ask after someone she remembers.

A Beaucoup Brigand

It is a good deal of an occasion for all of us and the rooms hold many memories, and so we talk of the lads who used to come here and they ask anxiously after the ones they remember. How is "Dick" and is So-and-so married, and Jeanne asks after Monsieur Sprotty and Regine says with a smile "Monsieur Sprotty beaucoup brigand, he has promised to come back and marry Jeanne, but we have never seen him," and Jeanne indignantly denies it and says that the only reason she ever liked the gentleman in question was because he owned the canteen and had unlimited supplies of chocolate.

And so the talk goes on, little personal things mostly, and here-and-there the brother, who is back now

DR. CLINTON IS SERIOUSLY HURT AS CAR UPSETS

Mrs. Clinton and Miss Jean Clinton Bruised and Badly Shaken up

OVER END OF CULVERT

Passing Another Automobile Near Corbyville Machine Turned Over

While crossing a culvert on the road between Corbyville and Fairfield's bridge after dark Sunday night a motor party consisting of Dr. G. Clinton, Mrs. Clinton, and their daughter Miss Jean Clinton, met quite serious injury. Dr. Clinton who was in charge of the motor, had turned out to let another car pass. The doctor's motor was proceeding slowly at the time, and overturned into the ditch.

Dr. Clinton had his right arm fractured at the wrist and was shaken up. Mrs. Clinton suffered a number of bruises and cuts and Miss Clinton besides bruises to her arm sustained a bad wrenching of the shoulder. It was not thought that there were any fractures.

The car, that had met the motor, passed on and shortly after Mr. G. H. Gillespie of Madoc drove along. He took the party into his motor and brought them to their home where they were attended by a number of the physicians of the city.

Dr. Clinton was able to be out today, apparently none the worse for the accident beyond the fracture of the wrist.

How the party escaped without more serious injury seems miraculous for the ditch is quite deep at the point where the motor overturned.

The car was not damaged very much, only the lower portion of the windshield having been broken and a few scratches resulting.

WOUNDED AN ANIMAL

Police Charge Against Man Said to be Very Serious

Alva Fox was arrested by the police early this morning on a peculiar charge—that of having wounded an animal.

The animal in the case is a bay mare the property of Mr. Charles Clark, 3 Ridley street. Fox is a neighbor of the complainant.

The mare is said to have a cut or slash about fourteen inches in length on the shoulder. Dr. Askerhill's attention was required in the case of the injury.

The case was begun in police court before Magistrate Masson at noon today and at one o'clock was adjourned until afternoon court.

Rev. A. L. Faust, Methodist minister at Westchester, L.L. has opened a garage to get an independent income which will warrant fearless preaching.

from the army, comes in from work, fine-looking blonde chap, and Monsieur Bouchet, the uncle, comes in from next door and there is a regular reunion.

They insist on me staying to supper and the table is set, and we all sit and talk of the time when the troops used to come in here to spend the odd evening before going up the line. Over there is the table where "Slim" used to stand when he recited "Gunga Din" and "Dangerous Dan McGrue" to enthusiastic audiences.

And after supper we linger over coffee and still talk on, till finally it starts to get dark and it is necessary to leave for Arras. They all come out to see me off, for life does move slowly in Boyettes, and the places like it in France. And as Regine says, there is not much in their lives since the war but "beau coup travailleur in the fields."

STATE OF INDIA VERY SERIOUS

Transport and Communication Difficulties Delay Restoration of Order

PLIGHT OF HINDUS

LONDON, Sept. 19.—Official investigations show that the situation in India is more serious than was believed. The military is experiencing difficulty in dealing with the rebels owing to the latter's mobility and to the nature of the country, which is largely forest land, where formidable gangs are scattered.

The opinion is held that the rebellious Moplahs who fled into the jungle could be starved out, if the main roads were held and certain areas garrisoned. Two thousand rebels are massed on the Pandalur hills in a favorable position where an action is imminent and the use of artillery unavoidable. A high priest is heading another band which is endeavoring to join the force at Pandalur.

A rebel conference has been declared that the Hindus are to be converted to Islam at the point of the sword.

A Reuter cable from Simla says that a council of State the Home Secretary said that except in the immediate vicinity of the troops and near the railways the life and property of the non-Muslims are unsafe. The rebels, of whom five bodies are known to exist, control certain areas and the re-establishment of authority is at present impossible owing to transport and communication difficulties.

INCREASE TRADE WITH BRITAIN

Commercial Relations Will Grow Out of Visit of Old Country Chemists

CHEAP POWER HERE

Industrial Experts See in Canada Chance of Low Cost in Manufacture

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(By Canadian Press)—Increased commercial relations between Canada, the United States and Great Britain will grow out of the recent visit of a party of British chemists to this country according to Sir William J. Pope, head of the Society of chemical industry of Great Britain.

Sir William came to the United States with a delegation of the society of which he is the head to join in the recent international conference with members of the American Chemical Society. The British delegation came from Canada following the annual meeting of the society held in conjunction with the Canadian Chemical Society in Montreal. In an interview given prior to sailing on the steamship Celtic for London, Sir William said:

"International comity will, in my opinion, be greatly stimulated by the visit which the chemists of Great Britain have made to the United States and Canada. I believe that this will be the beginning of a new era in the trade relations between America and Great Britain. English industrial chemists feel from what they have seen here that they will be able to avail themselves of the cheap water power and the well developed transportation of the American continent to undertake many of their manufacturing processes on this side of the Atlantic. Water power is especially abundant at low cost in Canada. Undoubtedly British manufacturing chemists will be able to carry through many of the preliminary processes in the making of the chemicals here and thus save considerably on transportation charges of raw material. This applies especially to products made from coal tar, and to various animal and vegetable products.

"The future cannot fail to unite chemistry here with the chemistry on the other side. There is evidently a strong desire in this country to enter into closer relations with English industry."

BUILDING NEW HOUSES Life-long Resident of Frankford Until Recently Passes Away in Florida

On Monday evening the 12th, the members of the League of the Methodist Church entertained the League from Wooler. The visitors giving the programme of the evening which consisted of some service and the opening exercises by the President, solos, quartettes and other League work.

Mrs. W. W. Pettet left on Tuesday to visit her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Brown at Hamilton.

Mott Bros. are starting to build another house on the lots bought the past spring, they have erected two and now are starting the third one.

Mrs. Mary Wessels of Wooler, is the guest of Mrs. and Miss Bowen.

Word reached town on Tuesday of the death of Mr. John Saries in Florida. He had been a life long resident of Frankford until after the death of his wife some ten years ago, when he went to live with his youngest daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Manley Sine. And the last Spring he went with them to Florida, he had been in failing health for some time and then word reached town, he was buried. He leaves to mourn his loss two daughters, namely Mrs. Jas. Murney of town and Mrs. Manley Sine of Florida, who have the sympathy of their friends in their sorrow and bereavement. Mr. Saries was 83 years old.

Mrs. Will Bush of the 4th of Sidney is visiting her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bell in Rochester also other friends there.

Mr. George T. Sturges In Flanders

Former Belleville Man Tells of Interesting Journey Through War-Scarred Lands.

Many readers will remember Mr. George T. Sturges, who was engaged in the local Rolling Mills, and the following interesting letter to one of his close friends will be read with pleasure:

61 Madison Ave. Jersey City, Sept. 15, 1921.

My Dear Old Pal,—I've just completed a seven weeks' holiday in Old England and Flanders; and I've had the time of my life! This was my first visit home to the land of my birth and boyhood in 42 years, and I decided when I got that far—I mean to good old Lancashire and Cheshire—that I would follow the man from Cook's and see the Armageddon scenes of war-scarred Europe. Arras was my first main stop from Boulogne and the city looked as if it had been destroyed by fire and brimstone. Your first sight of the battered buildings and piles of debris sends a thrill of unspeakable bitterness and horror through your soul. But you soon get immuned to it by a succession of such scenes for hundreds of miles and your very nerves centers seem mercifully numbed. Then too, the undoubted cheerfulness of the peasants and kiddies is contagious and inspiring and you feel the dawn of hope surging through your soul once more.

By Motor Lorry.

We toured the battlefields, dug-outs, trenches and grave yards by motor lorry. At La Targite we visited a subterranean German dugout capable of caring for 1000 men. The mechanism and skill represented here was simply miraculous. Gen. Petain captured it and subsequently turned it over to the Canadians. The "art gallery" was a feature of this great cave. Soberly with a touch of Raphael had carved images in the soft limestone. The premier places were given to the Kaiser in the flames of Gehenna and his Satanic majesty, armed with his fork, grimly thrusting his wretched Hun deeper into the inferno. Many photographs of Canadian boys were carried on the wall. I noticed some Hamilton and Ottawa names still quite prominent.

The Old Sugar Factory.

A weird sight was the old sugar factory that changed hands four times in a single day's fierce hand-to-hand fighting. In a succession of former prosperous towns and villages like Souchez and Lens, not a single house is left on its foundations. But the surviving habitations are rebuilding their cottages and planting their gardens and making the wilderness and solitary places glad once more and causing the deserts to blossom like the rose.

At Vimy Ridge.

The most solemn place of all, in many ways, was Vimy Ridge. Here I saw the monuments to the Canadian heroes who climbed the steep circuit to Heaven through peril, toll and pain. The monument to the 2nd Canadian Division is very noticeable and was unveiled by Premier Meighen. There was a large cross built of solid masonry in memory of the Canadian Artillery who fell April, 1917. As I stood there with uncovered head, I felt indeed that this was holy ground, sacred forever to freedom and righteousness. I was privileged to strew some flowers at the base of these monuments in memory, especially of those fine Belleville boys, many of whom I know personally and who have won the victor's crown of gold and whose glory will never fade while civilization lasts. Whole stretches of trenches remain in these districts as they were left at the close of the war. Skulls and bones still line these trenches. The first care has been to rehabilitate the living, to rebuild their homes and to produce food and fodder. The ruins are rapidly being overgrown with grass and wild flowers and poppies and dame Nature is doing all she can to clothe the wastes with dreams of grain and on midnight's sky of rain to paint the golden morrow. I brought quite a parcel of these seeds home with me to be planted and given away as long as they last.

In Gay Peace.

After making a succession of visits to ruined towns, desecrated trenches, razed forests and memorial grave yards, we returned to Arras and arrived later in Paris, where I spent four days sightseeing. The social and domestic customs of the Parisians are certainly true and easy. Wine drinking in public is common, also spouting in the parks and open gambling with fare and spinning wheels. But rowdiness and drunkenness were, fortunately, absent, and I never saw such a lighter-hearted race in my life.

After my Paris visit I visited the ruins of Soissons and its beautiful cathedral, the Roman mines of Chemin De Dames, (used by the Germans as trenches), Lezons, Alsace, the Valley of the Wise, Berry an Rheims, (with its ruined cathedral) and Versailles. As you can easily guess, I would fill a bulky letter with just a little peep of all I saw and heard during this ever memorable tour, but I must forbear this time. I am more than ever convinced that this terrible war had to come before the modern Attila and his foul brood could be swept away into limbo. I wish that our Canadian and American youths could in some way be made to see and feel the awful scourge of militarism as I feel it after this trip through Flanders. I marvel at each day passes at the possibilities of the regenerating forces that are at work. Since the armistice was signed 250,000 acres of "ruined" ground in the Alsace department alone has been cleared and replanted. The trees are growing and the desolated houses are being rebuilt. This section of Europe—the medium hill of Salgotta—the "black" valleys will come a part of the new Jerusalem I believe. Surely kind Providence will repay these suffering innocents for all they have endured of the cross and the shame of Germany's treachery.

London Town.

It was with a feeling of pride and joy that I stepped out of the little pill-box railway carriage at London town some time, where my brother, Rev. Thomas Sturges, was waiting to receive me. St. Paul's cathedral, Westminster Abbey, Trafalgar Square, Nelson's monument, Tower of London, Buckingham Palace, Parliament buildings and Hyde Park all seemed very strange and dark after Paris. But they represented to me the bulwark of Freedom, and the sheet anchor of humanity. England is passing through hard times, but she is England still and she's got the strength and will. You bet all other countries know it. Rather! Much of what I saw of Oxford, Edinburgh, Manchester, especially of the religious conditions was depressing, but I believe true religion and practical Christianity will not long suffer eclipse.

GLEN BOSS

Shooting is the order of the day. Mr. H. Hubbel and Miss Thorne have returned after a very pleasant trip through the U.S.

Mr. Harvey Bradshaw, Robina, called on Mr. R. H. Yorks on Sunday. Mr. Kenneth Prentice spent Sunday under the parental roof.

A SPLENDID FISH.

KINGSTON—Herold Allen, thirteen-year-old son of Roy Allen, Victoria Street, caught a pickerel in Dalhousie Lake during August that weighed seven and three quarter pounds. After having the fish, which was probably the largest ever caught in that lake, photographed, it was cooked and served for dinner to a large party.

LIBERAL FORCES ARE ORGANIZED

Mr. H. H. Horsey, Liberal Candidate, Holds Meeting to Organize Forces

RETURNS FROM EUROPE Young Lads Seriously Injured When Team of Horses Runs Away

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Peters received a nice present from Ernest Pettigill. It is a bull moose's head set up, one that E. P. shot last year at Turbine.

