The glad and brave young heart
Had come across the sea

These last stopped some twenty years
From Grant and the woman, and she said,

There was a woman of Kelantan
I named Siti Masimah; she was born

I know nothing of two, but that he
Had worked far away in a Malay jungle

What the two were living their untragic
Lives there came difficulties

But his lot was isolated, there was only
One other white man anywhere near him

One morning the three boys appeared at Grant's house, and, having brought some

The day after, on Grant had been out
All morning looking after his work, he had Seen nothing, certainly. That was not Strange, it was a jungle place, and

It was still resting when, about 4 p.m.,
A party of nearly twenty armed men

There were men had no fowls, and instead of Going to the servants' quarters they

WOMEN'S CANADIAN CLUB

ADDRESS BY MR. T. A. HARTT, M. P. The meeting of the Women's Canadian Club on Nov. 23, opened with the singing of "O Canada" by the chorus. The minutes of the previous meetings were read, and the President, Mrs. Andrews, made a brief address. The proceeds of the Patriotic Sale, amounting to $627 in all, she said, would be handed to Mr. Babbitt, the next officer of the Fund and the next effort of the Club on behalf of our soldiers would be left in the hands of a committee of the younger members. This committee consists of the convener, Mrs. William Morrow; and the Misses Bessie Grimmer, Dorothy Lamb, Elsie Finigan, Carol Hibbard and Phyllis Cockburn. The selection "Soldiers of the King" was very enthusiastically rendered by the chorus before Mr. T. A. Hartt, M. P., delivered his lecture.

In beginning Mr. Hartt praised the Club for its good works, and said that though he was no speaker he was very glad to show his appreciation of the Club by giving it whatever it asked him for, and it had asked him for a description of his journey across Canada by the C. N. R. He joined the members, senators, reporters and railway officials, who made up the party, at Ottawa, and on a 7000 mile trip. The train consisted of 3 private coaches, 2 dining-cars, an entertainment car, 9 sleepers and an engine, which engine made a record when, alone, it drew those 15 heavy coaches over the Yellow Pass in the Rockies. The hospitality of the C. N. R.'s guests enjoyed was lavish, to ask was to have, liquor not excepted, and this hospitality was not abused. Saskatchewan laws forbade the drinking of liquor on the trains in that province, and one member of the party declared himself grateful to Sir Wilfrid Laurier that he ran the boundary lines of Saskatchewan North and South instead of East and West. The journey was planned so that parts traversed by night on the outward journey were gone over by day when returning, and in spite of this the Rockies made it impossible to shut out their glorious panorama with blinds and sleep. The C. N. R. has met with much adverse criticism, but the verdict of its guests was unanimous that in building this railway from Quebec to Vancouver a marvellous feat of engineering had been successfully carried out, and large tracts of fertile land beyond the reach of the C. P. R. or the G. T. R. had been opened up. Mr. Hartt had had great faith in the West. The large cities there had over-built, and at the moment things did not look very bright; but there was a fertile land behind those cities which would justify that over-building in the near future. In concluding he touched on a subject near at home, the St. Croix Harbor. It was with a view to interesting the C. N. R. officials in that project that he had accepted their invitation, and he had been so far successful that the N.R. officials had promised to consider the St. Croix Harbor's advantages before they finally decided on their winter port. A very hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Hartt, and the meeting closed with the National Anthem.

Lottery tickets are on sale at the principal places of business in St. Andrews, and receipts from the same will be forwarded by Miss Algart to Mr. E. W. —Chicago, Nov. 23.—James B. Forgan, president of the first National Bank of Chicago, will exchange his duties in that post for those of chairman of the board of directors if that body, at its annual meeting in January, adopts a suggestion made by Mr. Forgan. This became known here to-day through discussion in financial circles of Mr. Forgan's probable successor as president of the bank.