Rev. Manson Davis, of Toronto, visited his father-in-law, Samuel Taylor, during the week-end. He attended the Friends meeting on Sunday morning, then preached at the Methodist church in the evening. His subject being, "Joseph and His Brethren." Miss Eva Lloyd also rendered a fine solo.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Benson, of Toronto, are visiting his mother, Mrs. Alma Benson, and on Sunday they visited Nelson Benson.

Mrs. Clayton Church is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Barley, and she, with her mother, visited Belleville during the week-end.

Mrs. S. A. Lane and daughter, Mrs. H. M. VanAlstine, have been visiting at Mrs. Percy Rorke's, but have been called to visit Mrs. M. VanAlstine at Millard, as she is seriously ill.

The unexpected news of the sudden death of John Wilder, one of the Wilder brothers, general auditors, while on a visit to relatives at Detroit, created a profound impression in the village on Friday afternoon, and the sympathy of all went out to the Wilder family.

John Wilder had suffered from rheumatism in recent years, and he went for a fortnight's holiday, but the illness extended to six weeks. No one knew he was seriously ill until word came of his death, five or six hours before he died.

His remains were brought here on Saturday for burial, and there was a great crowd at the funeral service, which was conducted by Rev. U. H. Robbins, on Sunday afternoon. The burial taking place at the Wellington cemetery.

Mrs. Wm. Boyd, of Detroit, on a visit to Miss Emma Wilder, at the residence of John Wilder's mother, Mrs. John Boyd, accompanied the remains from Detroit, and aimed for the funeral.

A serious accident occurred near Mr. Boyd's factory on Saturday afternoon, George Smith, Jr., of Hillier, who helps his uncle, James Lane, was striking some empty cans to the wagon, and a crane fell off the wagon, and frightened the horses.

George Smith pluckily stuck to the lines and endeavored to check the runaway horse, but, unfortunately, he was dragged from the wagon, and a wheel went over his body breaking three ribs, and terribly bruised his back, and almost tore off his left ear. He was at once conveyed to the doctor, and taken to his home at Hillier.

School children are looking forward to having a great time at their school fair to be held on Thursday, Sept. 29. Prizes are offered for various exhibits, including grain and corn, potatoes, cabbages and vegetables, flowers, poultry and eggs, live stock, etc.

There are also prizes for essays on such subjects as "Prince Edward County," "What I Would do With Ten Dollars," "How I Spend My Holiday," etc.

The people of Wellington are pleased to see Mr. H. E. McPaul looking so well after his nine weeks' tour through the British Isles, and various points on the Continent of Europe. Mr. McPaul was with a touring party that had special facilities for sight-seeing. He saw most of the great sights in London, and enjoyed riding in the "Tube" underground railway, and on top of the motor buses. He thinks the railway travelling in England is very comfortable, the special train they were in ran so smooth that they hardly knew it was moving. He also was impressed with the great motor buses and the public roads he travelled on in the Old Country. But he was particularly impressed at the sight of so many castles and cathedrals. The touring party took in a number of these at various points, as they visited Oxford, Warwick Castle, Melrose, Edinburgh and Glasgow. They also visited the birthplace of Shakespeare at Stratford-on-Avon, and that of Robert Burns at Ayr. From the Lake District, Keswick and Windermere, they went to Chester, then to Bristol and Bath. They stood on the spot where the hymn "Rock of Ages" is said to have been written by Topshady, Windsor Castle was visited also. They then crossed to Holland, where Mr. McPaul saw memorable sights. The Hague, Amsterdam, Antwerp and Brussels. At the latter place the tourists were impressed by seeing the women work on the land more than men, and cutting grain with cats and rickies. The westernmost area around Arras and Verdun was visited, where the party saw "hops" of trains of what had been surviving villages. At Strassburg they saw a great demonstration of "Machetes," with many costumes and bands playing well into the night. At Brunnen, Switzerland, they saw a remarkable funeral at 7 o'clock in the morning. Lucerne, Visp, Florence and Naples were visited, then Geneva, Geneva, and Paris. Mr. McPaul is certainly a much wiser man after all he has seen.

The political campaign has been opened here by the Liberals. Mr. H. H. Horsey, the Liberal candidate, spent most of last week here and visited a number of the homes and prepared the minds of the people for the coming election. On Friday night a meeting was held in the Masonic Hall to organize the Liberal forces. A woman's association was first formed with Mrs. Sanger Harris as President, and Mrs. Vanderwater and Mrs. West Thomas as vice-presidents; Mrs. A. M. Thompson as secretary and Mrs. Norman Warden as assistant.

Dr. S. Sainsworth presided as the men's officers were appointed. H. E. McPaul, president, with J. S. Shure and W. W. Fitzgerald, vice-presidents, and David Lyons as secretary-treasurer. Short speeches were delivered by Edgar Maston, of Pictonfield, and H. H. Horsey, of the candidate.

STRONG WATERS AT POINT ANNE POLICE NEEDED

Influx of Hooch at Suburb Means Disturbance of Quiet on Sabbath OFFICERS MADE SEARCH Inspector Naphin and His Assistants Will Endeavor to Prevent Smuggling Booze has been pouring into Point Anne from some source which has been causing considerable concern to the local authorities.

It all happened in this way. Word reached the city that a fight was on in the quiet hours of Sabbath among the foreign group. The information said that the Lazaruk boarding house was the scene of the conflict. The police put Inspector Naphin on the case and with County Constable Soule, he went to the nearby village.

The result was the arrest on Sunday of Yakob Lazaruk, the owner of the boarding establishment and Melan Yelkie, both accused of having liquor in a place that is prohibited under the O.T.A., the former because of its being a large boarding house.

Following this came the arrests of Michele Pastuch and Jan Ostrowski charged with drinking in a forbidden place. These cases were slated for this afternoon's court.

Inspector Naphin stated that he is determined that the illegal use of liquor in Point Anne shall not continue. The class of booze said to be figuring in these cases is a mixture of alcohol and something else, at present unknown.

The charges were laid by Inspector Naphin. Assault charges may materialize.

LEVY ON HOTELS U. S. TAX PLAN

Senate Committee Adopts An Amendment to House Measure TEN PER CENT. FIXED WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Under an amendment to the House Tax Bill adopted by the Senate Finance Committee, hotels will be required to pay a tax of 10 per cent. on the amount in excess of $5 charged to transients for single rooms and on the amount in excess of $3 charged for double rooms.

The committee finally completed revision of the House measure, agreeing to House proposals increasing the short term note authorization of the Treasury from $7,000,000 to $7,500,000 and for simplification of the Liberty Bond tax exemption.

A new proposed amendment will require the payment by the Government of interest at the rate of one-half of 1 per cent. on taxes erroneously paid and refunded to the taxpayer. This was offered by Chairman Penrose who said it was designed to speed up settlement of claims against the Government.

PURCHASED IRON ORE

Mr. Tobo of Belleville, is Blasting and Breaking up Slag. DESERONTON—Mr. Tobo, of Belleville, having purchased the iron ore in the dumps around the old iron works has had a gang of men blasting and breaking up the slag the past week. Mr. Tobo is using "Thompsonite" with satisfactory results.

More men are at work in Texas than at any time since last fall, cotton picking absorbing labor at high wages. One of several black bears that have been noising around citizens' back yards, was bagged by Fred Humes, at Moore's Cove.

Local Police Draw Blank Promising "Clue" Really Dud No News in Napanee Case

The authorities have dropped what was at one time thought to be a clue in the Napanee murder mystery after thoroughly satisfying themselves at Belleville that the men who they were interviewing knew nothing of the tragedy personally. No news has come out of Napanee for a few days. The shooting of Policeman Cotter near Kingston on Friday afternoon has absorbed the attention of the authorities as they have reason to believe that the desperado engaged in the gun play of last Friday may be the very men who are wanted in the Napanee case.

The latest message that the Belleville police had from Kingston was on Saturday night. The bandits are apparently trying to cross the St. Lawrence river east of Kingston. Saturday the car of R. S. Waldron which they were using was found on a road leading to Cartwright Point, two miles east of Kingston.

A description of the bandits was obtained from Alexander Sharpe, of Sunbury, who sold them gasoline. The driver is about 25 or 30 years, clean shaven, medium height, wears dark grey suit and dark cap. The second man is about 5 feet 7 inches in height, wore dark suit spotted as if by candle drip. The third man is about 5 feet 5 inches in height, 25 or 30 years of age, wore glasses, had a combination khaki suit with bottom of trousers turned up.

One report said the bandits had headed east via Gananoque, but it is thought they are still in the north. It was Mr. Charles Paradis, who spotted the bandits while he was at work on a pole at Harrowsmith. He thought he recognized the car they had as that of Mr. R. S. Waldron and came down off the pole to have a look at it. The three men held their heads down as he came up to them. Sizing them up as bandits he went to a telephone and sent in a message to the Kingston police which resulted in the chase and the wounding of Mr. James Cotter.

Shannonville Fair Good Despite Unfavorable Weather

Shannonville fair seems to stand all kinds of weather and Saturday's experience was no exception. Nothing daunted by the early rainfall which kept up till almost eleven o'clock, two thousand five hundred people paid admission to the grounds. Everything took on the appearance of a fair, a large midway doing a thriving business, two fine horse races being run, and a large number of exhibits being on view.

In only one respect did the entry that fell below normal, and that was in the cattle exhibits. Had the rain held off the display of stock would have exceeded that of past years. In horses the show was up to standard and many fine animals came before the judge. The hall was crowded with exhibits of fancy work, domestic manufacture, roots, grain.

Among the exhibitors were: Cattle—Theodore Parks, Arthur Clazie and A. Farnsworth. Sheep and swine—W. A. Martin, R. J. Garbutt, Dr. Aylea.

Horses—Robert Sparrow, Stillman Haight, James Little, J. McHenry, Seth Wheeler, B. Hinchey, J. W. Yateman, S. Badgley, J. Fitzgeraid, E. Green, George Badgley, W. E. King.

Fancy work, roots and grain—E. Weese, S. L. Terrill, M. Coulter, E. Bonter, T. Coulter, Mrs. Lockwood, John Barlow, Wesley Grey, Mrs. Crosby, Mrs. McCall.

There was an excellent display in the tent. The officers, directors and superintendents for the year were: President—R. J. Garbutt. First Vice-President—T. Drumme.

Second Vice-President—Geo. Lazier. Secretary-Treasurer—T. A. MacFarlane. Directors—G. Taylor, S. Dies, J. Barlow, J. S. Kerr, H. Taylor, A. Reid, P. A. Shannon, C. Long, T. Vivian.

Auditors—J. F. McFarlane, R. H. Liddale. Superintendents—T. Vivian, cattle; T. Drumme, G. Lazier, light horses; S. Dies, A. Reid, heavy horses; C. Long, P. A. Shannon.

MARRIAGEABLE FOLK MUST GO TO CITY CLERK FOR "PAPERS" AFTER FIRST OF NEXT MONTH

SWAINS with marriage in their heads will, on and after Saturday, Oct. 1st, find their way to City Clerk Holmes for the authority which enables them to get married. Henceforth the municipal clerk will take over the license business from the jewellers, whose powers to issue the documents cease with September 30th.

Formerly the jeweller sold the engagement ring, the license and then the wedding ring and perhaps some gifts; now the benedict-to-be has to take one more into his confidence. Henceforth the order of proceedings will be the jeweller, the clerk and the clergyman. To the second of the trio the five dollar fee is paid. Of this amount $4 goes to the Government and

$1 is retained by the issuer. It is provided that he may retain the extra dollar in each case until such time as an arrangement is made with municipality for a fixed sum, the balance then to be turned into the city treasury. If the council in any municipality and the issuer fail to reach an agreement the amount that the latter shall receive is to be fixed by the county judge. The Act does not constitute a Clerk or his deputy or the official designated by the Clerk as the issuer, a judge to determine who shall or shall not receive a license. Evidently everyone who applies and has the necessary fee can get a license, and it is left to the officiating clergyman to decide whether the holders of the license are fit and proper persons to marry.

ENGLAND PASSING THROUGH CRISIS SAYS MR. PORTER

Tells Rotary Club of Many Discouraging Things to Be Seen in Old Land COUNTS ON REVIVAL Overseas Dominions Must Lead Aid to Mother Land to Help Save World

Conditions in England now are to the superficial observer rather discouraging. Mr. E. Guss Porter, K.C., M.P., told the Rotary Club today in reviewing his trip overseas this summer, but he feels that Great Britain will wake up and that her people realizing the situation will, as they always have done before, never allow the country and the Empire to lag behind.

The unprecedented drought and the consequent lack of crops would mean a continuance of hard times there, while it would mean additional trade between Canada and the Motherland, who would be forced to buy a great deal of what her people would need to eat.

There were other factors which made people discouraged there and among these were: 1. The tremendous taxes, almost equaling the earning power of the country.

2. The German recovery from the war is faster, because they all work there, for long hours and for extremely low wages. This means that they can under sell all competitors and thousands of tons of German-made goods are flooding the English markets, sent over without a label and later labelled "Made in Great Britain." That was something not allowed in this country and he thought ought not to be allowed in the Motherland.

3. London knows and the general run of Englishmen know that London has lost control of the financial world. These things are bad enough but the whole country seemed rather apathetic as to the future and much more so than the French people who while not so well off as the Hun, were doing better than they were in England.

He referred in terms of eulogy to the standing attained by Mr. Meighen, the Prime Minister while there, and said he was only repeating the opinion of the English press when he said that the Canadian Prime Minister was the foremost man among the visiting premiers.

In conclusion, he said that while he was disappointed with many things in England he was far from discouraged and the Motherland would wake up. She would still be the leading nation of the world, spreading the Christian faith as she had in days past and gone. It was up to the Overseas Dominions, however, to lend their aid. By doing that we should be good Canadians and good Britons.

MADOC JCT. Pastor Rev. G. C. R. McQuade and family have returned from their camping holiday all much improved in health. Miss Nellie Bird has been appointed as one of the delegates to the W.M.S. Convention on October 17th at Camillon.

WERE NEARLY GASSED Men Working in Silo Were Overcome by Gasoline Fumes Lindsay—A peculiar accident occurred on a farm in South Ops during the process of silo filling. Three men were at work in the silo when they were overcome with the fumes from the gasoline engine operating the corn cutter. Their condition was such that they were in a stupor and were unable to continue work. It appears that the gas fumes were carried to the silo through the blower and the men did not feel the effects until they were practically overcome and crawled from the silo in a dazed condition.

ELEVATORS FULL The Midland and Port McNicoll Elevators Full to Top of Grain Midland—The Midland and Port McNicoll elevators are full to the top in common with all other Canadian grain houses. No sooner has one freighter unloaded, but another slips into the leg to discharge and clear for the west. The port of Montreal is also said to be in a state of congestion. Cars are carrying the grain to the sea board as fast as they can be loaded, but the conditions there will not permit the grain being forwarded from the lake ports any faster than it is being transferred at present.

A NEW SCHOOL Frankford School Board Discuss Necessity for Larger School Frankford—At a meeting of the School Board last week it was decided to call a gathering of the citizens in the very near future for the purpose of discussing the building of a new school for Frankford. Intimations have been received from the government to the effect that a new school with proper continuation school facilities will have to be built and the school board is desirous of having the matter fully considered by all the citizens. For the protection of pupils, two fire escapes have been built on the present building, one at either end.

COMMITTED TO STAND TRIAL

Alva Fox Charged With Stealing Horse Owned by Neighbor PRELIMINARY HEARING Evidence Showed That Animal Was Bleeding and Kicking With Pain

Alva Fox was, on Monday afternoon, committed for trial at the close of a hearing before Magistrate Mason, on a charge of having, on Sunday, September 13th, slashed or stabbed a horse, the property of Charles Clarke, 8 Ridley street. The charge was laid under section 536 of the Criminal Code.

The only evidence taken at the hearing yesterday afternoon was that of Charles Raymo, a neighbor of Clarke's. "You heard no sound outside the horse kicking?" asked Mr. Butler, appearing for the accused. Raymo had told how he had heard sounds that resembled those of a horse kicking.

He affirmed that the sounds were heard three times and he thought that Clarke's horse had got down. For that reason he advised Clarke. It was then about 11.30 or 12.40 p.m.

Raymo went out to the stable, followed by Clarke and they stayed there about two minutes. They examined the horse and found the blood running down the horse's side. In leaving the door, Raymo said he had seen a shadow which fitted by very rapidly.

"Was it a shadow or a person that you saw?" asked Mr. Mason. "It looked like a shadow when I first saw it. When I took a second look, it looked like a person."

"Did you speak?" The witness replied in the negative. It had passed so quickly. "How far would the shadow have to go before it got around the corner of the house?"

"About ten feet." Witness had searched the barn to see if he could find wire or tin that might cause the injury, but found none.

Mr. Butler asked him how he came to think of Fox, and he replied that he did not think of him at all. A paper was found on the premises with a red mark on it. It was at first thought that this was blood but Raymo believed that it was paint. What he did believe was blood was fresh red marks on the screen door of the house occupied by Fox. A knife was discovered at the latter's door with some blood on the handle and on the blade.

Mr. Raymo denied ever having seen the knife before. "Fox says he never owned it," stated Mr. Butler.

"You found that knife yourself," asked the lawyer. "Yes, sir, I did."

Witness was asked if he had ever been in trouble with Fox and he said no, but his wife had. (This referred to a language case which is to be heard this week.)

"You never discussed with your wife getting Fox," asked Mr. Butler. Mr. Raymo's response was that they had not.

The accused did not put in any evidence in explanation and the commitment was thereupon made. Crown Attorney Carnew appeared for the prosecution.

LATEST NEWS FROM BATTLE FRONT TELLS OF MEN SURROUNDED IN WOODS LOCAL POLICE ARE READY FOR ACTION

Local authorities had no word today as to the progress of the man-hunt near Kingston but the wounding by armed bandits last evening of Police Constable Cotter of the Kingston police force near Harrowsmith created local interest. The news was received here by wire shortly after seven o'clock and the police set to work to do everything in their power to aid in the arrest of the desperadoes, should they come this way. The report spread with lightning rapidity about the streets and the whole feeling was one of concern that outlaws were so active in this part of the province.

Belleville police got into communication with the constables on the front and along other roads while the bandits might take in their flight if it was to the westward. There was a report of a big car having passed through Shannonville but it is not believed to have any connection with the near-tragedy at Harrowsmith.

The local authorities were on the qui vive all night, keeping a sharp lookout for any strange motors.

They were armed to the teeth, Lee Enfield rifles and plenty of ammunition having been issued for use in case of emergency. However, the night passed without any signs of them.

Latest word from Kingston was that there was ground to believe the men surrounded in the vicinity of Kingston.

The authorities here had no word today from Kingston as to the progress of the hunt or as to the condition of the injured officer.

Constable Cotter is known to the men of the Belleville force, having on many occasions worked with them in ferreting out crime. They praise him as a fearless officer.

Cotter was shot in the left arm and made off with two other men, Stewart Patterson, a taxi driver, and Wm. Lyons, a chauffeur, had a close call when they endeavored to round-up three bandits with loaded rifles in a bush near Latimer.

The police received word that the three men were traveling in an automobile stolen from R. S. Waldron's garage on Wednesday night. When Constable Cotter ordered them to surrender, the three bandits opened fire. The first shot fired hit the constable in his left arm and he fell. Stewart Patterson came to his assistance, but before he fell Cotter fired a shot from his revolver which grazed the face of one of the men. As Patterson endeavored to get Constable Cotter out of danger, he was met with a fusillade of shots, while other shots went into the car. One of the bullets grazed the leg of Mr. Lyons who lay on the floor of the car. After firing about 50 shots, the three bandits got into their stolen car and made off.

The scene of the shooting is about seven miles from Kingston on the Perth Road and just about one hundred yards from the place where the car stolen from J. W. Robinson at Napanee on the night of August 28th was murdered was found by the police.

Constable Cotter suffered a great deal from loss of blood but has every chance of recovery.

When the news of the shooting reached Kingston a large posse of police and volunteers went out to the scene of the affair in an endeavor to locate the bandits, but report states that the men made off towards Gananoque. They say the bandits are very young, and it is believed that the three are the same bandits who shot Constable Richard Beard at Napanee on the night of August 28th when they were caught attempting to break into the jewelry store of Smith Bros.

Negro "Bad Man" Leave; U. S. Official as Escort

William Bradley, the burly Negro who was charged with attempting to break jail in Belleville a few weeks ago, is today in the United States or on his way there. He was taken from Belleville last evening by an officer of the immigration department and went across the lake from Cobourg.

Bradley was "pulled" a couple of months ago for vagrancy and was being held for deportation as an undesirable.

About three weeks ago he made an attempt to get out of jail by cutting bars with saws which were sent in from the outside by a friend who had left the jail.

EGGS HIGHER ON RAINY DAY

Market Was Big in Spite of Downpour, Yet Prices Were Firm BUTTER OFFERED AT 62 Fruits and Vegetables Remained About the Same—Potatoes at $3.00

Today's downpour did not wash out the Belleville market. It was almost up to standard in size and in spite of the rain the salespeople stood for several hours on the square while purchases were made by the dozens. The inner market did not measure up proportionately to the outer in size.

The moist atmosphere did not dampen the prices at all. Eggs flew upwards, bringing 40c to 42c per dozen while butter reached its maximum at 62c per pound. Little was disposed of below that figure.

Farmers received 17 cents for lamb this week by the carcass. It is quoted at 20c in small quantities.

Poultry was normal in price. Chickens, pair, varied from $1.00 to $1.25. Powl brought $1.00 to $1.25 each. Birds were quite plentiful and buying was not too brisk.

There was a plenty of plums offered at 40c per peck, with frost plums bringing 45c.

Potatoes did not slump any further. Sixty cents per peck or three dollars per bag was the usual run of prices.

Tomatoes at $1.00 to $1.25 were not plentiful.

Hidee manifest the stagnation that has been prevailing for a long period. They are quoted at 3c to 4c.

The offerings in cider were decidedly limited, but no change was made in the price—35c per gallon.

For pears, apples, vegetables of all kinds, melons, squash and vegetable marrow, moderate prices were charged. Hogs are at low ebb of prices—$9.00 to $9.25 being the limits of the quotations. Dressed pork is down to $14.00 per cwt.

Baled hay is quoted at $28.00 per ton wholesale and loose hay at $30.

SHOT MISSED FOUR IN CAR

KINGSTON, Sept. 17—What came very near being a fatality, and what is an occurrence which scarcely can be explained, was perpetrated on the Kingston Mill road when some men in a Dodge touring car, shot at a local car in which were four local people, the bullet entering the back of the car.

Some time before nine o'clock in the evening, a local motorist, with three friends in his car, was driving along the Kingston Mills road, about a mile from the mills. Suddenly a car was seen coming along the road at a fast rate. When the advancing car came near the local car, its lights were extinguished, and scarcely had it passed the local car when some one from the Dodge fired a shot, the bullet entering the back of the automobile. Had the shot been two inches higher it is almost certain that it would have struck one of the passengers, and probably have resulted in a fatality.

LABOR WILL RUN INDEPENDENT IN LOCAL CAMPAIGN

Meeting Last Night Here Is Preliminary to Organization Later On

MAY MERGE WITH U. F. O. Trades and Labor Council Unanimous in Stand—Echoes of the Campaign

An independent Labor Party for political purposes will be organized in Belleville and in the riding of West Hastings. So it was decided by the unanimous vote of the Belleville Trades and Labor Council at a special meeting in the Foresters' Hall last night.

Labor's political organization will be independent of the Trades and Labor Council which is composed of union-men.

The political party takes in all people, union, non-union and sympathizers with the cause of labor.

It is expected to complete the organization early next week and as soon as possible a meeting will be held.

Whether a candidate will be entered in the contest in the West riding as an laborite on the representatives of Labor and the Progressive Farmers will be decided later.

The feeling of the union men is said to be much in favor of labor meeting in the forth coming contest.

RELEASED 300 PIGEONS

Oshawa Man Lets Loose Homing Pigeons Belonging to Montreal Homing Club.

OTTAWA—Mr. Walter Stacey on Monday morning let loose 300 homing pigeons, belonging to members of the Montreal Homing Club. The birds were some of the finest to be found in the Dominion, and there was great interest in the result of the flight at the Montreal end and a lot of money at stake. The birds were to have been liberated on Sunday, but the weather was not quite propitious and after numerous telephone calls, the release was made Monday morning. The members of the Montreal Homing Club are for the most part men of wealth, and some heavy bets had been made on some of the entries. The officials were greatly pleased that Mr. Stacey had not made the release on Sunday as had been planned. The flight from here to Montreal is something over 300 miles. When released, the pigeons made the usual circle to get their bearing, then headed directly east. They doubtless arrived before nightfall at their homes in Montreal.

BRONCHIAL ASTHMA

Choking and Gasping for Breath Relieved by "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

Bravest Spot In England Has No Returned Soldier

THERE has just been unveiled in Holywell church, Holywell (S. Lincs.), a singular monument to what some people say today is "the bravest village in England."

It is a memorial to practically the whole of the young fighting strength of the village—a simple tablet of white stone set into the church wall, bearing the names of twelve ill-starred men who joined the colors at the beginning of the war and who have all perished.

Shadows All Homes
When you hear Holywell's tragic war history you will cease to wonder why there is no brother or sister discharged soldiers and sailors' funds, no unemployment problem for ex-soldiers to solve, and no joyous reunions or regimental celebrations in the village.

No men came home from the war at Holywell—at least none of those who joined up from this village. That is the shadow that always hangs over the homes.

Salva Bay and Jutland
One lad was on the point of getting into "civies" and a home-coming was being prepared for him, but he was stricken with disease and died. Five others perished at Gallipoli. They still talk of Salva Bay in the village, and of Jutland.

It is only a small village, with scarcely a hundred inhabitants.

Midshipman Hood, one of the heroes, was the son of Lieut.-Col. Acland Hood Reynardson, of Holywell Hall, and brother of the late Lord St. Audries.

Valets, stablemen, gamekeepers and a dog-boy were among the ill-starred twelve. The loss of young Hood was a great blow to his mother, who did a vast amount of hospital work, and the villagers say it was partly grief through the loss of the boy that hastened her death.

They All Knew the Boys
The sexton stood in front of the memorial tablet, and he recited as if he knew it by heart the war history of each hero. "He knew them well. They were 'Kitcheners' lads," he said. One of the two sons of Mr. A. Fostle, gardener at the Hall, was only 16 or 17 when he joined up.