MARRIED MITCHELL—VENNEL. At half past eight o'clock on Wednesday evening, November twenty-fourth, Violet, daughter of Mrs. Daniel Vennel and Mr. Winslow Mitchell were united in Holy Matrimony at St. Anne's Church, Campbellville. As the first strains of the Wedding March sounded the bride party entered the Church, which had been prettily decorated with potted plants by the girl friends of the bride.

The bride, sweetly groomed in her wedding dress of white crepe de chine with veil and orange blossoms and carrying a lovely bridal bouquet of white chrysanthemums, was given away by her brother, Mr. Arthur Vennel. She was attended by Miss Anna Mitchell, sister of the groom, who wore a dainty costume of pale green silk and shadow lace with hat to match. The bridesmaid carried a shower bouquet of pink and white carnations.

The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Manning Mitchell. The service began with the hymn "How welcome was the bride." Then followed the full marriage service of the Church. During the whole service the subdued notes of the organ sounded sweetly through the Church.

While the register was being signed the choir sang "The Voice that breathed o'er Eden," and as the bride and groom came down the aisle the Church was filled with the clear beautiful strains of the wedding march.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mrs. Horace Mitchell, the bride's sister, where relatives and friends tendered their hearty good wishes to the newly married couple for a long and happy life together.

Many gifts of silver, china, linen, etc.

gave tangible expression of the kindly feeling towards both bride and groom. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell will reside at Welshpool.

OBITUARY

W. ATLEE BURPEE. W. Atlee Burpee, horticulturist and head of the firm of W. Atlee Burpee & Co., said to be the largest seed merchants in the world, died Nov. 26 at his home, Fordhook, in Doylestown, Pa.

Mr. Burpee was born in Sheffield, N. B., Canada, April 5, 1858, the son of Dr. David and Ann Atlee Burpee, and was educated at the Friends' School in Philadelphia and at the University of Pennsylvania. In 1876 he established a seed business with two partners, but the venture was unsuccessful, and two years later he founded another firm known as W. Atlee Burpee & Co., which has grown until it comprises three large farms and fills, between 5,000 and 6,000 orders daily.

In addition to his seed interests, Mr. Burpee was a director of the Market Street National Bank, the Northern Trust Company and the Colgate Company of New York. He was also a director of the Wholesale Seedman's League, was formerly president of the American Seed Trade Association, President of the National Sweet Pea Association of America, and vice-president of the National Sweet Pea Society of Great Britain.

Mr. Burpee was trustee of the Howard Hospital and Sanitarium Association of Philadelphia, a life member of the Transatlantic Society, the Royal Horticultural Society of Great Britain, and the Société Nationale d'Horticulture de France. He was a director and ex-president of the Canadian Society of Philadelphia, and a member of the National Arts and City Clubs of New York and many Philadelphia clubs.

Mrs. PRISCILLA CUMMINGS. Early Wednesday morning Nov. 24, Mrs. Priscilla Cummings, widow of the late Gilbert Cummings, passed away, at her home, Cumming's Cove after but a few hours illness, at the age of 81 years.

Mrs. Cummings was in her usual health, able to attend to all her domestic duties, from a very pleasant visit with her mother and sister in Toronto. She was greatly missed in her home where perhaps she was most devoted.

A good neighbor and a kind friend and mother has gone. Her husband predeceased her a little over a year ago. She leaves a step-son, Edgar Cummings, who about four years ago removed to the old homestead to care for his aged parents and by whom she was greatly beloved. One brother, John F. Chaffey, of Chocolate Cove, and several grandchildren, nephews and nieces. The funeral services were conducted from her home at Cumming's Cove on Thursday p. m. by Rev. Mr. Berry, pastor of the Washington Street Baptist Church at Eastport, who gave a beautiful address to the friends and mourners. Several pretty floral tributes were sent to the home by friends and relatives. The hymns sung were "Dox Jesus Care" and "Meet me There". Interment was in the family lot at Cumming's Cove.