"That was Jack," he said, "one of the seven children, born and brought up by me and his mother in this very house, and he had never slept out of it till he went away into the army. "He was reported missing at Gallipoli, and it was nearly a year before the War Office finally reported him killed. The suspense nearly killed my poor wife. My other son, A. Franklin, was killed in France."

Treasured Letters
There are cottages in Holywell where letters written home from the front are carefully kept under lock and key. Photographs hang above the mantelpiece and medals and memorial plaques are still retained in their War Office wrappers as they were sent to the parents.

All the cheerful, light-hearted soldier sons have got their names inscribed on the church wall. That is the end of the war for the mothers and fathers of Holywell.

GORGEOUS FASHION SHOW DEPICTS AUTUMN MODES

The Robert Simpson Co. are showing twice daily at the Allen Theatre the fall fashions. There they have staged a clever three-act playlet, "Dress," and no master playwright ever had a more intent audience. After it no lady will feel that she has to dash home to get down the hem of her skirt. For, while afternoon and evening frocks showed a slight tendency to lower hems, the suits were almost as much in the Highlander class as ever.

Browns and blues were favored colors for the suits, which could only be described as sumptuous, with their bandings and collars of rich furs. Blue and grey still persist as a fall combination, and another much admired was a three-piece costume in brown and beige, which, when the stunning mannequin doffed her loose coat, disclosed a brown skirt with bodice of beige. With it was worn a brown hat with beautifully shaded side plumes of beige and brown.

Loose boxlike coats, almost a la Mandarin, were many of the hip-length models, and chocked collars were much in evidence. As for the evening frocks, to gaze on them is to discover where the spangled ladies who ride bareback horses must go in the winter time. Fall evening frocks look as if they had turned modistes. For, though black was the favorite foundation of the Fashion Show's evening frocks, all the colors of the sunset and the sunrise scintillated and radiated on the palliated and metallic brocades of the season.

Georgians, evening cloaks were worn by each mannequin on her entrance. A superb ermine cape veiled with a regal sable wrap and fur-trimmed vallets from purple to brilliant green were noted. Beautiful ostrich fans and huge vivid corsage flowers added still more color to the festive attire of autumn, 1921.

Knickers for golf represented the last word in sport attire, and the riding habits were much admired. Ting tots in smart children's clothes made a clever good-night picture on their last appearance in pajamas, and male models were an innovation.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT AVERTED

Oshawa Motor Ambulance Collides With Buggy and Damages It

OSHAWA—An accident that might easily have resulted very seriously occurred on the Base Line West, near the residence of T. C. Osborne. Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Hueson, accompanied by two friends, the Misses Snelling, were driving along the road in a buggy. The motor ambulance of Disney Bros., of Oshawa, in which were riding the driver and Mr. Stanley Disney, approached, and Mr. Hueson drove his buggy onto the side of the road to allow the ambulance to pass. For some reason, the motor did not clear the buggy, but crashed into it, overturning and smashing it beyond repair. The occupants were thrown out, but fortunately escaped serious injury. The Misses Snelling were badly shaken up, one of them receiving severe bruises. The sister, when thrown out, fell upon her head but fortunately sustained only bad bruises also. Mr. and Mrs. Hueson escaped with slight bruises and shock. The driver of the ambulance stated that he must have misjudged the distance from the centre to the road and not turned out quite far enough.

BOAT ENDS SEASON

KINGSTON—The steamer Toronto will conclude her trips this week and it is stated that she will return to the Collingwood Shipbuilding Company's dry dock for repairs. The vessel has been in the water for twenty-four years, and some plates will have to be removed and general repairs made to her hullwork. The intention is also made that there is a possibility of her being put in two and some twenty feet added to her, which will give her an additional number of much desired staterooms.

A NARROW ESCAPE

Big Truck From Gananoque Topples Off Embankment Into Ditch

GANANOQUE—A huge covered truck met with a bad accident about half a mile from Jones' Falls, toppling off an embankment six feet high and turning completely over. The occupants, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Lachapelle, their four children and eight other people, all from Gananoque, were all thrown into a ditch, but fortunately for them the truck lodged across the ditch and none of them were hurt except Mrs. Lachapelle. She had to be taken back to the Kennedy House at the Falls, and attended to by doctors. The escape of the rest from serious injury and death was miraculous for when the truck toppled over it seemed to witnesses that they must be killed. It was only the ditch and the fact that the truck fell across it that saved them.

LOOKING FOR SITE

Cement Casket Co. May Choose Kingston as Site for Warehouse.

KINGSTON—Mr. B. A. Basco, President and Manager of the Universal Cement Casket Company, of Dunnville, Ontario, is in Kingston looking over prospective sites to establish a warehouse which will serve as the company's distributing point for Eastern Ontario. The factory now being started in Dunnville is expected to be in operation soon. It will cover 50,000 feet of room space and will have a capacity of 25,000 caskets a year, if the demand calls for it. The company also manufactures its own casket hardware to eliminate competition.

PIRATE GOLD IS THE OBJECT

Former Able Seaman In British Navy In War Time Has Ambitions

LITTLE BOAT READY
Skipper of Saucy Lass Looking for Too Other Men to Help Him

VICTORIA, Sept. 15.—Are you in quest of adventure? Would you like to hunt pirates' gold, to fish for pearls, to trade in cocoonaria, to sail through the warm waters of the Pacific amid the coral reefs and palm-fringed shores of the spice islands in the South Seas? If so, the good ship "Saucy Lass" awaits you in Victoria harbor.

South Seas in Little Old Sailer
A little man-of-war grey sailing schooner, measuring 65 feet long by about 20 feet wide, the "Saucy Lass," refloating in a new coat of paint, was discovered by a correspondent lying in a slip fitting up for her contemplated long voyage. Built in 1891, the vessel was a sealer in the Behring Seas, and was recently purchased by three returned fighting men. Two, however, had sold out and the third is looking for two other partners for his voyage of adventure. This man, Alex. Elliott, who served in the British navy during the Great War, was doing some carpentering, and invited the reporter aboard. Down in the cabin he unfolded his plan of campaign.

Money in Canned Salmon, Gasoline
Two men from Toronto had replied to his ads for partners, but so far nothing had come of it. Given partners who would venture their lives and fortunes out on the mighty Pacific in the tiny vessel, Elliott proposed to stock up first with canned salmon for which he declares the markets of Mexico have a craving. Having sold his cargo at a good profit, he would land on Coceas Island where the pirates of olden days were reputed to have buried vast treasures in gold, silver and jewels. If the adventurers didn't find a fortune by digging they would land in California, buy a cargo of gasoline and thence head west for the Marquesas Islands, landing en route at the Galapagos Islands and securing some of the white eggs which abound in the hot sands of those wave-lashed reefs.

Out in the Marquesas and other islands of the South Seas, Elliott declares gasoline sells at so high a figure that even the fifty-ton cargo which he says the "Saucy Lass" can carry would net a neat little profit. In the South Seas this daring seafarer opines that even so tiny a craft as this could make a good thing travelling from island to island trading in beche de mer (the big sea slug, dear to the stomach of the Chinese), copra, coral and general stores.

Apparently more than one prospective partner has viewed the little vessel and thought her too fragile for such a voyage. Even Ole Olson, the Swede skipper who once sailed her safely through the wild storms of ice-laden Behring Sea, cannot be induced by the present owner to venture on a journey into the land of the ukulele and the alleged grass skirt. But just as soon as two men with the requisite confidence have been secured, the "Saucy Lass" will tuck up her skirts, and flourish her heels in a farewell to Victoria.

MOTOR CARS IN KINGSTON.
Up to Aug. 31, the Number of Licenses Issued Numbered 2,300
KINGSTON—Kingston is not behind other cities of its size in the number of motor cars operating on its streets. Official figures obtained from the Issuer of Licenses show that up till Aug. 31st approximately 2,300 licenses have been issued for passenger cars, 180 trucks are registered and 110 motorcycle owners have been granted licenses. These cars are not all owned locally, as the district takes up the townships for a distance of about twenty-five miles on either side of the city. Napanee has an issuer of its own, but Gananoque cars are registered through the Kingston office.

PROFESSORS ARRIVE
Two Recently Appointed Teachers to Queen's Arrive From England

KINGSTON—Queen's welcomed Prof. Thomas Secombe, who has come from the Old Country to become the head of the English Department of the University. Another Queen's professor who came over on the same boat and arrived in the city is Prof. J. A. McRae, who will resume his lectures in chemistry after two years' post-graduate work at the University of Manchester.

A general strike has been begun throughout the industrial district of Northern France, and reports reached Paris of considerable disturbance especially in the town of Tarcoing.

BRITISH MP'S ARE OPTIMISTIC

Gov't Policy of Peace in Ireland By Conference Generally Approved

KNOTTY PROBLEMS
Relationship of North Parliament Contentious Matter For Conference

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Members of Parliament are beginning to return to London, and it is difficult to find a single responsible politician among them who, despite any appearances to the contrary, doubts that the Irish problem is on the way to solution.

The Morning Post is practically the only British journal in antagonism with the Government's policy of peace by conference, and even its Tory supporters hesitate to accept its dictum that Lloyd George will, if necessary, admit Ireland's right to secede from the British Empire. The position is practically as follows:—

De Valera and his colleagues feel that they could not hold their extreme section. If they went into the proposed conference at Inverness with any prior condition such as the acceptance of allegiance to the Crown. But Lloyd George, in his last letter, says words which make any such prior pledge unnecessary. He declares that the British Government regarded allegiance to the Throne as the essential basis of any settlement, but while giving this warning, he left Irishmen free as to their own prior declarations.

A Knotty Problem.
The Irish plenipotentiaries will enter the council room knowing that no British Government, not even a Labor Government, could conclude a treaty with Ireland on any other basis than the essential unity of the Empire. But it is a point of punctilio to agree to nothing except as the free act of an independent nation.

When the conference meets, one thorny question will be the relationship of the Northern Parliament to the Irish National Parliament and the Imperial Parliament, respectively. The British ministers favor the retention of Irish representation at Westminster in some form, they hold that the difficulty of distance, which keeps the Dominion out of the Imperial Parliament, does not operate in her case. Inasmuch as Ireland will enjoy the exclusive right of making her own domestic laws, some mutual arrangement will be necessary to prevent legislative conflict.

Right of Secession.
The question of finance will also require most careful consideration. It would be politically most embarrassing, if not impossible, to maintain a six shilling income tax in Great Britain, with a shilling tax in Ireland. But the fundamental issue of the conference will be raised when the Irish negotiators claim for Ireland the same right to secede as they allege Canada and Australia possess.

A FAMOUS RESORT.
LINDSAY.—The fame of Sturgeon Lake as a summer resort bids fair to soon rival that of the far-famed Muskoka District. The shores of the lake are dotted with cottages and new centres are continually springing up. Birch Point, near Bobcaygeon, has but recently been officially designated. Now a new spot called Kenhill Beach near Thurston's, has been surveyed and lots are being disposed of. This lake is deservedly famous, as it is one of the many beauty spots of the Kawartha system.

Descendants Number 3,500; Memorial to Scottish Pioneers

TORONTO, Sept. 15.—With the passing of time, Monday will be recalled as an important historical event by the 1,500 persons who attended the ceremony in Queen's Park, Toronto, where a huge stone monument, embodying two old tombstones, was unveiled. "To Their Honor Who Redeemed This Township from the Wilderness." Descendants of David and Mary Glendinning Thomson, the pioneers who settled opposite this graveyard in 1795, thought it fitting to honor their memory and to preserve the stones.

Descendants number about 3,500, and members of the memorial committee regretted that word could not be sent to all. Probably 75 per cent. of the gathering here were Thomson descendants, among whom were Thomasons, Paterosons, Waltons

MICHAEL CLARK WILL NOT RUN AS A FARMER

Well Known M.P. For Red Deer Splits With the National Progressives

GIVES HIS REASON
In Letter to Mr. Creer Says he Hates Idea of Group Government

EDMONTON, Sept. 15.—The outstanding event of the National Progressive Conference in Edmonton attended by Premier Greenfield, Hon. T. A. Creer, H. W. Wood, President of the United Farmers of Alberta, and other heads of the Farmer movement, is the definite split between the Agrarians and Dr. Michael Clark, M.P. for Red Deer. Dr. Clark declares that the idea of group government was distasteful to him and that he would not stand for dictation.

Dr. Clark's letter to Mr. Creer follows: "After our recent conversation it will not greatly surprise you to learn that you cannot count on me as a candidate in Alberta in the forthcoming Dominion election."

Old as Hills.
"Mr. Wood, whose organizing ability is great and admirable, seems to think he has found something new in the idea of group government. It is as old as the hills. True, Liberals fought it in Britain and Canada, alike, under restricted franchises and a people rightly struggle to be free. The House of Lords, the family compact, the Manufacturers' Association had the junkers and militarists of Germany are each and all examples of group government, and the progress of humanity has been proportional to its ability to free itself from the domination of these groups. Class selfishness is none the less class selfishness and therefore doomed to die, because it suddenly appears in Farmer and Labor parties."

Only One Method.
"After all, there seems to be only one method of working out human affairs in the political sphere. The apostles of progress must unite upon common principles, sincerely held, to resist reaction, which is ever present like a dead weight to drag down the aspirations of the race for freedom, justice and democracy."

"These were the things for which 60,000 Canadians died in the recent war, but they will not be attained by putting one form of class consciousness in power in place of another. "I have been fighting 'class' for 40 years. It would be quite impossible for me to turn my back on my past and the right in this election."

Dr. Clark would not say whether he would be a candidate at all in the coming election.

Fred S. Evans fell 20 feet in the Agricultural building at Paris, alighting upon his head, and was instantly killed.

M'DIARMID CHRONICLES WOES OF FORMER LINDSAY MAN AT COAST HE'S ONLY WORTH THREE MILLIONS

Los Angeles, Sept. 5.

A woman is a woman— But a cigar is a good smoke.

California with its sunshine and flowers should be a regular Garden of Eden but like all things earthly, it has its imperfections. Los Angeles is in mourning for trouble has come to "Dad" Silverwood. It is hard to write the story, especially as T. B. Silverwood is a Canadian who came west from Lindsay and Lindsay is near home, so near that the boys from Belleville used to go there to play hockey. One of the sights of Los Angeles is the big white store on Broadway at 6th street. Last year the business turned over $3,000,000. This year "Dad" told his friends that he expected to beat that figure. He has been successful in business, but you can't have everything. You may be successful in business but a failure in love. That has been "Dad's" experience. Last November the merchant, after thirty years' selling the natives clothing, decided on building a new business home. He would have been all right had he stopped there, but he was over-ambitious. He gave a stag party at the Jonathan Club and for weeks the affair was the talk of the town. The invitations were only little envelopes and dated, pierced leaves and all sorts of things. In part the invitation read: "Now after many years I have a home to spend my business days in, my next career is to have a home to spend my nights and Sundays in. So I picked out a little place on Sycamore Drive, Eagle Rock City and a sweet little woman in San Francisco and by getting them together I expect wonderful results."

So "Daddy" and Mrs. Happie Winkles were married Dec. 14th, by Judge Thos. F. Graham in San Francisco. Mrs. Winkles had been divorced from her first husband 2 days previous to the marriage. They went to Honolulu for several months and the trip is said to have cost "Daddy" $38,000. They took up their residence at "Happieland," in Eagle Rock in May, where they resided until a few days ago when Mrs. Silverwood took up her residence in a downtown hotel. Attorney Young of Los Angeles says the wife is willing to take a cash settlement of $100,000. "Daddy" is not willing. He says he is willing to have his wife return and bears no ill-will. It is also said the bride of less than a year will take $15,000 and $500 a month.

Mr. Silverwood is 58 years old and Mrs. Silverwood is 28. Incompatibility of temperament is given as the cause of the separation, by friends of the couple.

It is no exaggeration to say that "Daddy" Silverwood is one of the most popular men in Los Angeles. He has friends by the flocks and is a prominent Shriner. He has circumnavigated the earth three times. He has composed two popular songs about California, one of his popular mottoes is, "Kindness is a commodity never cheapened by over supply." He is the newsboy's friend and every Christmas the poor children of the city know him as a liberal Santa Claus.

Many will say it's the women who pay, but if that is the case, why are the men always broke? It will not do to be too hard on the women. There is another story. During the past few weeks there has been some pathetic letters in the papers of Los Angeles from wives who want to know how they are going to win back their husbands. These are letters from middle-aged women who have come from ranches in the middle western states. All their lives they have toiled to be able to have enough money to spend their last days in California. Their dreams have been shattered. Their gosh-garred husbands have been cut up. They got their whiskers shaved and their hair dyed and instead of sitting on the little balcony verandah reading the papers from home, they are down to the beaches. The wives say they get home at all hours. The Californians proudly point out—it's the climate.

Billy Sunday and Mrs. Sunday arrived in Los Angeles this week and Billy preached in Temple Baptist Church on Sunday night—the church of the late Rev. Robt. Burditt, the preacher humorist. Billy says he has changed his theological ideas of the Garden of Eden. He says he thinks it was an orange, not an apple, that tempted Eve. In spite of all the advantages, however, if the people did not change their ways they were going to a lake of brimstone and that would be quite a change from Los Angeles.

Another former Bellevillian has taken up his abode in the city of the angels, Mr. Fred Sullivan, late of Battle Creek, Mich. If you reside in that town for any length of time you are a Seventh Day adventist, a trained nurse or a manufacturer of corn flakes. Fred says that Battle Creek treatments with Los Angeles sunshine would make a great combination and he may start "Pantaling" Mr. Sullivan is a nephew of one of the "McCartains" the popular photographers who used to help us break the Sabbath when we had our pictures took.

Out in Hollywood they are putting on the finishing touches on the Lane that had no Turning. It will be finished this week and Sir Gilbert Parker will leave on Saturday for New York where he will sail next week on the Olympic for England. During his stay in California, Sir Gilbert says he has, despite the hard work, enjoyed himself and has been much benefited in health. He has taken on the California tan that the men proudly show and most all the women hide with paint, powder and enamel. Sir Gilbert is much interested and concerned in the Irish question. While being born in Canada, he claims that he is more than part Irish. He is like the good Tory, no friend of David L. George, but he claims he is handling the Irish question right. The writer was tempted to tell him that when the empire was sore beset and the Tories were in power, the Lord furnished men like Gladstone, Laurier and David L. George to lead them out of the wilderness. The world will be safe as long as there are Liberals to grab the tiller when the storms come up and the Tories get cold feet.

OFF TO BUCKHORN

PETERBORO—Armed for fish to the last roll of film and impatient to get his freshly furnished bait into the water, Harry Robey, Central Ont. representative of the Breeders' Gazette of Chicago, passed through Peterborough headed for Buckhorn. He was accompanied by his wife and their niece, Miss Lucille Lane, who it was stated, has been prominent in filmdom with the Pathe and Paramount studios. Mr. Robey has been on a three weeks' tour, leaving his home in Plain City, a suburb of Columbus, Ohio, and finally decided to strike out for a big fish country up in Canada. He has been enjoying every minute of the time, and his cup will be full if he succeeds in hooking a big fish. More than one would, of course, be acceptable, but even one big one, to be snapped in a heroic pose for the benefit of the hardworking "gang" back home, will have its compensations.

SHOULD ADJUST COUNTY ASSESSMENT EVERY TEN YEARS SAYS JUDGE DEROUCHE ARGUMENTS HEARD AT COURT HOUSE

Hastings County equalisation, which has been a source of dispute every June of late years, is again before the court. Today at ten o'clock at the Court House, Judge Deroche opened the hearing of the appeal of the township of Thurlow against By-law No. 841 passed at the June session of the County Council fixing the equalisation of the county for the following year.

The judge said that in his opinion this was a question that should be adjusted periodically every ten or twelve years.

Mr. F. E. O'Flynn appeared for the appellants, County Solicitor S. Masson for the county with Mr. E. G. Foster, K.C., as associate counsel, Mr. Wm. Cross of Madoc for the village and the township of Madoc and also as associate counsel with Mr. Masson and Mr. B. Collins for the township of Hungerford.

The session lasted but one hour and the appeal was adjourned until Sept. 27, at 10.30 a.m.

An arrangement was suggested by Mr. O'Flynn, which he said might save considerable time.

In 1907 the court after going into the question of equalisation adjusted the matter. This bases said Mr. O'Flynn had been followed until 1919 quite closely. In the latter year a few changes were made. This led to the view that the 1907 adjustment was satisfactory. In 1920 there was added to Thurlow $200,000. Ten per cent was added to the assessments of the municipalities except in the case of four in which only five per cent was added and of Deseronto whose assessment was lowered $20,000.

"We are appealing against the 1921 equalisation," said Mr. O'Flynn. He suggested as an arrangement to take the 1907 equalisation as the basis with a few minor changes.

"I don't think we ought to go into the whole question," he added, "saying that that might mean a big expense. The 1907 equalisation has never been satisfactory to the Council," said Mr. Masson, for the county. There had been a feeling that Thurlow had gained advantage. A committee had been appointed to report on equalisation, as there had been considerable bickerings of recent years.

Mr. Masson outlined the litigation of last year. The 1920 adjustment "still left the old sore open." He contended that many exemptions had expired on Thurlow industrial plants which were exempted when the 1907 adjustment was made.

"One thing that must be looked into is how their (Thurlow's) assessments roll stand with regard to business assessments." "So we object to taking the 1907 equalisation as a basis, likewise to the 1920 equalisation. We ask Your Honor to make an equitable adjustment, so that the equalization may bear fairly on all the municipalities."

Mr. Masson claimed that Thurlow was the only objector to the 1921 equalization. "What is the advantage of taking the 1920 by-law instead of the 1921?" asked the Court.

Mr. O'Flynn replied that there had been many radical changes in the 1921 by-law, whereas the 1920 equalization by-law followed in the main the 1907 adjustment.

Judge Deroche did not see that Mr. O'Flynn's suggestion would save time. His duty was to inquire into the 1921 by-law and see if there was any inequality.

The Court stated that he had been on the bench only one year when he made the 1907 adjudication. That, he felt, was satisfactory for a time, but changes had taken place. He felt that the question was one which should be opened up periodically—every ten or twelve years. He did not want to prevent anybody from putting in evidence, subject to discretion as to its bearing on the issue. A copy of By-law No. 841 was put in as an exhibit, along with a summary of the assessments of the various municipalities, and the report of the special committee on equalization.

That committee had a long report of sales of property throughout the county, but this was not put as the Court felt this was used as a basis in the committee's report to the County Council. Judge Deroche stated that the report of the sales was not under oath.

Both Mr. O'Flynn and Mr. Masson asked that if the sales report was to be considered, they be given time to look it over, and the Court agreed.

Warden Dr. Embury stated that he had had notices sent out to some and asked if he would be right in certifying to the pay-roll of those whom he had attend at today's session.

Judge Deroche said he had no power to say that the men should be paid, and agreed with the Warden that the Treasurer should be guided by the County Solicitor's opinion.

BYNG AT PICTON MOST OF DAY

Governor-General Will Open Fair and Then Hold Reception

PLANS ANNOUNCED

Prince Edward County To Eclipse All Previous Exhibitions, Is Hope

The Picton Fair of 1921, which opens Tuesday, Sept. 20 and continues to Sept. 23, is creating an unusual enthusiasm. The week of the fair is pre-eminently the week of importance in Prince Edward county.

Arrangements for entertaining His Excellency Baron Byng of Vimy, and party have been completed. The County Council and the Picton Council have each made generous grants and everything indicates a demonstration worthy of the occasion.

The Great War Veterans, are slated over the visit of the distinguished commander of the Canadian forces. Their love for their General is stronger than sentiment and the Governor-General is especially interested in meeting the veterans. All military units are eager to do honor to Lord Byng of Vimy.

The Vice-Regal party is expected to arrive in Picton at 9.30 o'clock Wednesday morning. C. Company, Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment, will be the guard of honor. His Excellency will be welcomed by the mayor, warden, citizens and visitors.

It is proposed to take the distinguished visitors on a motor tour to the Sandbanks via the Ridge Road, following south of shore of Lake Ontario, turning east and via north shore of East Lake and Picton. At 1.45 a procession will be marshalled at the Soldiers' Monument and parade to the Agricultural Park. A stop of two minutes will precede the advance through the memorial entrance. At 2.15 an address of welcome will be presented to His Excellency by Mayor Newman on behalf of Prince Edward County, the town of Picton and the Prince Edward Agricultural Society. His Excellency will visit the various buildings and departments of the fair. At 4.15 Lord Byng will be glad to have as many people as time will permit presented to him in the Curling Club. At 4.45 the vice regal party will be conveyed to Glenora for observation purposes. The Vice-Regal party leaves Picton at 6.30 p.m. The R.C.H.A. band provides the music for the day.

Both Mr. O'Flynn and Mr. Masson asked that if the sales report was to be considered, they be given time to look it over, and the Court agreed.

Warden Dr. Embury stated that he had had notices sent out to some and asked if he would be right in certifying to the pay-roll of those whom he had attend at today's session.

Judge Deroche said he had no power to say that the men should be paid, and agreed with the Warden that the Treasurer should be guided by the County Solicitor's opinion.

The Judge said Mr. Masson would know from him what was likely to take place at the court from day to day.

The Court thought that on Sept. 27 Mr. O'Flynn, as appellant, should be ready with three or four hours of evidence.

SHOOTING BEGUN IN ULSTER AREA BETWEEN PATROLS

Several Encounters This Morning and Arrests by Troops Follow Fast

ONE YOUTH WOUNDED

Mr. Lloyd George Reported Ill in Scotland—King's Doctor Sent For

BELFAST, Sept. 16.—Encounters between opposing factions in interior Ulster were reported here this afternoon.

Two unarmed constables, on a cycle patrol near Cookstown, in East Tyrone, were shot at by scouts alleged to be covering the Republicans at drill. They reported the matter to their barracks and a patrol was sent out which intercepted three cyclists, one of whom had a loaded revolver and other weapons. This man was arrested.

Unionist farmers in the district, arming themselves, and setting out, surprised a party of Republicans and shots were exchanged.

The Cookstown cyclist contingent captured eight loaded revolvers which they reported having found on members of this party, and seized a youth who had been shot in the leg. The wounded prisoner was taken to hospital in Belfast.

A CANCELLATION. LONDON, Sept. 16.—Premier Lloyd George has cancelled his invitation to the Irish delegates to the conference at Inverness, September 20, but the negotiations are still not suspended.

The Premier's Letter. The official text of Premier Lloyd George's letter to de Valera reads: "Sir:—I informed your emissaries who came to me here Tuesday, the thirteenth, that a reiteration of your claim to negotiate with this Government as a representative of an Independent sovereign state, would make the conference between us impossible."

"They brought me a letter from you in which you specifically reaffirm your claim, stating that your nation has formally declared its independence and recognizes itself as a sovereign state. And you added that it is only as representatives of that state, and as its chosen guardians, that we have any authority or powers to act on behalf of our people."

"I asked them to warn you of the very serious effect of such a paragraph, and offered to regard the letter as undelivered to me in order that you might have time to reconsider it."

"Despite this intimation, you have now published your letter in its original form."

"I must accordingly cancel the arrangements for the conference next week at Inverness and must consult my colleagues on the course of action which this new situation necessitates."

"I will communicate the result of this consultation to you as soon as possible, but as I am for the moment laid up here, a few days' delay is inevitable."

"Meanwhile, I must make it absolutely clear, that the Government cannot reconsider its position, which I have stated to you. If we accepted a conference with your delegates on the formal statement of the claim which you have reaffirmed it would constitute official recognition by the Government of the severance of Ireland from the Empire, and of its existence as an independent republic."

"In the second place, moreover, such action would entitle you to declare as a right acknowledged by us, in preference to association with the British Empire that you would pursue a closer association by treaty with some other foreign power."

"There is only one answer to such claims as that. The great concessions which the Government made to the feelings of your people in order to secure a lasting settlement, deserved in my opinion, a more generous response. But so far every advance has been made by us. On your part you have not come to meet us by a single step, but have merely reiterated in phrases of emphatic challenge, the letter and spirit of your claim. Yours faithfully, "D. Lloyd George."

A British Election. BELFAST, Sept. 16.—The Belfast correspondent of the Press Association states that a well informed Dublin source believes that the Government intends to call an early session of the British parliament. In this event the masses of Irish people may get an opportunity of giving a considered verdict on the issues, most vitally affecting their country.

Robt. W. Campbell of the Royal Mounted Police was arrested in Niagara for discharging firearms in a train.

PREMIER REMAINS SILENT REGARDING CABINET CHOICES

All Morning Secluded Behind Closed Doors and No Interviews Given

MAN FROM THREE RIVERS

Bennet of Calgary Will Run There, But Not As Government Candidate

OTTAWA, Sept. 16.—No further light has been shed on the personnel of the reorganized Cabinet which the Premier is expected to announce Monday or Tuesday.

During the morning Premier Meighen was secluded from callers and no information is obtainable regarding appointments, Cabinet or otherwise.

Dr. L. F. Normand, Mayor of Three Rivers, has been mentioned as a Cabinet possibility. If he came it seems likely that it will be without portfolio. He is said to be a strong man in his constituency with a fair chance of wresting the laurels from Jacques Bureau, the sitting member.

Col. Margeson Considering. OTTAWA, Sept. 16.—Col. J. W. Margeson, member of the Board of Pension Commissioners for Canada, was offered the nomination as a government candidate for West Ottawa by a large delegation of electors last evening. He has not yet reached a decision on the matter.

Veterans Interested. MONTREAL, Sept. 16.—The returned soldiers of this city have served notice that they intend to take an active interest in all forthcoming elections, whether federal, provincial or civic. The unemployed ex-servicemen's association will endeavor to ascertain from all the candidates their sentiments towards returned men, and the extent of their readiness to help them.

Bennet Independent. CALGARY, Sept. 16.—It is definitely announced that R. B. Bennett will not accept the Conservative nomination in West Calgary, but will run as an independent.

Hon. Bob. Rogers. WINNIPEG, Sept. 16.—A petition is being signed in Manitow, Manitoba with the object of getting the Hon. Robert Rogers to run as a candidate in the federal riding of Lisgar. Mr. Rogers has so far declined to state whether or not he will accept the nomination. Ferris Bolton, Unionist, is the present incumbent.

Socialism Named. WINNIPEG, Sept. 16.—R. B. Russell, H. M. Bartholomew and Charles Stewart, were last night nominated as candidates of the socialist party in Canada in three Winnipeg federal constituencies.

In Prince Edward. The decision to hold a Federal election this fall has led to some speeding up on the part of the Liberal organizations of Prince Edward county. Recently at Cherry Valley the Liberal women and Liberal men of the township of Athol met to form their separate organizations. A similar gathering will be held at Wellington tonight, while a like course will be taken by the men and women of Hillier on September 30. The date for organization of the Picton men's and women's Liberal organizations will be announced shortly.

KING CHRISTIAN WILL NOT COME TO STATES. Influential Danes in America Wanted Official Visit But it is Not to be.

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 16.—Rumors that King Christian of Denmark is shortly to pay an official visit to the United States are unfounded.

The rumors probably arose from the fact that many influential Danes and Americans living at present here were of the opinion that an official visit to America by the King and Queen would be likely to strengthen the natural bonds of friendship between the two nations. They also thought that it was desirable the King should go as his own ambassador and express Denmark's gratitude toward America for her valuable aid in getting back Danish Slesvig from Germany.

THE DROVE PERSUADED. KINGSTON, Sept. 16.—A drove of sheep going up Brock street on Tuesday afternoon held up traffic for a few minutes at the corner of King street when they became frightened and stalled on the corner. A sort of persuasion, gentle and otherwise, was used before the animals were moved up the street. After a street car had been held up and one of Kingston's policemen of the silent variety knocked over, the drove were persuaded to continue their course up Brock St.

WIRTH SAYS ERZBERGER WAS VICTIM OF MONARCHIST PLOT NET BEING CLOSED

German Chancellor Cites Statement of Public Safety Head

BERLIN, Sept. 16.—Chancellor Wirth told the Reichstag standing committee today that he had proof of a monarchist plot behind the murder of Dr. Matthias Erzberger. The chancellor produced a statement by Herr Weissmann, Commissioner of Public Safety, showing that the old Kapp coup group has been busy in Munich, and Col. Bauer, who is chief of the Triumvirate, in which are also Major Pabst and Capt. Ehrhardt, had long had protection from the Bavarian government against the arrest of his recruits and agents. Col. Bauer, who lives in Bucharest, was in Munich recently. The police unearthed that portion of the plot which operated through what is known in the reactionary conspiracy as "Organization D," which was the murder corps. They are closing the net around the whole group of plotters, in addition to ten already held, who formed a portion of the conspiracy.

The militarist organization is closely allied to the Overland Corps, which went from Munich to Upper Silesia last spring.

Fifth Anniversary of J. Barleycorn's Knockout is Today

John Barleycorn was knocked out "in the fifth round," (wasn't it?) just five years ago today. Did you remember? He has tried several come back stunts but all have been more or less unsuccessful. In fact, John is now an outlaw. But his memory is kept green. John was enveloped Sept. 16, 1916.

To Try Arbuckle On Murder Charge

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 16.—"Fatty" Arbuckle will be tried for the murder of Miss Rappe.

In the court of Judge Sylvain Lazarus today, District Attorney Brady announced that "people are ready to proceed on the murder charge."

AWARDED CARNEGIE MEDAL. Bravery of Lad in Saving Chum Recognized.

KINGSTON, Sept. 16.—A Carnegie medal has arrived in the city for Robert E. Grant Foreman, son of Mrs. Fred Best, who has been spending the summer in Kingston, at her old home, 34 Simcoe street.

Robert is twelve years of age, and saved the life of a playmate from drowning, when he was nine years of age. He is the son of the late Capt. Homer A. Foreman, U.S.A.

Young Robert Foreman was awarded the medal and scholarship for "an act of heroism" while swimming in the bay at Balboa, Cal., on Sept. 6, 1918, saving his playmate, Norman B. Hinckley, from drowning.

The water where the two boys were swimming is eighty-four feet in depth. The young hero has the honor of being the youngest recipient of the Carnegie medal. Mrs. Best and her son are returning in the course of a few days to their home in Dallas, Texas.

COULD NOT SWIM; DIES. Family of Ottawa Convinced That Death Was Accident

The remains of the late F. W. L. Sladen, dominion apiatist, who was drowned at Duck Island on Saturday afternoon, were taken to Ottawa, and the funeral took place there on Tuesday afternoon. The remains were conveyed to the First Congregational church and the service was conducted by Rev. A. F. Pollock. The Ottawa citizen, in reporting the drowning accident says: "On arrival at Ottawa it was found that there was a slight bruise on the head, but the opinion is that this was caused after death by the body having rubbed against a rock or the shore. The opinion of the members of the family is that death was due to drowning as Mr. Sladen could not swim."

"NOTHING TO REPORT." Provincial Inspector Boyd who is in the city today, stated that there were no new developments in the Napanee murder mystery.

INNOCENCE FINALLY PROVED AFTER 2 YEARS PENITENTIARY

Two years ago Arthur Ketcheson, son of Rawdon township, was convicted at the assize in Belleville of a very serious crime and sentenced to a term of five years in Kingston penitentiary. Mr. Ketcheson's family have always stoutly maintained his innocence and recently procured evidence to submit to the Department of Justice at Ottawa, with the result that Ketcheson has received an unconditional pardon and been released from custody.

Messrs. Cochrane and Collins of Tweed, who have been acting on behalf of Mr. Ketcheson, have been lately so informed by the Under-Secretary of State.

John Grove, a Kitchener Pole, was fined $100 and one month in jail for having an illicit still in his cellar.

"FIFTY LOVELIEST GIRLS" TO BE SEEN IN BELLEVILLE

LONDON, Sept. 16.—Albert De Courville will leave London on September 30, on the Megatana with Shirley Kellogg, Harry Tate and a chorus of fifty of the loveliest girls in Britain, who were chosen from five thousand applicants to four Canada with the revue, "Hullo Canada." They will visit Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto,

St. Catharines, Sarnia, Brantford, London, Galt, Hamilton, Peterboro, Belleville, Kingston, Fort William, Winnipeg, Regina, Saskatoon, Edmonton, Calgary and Vancouver.

On their return journey they will present a new revue as yet unnamed. Courville is not booking return tickets for all, as he thinks some of his chorus will choose to remain in Canada.

Mrs. MacColl's Recital First of New Season a Varied Programme

An invitation recital given by the pupils of Mrs. MacColl was held last evening in St. Thomas' Parish Hall. The pupils taking part in the recital were: Piano, Mr. Harold Cornell, Violin, Mr. James Mullins, Mr. Marion Young, Vocal, Miss Valiere Wrightmeyer. They were all accompanied by Mrs. MacColl. Each pupil showed wonderful training, technique and expression, which reflects great credit on the teacher. There was a very appreciative audience present. The programme given consisted of many well-known pieces, as follows:

Piano Duet, Overture to Martha. Flotow—Mrs. MacColl, Mr. Cornell. Violin, Flower Song, Lange—Mr. Mullins. Vocal, Melisande, Goetz—Miss Wrightmeyer. Piano, Valse, Mogykowsk. Vocal, Sandalled Feet, Carso. Vocal, Andante Religioso, Thome Mr. Young.

ENGLISH PLAYERS TOURING CANADA.

SIR JOHN MARTIN HARVEY, in an article on "Touring in Canada" in the London Daily Telegraph, speaks highly of the leading Canadian theatres and the theatre-going public. There is in Canada so real a desire to welcome British dramatic productions that he urges the advisability of sending to this country only the best that the British stage has to offer. The imagination of a Canadian audience he found to be healthy. He says:

"Here fun and foolery they can take as freely as anyone; but let us see that it is clean and wholesome fun, with no 'nifty' thought underlying it. I hope that those who think of taking merely light and amusing stuff—and, of course, there is room for that—will bear in remembrance that the mind of the country is clean like the wind of their prairies, and not yet tainted with the foetid miasmas of old and corrupt capitals, and that its people are apt to turn a very cold shoulder on the pornography of decadent civilizations."

Yet he found Canadian audiences to be, not only sophisticated, but critical. In fact, it is evident that the eminent English actor and the appreciative Canadian audiences are on excellent terms with each other.

It is true that there is a very real desire in this country to encourage visits from good English companies—not only because they are English, but more particularly because they are good. The leading members of an English company that crosses the ocean to tour Canada are artists, and so are those who fill the minor parts. The all-round completeness of the company gives perfection to the performance. Then, too, such a company, coming so far, does not imperil the success of the tour by offering us a poor play. It has come to be understood, therefore, that an English company on tour here will give us the best the season will have to offer. As Sir John Harvey says, it is important that the British stage should continue to send us its best and sustain this reputation.

THE APPLE CROP.

THE apple crop in Ontario this season is only about 60 per cent of 1920. Quebec has not more than 35 to 40 per cent of that of last year, and New Brunswick about 60 per cent. On the other hand it is expected that Nova Scotia will have a commercial crop about 10 per cent. in excess of that of last year, and in British Columbia prospects point to a yield being twice that of the preceding season.

Owing to the sharp declines, which have taken place in many products, especially in those of the farm, fruit growers have been displaying some anxiety as to whether correspondingly low prices will prevail for apples. Last year Ontario orchardists came off badly in the returns obtained, and hundreds of tons of the fruit was allowed to go to waste.

It is the opinion of the fruit commissioners branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, however, that if this year's returns are not better than last they at least will be no worse. Based on the law of supply and demand, also on the law of averages, and having regard to the present and future employment conditions, it would appear that the values of the best varieties and grades will be well maintained for this season's crop. The value of the less desirable varieties and lower grades may show a decline from the past two years' selling prices, but this is expected to be offset by the lower cost of packages and labor.

The fruit commissioner's department appears to be of the opinion that owing to the fact that the purchasing power in the United Kingdom has been considerably reduced since last year, this will affect the consumption, but the circumstances that the long, dry spell of hot weather which prevailed in Britain this summer has seriously affected the apple crop should act as an offset to this.

It should also be borne in mind that the supply of Canadian apples at a reasonable price in Britain is almost invariably below the demand. It has been suggested that the Government might take in hand the provision of vessels for the transportation of Canadian chilled beef to the old country, and we do not hesitate to say that if similar provision were made for the shipment of apples it would bring many thousands of dollars to the Canadian growers.

CHAPLAIN AT HOME.

CHARLIE CHAPLIN is so popular in London that he finds it necessary to keep in hiding to avoid being crushed by the curious throngs. According to one voracious correspondent no conquering hero in all history has had the wildly enthusiastic reception extended to the movie star when he stepped from the train at Waterloo Station. So much for popularity. It must be admitted however, that Charlie's feet are provocative of merriment.

THERE IS A COMMUNITY SPIRIT IN SPORT.

UNDER the above caption The Oshawa Telegram has a very sensible and timely article which says: The baseball game at Port Hope on Saturday will go a long way toward establishing the game permanently in the hearts of the lovers of clean sport, in the district covered by the Central Ontario League. We prophesy that next year the game will have as brilliant a career as it has had this season. The people of Lindsay, Peterboro, Port Hope, Cobourg, Belleville and Oshawa know each other now better than they ever did before and the links in the chain of friendship are holding more tightly than ever.

The district is of the right size to make an ideal schedule and we trust that every town in the district will be back in the old circuit next year with more vim and enthusiasm, if that is possible.

We have had a great year. The players have enjoyed it and the fans; they certainly have had a great year of it and they have always been right to the front. They have had a big time rooting for their respective teams and idols; jollying and joshing one another and with never a bitter word. That's what counts in any game, from the greatest of all, life; to that of marbles. Each team in the league has put up a great fight all the way and the brand of baseball served up has been the equal of anything in the realm of amateur sport. Now that the district race is over

KEEPING 'EM IN JAIL

Decent criminals will hang their heads in shame when they learn that Hon. W. E. RAILWAY RATES

Railway rates probably do not have the influence on trade generally that is sometimes represented, and certainly were only a minor factor in the heavy advances in the cost of living and carrying on the services during and after the war. Any substantial reduction in them, however, will mean a lessening in the cost of carrying on large business, and so will be welcomed. If it does not come soon the interested public will understand where the cause lies.—Montreal Gazette.

AN IRISH REFERENDUM

No party or influential school in Great Britain, not even the radical laborites, would support southern Ireland in the demand for complete independence. The Irish must make concessions in their terms. Their British friends in the United States, in the British colonies and in continental Europe advise them to do so.

At any rate, the Irish people are entitled to vote on the same issue in their present form. Are they willing to accept a dominion status for the sake of peace and progress, or do they prefer war and chaos to the slightest departure from metaphysical doctrines of right and sovereignty?

A referendum on the dominion solution is the reasonable and fair way out of the present impasse.—Chicago News.

CLEANSING PROFESSIONAL SPORT.

Amateur sport is far greater than professional sport. It is cleaner, it is engaged in for love of the game. And it makes for better citizenship. But the public likes to see great athletes perform, whether they are paid or not. And so long as there are Ruths and Grohs and Cobbs and Speakers and Sisters out there to win, so long as the public will pay money to see them play. And they admire a great team, co-ordinating in the dash and enthusiasm necessary to winning a pennant. But the game must be kept straight, and there must be less bickering between owners and players and between owners and owners. MY OLD KENTUCKY HOME GOOD NIGHT.

WOODLAKE, Ky., Sept. 15.—A united campaign against motion pictures, dancing, immodest undress, mixed bathing, divorce, Sunday baseball, card playing, horse racing, gambling and violation of the prohibition law will be begun by the thirty-three churches of the Elkhardt Baptist Association on Sunday, Oct. 2. It was announced here today.

A unanimous vote to make a united effort against all forms of worldliness was recorded. The association is composed of churches in six Kentucky counties.

TWO VETERANS OF DEFENSE.

"The Gazette" announces the promotion of Sir John Gibson, of Hamilton and Sir Henry Pellatt, of Toronto from the rank of Brigadier-General to that of Major-General. It is interesting, says The Globe, to recall the services to the militia in Canada which have been rendered by these two veterans.

Sir John Gibson is the oldest member in the Canadian Active Militia. After two or three years in the Queen's Own Rifles, while at the University of Toronto, he joined the 13th Regiment of Hamilton, continuing through all ranks from private to Lieutenant-Colonel from 1863 to 1895; he resigned command and was appointed Honorary Lieutenant-Colonel of the 13th Regiment on November 9, 1895; appointed Honorary Colonel June 15, 1901; commanded 15th Infantry Brigade, 1905 to 1909; holds Military School (Hamilton) first-class certificate, 1866; served at Ridgeway with his regiment, 1866 (general service medal with clasp); was a member of the Canadian Wimbledon teams, 1874, 1875 and 1879; won Prince of Wales' Prize (a badge and $500) 1879; commanded Wimbledon Team 1881, and Bielew Team, 1907; has presented a cup, valued at $200, for competition, Dominion Rifle Association; Honorary Aide-de-Camp to their Excellencies the Earl of Aberdeen and the Earl of Minto, Governor-General of Canada; was selected by the Militia Department to proceed to England in connection with the celebration of the Queen's Jubilee, 1897.

Sir Henry Pellatt, C.V.O., joined the Queen's Own Rifles in the year 1876, and was in the Belleville riots in 1877; he passed through all commissioned ranks to command of the regiment, now consisting of two battalions, which he was instrumental in forming. He was Major in the Canadian contingent to the Queen's Jubilee in 1897, where he commanded the guard of honor of Canadians during the ceremony at St. Paul's Cathedral; he commanded the Canadian contingent at the coronation of King Edward in 1902, at which time the Bugle Band of the Queen's Own Rifles went over with him. In 1910 he took the Queen's Own Rifles, consisting of 750 officers and men, to England to participate in the army manoeuvres at Aldershot.

He was Aide-de-Camp to Earl Grey, Governor-General, and also to H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught, Governor-General, acting in this capacity for a continuous period of about 15 years.

On resigning from the Queen's Own Rifles, he was appointed to command the 6th Infantry Brigade, with the rank of Brigadier-General, and is also Honorary Colonel of the Queen's Own. He is Commissioner for Canada of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem and a Knight of Grace of the order.

His war activities were as Brigadier-General in the Toronto District and also in Red Cross work and in the Order of St. John in the training and qualification of the Voluntary Aid Detachments of Nurses and in equipping and sending out these nurses to the front on active service. He received the King's decoration of Commander of the Victorian Order at Balmoral Castle in 1910.

Miller's Worm Powders not only make the infantile system untenantable for worms, but by their action on the stomach, liver and bowels they correct such troubles as lack of appetite, biliousness and other internal disorders that the worms create. Children thrive upon them and no matter what condition their worm-infested stomachs may be in, they will show improvement as soon as the treatment begins.

The Women's Missionary Society, Mrs. Fenwick, Miss Davis, Mrs. Cole of John St. Presbyterian Church held their annual afternoon tea and home cooking sale yesterday afternoon. The decorations of asters and other flowers were very pretty and made a charming background for the tea tables tastefully arranged around the room. Mrs. McArthur was responsible for the decorations. The home-made cooking table was well patronized and the good things were soon sold. Mrs. Geo. Boyle and Mrs. Rufus Boyle had charge of this table. Mrs. Goudy and Mrs. Mills were in charge of the kitchen. Mrs. Fenwick, Miss Davis, Mrs. Cole, Mrs. W. S. Cook poured tea. The waitresses were Mrs. Moore, Miss Carol McArthur, Mrs. J. W. Cooke, Miss Florence Owers, Miss Helena Hill, Mrs. Sharpe and Miss Joan Hitchon. Mrs. McArthur and Mrs. Russell and Mrs. W. were in charge of the tea room. Mrs. Russell and Mrs. W. were in charge of the door, over which Mrs. Hill, the treasurer of the W.M.S., presided. Sergt. Thomas Herity, who has been visiting his parents, has returned to Montreal.

FISHERS COMPLAIN

Mariners Afraid of Getting in Trouble With Wreck—Divers to be Used

The topmasts of the ill-fated schooner Oliver Mowat, which was run down recently near the Main Duck Islands by the steamer Key West, are still showing according to Capt. Henry Daryau, of the schooner Horace Taber, which has arrived at Oswego from Kingston for coal.

It is reported that the question as to whether the Mowat's torch was burning when she was rammed by the steamer is to be settled by the owners of the schooner who are to employ a diver and have an examination made.

The torch, the two survivors claim, was fastened to the schooner's bow and by its presence or absence it is hoped to determine the important facts as to who was at fault. A gas buoy is to be placed at the scene of the wreck to warn mariners of the danger there.

Fishermen on the island and others have been asked to keep a lookout for the bodies of any of the three persons drowned when the Mowat sank. It is believed that they will all come to the surface with the possible exception of the cook who was in her stateroom in the cabin.

PREPARE FOR BIG XMAS BUSINESS

U.S. Retailers Placing Orders for Holiday Goods on Huge Scale

SIGN OF PROSPERITY

Stated Prices Will Be Nearly 50 Per Cent Lower This Year

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Santa Claus is preparing for Christmas on a prosperity basis. A canvass of the old gentleman's personal representatives in this country today revealed that they are counting on one of the biggest holiday distributions of gifts in years.

Retailers in all sections, it was said, have begun to place orders for the Christmas trade "on a most hopeful scale"—and this applies to dry goods, furniture, jewellery, toys and all other forms of gifts.

This situation was shown through a composite of information from retailers, jobbers and manufacturers. Its significance was emphasized in a statement by a buyer for a big department store, who said: "Retailers are in pretty close touch with the buying power of the country, which, in the last analysis, represents prosperity or lack of it."

"If they were not pretty sure that the public generally was going to be in a position to observe Christmas in the usual manner, you may depend on it their buying would reflect it. All indications are now that the holiday trade, as a whole, will be much larger than last year."

Low Hahn, managing director of the National Retail Dry Goods Association, which represents 2,000 establishments throughout the country, including the biggest department stores, said buying for Christmas at present indicated Santa Claus would be "pretty fairly busy."

"Retail prices will average pretty close to 30 per cent lower than last year," Hahn said. "As a result, even though dealers do a much larger volume of business than last year their transactions in dollars and cents may not be so high. It is not apparent yet whether unemployment will reduce the public's purchasing power appreciably at Christmas time. However, the majority of dealers are proceeding on the theory that the holiday trade will be good."

High Cost of Beauty

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—The Fashion Art League of America, which opens its annual style show this week, is unable to find models to wear their styles. According to members of the league, the models have passed up their careers because of the intermittent employment and the high cost of maintaining beauty.

Francis modistes after touring the studios of commercial photographers and artists, found a woeeful lack of pretty girls. Even homely models, who might have been decorated up to be near-beautiful, were unavailable.

Miss Therese Thomas, one of the few survivors, who has been kept in constant employment by Mme. Ripley, the president of the league, explained about the high cost of beauty and the lack of models.

"It costs too much money," she said. "Unless a model has a permanent position, it is hard for her to keep a permanent wave in her hair. And unless she can do something in a designer's establishment besides wear clothes, it is difficult to find steady employment."

"Models are in demand during the spring and fall, but during the rest of the year they cannot command a steady income. They must continue to look beautiful, wear chignon stockings and neat shoes, smart clothes and hats and nice gloves, if they are to get and hold jobs. This ' upkeep' expense is too much. That is why there is a scarcity of models."

Miss Thomas estimated that waves, shampooing, and other "trimmings" necessary for the maintenance of beauty costs $8 a week.

Conductor Found Dead

SHERBROOKE, Sept. 15.—(By Canadian Press)—One of the sectionmen employed by the railway, while returning to work at Greenley, discovered the body of a man lying on the track, the head severed from the body. The remains were identified as those of Conductor Charles H. Willard.

English Fiance

LONDON, Sept. 15.—(Canadian Press Cable)—The returns of the Exchequer for the period of April 1 to September 10, show receipts of $406,000,000 and expenditure of $241,000,000 and $466,000,000 respectively during the corresponding period of last year.

TIPS TO HOUSEWIVES

When salads are served in eclair shells no accompanying rolls or crackers are necessary. To clean a photograph, wipe with soft cloth wrung out in warm water and a little ammonia. Dry with another cloth.

When broiling a steak take the steak on the end of a butcher fork, plunge quickly in and out of boiling water. This tends to sear the outside and saves the juice. Then broil in the usual manner.

To keep the gas-range looking bright, wash it, and when dry rub it with a clean felt blackboard eraser dipped into kerosene.

In baking juicy pies try putting in each pie a spoonful of fine tapioca. It will prevent the juice from running over and imparts a rich flavor to the pie.

Cornmeal mush can be easily prepared in a fireless cooker, then turned into a mold and fried.

If you want bacon to be crisp the fat must be continually poured off while cooking.

Brush a pie over with sweet milk before baking it. If you would have it shiny and brown.

Lamb should be basted constantly while roasting if you would obtain the best flavor from it.

Season's Crop Lost

COBOURG—A fire occurred on a farm one mile east of Lotus, owned by Mr. Ernest Nicholson, but rented and occupied by Mr. Wm. Mitchell, between three and four o'clock. It appears that some repairs had been made on the barn, and raked up and set on fire some distance from it. It is thought a spark from the fire blew into a crevice in the barn, and before it was noticed the building was in flames.

It contained the summer's crop, a new buggy, wagon, cutter, set of heavy harness, and some hay. This will be a big loss to Mr. Mitchell as he has only started to farm.

Imperial Wireless Chain Now In Daily Operation Oxford "Talks" With Egypt

LONDON, Sept. 16.—Postmaster-General Kellaway has just opened at Leeds, Oxfordshire, the first station in the Imperial wireless chain which, when completed, will link up almost every part of the British Empire.

The Leeds station, which has been designed entirely by the post office, will communicate with the corresponding station at Abu Zabal, near Cairo. This station is expected to be completed in three months. It will also be used for communication with Mesopotamia and probably for broadcasting news to India.

Leeds and Abu Zabal will form the first pair of a series of four stations, the third being in East Africa and the fourth in South Africa.

The first message sent from the station, as part of the opening ceremony, was a message of greeting to all British and to all European and other foreign wireless stations within range. That to British stations expressed the wish that the station would "help to knit still closer the bonds which bind together the different parts of the Empire."

That to the other stations concluded with the wish that the development of wireless communication will "help to knit still closer the bonds of unity which bind the British Empire to all other states."

Within half an hour replies were received from Malta, Paris, Christiania, Posen, Prague, Denmark, Budapest, Rome and Berlin.

Mr. Kellaway said in an address that at the imperial conference, great interest was taken by Prime Minister Lloyd George in the possibilities of wireless telephony. If those possibilities could be realized they might yet have Premier Hughes in Melbourne talking to Mr. Lloyd George in Downing street.

"It sounds like fairyland," said Mr. Kellaway enthusiastically. "It will make the world a great family in a sense that they have never been before."

Month Before Government House Is Re-occupied

Today Mrs. Lionel Clarke and her family will leave Government House and go to the seaside for some time. His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Cocksutt called on Mrs. Clarke and unheeded quietly at Government House before driving over later to the Parliament Buildings for the swearing in. It is not expected that the new Lieutenant-Governor and his family will occupy Government House for at least a month and until that time very few engagements will be undertaken.

While Government House is a most completely furnished mansion each occupant brings with them personal belongings that make it a veritable moving day when departing. Particularly beautiful were some artistic treasures which marked the house during the Clarke regime.

Three Men Capsize in Boat While Running the Rapids. BROCKVILLE—Walter Burdick and Robert Moore, of Waddington, saved three men from drowning in the St. Lawrence river near Crapser's Island at Waddington, a few days ago. Messrs. Vallance, Jarvis and Arnold, of Morrisburg, were running the rapids when their boat capsized at the third large wave. Burdick and Moore heard their cries for help and went to their assistance. They took two of the men into their own boat, while the third, who was a man of large physique, saved himself by hanging onto the gunwale as the boat was rowed ashore.

ANGORA, Aug. 27.—(By mail)—"The seclusion of the harem is best adapted to woman's nature and it is best for the social order that she should be there," declared Mutide Ferid Hanem, the Nationalist novelist and beautiful wife of Ahmed Ferid Bey, ex-Minister of Finance, to the correspondent, in an interview. "The harem grew out of the intelligent understanding of the marriage relation. It represents the wisdom of the East."

"I am a reformed woman's rights advocate," she continued. "I used to yearn for the independence of the American and European woman, but now I believe the mistress of the harem is a superior product to the twentieth-century Russian woman, the sentimental Austrian, the nagging English woman and the calculating, self-centred American woman."

"To these women, woman's rights means the right to spend money on foolish fancies, to marry late, and be childless. They live for the store and the theater. They are responsible for a good deal of factory labor exended in useless directions. They won't work with their hands to make their clothes, their minds are filled with fashions, novels and candies. "Men have become their slaves, and you call this western civilization. We Turkish women have had our heads turned by the effort to become like these civilized women, and in doing so some of us have lost our sterling old-fashioned qualities and become a costly, vain, destructive creature like our sisters of the West."

"We Nationalists are in favour of abolishing the theory of Fatmazy, though in fact it has long since ceased as an institution. But we are sure woman's place is the home, and the best way to keep her there is the harem, which gives her much liberty but not license. We are good housewives, we wear more or less a uniform gown and veil, in the streets, which prevents us being victims to fashion, and at home, if we do not wish to see our husbands we are not obliged to do so. Surely that is liberty enough."

BEATTY FINDS CANADA SOUND

Takes to Vancouver Message of Confidence and Optimism on Conditions

REVIVAL IN SPRING
Deflation From War-Time Over—Valuations the Difficulty Just Yet

VANCOUVER, B.C., Sept. 19.—Bringing a message of optimism and confidence in the ability of Canada to continue her era of progress, Pres. B. W. Beatty, K.C., of the Canadian Pacific Railway has reached Vancouver.

"At every place I have stopped at in British Columbia, I have found remarkable confidence. The Okanagan is experiencing the best year in its history, and I am confident that next Spring will see all over Canada a revival of trade on a substantial basis," he stated.

Mr. Beatty indicated that with a readjustment of the wages question by the board of enquiry there is a prospect of reduction of railway rates to match the general reduction which is coming with deflation from war-time over valuations.

"I have not seen anything but extracts from the majority and minority judgments of the G.T.R. commission," stated Mr. Beatty. "It is however, clear that the majority decision is justified on the ground of the present labor situation. It is not yet certain as to the result of the attempt of the companies to reduce wages, both the propriety and legality of which is now to be determined by an independent tribunal."

RIBS FRACTURED.

Fred Holder, Inverary, Kicked by Horse and Suffered Fracture of Lung.

KINGSTON — Fred Holder, who resides about one and one half miles from Inverary, was brought to the General Hospital Thursday morning suffering from injuries sustained when he was kicked by a horse. Several ribs were fractured, and the lung punctured as a result of the blow. Dr. Freeman attended the unfortunate man at Inverary, and after rendering first aid brought him to the hospital in his car. Mr. Holder was attended at the hospital by Dr. I. G. Bogart, who stated he was in a serious condition.

TO BUILD AT OSHAWA ALL EXPORT MODELS

General Motors Announces Intention to Concentrate Production at Ontario Plant

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—In a formal statement issued tonight the General Motors Corporation announced that the company had decided to concentrate the manufacture of all its export models, with the exception of the Cadillac and General Motors truck, at the Canadian plant of the corporation, General Motors Limited, located at Oshawa, Ont. The statement continues:

"Concentration of such production at each point will place one executive in charge of all export production with a better realization of the necessities of the export trade and resulting, unquestionably, in a line of cars more reliable and more thoroughly tested and better fitted for the export trade. This change in program will be put into effect at the earliest possible moment."

The sales organization of the corporation's export branch will also be located at Oshawa.

In an effort to cut down crime U.S. Department of Justice will establish a central bureau of identification which will be even more complete than in Scotland Yard.

GET THEIR LIBERTY

Three men who have been in the county jail for some weeks were today liberated, a two weeks' term having expired. Their names were: Murphy, Doring and Ayling.

BROKE THROUGH PLANK

Harold Teal of Warsaw Falls 10 Ft. to Cement Floor Below.

WARSAW, Sept. 19.—Mr. Harold Teal broke through a plank fastened some way about the middle of an inside silo and fell, face downward, about 10 feet upon the cement floor. He sustained some bad bruises and has a nasty cut in the lower part of his face.

News About People and Social Events

McGill Mowat of Belleville spent several days in Kingston last week.

Mr. John Coughlin, of Hastings, is visiting his cousin, Dr. Coughlin, for a few days.

Rev. Dr. J. F. Wilson conducted the services in the first Methodist Church, Picton, yesterday.

Mrs. Ramsay Duff and Miss May Ross, of Kingston, were recent visitors to the city of Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Ewart Rogers of Oakwood, are spending their honeymoon with Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Rathman, Isabel St.

Miss May Williams has returned home from Toronto after spending her holidays with Miss Keitha Gerow there.

Miss Gertrude Blackburn, who has been visiting her sisters and other relatives in Montreal the past month, has returned to the city.

Mrs. Ashford Bell and son, Ross, Kingston, have returned home after very enjoyable holidays spent at Toronto, Niagara Falls, Cobourg, Belleville and surrounding district.

A very beautiful and inspiring Flower Festival was held in Christ Church yesterday afternoon for the children of the Sunday School. Each member brought an offering of flowers and a short service was held suitable to the occasion, the children placing their donations before the Altar. Rev. W. G. Swayne gave an address on the beauty and significance of Flowers and, after the closing exercises, members of the congregation conveyed the children by Motor to the Shelter, Home for the Friendless and House of Refuge, where their gifts will brighten the lives of the inmates for the coming week.

INJURED BY DYNAMITE.

Legs and Face Were Filled with Splinters of Steel, Iron and Dirt.

CARLETON PLACE—W. McDonald, Polger, Ont., working at Carleton Place, was told to pick up a charge of dynamite which had failed to explode. Through some unaccountable manner, the dynamite exploded and the young man's legs and face were filled with splinters of steel, iron and dirt. It is a miracle that he was not blinded. He is in hospital and improving. McDonald was the second employee ordered to pick up the defective charge, the first chap refusing point blank to have anything to do with it.

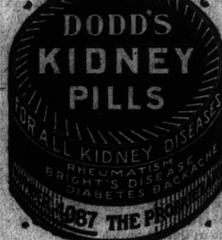

CASE WAS DISMISSED

H. V. Hoover who acts for the U.F.O. Club at Bonar Law in buying and shipping hogs brought an action against Edward McInroy to recover $183.23 which Mr. Hoover the plaintiff claimed the defendant McInroy was overpaid by reason of a cheque having been altered. The case was tried before His Honor Judge Deroche at Belleville on the 17th of September when the plaintiff's action was dismissed. A large number of witnesses were examined and the Court Room was filled as the case excited a great deal of interest among farmers. F. E. O'Flynn for plaintiff; W. C. Mikel K.C. for defendant.

CANADIAN GRAIN FAVORED.

U.S. Boats Must Have Permits to Unload in Canada.

LINDSAY—In order to prevent the harbor of Montreal becoming blocked with American grain to the detriment of Canadian shippers, both the Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk Railways have decided to control the movement by applying the permit system to American grain coming to Georgian Bay ports for transit to Montreal. In future no boats can come from America lake ports to Port McNicoll or Tiffin, Ont. without a permit to unload. American grain has constituted about 40 per cent. of the total shipments from the port of Montreal this season of navigation. At the beginning of the season it was all Canadian, and at the present time is about 60 per cent. American and 40 per cent. Canadian. The proportion of Canadian grain, however, will be larger with the arrival of the new crop.

SAFETY ON RAILWAYS

Statistics show that traveling on a railway is nowadays less hazardous than walking on the street—the percentage of fatalities steadily decreasing in spite of an increasing volume of traffic at higher speeds. In congested areas tracks have been doubled and quadrupled; steel bridges and embankments replace wooden structures; air brakes and automatic couplers have superceded hand brakes and links and pins; steam heating and electric lighting have relegated car stoves and oil lamps to the scrap pile; steel construction throughout, underframes and car bodies, steel tyred wheels with continuous fastenings are standard for all up-to-date passenger equipment; air signalling devices replace the old bell cord and engine cab gong; scores of other accessories, too numerous to mention, are now part and parcel of all modern rolling stock, all specially designed to reach the desired goal—"Maximum Protection to Life and Property."

The greatest and most costly improvements have undoubtedly been made in connection with the permanent way and signalling systems. Steel rails of constantly increasing weight have superceded light iron ones; split switches have replaced the old stub switch; elaborate interlocking devices are installed at all points where railways cross at grade.

Everything tending to increased efficiency and safe operation, regardless of cost, has been done to an extent hardly appreciated by the travelling public generally. In this great general advancement seemingly small matters have not been overlooked, special attention has been given to minor details conducive to the desired result.

In addition to the usual "flagging" by trainmen with hand lamp and flag, the emergency signals most commonly used are the fusee and the track torpedo or fog-signal as it is generally called across the water. The fusee, an excellent signal

WOODS—MORAN

A marriage was solemnized on Wednesday, September 14th, at St. Alphonsus Church, Wooler, when Miss Helen Marie Moran, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. SECURES FACTORY.

Oshawa to Have Glass Factory Located in Town.

OSHAWA—Feldspar Glass Ltd., an American company with headquarters at Toledo, Ohio, will erect a factory in Oshawa, negotiations by the company's representative, W. T. Symons, having been practically completed this week. It is understood that property has been purchased through Mr. M. C. Ross, north of the Spring and Axle works, and that work will start soon on the factory.

A humming bird lit last week on the head of Mrs. P. A. Walker, of Hazard, Kt. She considered it an omen of death, and sure enough, she died a few days later, fatalistically declining medical aid.
